

THE DAILY JOURNAL.

VOL. XII.—NO. 202.

NEW BERNE, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1893.

PRICE 5 CENTS

BUSINESS LOCALS.

BICYCLE For Sale cheap at Hall's Gun Smith Shop. 3c

IF you want to get your Fine Stall Fed Beef and Beef Tripe call at Sam'l Cohn & Son.

5,000-OLD Papers on hand for sale cheap. The very thing for pasting up in houses, and putting under carpets. 3c

FINE Beef 10c, all pork sausage. All fresh. N. Whitford.

FINE Lot of Red Onions for sale at J. F. Taylor's.

HENRY Brown, Corner Mace's Drug Store, fine nice oysters, from Norfolk Bay and Broad Creek—best in the Market. Promptly delivered to any part of the city.

DESIRABLE ROOMS and Store for rent. Apply to Mrs. T. A. Henry at Hotel Albert. 219 1/2

TRY Old Baker 1861 the best Rye Whiskey in the city 104 Taylor's Junction.

LOST—8 gold studs, joined by chain Howard paid for return to C. P. Mebane at Pulford House.

J. J. DISOSWAY—Just received a large shipment of NO. 2 PITCHER SPOUT PUMPS for driven wells and Cisterns. Price $3.00. J. J. DISOSWAY, 48 Craven St.

ONE HUNDRED and fifty pounds of pork sausage at 12 1/2 cents. G. D. BOWDEN.

TO GET best results from Hyacinth and Easter Lily Bulbs—get them potted at the earliest possible moment after Sept. 1st. Come around and select them now. Have also Amantilla bulbs and Carmelita Japonica plants. R. BEARY.

TRY THE JOURNAL business local column. Only ten cents a line for first insertion and five afterwards.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard.

E. B. Cox—For sale.

H. B. Duffy—For rent.

N. Whitford—Fine beef.

Hall Bros.—Bicycle for sale.

J. A. Jones—Kansas horses.

E. Cohn & Son—Stall fed beef.

J. R. Parker—To whom it may concern.

COTTON SALES.

Wednesday—78 bales, 6.70 to 7.32 1-2.

$91,700 worth of old cancelled State bonds were burned Saturday at Raleigh.

Messrs. S. W. Smallwood and N. S. Richardson are each repainting their residences.

The Smithfield Herald tells of Mr. W. N. Adam's, a farmer, being attacked on the road and robbed of what money he had with him—twelve dollars.

Mr. J. A. Jones received a shipment Wednesday of fine western horses from Kansas. They came over the W. N. & N. railroad.

Tom F. M. Simmons left for Raleigh Wednesday morning to take charge of his office, Collector of Internal Revenue of the Eastern District. He takes charge Saturday.

A three-story hotel was destroyed by fire Tuesday at Beaver, Pa., and an unknown number of inmates burned to death. Seven charred bodies have been taken from the ruins.

Mr. Will Parsons is preparing to reopen his oyster restaurant on the west side of Middle street. A portion of Mr. J. B. Clark's store is being partitioned off for it.

An interesting series of sermons are being conducted at the Church of Christ. A good audience was present last night and a fine sermon was preached by Rev. Henry Winfield on "God's Love for the World."

We mentioned the purchase by Mr. C. D. Bradham on Tuesday of over 3,000 bushels of rice. Yesterday he made a pretty good shipment of rice—a couple of car loads. He informs us that he is now seeking to buy twenty thousand bushels of this cereal.

The Jonesboro Herald says that the cotton crop in that section is certainly short—there will not be over three-fourths of a crop, but the farmers seem to have made their own provisions at home this year. Where this is the case there is nothing to be feared.

According to the Charlotte Observer the amount of gold taken from the Surface Hill Mine is truly astonishing. Mr. Younis, one of the miners, was in with a bar of gold weighing 320 pennyweights, which he got out of refuse ore. Every particle of ore seems to be rich and worth working.

An intemperate wretch of Ottumwa, Iowa, named Fred Gustavson was hung to the gallows of the Justice court where he was being tried Tuesday for outraging a four year old little girl. A thousand furious people participated in the lynching, taking bits by sheer force from the officers. The bride's victim is in a very deplorable condition.

The Hebrew festival was a great success—much greater than was anticipated. The attendance was so good that the place in which the festival was held was not large enough and at an early hour everything was sold out. Everything was gay and all were jolly. Those getting up the festival return grateful thanks to the citizens for the patronage and

Fair Restaurant Privileges.

A week more and bidding for the privileges of furnishing the various refreshments at the East Carolina Fair will be closed.

The awarding of these privileges is an important matter—important alike to the Association and to the public who so generously patronize the Fair and all connected therewith.

Throughout the Fair's past career the restaurant has deservedly won from the visitors the highest praise and been pronounced by many of them the best they have ever seen connected with any Fair and, quality considered, the most reasonable in rates of any.

Mr. John Dunn, who has been in charge of the restaurant has unquestionably served the public well; everything has been at all times neat and tidy, the table provided with the best, and it well prepared, the waiting at the table as clever as could be desired, and there has never been any extorting.

It is hoped that each competitor for the privileges at the coming exhibition, will so have the welfare of the Association at heart, that he will seek them with the determination that it be the successful one that the high standard which has ever been maintained will be upheld in every particular.

A responsibility rests upon the officers of the Fair of seeing that the public are provided with a place inside the grounds at which they can at all hours be acceptably served with good meals at moderate prices.

At nearly all fairs, restaurants and side exhibitions seem to think they have a right to gouge the people. This has never been permitted at the New Berne Fair and vigilance in this direction should never be abated.

Another Big Hog.

The Shelby Review says, Lewis Williams, of New Salem township, Union county, has killed the largest hog of the season, so far heard from. The "pig" was eighteen months old, and, when killed Thursday last, netted 750 pounds even. Mr. Williams had been paying considerable attention to hog raising for the last two years, and says his experience has been that it is a paying business. The hog which he killed would bring nearly as much money as two bales of cotton, and Mr. Williams says the work that it takes to make two bales of cotton will make four hogs.

Coming and Going.

Rev. Mr. Rouse, of Manteo came up yesterday morning on the Steamer Neuse and left by rail for Duplin county to visit relatives until after conference. His family preceded him by a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Schenck of New York arrived last night to visit their daughter, Mrs. J. J. Disosway.

Mr. A. Cohn returned from a canvassing trip in the interest of his music house.

The Asheville citizen says that Col. John D. Cameron is slowly improving, but as yet is able to sit up only for a little while at a time. Col. Cameron's illness has been the cause of a general expression of regret on the part of the newspapers and his many friends in all parts of North Carolina.

The auction sale of mules took place in front of Messrs. Hahn & Co's stables yesterday as advertised. A dozen were sold—all the others of the lot had been disposed of at private sale. They brought from thirty to fifty-eight dollars each and the purchasers appeared well pleased. They evidently procured bargains. Messrs. Hahn & Co. expect a couple of car loads similar in a week or so which they intend to work off cheap.

The Salisbury Herald tells of a very sad occurrence that took place in Catawaba county. Last Sunday, John W. W. W. a lad of 13 years, playfully snatched his pistol at his little cousin Priscilla Hudson, aged 10 years. She said, "Don't do that." "See," said he, "it's not loaded." and he snapped it again. But it was, and was discharged, and the ball entered the little girl's brain and killed her.

Tissue-paper parasols in various colors could be seen in the hands of numbers of our citizens and country visitors yesterday. They were made by Messrs. Baker & Smith who have come to spend a few weeks in the city. They make ornamental paper work in many designs. Some of the work they have shown us is very pretty, though they have not as yet done any of their finer work here. Mr. Baker informs us that in Baltimore they sold 30,000 such parasols as they placed on the market yesterday.

"A Christian Home is a Type of Heaven" "An Unchristian Home is a Type of Hell." These subjects will be lectured on at Hancock St. Methodist Church on tonight, Thursday. Husbands, wives, parents, children and servants will have caps made for them each one can get one by coming out and each one will be plainly shown whether they are God's children or the children of the devil. So if you want to find out (if you do not know already) whether you are on your way to hell or heaven, come.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

Governor John W. Ellis.

The November number of the Confederate War Journal, published at Lexington, Ky., by Gen. Marcus J. Wright, has for a frontispiece a fine photograph of the patriotic North Carolina War Governor, Governor John W. Ellis, and also contains a brief sketch of his life.

Gov. Ellis was the brother-in-law of Maj. Graham Daves, and the first husband of Mrs. M. McK. Nash of this city. He was personally known to many of the older residents of the city and being sure that all our readers will be interested in the sketch of his life we copy it:

"John Willis Ellis, who was Governor of North Carolina at the outbreak of the late war between the States, and whose bold and manly refusal to furnish troops to the Federal Government to aid in the subjugation of the Confederate States was published in the June number (3) of the War Journal, was born in Rowan county, N. C., Nov. 23rd, 1830.

At the age of seventeen he entered the University of the State at Chapel Hill, where he was graduated with honor, in a class that numbered many men afterwards of the highest distinction in 1841.

"He read law with Judge Richmond Pearson, and in 1844 he was re-elected a member of the House of Commons in the General Assembly for the county of Rowan, a position which he held until 1848. In the latter year he was elected by the Legislature a Judge of the Superior court of the State, and continued in that office until his nomination for Governor in 1858.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

He married, in August, 1858, Mary McKinlay Daves, of New-Berne, N. C., by whom he had two children, Mary Daves, now Mrs. William H. Knowles, and Jane Graham, now Mrs. William Trent Russell. Re-elected Governor in 1860, he held that office until July 7th, 1861 when he died of the Red Sulphur Springs of Virginia, of consumption of the lungs. He lived to see the victory at Great Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, won principally by North Carolina troops organized and equipped by his untiring efforts. His death was hastened by the arduous labors of his position, and he died as much a martyr to the cause in which his warmest sympathies were enlisted as any soldier who fell on the battlefield.

Friday and Saturday Night. Santanelli, who appears at the opera House Friday and Saturday nights, was spoken of by the Wilmington Messenger in the following pleasant manner.

A MALVELOUS ENTERTAINMENT. Prof. Santanelli's hypnotic exhibition at the opera House drew a large audience and it can be said that they were wonderfully entertained and enjoyed the performance. The Professor hypnotized several subjects, white and colored, and under his control they did many amusing things. Among the most wonderful was making the body of a colored youth so rigid that he was stretched out for several minutes with his head on a chair and his feet on another. He also ran a needle all through the jaw and out of the mouth of one of the subjects. Santanelli's performances will continue through the week and he is assured of a large attendance.

Married. At the residence of the bride on Alligator Creek, Nov. 15th, at 2 p. m., Mr. L. H. Perry, of Kershaw to Mrs. Maggie Lupton.

Mr. Thos. Mazingo performed the matrimonial ceremony. After this the bride and groom, accompanied by a host of friends, took a pleasant ride to the home of the groom, where a palatable supper was served to the many friends—the house was full.

On the following eve they took their departure for their home.

May their lives be long and happy is the wish of

A. FRIEND.

Sale of Privileges. The following exclusive privileges for Fair week for sale:

- 1.—Dinning room.
- 2.—Confectionery—this includes candy, soda, fruits, nuts and cakes.
- 3.—Sandwiches.
- 4.—Cigars and tobacco.

Sealed bids to be opened December 1st—one half cash upon acceptance, balance January 1st. The Association reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

C. REIZENSTEIN, Sec'y.

For Sale. 150 lbs. very fine seed potatoes, 50 lbs. early gem, said to be ten days earlier than early rose, price $2.75. Berkshire pigs $5 a piece. Apply to E. B. COX, 230 & 231 W. 1/2.

For Rent. House and lot on Union St., now occupied by Rev. Rev. F. W. Farries and house on Pollock St., between Middle and Hancock Sts. Apply at once to

H. B. DUFFY.

KANSAS HORSES. LARGE SHIPMENT OF Western Horses

Just Arrived from Humboldt, Kansas. Purchasers should call and examine them before buying elsewhere.

No trouble to show you through the Stables.

J. A. JONES, South Front Street, Opposite Gaston House.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. I have just received A Full Line Of the following goods:

Fresh and Smoked Sausages, Corned Beef, Pigs Feet, Tripe, Potomouth Mules, Crackers and Cakes of all kinds, Canned Goods, Raisins, Currants, Prunes, Evaporated Apples, Dried Apples, Olives, Preserves, Sugar Cured Hams, Breakfast Sausage and Shoulders. In fact I have a

FULL LINE OF Choice Family Groceries. That are too numerous to mention.

GIVE ME A TRIAL And I will save you money, satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Very Respectfully,

J. R. PARKER JR. No. 77, Broad St.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

NOTICE. Office of the North, New-Berne and Washington, N. C., Direct Line. New-Berne, N. C., Nov. 13, 1893. On and after this date all Norfolk rates to New-Berne, N. C., reduced.

Royal Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder Highest of all in leavening strength.—LATEST UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FOOD REPORT. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St. N. Y.

OPERA HOUSE. FRIDAY and SATURDAY, NOV. 24-25, SANTANELLI, "THE MAN OF MYSTIC POWER" You Smile, You Wonder, You Laugh, You Yell.

Startling Bewilderment With Irresistible Mirth. Admission 25 and 50c.

J. J. Baxter (Formerly of Burlington & Laster) Has Just Received a Supply of the

E. P. Reed & Co's. CELEBRATED LADIES' SHOES, My specialty—every pair warranted; also a full line of ladies Dress Goods and Trimmings. See my $12.50 Black Dress Suits. They can't be equalled in the city.

G. T. Hudson of Pollockville, will be with me through the winter months and will be glad for his friends to come and see him.

I HAVE JUST RECEIVED A NEW LINE OF Zeiglers' Shoes FOR LADIES. Also a very fine line of Crossette's Mens Shoes. Our style of this is a very High Cut Hunting Shoe.

I STILL HAVE LADIES CLOAKS in Stock or will order any style on short notice.

LATE STYLE DERBIES and ALPINES constantly arriving. My Line of MEN'S SUITS and OVERCOATS is being added to weekly.

I am doing more business for the Old Staten Island Dyeing Establishment than ever before. They do good work and guarantee

Perfect Satisfaction. If you have an old garment you wish dyed or cleaned give us a trial.