A Big Burgiary. Mr. J. D. Dinkins' barroom was broken nto Wednesday night between quarter past twelve and four o'clock, his safe entered and over $1,200 stolen.

Entrance was effected into the room by raising a back window and from there juto the bar by unscrewing and taking off a portion of the lock on the door that gave communication between the two rooms.

Owing to not being well Mr. Dinkins had neglected to put the combination on before retiring and consequently when the safe was reached a; half turn of the knob gave admittance to the interior and then the inner apartments were forcibly broken and torn out. One of the little boxes, rifled of its contents was found in the back yard in the morning.

The burglar departed as he came of going through the window.

Mr. Dinkins' account of what was on thirteen hundred dollars was stolen. He offers a reward of a hundred dollars for the recovery of the money or the capture and conviction of the burglar.

Mr. Dinkins and his clerk, Mr. Willie Gaskill were both sleeping in the building, so the penalty to the burglar, it caught, is death by hanging.

A Sad Death.

Miss Sarah Bonner of Aurora, about seventeen years of age, daughter of Mr. Henry Bonner of Aurora, died at Wilson Collegiate Institute on Tuesday the 14th inst, of hemorrhagic fever.

The young lady was sick only a few days. Soon after she was taken ill it was thought improvement was manifested and a message to that effect wos sent to her father. The next news was a telegram announcing that she was much worse and Dr. T. P. Bonner who was her cousin and the family p hysician and who has had more than usual successful experience with the disease started immediately for her bedside, but he did not arrive until Wednesday, the day after her death occurred.

The remains were sent via Washing ton to her home at Aurora for interment. The Principal, Prof. Warren, accompanied them as far as Tarboro. Strong sor row was manifested by the other pupils and lovely floral tributes were very numerous.

The deceased was so generally known by her pet name of "Rose bud" that many supposed it to be her real name She was of a bright and charming dispo sition, well loved by those who knew

The Pitt County Shooting.

Particulars are given in the Greenville took place between the two well-to-do farmers, J. H. Smith and Abner Slaughter, of Swift Creek township, Pitt county, which resulted in the death of both of them, a condensed statement of which we gave at the time.

The Reflector says that the cause of this bloody combat that cost two good men their lives and held another in pris- an aged man, Mr. Ransom Gurganus and on for trial, made two widows and five orphans, and carried great sorrow and trouble into so many homes of their large family connection, was the disputed ownership of a little piece of woods-landabout ten acres, or possibly a little over, that lay near to Slaughter's Louse. Both men claimed it and had on different occasions had some words about it. They large number of men here, and have lived about a third of a mile apart on op posite sides of the road. Slaughter went apon the disputed land, with two young debt of gratitude for tearing down and sions had some words about it. They opened the back door on leaving instead lived about a third of a mile apart on op upon the disputed land, with two young hand shows that between twelve and men working for him, and cut some rails to make a hog pen. The next morning they went back to finish the work and to cut up into wood the tops and portions of the felled trees not split into rails. It was at this time the difficulty occurred. Smith ordered the work stopped at once, but Slaughter ordered his hands to The discovery of the depredation was axe to continue cutting on the tree. ande when Mr. Gaskill came down in the Smith shot Slaughter immediately with a pistol; Slaughter drew a pistol and re turned the fire, and the two men clinched discharging their pistols into each other as fast as they could shoot. Smith's brother, G. F. Smith, who has been placed in jail, according to the re commendation of the coroner's jury, on charge of being an accomplice testified that he went up to the two men to seperate them, when Slaughter snapped his pistol at him and then he struck him with the bar of iron he had in his hand taking home from his mill.

They other witnesses say they did not see Slaughter snap his pistol at G. F Smith, and that they saw the latter strike-Slaughter several blows with the iron showing no disposition to separate them. J. H. Smith was struck with three bullets and grazed with the fourth, while Slaughter was struck with three bullets and had two cuts on his head from blows.

Cigarettes. We copy the following timely warning from a recent sermon by Dr. L. G. Broughton of Winston:

"Ab, young men hear me upon this point. Many a young man today in this city is a wreck mentally and physically because of this awful habit, I shall never lorget a death scene I witnessed once. It was caused by cigarettes. Like all of them he enhaled the smoke, He continued for several years. His lungs were not strong. After awhile he developed a
