LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

F. S. Duffy—At reduced prices. Nunn & McSorley—Come and settle your account.

The Christmas mill at Hancock street church ground out an elegant good head case for Mayor Ellis.

Mr. W. H. Oliver has shown us some very fine blankets at his office from the Leaksville, N. C., mills. They are good enough for any one.

Mrs. Ollie Torbett, the celebrated violinist, supported by the Lottman Sextette will appear in this city on Wednesday night Jan. 10th, 1894.

At the lively and growing town of Southern Pines a big and handsome hotel is in construction. The contract calls for its completion next September. It is to cost $75,000.

The employees of the W. N. & N. R. R. engaged in building the warehouse, and some others who have been of taking Christmas, returned on last night's train to resume work.

Tom Richardson and John Peters, both colored, were tried before Mayor Ellis yesterday for carrying concealed weapons. Each was bound over to court in the sum of $50.

Mrs. E. Quidley, who not very long ago accidentally fell and broke a limb, met the misfortune Christmas morning of again taking a severe fall. She fell from high steps at her home and received painful injuries.

The affairs at Rio Janeiro are thought to be nearing a crisis. The cruiser New York has been ordered there, which will make five modern warships there from the United States. Rear-Admiral Benham is in command of the fleet.

The Naval Reserve bazaar and festival takes place tonight. All who have contributed are requested to send their donations in this morning or early this afternoon. All ladies who are willing are invited to assist.

Mr. M. H. Sultan was getting in a large lot of new furniture yesterday. He is preparing to go into the business on Middle street in the building formerly used as the custom house.

The weather has been clear and delightful all through the Christmas season. Sunday the maximum temperature was 63-1-3, minimum, 33; Christmas day 57-1-2 and 38; Tuesday 59-1-3 and 47. Such mild weather in mid-winter ought to satisfy anyone.

All Bragg and Bryan Wiley col., had a difficult Christmas day and the former gave the latter a severe cut across the abdomen. The colored man tied freely and fears were entertained for awhile that the wound would prove fatal. He got better however. Bragg was placed under $100 bond.

Edward Murphy, the pugilist, was shipped second class to Norfolk Wednesday by Mayor Ellis, on the steamer Neuse. Murphy was released from the county jail on the ground that he should leave the city at once and yet he was allowed to remain in the city at large from Saturday to Wednesday, publicly parading the streets, drinking and making incendiary remarks.

A Fatal Christmas Accident.

The festivities of the merry Christmas season were sadly marred in this city by a fatal accident.
Mr. Chas. Slade, whose home is in the Oaksmith building at the foot of Pollock street, rigged up a cannon out of a piece of common iron pipe, loaded it and made one unsuccessful attempt to fire it. A fuse was then made out of oakum, and Mr. A. H. Vincent, who runs the store at Fowler's Ferry wharf, went out with him to assist in arranging it, and was placing the fuse in position when Mr. Slade prematurely applied the torch, and applied it also too close to the pipe. The result was the fire ran at once to the powder, and when it did, the sham cannon exploded.

Mr. Slade was struck on the right side of his head near the eye, crushing the skull and blowing out a portion of his brains. Of course death was instantaneous.

Mr. Vincent, though even nearer to the cannon than Mr. Slade, escaped with only two slight injuries—flesh wounds, one on the foot and the other on the knee.

Mr. Slade, who was killed, was captain of a small river schooner, the D. C. Willis which runs between Pamlico county and the city. He leaves a wife and child.

Mr. Slade was buried Tuesday afternoon by the Knights of Harmony, the local beneficiary or her of which he was a member, and the funeral was very largely attended by the order. 115 members were in the procession.

Coming and Going.

Mr. Cleo Manly who spent Christmas with his relatives in the city left yesterday morning returning to his home in Winston.

Mrs. E. H. Barnum and children left to visit relatives in Onslow county.

Misses Emily and Ola Farabee went up to Kinston to spend a few days with their aunt, Mrs. Harding.

Mr. Walter H. Neal, a prominent attorney of Lumburg, and family are visiting his father, Prof. Geo. W. Neal.

Mr. Melzer Orr and family of Norfolk are visiting his father in law, Mr. Needham Case.

Mr. Sol Hass came in on the steamer Neuse to visit his father-in-law Mr. M. Hahn. He brought with him a supply of horses for Mr. Hahn's livery stable.

Mr. Jas. M. Lane—Mack as his chums call him, arrived last night to visit relatives here and in Pamlico. Mr. Lane was formerly of New Berne. He is now in the insurance business in New Orleans.

OLD BAKER 1861 ONLY at L. J. TAYLOR'S.

Mr. Joe Hahn has just added a very handsome trio of the old fashioned white-faced black spanish chickens to his poultry yards. They were raised by Mr. J. W. Chapin of Aurora from eggs that came from Pennsylvania. Mr. Hahn also has beautiful Brown Leghorns and White Game Bantams.

Tramps are putting in at Norfolk Va. In commenting upon same, the Virginian says: "Among the greatest nuisances with which the people of many sections are afflicted is that of the tramp nuisance, and Norfolk has its share. Whenever these fellows seek quarters here they should be forced to move on."

The Elizabeth City Economist has the following mention of a big Dare county land sale: "Judge Seymour has signed a decree confirming the sale recently made in this town of the lands of the East Carolina Land, Lumber & Manufacturing Company, in Dare county, containing 173,000 acres."

L. T. Rightsell, A. M., President of Carolina Christian College, Ayden, N. C., will lecture at the Church of Christ tonight on subject "Education." All are invited. The college of which Mr. Rightsell is President has been recently established and considering the circumstances under which it is laboring it is making good headway.

Gen. R. C. Gatling, who succeeded the late Governor Fowle as adjutant general of this State, in 1863, is now living at Fort Smith, Arkansas. He is 86 years of age. One of his daughters is now a pupil at St. Mary's school Raleigh. Gen. Gatling is a grand-son of Governor Richard Caswell. He graduated at West Point in the class with Gen. Robert E. Lee, and left the United States army in 1861.

On Christmas morning the employees of the engineer's, firemen's and machinists' departments of the W. N. & N. R. R. in appreciation of their esteem presented a gold headed cane to Mr. G. E. Branch master machinist of the road. The cane is engraved with the name and the position of Mr. Branch on the road. Engineer W. J. Wall made the presentation on behalf of the Joiners.

The Naval Reserves were out yesterday for their first practice with their 12 pound howitzer. The firing was from Union Point at a six-foot target out in Neuse river. Seven shots were fired by different members, five of which were remarkably fine. Old veterans present pronounced it very good marksmanship for amateurs. It was a pretty sight to see the sharpnel bounding along upon the surface of the water dashing the spray high into the air.

50 INCH DOLL for $2.50 at L. J. TAYLOR'S.

Their First Loss.

The Knights of Harmony, the cheap home insurance company, which originated in this city has now been in existence about two years and the accidental killing of Mr. Chas. Slade by an explosion on Christmas day is the first death that has occurred in the order since organization.
When Mr. Slade was killed the lodge had 289 members and according to the provisions of the order the funeral expenses have already been paid and the widow will within ten days be paid 259 dollars more—a dollar for each member—making a total of $44.

To be a member of this order costs only 25 cents per month plus an assessment of $1.00 when a death occurs and as only one death has occurred in the two years of its existence it can be seen that the cost places the insurance within the reach of any one, just what it was designed to be.

The monthly twenty five cent payments not only paid the expenses but quickly accumulated a surplus sufficiently large to meet any loss that might occur and this fund has gradually increased to the present. The amount taken out to pay this loss will be immediately replaced by the one dollar assessment and the money will be on hand as before to meet any loss that occurs.

Mr. Slade was among the first members that joined and the cost of his insurance to date was $3.75.

Preparing to Build the Electric Railway.

Mr. John C. Shaw, a prominent attorney and capitalist, Mr. A. M. Clegg, a railway contractor, both of whom are connected with the New Berne Electric Railway and Mr. J. P. Hall, electrical expert, all of New York spent several days in the city last week and have now left.

Mr. Hall while here examined into the condition and outlook of the electrical plant here and decided upon what is needed to be added for the railway service. The additions he planned will be made. The work on the railway, Mr. R. P. Williams informs us, is to begin directly after the beginning of the new year and be made ready for use well before the Fair. Indeed the contract for it to be done by the 1st day of February has been signed.

Mr. Hall reports the electric light works of New Berne in better condition and both the arc and incandescent lights as giving a steadier light than any other place he has been to. This is encouraging as the railway will be run in connection with these works.

We will all be glad to have the electric railway both for the sake of the Fair, for pleasure and for business purposes.

Fired a Cannon at the Fisherman.

We learn from Morehead of a conflict between the fishermen of that place and Swansboro, over clashing interests in their occupations. The Morehead fishermen were fishing in the water near Swansboro and were ordered by a delegation of about twenty of those living thereabouts to desist and leave. They declined to obey and the Swansboro men declared their intention of compelling them to do so and loaded a cannon with chain, spikes and bricks and fired but without injury. Then they resorted to rifles and shot several balls into the hosts of the Morehead fishermen. The latter not being armed felt, but as they maintain that the waters they were in are public free to any one, they expect to return prepared for defence if again interfered with.

It is hoped that whoever is to blame for the trouble may be made to see it and cease from aggression before any serious results arise from it.

Some Oysters.

Messrs. Geo. N. Ives & Son shipped on Friday and Saturday mornings 361 gallons of oysters—solid meats. 200 gallons of these were shipped on Saturday. One ton weight of opened oysters in one shipment. Their shipment for the week was 700 gallons or 3 1-2 tons.

These oysters were nearly all shipped on orders to their trade throughout this State, South Carolina and Georgia. The amount paid their shuckers on Saturday for two days work was $57.

Mr. Ives says the oysters are finer this season than he has ever seen them.

Prof. Daves' Lecture.

The address of Prof. E. G. Daves last night was fine, scholarly, replete with historical interest and was greatly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to hear it. The lectures which he is delivering are sure to kindle a livelier interest in the early history of our State and country, besides answering their prime design of turning attention to the plan of saving, as a memorial, in an appropriate way, Old Fort Raleigh on Roanoke Island, where the white race first gained a foothold in America.

Gov. Mitchell of Florida has thrown a bomb into the ranks of the sports by flatly refusing to grant a charter to the Dural Athletic Club on the ground that under cover of the charter of the club they intended to violate the laws of the State by having the Corbett-Mitchell fight. The Governor says he will use all lawful means, should it be necessary, to prevent the fight and to bring to punishment every citizen who aids and abets any such disgraceful breach of the law.

DIED.

In Wilson, on Sunday morning the 24th instant, James R. Roberts, youngest son of Captain William W. Roberts and Elizabeth McKelvey Daves, his wife, late of this city, aged 31 years.

Mr. Roberts was a native of New Berne and passed his childhood and early manhood here. He first settled in Ammonite, Ala. A short time ago he returned to North Carolina, and has since resided in Wilson. Mr. Roberts was a nephew of our townsmen Messrs. Fred C. and George Roberts and Graham Daves. He leaves a widow and two children—surviving him.

Dec. 23d, after a short illness, Elizabeth Ryan Justice at her residence on East Front St. The funeral took place from Christ Church, Tuesday, Dec. 26th. Rev. Mr. George officiating, and the following Pall Bearers, Chas. C. Clark, Wm. B. Boyd, J. W. Smallwood, E. K. Bishop, M. DeW. Stevenson, D. T. Caraway, Geo. H. Roberts and Capt. Simmons.

Charlotte in Portsmouth Va., papers please copy.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Miss Elizabeth B. Justice, this community is called upon to mourn the loss of the last survivor of a prominent family in the social and business circles of the town in former years. She was a sister of Dr. J. R. Justice, Alexander Justice J. Cooro Justice and Mrs. Annie M. Dismay, all of whom have preceded her to the better world except the last named brother who is now, and has been a long time a resident of Ansook, Illinois.

"Miss Justice" as she was familiarly known was a woman of the intelligence, cultivated taste and self dependent manners. Duty and principle were the guides to her conduct, never pandering to mere sentiment or popular fancy. What she believed to be right she did, and with earnest zeal.

Her devotion to her sisters children was Ruth like and they doubtless feel, as if they had lost a second mother. Those who knew best loved her most and feel most keenly her sudden demise. She has kept the faith and finished her course.

The Modern Jack Horner.

"Little Jack Horner sat in a corner, Eating a Christmas pie; He put in his thumb and pulled out a plum; And said 'What a good boy am I!'"
But little Jack Horner became a deep mourner
When older he grew and a glutton.
For his liver, 'I'd state, was like a dead weight,
As he drank wine and ate too much mutton.
Poor Jack's time of grief, however, was brief,
And of sickness he ceased to be fearful;
For a soon friend said "Well, let's try Pierce's Pellets,"
And with good livers both are now cheerful.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, absolutely effective in cases of sick headache, constipation, indigestion, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. Satisfaction guaranteed.
