The regular monthly meeting of the Naval Reserve will be held tonight.

Thirty-nine Congressmen have had warrants served on them for being absent from the House without leave. Both Bunn and Woodard from North Carolina are included in the list.

The annual meeting of the Female Benevolent society for the election of officers will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of Miss M. M. A full attendance is desired.

The new bicycle track at the fair grounds is being pushed forward as rapidly as the means will justify. It will be in good condition by the opening of the Fair and will prove one of the new attractions.

We learn from the Beaufort Herald that David Williams Parker, col. of that place has been elected President of Jones University Ala., at a salary of a thousand dollars per annum and expenses. He is the youngest college President in America.

A. W. Bowen Moore, the most extensive pension agent in western New York, with his son Allen and five clerks, have been arrested on the charge of defrauding the government and extorting money from pensioners. The whole amount involved is said to be $150,000.

That Broad St should be shelled or marled and put in as good condition as the business portion of Middle, Broad and Pollock, meets with much favor among a number of our citizens. It would be a big saving on teams and much quicker time could be made than the present plodding through heavy sand.

Some of the Naval officials are getting into hot water. They are charged with having been in collusion with warship builders, where high speed boats have been contracted for. The immense bonuses recently obtained led to the unearthly of the fraudulent scheme. On cruiser "Olympia" there was a premium of nearly half a million dollars.

The mother of a small deaf and dumb boy living on Eden St. makes complaint that the neighborhood children impose upon and ill-treat her boy. We are glad to know of the merits in the case, but parents or guardians of such children are much more at fault for such conduct than the children themselves. One simple means of partially remedying the evil is for the mother of the unfortunate boy to be sure that the fault is not altogether on the other side.

We learn that a man representing himself as an old confederate soldier is about town soliciting alms but refusing any thing less than a quarter. We judge it is the same one that has been noticed by the Kinston Free Press as doing the same way and even cursing sometimes those who offered less. It so, he is no doubt unworthy of charity. At any rate if the man is really a helpless confederate he can enter the soldier's home at Raleigh. This is kept up by the State for all such and all the inmates are made comfortable in every way.

A new phase is daily put on the proposed Corbett-Mitchell fight. The Duval Club is using every effort to bring it about, but they are put to their trumps, both by Governor Mitchell and the sheriff of the county, in which it is most probably desired. The sheriff is said to be a man of true grit and determination, and he says emphatically that it shall not take place upon soil over which he has jurisdiction. The latest is that the fight will take place, either secretly in the woods or in Cuba.

Death of Hon. T. G. Sparrow.
Hon. T. G. Sparrow, a prominent citizen of Middle, Beaufort county, was stricken with apoplexy Sunday night and died Monday morning. He was formerly a merchant of New Berne and was at the time of his death a member of Eureka Lodge No. 7, I. O. O. F. of this city. The remains will be brought to this city for interment. The funeral will take place this afternoon.

A Thief Caught in the Act.

Between seven and eight o'clock Sunday night Mr. Jos. Nelson watchman at the W. N. & N. R. R., with the assistance of some other employees of the road, detected a negro named Henry Hendricks in the act of stealing some of the company's wood. Being pursued he dropped the wood and fled, but after a lively chase in which the watchman of the Stimson Lumber Company joined he was captured.

At one time during his flight, when armed pursuers were close upon him he struck at them with a cotton hook. He threw this away as he was being taken but it was afterwards found. After being captured he was identified as one who was seen stealing trainmen's food from the cars a night or two ago previously.

Hendricks' preliminary trial on the charge of larceny was held Monday night and he was bound over to Superior court in the sum of $50.

About two hours after the arrest of Hendricks, some one viciously threw a brick at Mr. Nelson, barely missing him. Mr. Nelson fired in the direction from which the missile came, but the miscreant keeping in the shadows of the fence escaped.

We have heard people of the neighborhood, speak of the great improvement there has been since Mr. Nelson has been watchman there. He has been so vigilant after bad characters wherever they would get around that he has much mitigated the trouble they gave by frequenting the locality in times past.

Probably Fatal Assault.

Dr. R. S. Primrose, coroner, received a message Sunday night near ten o'clock that a man had been killed on the old Calvin Perry farm about three miles from New Berne and went out expecting to hold an inquest. He found that a colored man had been assaulted and so seriously injured that he was liable to die.

Upon his return Dr. Primrose reported all the facts he knew at Police headquarters. This was at midnight but Mayor Ellis immediately started officers Brisson and Elliott in quest of David Mackey, the assailant of the injured man. They found him at his father's, near Brice's creek bridge three or four miles from where the act was committed and on the opposite side of Trent river. They took their man and brought him to the city having been gone about three hours. Good work.

Humphrey owned the assault, and says the cause of it was the discovery of his wife's infidelity Mackey being her paramour.

Humphrey says he hit Mackey with an axe, with the eye part. He also struck his wife but not with serious results.

Premium Lists and Fair Edition.

Three thousand two hundred premium lists for the next East Carolina Fair were put in the post office at one mailing. It gave the clerks a good job of distributing. Postmaster Clark says the lists are going "all over creation."

The fine and comprehensive premium book, and the liberal supply of them sent out will be a good advertisement for New Berne. So will the Fair edition of the JOURNAL that will be sent off next week.

It often happens that after the annual Fair edition is exhausted names of people are handed for copies to be sent to. So this year we have repeatedly spoken of the matter that every one may have full notice, and hand in whatever names they wish to in time. When the papers are ready they will be sent. We are glad to supply your friends with the papers as you are to have them supplied—so hand in as long lists as you please.

A Sudden Death.

Mrs. Mary L. Mabbitt died suddenly Sunday night at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. E. W. Smallwood, aged 70 years.

She was stricken with apoplexy only a few hours before her death—up to that time she had been in good health and had even partaken heartily of supper.

Mrs. Mabbitt was a good Christian lady, a member of the Episcopal church. She had lived in New Berne several years but was a native of Astoria, L. I. The remains will be taken there for interment, leaving on this morning's train accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood.

Exhibits From the Western Part of the State.

Mr. N. A. Boyden, of Surry County, N. C. writes in reference to exhibiting at the East Carolina Fair. He says he would like to have their corner of the State represented, and asks information about arrangements with the railroads for transportation of stock, etc. For answer a premium list has been mailed him, and a copy of the Fair edition of the JOURNAL will also be sent him next week—either will give all the information wanted on these lines.

Mr. Boyden has a monster six year old hog—he measures eight feet in length and 21 inches across the rump. We copied a description of this hog in November from the Winston Reporter. This is one Mr. Boyden means to bring, and also some fine Improved Chester Whites.

Coming from afar, they will form a welcome addition to the exhibits at the Fair.

What the Herald Says About the Talented Young Artist.

The New York Herald says: "A young girl in a heavy cream-colored dress, and with a half-frightened smile, was the only person who aroused the audience from its stupor. It was the violin soloist, Miss Ollie Torbett. She played an Andante by David and a Capriccio by De Beriot with good execution."
