The Deacon's party is now in imminent danger of an attack from the stay-at-home vote.

Prosperity is returning without regard to the contentions of the politicians.

The Merchants of New York disgraced themselves by insulting Chairman Wilson at a dinner at which he was a guest.

Hawaii has the floor of the House and the Election Law the floor of the Senate.

Senator Hoar should stick to the Hawaiian question and allow Senator Sherman to define the Republican party's position on financial matters.

The Augusta Chronicle says that "Georgia is proud of Speaker Crisp." So she is of her watermelons. Both are prime favorites all over the South.

On Monday, Feb 5, The thermometer registered 18 degrees below zero at Plattsburg N. Y. At Saranac Lake 41 degrees below zero were recorded, being the coldest weather in the history of that region.

The Mardi Gras festivities began in New Orleans on last Monday in a blaze of splendor. One hundred thousand people witnessed the pageant pass through the streets.

The Kentucky House has instructed the Senators from that State to oppose any man for the Supreme Court who can not prove his genuine Democracy.

The Washington Post says that Col. John S. Cunningham, of Perouse, who was in Washington last week, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the fifth district this year.

A dispatch from Lisbon says it is settled on high authority there that the Rothschilds are furnishing money to Admiral da Gama, the commander of the Brazilian insurgents at Rio Janeiro.

The United States Government is not so much disturbed by the alleged danger of thieves breaking into its money vaults as it is by the difficulty of getting something into the vaults worth stealing.

At the Twenty-second Scientific Session of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, to be held at Natatorium Hall, Philadelphia, Thursday evening next, Rev. Dr. John F. Crowell, president of Trinity College, will present a paper on "The Co-operative Study of Political Ethics."

When he was in Wilkesbarre lecturing the other evening, some gentleman asked Col. Watterson what he thought of President Cleveland. His reply was as follows: "I want to say that Grover, personally is a good fellow. He is good company when you know him well, plays a fair game of poker, takes his whiskey straight and temperately and all that but he seems to lack foresight. He won't be advised. He is bull headed, he runs away from his party. In short, Mr. Cleveland is fatal to his friends."

Steamer Sunk off Hatteras. NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 7.—A report, which cannot be confirmed, reached here from Cape Hatteras today, that an unknown steamer had struck on the shoals and sunk. It has also been said that there has been no signs of life on board.

Cut His Mother-in-Law's Throat. FAKEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 7.—News was received here this morning of what may be another murder, which happened in Quewville township Sunday night. A colored man in a difficulty with his mother-in-law cut her throat, report says, from ear to ear, and that she is dead.

Better and later information is that the woman is not dead, but is in a precarious condition. The assailant fled, but was captured, and is supposed to be in the custody of officers.

No reliable information as yet to the circumstances can yet be obtained.

Sentence Reduced. ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 7.—Harry Hill's sentence for forgery has been reduced from seven to five years, and all other indictments have been withdrawn.

As soon as this was done, Hill withdrew his motion for a new trial, and within a short time, he will be serving his five years sentence in the camps of the Chattahoochee brick company.

Corrections, An Explanation, and a Prayer.

ED. JOURNAL.—A young man in your city recently attempted to ridicule the Methodist Episcopal Church (ignorantly called by some Northern Methodist), in the presence of one of the members of my charge on account of, as he claimed, its Negro Bishops.

I am convinced that quite a degree of misunderstanding exists among, otherwise, very intelligent people, in regard to this fact. Ever since the war the Methodist Episcopal Church has been the butt of two remarks both of which have become hackneyed and hateful to men who know the truth and have courage to follow their convictions. They are:

1st. The Northern Methodist Church is a Negro Church. 2d. It has no business here.

Well in the interest of good logic I would like to know where a nigger Methodist Church has any business if it is not here where the niggers are?

But, dear reader, if you are a broad liberal-minded man or woman I can give you some information. If you are not you will not receive it. One of the best ways to make you understand is to make it pay you to understand.

Now I propose this: I will give a certified check on any bank in New Berne for five hundred dollars payable at sight, to each and every person who will find a colored bishop in the Methodist Episcopal Church in the world.

I also positively assert that the Methodist Episcopal Church never ratified any agreement to stay north of the Mason and Dixon's line; consequently does not violate any contract by working for the salvation of souls south of that line.

As to her work among the colored people in the south, the only reason why she is doing more than the Southern Methodist Church, the Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, or other churches is because she has more men and money with which to do.

The New Berne district of the M. E. Church South is assessed this year for Payne Institute, a colored school, $75.00. I sincerely hope that they may be successful in raising the entire amount and as the basket passes I suggest they sing:

"Our hopes, our aims, our fears are one, Our comforts and our cares. And then let all christendom quit trying to create prejudice against any one on account of their honest efforts to save souls."

W. Q. A. GRAHAM, P. E. Marshallberg, N. C. THOMAS BURKE.

A Revolutionary Hero Whose Grave Near Hillsboro is Unmarked. At one time during the Revolutionary war Wilmington, N. C., was occupied by the British under Col. Craig. At the time of this occupation, there lived in Chatham county a man by the name of David Fannin, who was a bitter enemy to the friends of American liberty.

Fannin was noted for his marauding disposition, his fearless and active temper; and the British authorities, in appreciation of his dark and dangerous services against the friends of liberty, appointed him colonel of the loyal militia. Col. Craig presented him with a pair of pistols and a uniform.

When Cornwallis raised the royal standard at Hillsboro in February, 1781, Fannin was a terror to the whole country; & his daring enterprise and success excite our admiration, while his cruelty and depravity have branded him with ignominy, and his name deserves execration.

Among his daring exploits was the Capture of Gov. Thomas Burke and other prominent whigs in Hillsboro on Sept. 13th, 1781. Hillsboro was at that time the seat of government, and Gov. Burke was there in the discharge of important duties, and at a time of great danger. He was seized in his house at night by Fannin and his men.

Fannin proceeded with the utmost rapidity to Wilmington with his prisoners, but was intercepted at Lindley's mill on Cane creek by Gen. Butler, and an engagement followed in which Fannin was severely wounded. He retired the next day, and delivered Gov. Burke and other prisoners to Col. Craig, at Wilmington.

Gov. Burke was sent to Charleston, S. C., where he was kept a prisoner on James Island. He was treated so inhumanly that he finally escaped and returned to North Carolina. In 1782 he assumed the reins of government at Salem.

Thomas Burke was no ordinary man. He was a native of Ireland and immigrated to America long before the Revolution. He served North Carolina faithfully and suffered for her during the time that "tried men's souls." In 1775 he represented Orange county in the convention at New Berne; and in the meeting at Hillsboro, Aug. 21st, 1775, he also represented it. He was a delegate to the provincial congress at Halifax, April 4th, 1776. He took an active part in the formation of the constitution, and on December 20th, 1776, he was appointed, with William Hooper and Joseph Hewes, a delegate to the continental congress at Philadelphia. He continued to serve at Halifax until the body adjourned, Dec. 23rd, 1776. This body sat on Sundays.

He attended the congress at Philadelphia, and served that body until July, 1781, when, by acclamation, he was chosen governor of North Carolina by the general assembly.

He died at Hillsboro in 1783, and it is said that his grave near that place is unmarked. In North Carolina too poor to designate, even with native granite, the last resting place of those whose public services constituted the most thrilling pages of her history?—G. in Kingston Free Press. TO KEEP HER YOUTH A woman must keep her health. All the "best" does in the world must do as much for you as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With that you can see the good that's done, as well as feel it. That regulates all the woman's functions, improves your digestion, enriches your blood, brings refreshing sleep, and builds up, strengthens, and repairs every part of your system.

There's the very best evidence that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure your Catarrh. It's this promise, made by the makers of the medicine: "If your Catarrh can't be cured, no matter what your case is, we'll pay you $500."
