

PUBLISHER'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE DAILY JOURNAL is published daily except on Sundays and public holidays...

THE JOURNAL.

E. H. HARPER, Proprietor. G. W. HARGREAVE, Local Reporter.

Entered the Post Office at New Bern, N. C., as second-class matter.

Let all democrats stick together and disappoint the enemy.

Under the new internal revenue collector in Arkansas fifty blockade distilleries have been captured.

Supposed rich gold mines in the Wichita Mountains, Oklahoma, were simply "salted" tracts, fixed up to draw immigrants and sell lands.

New York city will at once expend $320,000 on park improvements to provide work for the unemployed, and $250,000 soon afterward.

Since January 3rd $16,000,000 in gold has been withdrawn from the treasury and $28,000,000 in gold has been deposited for the purchase of the new bonds.

The Wool Growers association will memorialize Congress for a hearing before the Senate Finance committee on the wool schedule in the Wilson bill.

A bill is before the Legislature of the State of New York to greatly extend the limits of the city of New York. If it becomes a law the city will cover a territory of 317.77 square miles and will have a population of 2,966,792.

We are glad to learn that the Senate Finance committee will give very few hearings to persons wishing to submit objections to the Wilson bill. The idea of monopolists and manufacturers taking a month or two to enter complaints against the bill before it is reported back to the Senate is outrageous.

By May 1st the warships Columbia, Olympia, Marblehead, Montgomery, Atlanta, Boston, Raleigh, Cincinnati, Alert and Marion will have to be manned, requiring about 1,500 men, while only half that number is available.

Hon. A. J. McLaurin, Senator Walcott's successor, is a self-made man, having by his own exertions raised himself to the position of one of the leading lawyers of Mississippi. He is an uncompromising advocate of free silver.

A great howl was made over the free list of the Wilson bill but in spite of free wool, not an Ohio Democrat faltered, nor one from Texas. Throughout the great Northwest the scarecrow of free ore and free lumber failed to shake a Democratic vote. In all the great agricultural districts tariff reform lost none of its following.

There are three Missouri Judges who have spent ten months in jail for contempt of court for refusing to obey an order of a federal court requiring them to order a tax levy to pay for bonds subscribed to an unbuilt railroad. They are still in jail with a stiff upper lip, and never come out except on short leaves to go home, or to hold court by permission of the Federal Judge.—Star.

Recent dispatches have stated that Rear Admiral Irwin, of the Pacific squadron at Honolulu, is to be retired, and that his successor will be Rear Admiral W. A. Kirkland. Rear Admiral Kirkland is a native of North Carolina, having been born in Hillsboro. He is a brother of Gen. Kirkland, of New York, who commanded a brigade in Gen. A. P. Hill's corps during the civil war.—Charlotte Observer.

GIBRALTAR.

Gibraltar is the strongest fortress on Earth. The armies of the world may assault it, but shot and shell cannot prevail against the impregnable rampart.

The Democratic Party is the Gibraltar of American Constitutional Liberty. The artillery of political factions have played upon it, and the mad waters of hostile parties have raged furiously against it, but it lifts its head in supreme majesty, defying the shock of ocean and the roar of cannon.

In the early history of this country it successfully resisted Federal power and preserved the rights and liberties of the people.

For Sixty years it repulsed the assaults of the enemies of state-right, and in 1860 it went down in a gallant struggle to defend them; but when the storm of passion had passed, and the angel of God descending from Heaven swore that war shall be no more, its majestic form, towering above the wreck, caught the eye of a reunited people and at once became the inspiration of hope and the prophesy of a bright and glorious future.

To-day it stands, like Gibraltar, firm and eternal.

They tell us that a terrific storm is now beating upon it. Well, let it dash high its waves. They surge only to break into crystal spray as harmless as a dew drop. But, we are told that a new and more terrible danger confronts us. "Our leaders are in revolt." Well, let them revolt. If they can stand it, we can. Van Buren revolted, and in the language of Senator Iveson, of Georgia, "We threw him out like a dead dog to rot upon the dung-hill."

Thank God, we say it reverently, thank God, the people garrison our Gibraltar, and woe to the chief who attempts to betray us!

CHARACTER IS THE THING.

This Makes the Real Man—Occupation is Secondary.

Not many men of active thought and grand habits prefer idleness to enterprise. Every good citizen, removed beyond the necessity for personal effort, still desires the public good in the use of his endeavors for general advancement and enterprise. In this free America there is such a thing as the dignity of labor.

Under the American idea a laborer is not only respectable but honorable, and the man who bears censure with us is not the man of work, but the man without work.

While this is true there is with us a degree of caste that makes undue and unpleasant distinctions in occupations. Every man, whatever his social status, grossly insults labor every time he declines to recognize it. A simple difference in occupation does not make necessarily a difference in men. The physician labors for his advancement and the maintenance of his family. So does the artisan and the mechanic. The one occupation is just as honorable as the other.

The lawyer expends his labor, by day and by night, to serve the ends of his engagements. So does the farmer and the pedagogue—all engage in useful honorable employment for personal maintenance and the public good. To labor in one instance is just as honorable as that of the other, and the laborer in each is entitled to exactly the same respect and recognition. While this is the theory of our society it is not practically time.

Men are unfortunately not so known by themselves as by the occupation they follow. Into our free institution there has crept that foreign idea that makes a man a gentleman because of his money and place, and not because of his personal worth and enterprise.

The choice of occupations is oftentimes made therefore more from public opinion than from fitness or talent. The boy who would make a good mechanic or artisan looks more to the respectability, as he understands it, of the professions than his fitness for work, and he spoils a good mechanic, and makes a third rate lawyer.

Times and circumstances with us are changing, and it will be well for us to learn that character, and not occupation, makes the man.—Southern Cultivator.

A Paying Gold Mine.

The Long mine in Union county, under the supervision of Captain Clarke, is now paying very well. The main shaft is fifty feet deep and supplies the mill with an abundance of ore which yields about one penny-weight to the bushel.

LABORER'S HARVEST.

The earnings of the Virginia penitentiary for the last fiscal year were $28,000 in excess of expenditures.

Many of the sealskins sent to the London markets are obtained by the Siwash Indians along the west coast of Vancouver island and the northwest shores of British Columbia.

Montana marketed over 200,000 head of cattle this year, an increase of 25,000 over last year. The total money received by the stock raisers for the season's business is estimated at $6,000,000.

Our cold water friends may be displeased to learn that this year's grape crop in New York is the heaviest on record, and the hop crop is 15,000 bales larger than last year. When the tide comes in it runs strongly.

According to latest reports collected in San Francisco, Seattle, Victoria and other seaports on the Pacific coast, the total number of sealskins taken in the Pacific ocean and Behring sea during the past season is 120,341.

The Most Gorgeous Treasures of Arabia.

What a splendid picture it brought before your mind! You read the glowing descriptions of the secret treasures which the geni of the ring spread before Aladdin's gaze. You perused this favorite story of yours in "Arabian Nights" when a boy, and your imagination pictured brilliantly for you everything that the words suggested.

That was when you were a boy. To-day, possibly, you are unable to do it. Shall we tell you the reason why? Most probably because your liver is sluggish, and as a consequence you suffer from sick headache, dizziness, and constipation. Do you want to cure all these troubles permanently, make your liver active, your imagination lively, and in general enjoy things as you did when a boy? All you have to do is to use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the smallest and easiest to take, and they are the cheapest because they are guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. What more can you ask?

A grocer's journal estimates the world's crop of cloves at 5,000 tons.

Mr. C. F. Davis, editor of the Bloomfield, Iowa, Farmer, says: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all sufferers with colds and croup. I have used it in my family for the past two years and have found it the best I ever used for the purposes for which it is intended. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. V. Jordan."

We produce and eat every year about 340,000 tons of beet-root sugar.

For sale by druggists.

Love is the most precious of all things because it can only come from God.

Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. "He says: 'I contracted a cold last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and let me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all peak well of it.' 50 cent bottles for sale by J. V. Jordan."
