LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard.

M. Hahn & Co.—Auction.

Albert I. Lewis—Wreckage sale.

Don't miss the parade to-day. It starts at 9:30 sharp.

About fifteen hundred visitors entered the Fair grounds yesterday.

Everything is fair for a good Fair and a big crowd.

Members of the New Berne Division of the Naval Reserves are to assemble at the armory this morning at nine o'clock.

The balloon goes up at three o'clock today. A high and good ascension is confidently expected.

The highest point reached by the thermometer yesterday was 68, the lowest 49, range 27.

The first butterfly "of the season" was seen on the streets yesterday. He was made a captive and is now in a glass case at the Fair.

Some change has been made in the line of march for the parade to-day in order to avoid the effects of the recent rains as much as possible.

If you wish your friends noticed in the personal column, give us the facts; the crowd is a little too numerous for us to keep up with.

Wm. L. Kennedy of Falling Creek sold a ten months old colt in Raleigh last week for $300.00. The sale was by auction. This shows how breeding good stock pays.

Fair weather and cooler was the kind of weather which the bureau telegram yesterday predicted. This is the very kind wanted.

A good parade may be expected today under the management of Chief Marshall Willis and his assistants. The parade proposes to move on time, and half past nine is the time.

Rev. L. W. Crawford, D. D., Professor of Biblical History will preach in Centenary M. E. Church Sunday morning and night. He is expected to arrive Wednesday to attend the Fair and visit friends formed during his four years pastorate.

The north and northwest are having it from 20 to 28 degrees below zero. Quite a difference in Eastern North Carolina temperature. It has been below freezing in New Berne but twice during the entire winter and those were only spells of two or three days duration.

The Wilmington Reserves are putting in special drills preparatory to their visit here. (The New Berne Division is anxious to meet them—remembering so well the warm cordiality bestowed upon them at our sister city, on the Cape Fear during last "Welcome Week.")

We hear of the death of Riley Murray, Esq., of Lake Landing, Hyde county, at the advanced age of 95. He was the father of Dr. Murray and was probably the oldest man in the county. He was a prominent man, a good farmer and an extensive grower of fruit.

Prof. Sheddman's dog show is a fine thing of its kind. The Robbins show on the opposite side of the main walk gives a big ten cent's worth. Galatas and other mysteries attract at the rear of the grounds and Sherry's Working World delights young and old at the Fair grounds.

Three Wilmington policemen, J. R. Needles, G. E. Collins and J. H. Williams, in bright new uniforms, came up yesterday on the Fair. They mean to return today to give other members of the force a chance to come. They say that many can be expected from Wilmington today, but that the big crowds from there will be tomorrow and next day.

THE PARADE TO-DAY.

Starts at 9:30—Formation of the Procession and Line of March.

The procession will assemble at the corner of Broad and Middle streets at 9 o'clock, and starts sharp at 9:30.

The line of march will be as follows: Down Middle to South Front, down South Front to Craven, up Craven to Broad, down Broad to East Front, down East Front to Pollock, up Pollock to Middle, up Middle to Broad, up Broad to George, up George to the Fair grounds.

The following is the formation of the procession:

Platoon of city and visiting police, Platoon of Marshals. The marshals for this division are: J. K. Willis, C. E. Slover, O. G. Bell and Paul Koonce.

The next division is the bicycle corps under Marshal Hill on his bicycle.

The Star band. The next division will be in charge of Marshals F. Winslow, G. Noble Ennett, Jr., and E. K. Bishop. It will be composed of the New Berne Naval Reserves, the Governor, the Chaplain (Rev. J. T. Lyon) the President of the Fair Association, the master of ceremonies (P. H. Pelletier) the mayor and city officers and Fair Association officers. All these will be in carriages.

Benj. Hahn, B. B. Neal and B. S. Guise will be the marshals for the next division. It will be the New Berne Fire Department. The New Berne company will be at the right of the division.

The next marshals are: Percy Cox, J. T. Hollister and S. W. Ferreebe.

This division is the pony brigade. Sheddman Bros. dog show winds up the procession.

Distinguished by Their Bouquets.

Young ladies were engaged in decorating the fire engine, yes erday to the great delight of the members. In the parade the members of the Atlantic Company will wear violets tied with red ribbon; the members of the New Berne Company will wear button hole bouquets of yacynthos and violets.

The young ladies favoring either company will wear similar bouquets at the Fair.

Their Manufacture Arranged For.

Dr. G. K. Bagby who has been a way for a few weeks making arrangements for the introduction of his dental articulation cup is back to remain having been entirely successful in his effort. The cups will be manufactured and put on the market by S. S. White & Co. proprietors of the largest dental instrument established in the world. They pay a very handsome royalty for the privilege. They have also taken in hand another invention of Dr. Bagby's pertaining to this profession.

The firm is highly pleased with both and the doctor is thoroughly convinced they will soon be in general use. We hope his interest in the sales will bring him in a handsome income.

Off For Government Work.

Six Beaufort men passed through Monday en route to work on the break-water at sea, being constructed at Point Judas, between Black Island and Long Island sound by the Government to afford a safe harbor for vessels from the Atlantic Ocean.

They state, as to the magnitude of the work, that it has been going on for about fifteen years and is expected to last six years longer.

Messrs. Mark Mason, Geo. Styron, Dave Mason, Alex. Mason and Robert Lewis, were members of the party.

The Police Service.

Some extra policemen have been put on the force disposed as follows for service through Fair week:

Day street policemen: J. B. Dixon, Eli Elliott, T. J. Toler, J. W. Warrenton and Richard Long.

Night street policemen: J. K. Land, H. T. Brinson, Thos. Wilson, S. J. Dickens and Archie Wallace.

Office day policeman, R. B. Blackledge.

Office night policemen, J. A. Roberts.

Fair grounds policeman: Capt. Geo. Broadstreet, J. G. Price, J. W. Sparks, I. Hancock, Chas. Gillikin, W. H. Willis, R. O. Gardner, N. C. Robinson, J. W. Bowden, Wm. McKay, H. Paul, Richard Godly and W. E. Snelling.

Mr. S. H. Shaw, of Washington, a commercial traveller who is registered at the Fulford House says that it has been his fortune to attend many a State and county Fair but in its entirety the show at this one is ahead of any he has ever seen.

The attendant at our Fair who came the farthest of any that has yet arrived so far as we know is Mr. Henry Brown, from the Indian Territory. He has been spending about a year there with his brother Jacob.

Turkeys have been both plentiful and cheap this season through. Last night Hackburn & Willett received a lot of dressed ones that showed up well. The lightest weighed 10 pounds and they ranged on up to 18 1-2. The total weight was 3500 pounds.

The Wilmington freight and passenger trains and the Wilmington special Fair train will each arrive about half past one o'clock today. Also the special train over the Atlantic about the same hour. The special Fair train will stop at George street, the nearest point to the Fair, both coming and going. The specials will return late in the afternoon.

EAST CAROLINA FAIR.

Opens Auspiciously—A Grand Exhibit in all the Departments.

The Seventh Annual Exhibition of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association is now in progress and the promise to eclipse every other exhibition is being verified.

Every department is interesting, and some filled to overflowing. The State's exhibit fills nearly one whole room—the space used by the A. Cohn Piano and Organ Company is all in the room that is devoted to anything else. The exhibit is a highly instructive one, especially to any one who wishes to learn of the resources of our glorious State. It cannot fail to please all.

The Floral Department is filled, as full as it will hold, with the beauties of "Florida's Kingdom," a single exhibitor shows eighteen varieties of palms and a total of a hundred and fifty varieties of blooming and ornamental plants.

The Agricultural Department never shows better than at present. The two rooms and passages devoted to it are well filled and are a condensed, and, to our aiders, a marvellous exposition of our agricultural products as brought from field, garden, barn and smoke-house.

The Game Department is not as largely filled as we have seen it, but a variety and some rare specimens are shown.

The putting in of the greater part of the fish display was postponed until this morning. Look out for it today.

The machinery Hall is, as usual, a place in which great interest centers—machinery in motion will take the attention, and here may be seen all the operations of a knitting factory, a printing office running, getting out "The Fair Observer" published daily through the Fair, etc. Mr. J. S. Carr's moving factory is unique and will be remembered. Outside of the building, quantities of improved Farm machinery are seen, an examination of which will repay all tilters of the soil.

A large amount of good stock of all kinds is shown and the improvement of cutting away the upper half of each stable door makes it so that it can be more easily viewed than ever before.

Lovers of dogs can here be gratified at seeing the different breeds on exhibition, and the small pet animals are abundant and interesting in the extreme.

And the poultry! Every one who views it is lost in admiration. As fine specimens of every breed can be imagined in so large a supply that the coops would not hold all. There are numerous private coops on the ground and all are filled.

There are all the attractions and amusements that are wanted and of a good and pleasing character.

It is a grand exhibition which no one should miss.

All bona-fide representatives of the Press are requested to make themselves known to the officers of the Fair for court seats. A special reception room is set apart in the basement of the main building for members of Knights of the Quill to which they are invited to make themselves at home. Also in the language of the old-time "tar heel" custom, we would remark that the latch string at THE JOURNAL office hangs on the outside.

Officially Invited.

MAYOR FISHLATE, Wilmington, N. C.

Please extend hospitalities of the city of the New Berne to the Medical Editors and our Fair on Wednesday.

Please answer. WM. ELLIS, Mayor.

The above invitation to the fine body of Northern editors who are now making a tour of the South was sent by telegram yesterday.

Mayor Fishplate telegraphed back that he would deliver the message today. He added that a big crowd was coming from Wilmington and that he intended to be one of the number. We are glad to hear that hope the editors and doctors invited will accept and come with them.

Coming and Going.

Gov. Elias Carr, and wife arrived last night. They are at Hotel Albert. Gov. Carr will formally open the Fair this morning when the parade reaches the ground. This is meant to be at eleven o'clock.

Mr. W. T. Hampton, the Wilmington Messenger Representative at the Fair arrived last night. We are pleased to have him with us.

Dr. Oscar Gibbs of Middleton, Hyde county and Mr. Clayton are at Mr. J. M. Hines.

Miss Jennie Canady of Durham is visiting Mrs. Phil Thomas.

Miss Anna Parker of Rocky Mount, and Miss Ida Wiggins of Wilson, passed through last night to visit at Mr. T. H. Mallison's below New Berne and to attend the Fair.

Mr. M. E. McCowan came down with Col. J. S. Carr's stock exhibit.

Mr. E. S. Waters of Pantego and his niece, Miss Della Hodges are at Mr. G. H. Waters.

Rev. B. W. Carroll of Fort Barnwell is visiting the Fair. He is at Hancock's Boarding House.

Dr. J. W. Ruple, and wife arrived to attend the annual parade and inspection of the New Berne Fire Department.

By order of Foreman, Geo. D. Rounner, Sec'y.

At the Baptist Church.

Strangers are cordially invited to attend the special services for young people at the Baptist Church tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

WILLOW BASKET INDUSTRY.

True Basket Willow (Hlex Purpuræ) Introduced for Cultivation and Raising a Basket Factory.

Yesterday witnessed the initiative experimental step towards the establishment of an industry new to this section which may, in the near future, add another important feature to our products—it is intended to be a willow farm and willow basket factory combined.

Mr. Chas. Hallock is the prime mover in the scheme. Yesterday he set out an acre of Judge Henry R. Bryan's farm across Trent river opposite New Berne in the true basket willow. By the fall these plants will furnish as many cuttings as are wanted to set out an indefinite number of acres and if everything moves a-pace for its development, as we consider it almost certain to do, the industry can be in full blast next year.

These baskets are in constant demand and Germany furnishes the greater portion of what are used in the United States. Millions of them, we are informed, are annually imported from that country. Now we will see if some of the money sent across the ocean for the baskets cannot be turned to North Carolina and to New Berne.

The farm is located close by "James City" which gained such notoriety last spring, and the making of the baskets will furnish work to its large colored colony, well adapted to their abilities, and which from its nature can be performed either at their homes or at the workshops of the company.

The Convicts Gone.

Deputy sheriff J. D. LaRoque took up two colored convicts to the penitentiary yesterday.

They were Henry Hudson and Wm. Humphrey. The former is put in for one year for wood-stealing and the latter two years for man slaughter.

Ten Pennsylvanians for the New Mill.

Ten Pennsylvanians from Mauch Chunk Pennsylvania arrived by the steamer Neuse yesterday.

They will all be employed at the new saw mill of the pine lumber company, now nearly finished, and which is to have 30,000 feet daily capacity and be run in connection with the "Scheelky Planing mills" on which the company has secured a lease until the beginning of the next century.

Incendiary Fire.

Mrs. Mary Dewey's barn near Maple Cypress was burned Saturday night. E. S. Hart was charged with setting the fire, and upon preliminary examination before James A. Gorden, J. P., was committed to jail to await the action of Superior Court, but while being brought to New Berne to be locked up he escaped.

A hundred barrels of corn, a wagon, and agricultural implements were destroyed, besides the building. There was no insurance.

This city was, until a few years ago, Mr. Dewey's home and her friends will not only sympathize with her but join in the wish that the incendiary may be caught, convicted and duly punished.

Is Charmed by our Early Spring Growth.

When we took our first stroll down town yesterday morning before breakfast, one of the first parties we encountered was the genial, observant and well informed gentleman and author, Mr. Chas. Hallock, an ever welcome visitor to our city. He came in on the steamer Neuse for the purpose of attending the Fair and in his early walk he was noticing with delight the forwardness of vegetation through the city. In his hand he held a twig in full bloom which he had plucked from a plum tree, and he also spoke of having seen peach blossoms open also, while willows were green and maples in bud sufficient to show foliage and give shade in a grove, while there were violets by the million and hyacinths, bridal wreaths, orange, jessamine, snow drops, Japan quince, &c., were all getting abundant and roses were putting forth. He noticed two bushes of the latter (pink ones) in the yard of Mr. Edward Grook that were in good bloom. "And all this" said Mr. Hallock "on the 19th of February!"

Many a visitor to our Fair will take similar notice of pleasing features that pertain to this city and locality and the notice thus attracted will cause many a one to seek a home in this delightful place.

Fire Department, Notice.

The annual parade of the New Berne Fire Department will take place this Tuesday morning, Feb. 20th at 9:30 o'clock a. m. (The members will assemble promptly at that hour on the corner of Broad and Middle St., in full dress uniform. By order of W. D. BARNWORTH, Chief Engineer. L. J. TAYLOR, Sec'y.

Atlantic S. F. & Co. No. 1—Attention.

You are hereby notified to assemble at your meeting room, this morning at 9 o'clock sharp in full dress uniform, to attend the annual parade and inspection of the New Berne Fire Department. By order of Foreman, Geo. D. Rounner, Sec'y.

Military Parade on Washington's Birthday.

Telegrams have been received from Capt. Harris of the Wilmington Light Infantry and Lieut. Barnard of the Wilmington Naval Reserves saying that their commands will arrive Monday night to take part in the parade.

The Second Regiment band will also probably be along. The total force coming is about 100 men.

All citizens should turn out to give them a welcome.

THE A. COHN PIANO AND ORGAN COMPANY.

Finest Exhibit of Pianos and Organs Ever at a New Bern Fair—Interesting Facts.

For over twelve years Mr. Adolph Cohn has been identified with the musical interests of eastern North Carolina. He has made himself known in every village, every hamlet, every town and city in the large territory he has so successfully worked. Nearly any person you may meet can tell you who he is and what his business is. He has himself sold twice as many pianos and organs in eastern North Carolina as any house which has been represented. Over five hundred organs and over two hundred pianos have been sold by him, alone and unaided. He has put them in the swamps of Hyde county and in the parlors of the rich men—in the humble cottage of the wage earner and in the drawing room of the banker—the capitalist and the laborer have both been his friend.

For many years he sold goods for the large dealers, but for the past several years has dealt direct with the manufacturer—thus saving the cost of the middle man to the profit of his customer. Four months ago he effected the consolidation of all the trade interests in the section of country hereabouts, and now is general manager, himself, of a company which is as powerful as those which he once represented—the A. Cohn Piano and Organ Company. The president of this concern is Mr. C. M. Brown, of Washington, who is also president of the Beaufort County bank. Another member of this firm is Mr. A. J. Outerbridge, formerly with the Ludden & Bates company. Mr. Outerbridge has heretofore been Mr. Cohn's greatest rival, having sold hundreds of pianos and organs. Together the two gentlemen have sold over one thousand organs and over three hundred pianos—representing about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of business. With the strong opposition which Mr. Cohn has at times contended, it must be that he has succeeded only because of merit. Indeed, this is true. He has sold good goods at fair prices and today there are no men who can truthfully say that Mr.

Cohn has ever fostered common instruments upon them.

Today his goods are remarkable for true merit. First of all comes the Melbin piano. It can be demonstrated to a person of intelligence that in every point where a piano's merit rests the Melbin is with the best. Every improvement which adds to the perfection of a piano is contained in the Melbin, while its construction is of the best. Its tone, construction and ensemble is in truth equal to, if not superior to some old makes that sell for twice the amount charged for the Melbin, and never so that people, as a rule, remember with favor only those makes known to the world in their youth, the Melbin would be considered by the world as having no possible equal.

At the Fair the company will have in their exhibit a baby grand Melbin. Artists who are competent critics will be made up with this instrument.

He also handles the Newell & Evans, a standard instrument, and Prick & Son's and Smith & Barnes, celebrated Pianos.
