LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The last balloon ascension takes place today.

The Helen Russell Sports held the bonds to a crowded house last night. As at their previous engagement here only stags and birds were present.

Mr. W. S. Seamster of Grifton was at the Fair yesterday. He states that Messrs Helen & Brookes have a trotting mule which if he can get down here he will have at the Fair today. The mule came from Texas, is about six years old, and Mr. Seamster thinks he can trot a mile in 2:40.

It is said that when the parachute on the first balloon ascension came down near the poor house three colored women who were in the field at work were so frightened that they dropped their hoes and look to the swamp near by, where they remained until their absence was noted and some one came down to see what had become of them.

Clear Weather For To-Day.

The Weather Bureau telegram which came yesterday read: Hoist cold wave signal. Temperature will fall twenty degrees or more by Thursday evening. Clearing Friday.

Coming and Going.

Miss Rosalie Scherwin, of New York is visiting Mrs. O. Marks.

Mr. J. A. Robinson Commissioner of Agriculture is attending the Fair.

The Misses Bellamy, of Wilmington, are at Hotel Albert.

Editor Bethune of the Sumpston Democrat was an additional arrival among the Press fraternity.

Rev. L. W. Crawford to Preach Sunday.

Rev. L. W. Crawford, D. D., professor of Biblical History in Trinity College, arrived to attend the Fair, and visit friends. He is the guest of Mr. T. A. Green.

He will remain until next week and preach at Centenary church at each service Sunday.

Another Great Day.

As many people came up from Morehead and from Wilmington Thursday as on the previous day, the crowd from the direction of Goldsboro was less. Of course many who came the day before and on previous days remained over and re-entered, and the Fair grounds were thronged all the day.

It was a debatable question as to which of the two days had the largest number on the grounds—some thought one way, some the other—the count of tickets will tell. At any rate, both were great days and satisfactory to the Fair and pleasing to all.

To-Day's Races.

Consolation race, for horses that have not won 1st or 2d money in any race, best 3 in 5, 2-3 mile heats. Purse $300.

Running—Best 3 in 5, 2-3 mile. Purse $75.

THE MILITARY PARADE

The Reserves and W. L. I. Reviewed by Mayors Fishplate and Ellis.

The New Berne and Visiting Reserves and the Wilmington Light Infantry were at the depot of the W. N. & N. Railroad to meet the second regiment band. On their arrival the parade marched down town by Hotel Albert where they were reviewed by Mayors Fishplate of Wilmington and Ellis of New Berne.

The parade showed up splendidly and as they marched through some of the principle streets thronged with people, they were greeted with cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs.

The parade was continued to the Fair grounds and after marching in arms were stacked and the clever soldier boys then "took in the Fair." In the afternoon the Light Infantry were escorted to the depot where they took their departure for home. They were a fine looking body of men and handsomely uniformed. The New Berne Division was glad to have them with them, and hopes that they all enjoyed the visit. The band that rendered such delightful music also returned.

A Balloon Out of Sight

Two ascensions and parachute leaps were made at the Fair grounds Thursday by Miss De Veau, one in the afternoon and the other at night.

The one in the day time literally went "out of sight." This was not because the balloon went higher than on the previous occasions, but because of the cloudiness of the day. This hid the balloon from view as it entered the upper regions and on the descent the parachute and lady dropped from invisible space into the range of vision some little time before the released ball on came down low enough to be seen.

DAISY, THE SKY-SCRAPER.

The lady, the dog and the balloon, all came down near together, on the edge of the now drained place formerly known as "Richardson's pond." Miss De Veau struck in the top of a small tree, but escaped without injury.

The night ascension was the first ever made in New Berne, and stronger interest centered in it than in any other ascension ever made here. The fire works went off beautifully as it descended. As they were giving out, a ball of fire dropped with moderate rapidity down to the earth (this gives the aeronaut some slight understanding of what there is to receive her as she falls), and then a red light was seen floating about in space for a few moments and then all was darkness. No sign of the balloon could be traced by the eager gazers skyward for a minute or two, but every one believed it was nearly directly overhead, because it was so when the last of it was seen.

The watching was rewarded at last—the parachute was indistinctly observed by a faintly luminous glow descending. The red fire, with which it was expected to have been bordered had failed to work properly, owing to some unfavorable condition in the upper atmosphere.

The descent was made just back of the grand stand; no injury resulted.

In the ascensions Miss De Veau carries with her life preservers. They would have been used in case she had fallen in the river.

Prof. Hutchinson and Miss De Veau have given the Fair and the public good services. Every ascension has been fine.

One of the Compliments.

Goldsboro sent a large delegation to the New Berne Fair yesterday morning. Those who have seen the exhibits pronounce them "varied, attractive and of the highest order."

We are glad to know that the Fair is a success—Goldsboro Head Light.

"Many gather what others will scatter."

—PROVERB.

Do not scatter your money for things that are of no worth. There is no economy in buying the Cheapest Clothes, they are shoddy and will do no service. YESTERDAY'S RACES.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS IN FOUR CONTESTS.

Pattie Mine Wins the $200 Race. Miss Thompson 1st $350 One, Januer $100 One and Lynch Last for $350

FIRST RACE.

Pattie Mine, bay filly, owned by M. H. White, Hertford, N. C., won the trotting race, 2:50 class, best 3 in 5, for a purse of $200 in three heats. Her time was 2:45, 2:45 1-2 and 2:44 1-4; G. A. B., J. A. Burns was second and The Oaks, Hackburn & Willett 3d.

G. A. B. was second in the 1st and 2d heats and third in the 3d. The Oaks was third in the 1st and 2d and 2d in the 3d heat.

SECOND RACE.

Miss Thompson, brown mare, by T. M. Hewitt, Wyanoke, Va., won the free-for-all trotting race for a purse of $350 in three heats. Time 2:34 1-2, 2:35 and 2:36 2-5.

Lissa, dun mare, by J. P. Kerr, Alamance Farm, N. C., was second in all three heats and Dominion, bay gelding, by Hackburn & Willett, third in every heat.

In the running race for a purse of $100, Bias, chestnut gelding, J. P. Kerr, Alamance Farm, Graham, N. C., was first in every heat, Fiddle Sticks, bay gelding, W. H. Joyner, Garysburg, N. C., second in every heat and Flurry, bay mare, by W. C. Fraley third.

Bias' time was 1:16 and 1:15 2-5.

FOURTH RACE.

In the trotting race 2:35 class, mile heats, best 3 in 5 for a purse of $350 Lynch, bay gelding, owned by Hannan & Kelly, Norfolk, Va., won first money, Mamie Wells, bay mare, Hackburn & Willett, second, Maggie Watkins chestnut sorrel, by G. M. Harden, Jr., Durham, N. C., third.

Lynch's time was 2:43, 2:46, 2:43 and 2:43.

He was first in the 1st, 3d and 4th heats. Mamie Wells was first in the 2d heat, second in the 1st and 4th and 3d in the third heat. Maggie Watkins was second in the 2d and 3d heats, third in the 4th and fourth in the 1st.

This ends the greatest day of racing in the history of State. A thousand dollars in purses in one day is a large amount and given in connection with the liberal ones given every day of the Fair brought such an array of trotters to the Fair—such as one does not often see. There were forty racers from several States.

And great crowds have watched the races with continuous and intense interest—stronger than ever before, and no winner failed to secure loud cheers at his success.

The races have been a prominent and interesting feature and we look for the interest in them to continue to strengthen.

In the Agricultural Department.

W. F. Crockett and W. H. Bray, of New Berne, Jos. Kinser of this county, W. L. Kennedy of Falling creek, J. H. Bernard, Thos. A. McIntyre of Onslow, and J. S. Carr of Durham, all show fine stock in various lines; some of them show pretty good quantities.

In the Agricultural Department W. H. Bray, W. F. Crockett, and John Humphrey of this county and Col. J. S. Carr of Durham, are the largest exhibitors.

Mr. Bray himself fills a room. Mr. Crockett is not far behind him. Mr. Carr's exhibit is not in the Agricultural Department but with his factory exhibit in Machinery Hall.

It will do any farmer good, who is following in older paths to look carefully through these departments and see what the progressive ones are doing. Notice the baled native crab-grass hay, corn fodder, corn shucks, pea hulls, early pea vines, &c., so neatly piled and so tastefully arranged at the centre of the room. See the hams, shoulders, side meat barrel pork, and sausages, so choice and well prepared; look at the large well headed cabbages, which have made their growth and headed since last summer, look also at the turnips in varieties; view the kindred crops, beets, parsnips, carrots, &c., so plentiful and so fine; and the field corn in a dozen or more varieties, every variety of field peas, several varieties of beans and the lettuce, spinach, kale, collards in varieties and all fine, sweet and Irish potatoes as fine as are raised any where, and of many good kinds, the oats, black, white and golden rust proof other grain, the "big pumpkins" (without which no Fair is complete) the strawberry plants in bloom, the pretty celery, young radishes and other things, which speak so eloquently of the prudent methods that are coming so thoroughly in vogue around us, and of the capabilities of this region.

Examine into these things. You may find it to your interest to do so.

Puring Fair Week.

The Banks of this city will close at one o'clock p. m. except on Tuesday the 20th and Thursday the 22d when they will be closed all day.

INDIVIDUAL EXHIBITS.

Mention of Some Displays Made by Business Firms.

A number of business houses make displays. Prominent among these is the beautiful exhibit of the widely known firm of W. H. & R. S. Tucker, of Raleigh. It consists of ladies' costumes, carpets, curtains and other house furnishing goods.

The A. Cohn Piano and Organ Company make a handsome display of several instruments in their line, of different makes. Their brag one is the thousand dollar baby grand Mehlin piano, a duplicate of which was awarded a premium at the World's Fair.

The Steff Piano Company is well represented and Mr. Herring in charge of it enthusiastically points out its meritorious qualities.

The New Home sewing machine makes a pretty display of their machines and fancy work made on them.

Messrs. Gerock Edmonds & Landusky made quite an exhibit in the picture-taking line, electrophot, the new style of enlarged portraits being the most prominent.

The Dawson Nurseries, near La Grange show fruit trees.

W. Trow & Company of Indiana, show their make of flour.

The Durham Tobacco Factory exhibit attracts much attention. A Ferris wheel is in motion with five-pound sacks of tobacco representing the cars, a windmill built of tobacco is grinding away; a pyramid of sacks of tobacco has four divisions, rotating an opposite direction, and a three mast schooner (also built of tobacco) shown under full sail "tossing on the billows of the mighty deep."

The mechanical representation and arrangement in each is excellent.

The Rocky Mount smoking tobacco company show some of their goods.

The New Berne Barrel Company have an exhibit which speaks for itself.

The Colley Veneer Co., of Wilmington have a variety of fruit boxes and baskets pretty and strong which they make for shipping purposes.

The E. H. & J. A. Meadows Fertilizer Company of New Berne make a good display in very large glass jars.

The progressive firm of J. J. Disorway & Co., show a fine line of saws, belts and mill tools and supplies in general.

L. H. Cutler & Co., have a varied display of agriculture implements.

The Higginum Harrow Company, of Higginum, Conn., have several of the improved revolving blade harrows on the grounds and have their representative in charge.

Messrs. Hackburn & Willett show a line of agricultural implements. Prominent among them is a spray on wheels to be used with team for distributing liquid poison on growing plants infested by insects.

F. A. Ashford, of Kinston, shows his recently patented ventilated refrigerator. These are the leading mercantile exhibits. Their enumeration will give some idea of the esteem in which the Fair is held by business for bringing these articles to the notice of the public.

CULLED ITEMS OF NEWS.

Early Wednesday morning, on the streets at Raleigh an eight-year old daughter of Mr. Luther N. White, who was riding in a wagon, fell out, was run over and so badly injured that in an hour she died. She was a granddaughter of Mr. J. C. S. Lumsden, a well known Raleigh merchant. The accident occurred at a corner of the Capitol square.

Private information from Washington says, action will soon be taken on the confirmation of Collector Simmons after March 1st, and that there will be no longer delay, even if the absence of Senator Vance is prolonged.

There are now students at the University from fifteen States. The medical class has eight members, the law class fifteen.

The eight men charged with white capping in Richmond county have all been discharged.

L. C. Porter, of Minneapolis, has plans for settling Scandinavians near Wilmington.

The Pearson revival meetings at Davidson College, save six, who were not all ready church members professed religion.

Dr. Wm. McIlwaine, of Union county, died suddenly while in his seat in church. He was the father of Rev. W. E. McIlwaine and was well known in this section of the State.

Mrs. Maomi Moore, who was injured in the Boston bridge accident, near Statesville, has died. She never recovered from the shock of the death of her only daughter, who was instantly killed.

A special agent of the Pension Bureau has arrested M. V. Blake, a negro who is a school teacher in Burke county, and who has engineered a number of alleged fraudulent pension claims through the Bureau. The special agent is pushing his investigations in Burke county. He has discovered gross frauds among the negro pensioners there.

The negro woman, Bettie Thompson, whose "holiness" teaching and preaching caused such a sensation among the negroes at Danville, is from Oberlin, a suburb of Raleigh. Last spring she and other women left here in company with a negro preacher named Leary, who introduced the "holiness" doctrine in Oberlin, and who, when he departed, took with him seven women, most of them married. The "holiness" took possession of some of the negroes. Some quit work arrayed themselves in their best clothes and took to the woods.

Those who would lead others should always look up.
