LOCAL NEWS.
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Howard.
W. B. Lane—Notice.
Lost.—Ladies hair pin.
R. Berry—Home grown potatoes.
Fair weather today, says the weather bureau.
The Y. M. C. A. entertainment tonight will begin at 8:30 o'clock: There will be a varied programme and no charge for admission. Every body invited.
The schooner loaded with dynamite that is adrift without a crew in the Atlantic ocean is prepared to shock anything that it comes in contact with.
Dr. Geo. Slover will soon build himself a residence, a neat cottage on Union street adjoining the old homestead. The building once used by Dr. Slover as an office, now occupying a portion of the lot will be torn down.
Rev. R. G. Pearson's revival services at Davidson resulted in a total of 150 professions of religion. The spiritual condition of the community was greatly strengthened.
All having bills against the Fair Association are requested to present them at once for settlement. Winners of premiums are also asked to call promptly for them, at the office of Chas. Reizenstein, Treasurer, near the foot of Craven street.
Thirty-one chickens, we learn were hatched out by the small incubator at the Fair grounds while the Fair was in progress. It was shown by Mr. J. L. Hahn. We hope next year that a good sized one will be shown regularly at work in a conspicuous place.
Mr. Crocker, representing Chesboro Brothers, wholesale commission dealers, of New York, left yesterday morning for his home. He has been here making arrangements for securing shipments of shad and other fine fish. Mr. Crocker says the best fish they get come from this port.
Mr. Wm. Dunn had a trio of Light Brahmas at the Fair purchased from one of the most noted breeders of the country a few months ago at a cost of $40 for the three, besides the express charges. He exhibited these and also some of his own raising. The New Berne raised birds outscored the others. This speaks well for the success that is attending New Berne breeders.
Careless Driving
Very careless driving is not an infrequent sight upon our streets and it may be considered fortunate that so few accidents happen.
But, Dr. Leinster Duffy has, within the last few days, been made the victim of such carelessness. Saturday his buggy was needlessly run into by a dray driven by a colored boy and one of the shafts broken, and on Wednesday a similar occurrence through wanton carelessness took place, giving further damage to the buggy and throwing out Mr. R. B. Nixon who was with the Doctor at the time.
It is a little remarkable that the same gentleman should have been made the victim in each case, but so it is, and he is not feeling in a good humor about it either. If by any chance he is made to suffer the same way again soon, there is likely to be a squally time for the one who does the mischief.
Owners of drays who put them on the streets should see to it that they have good responsible men for drivers.
Irresponsible reckless boys are common to most of our streets, and it is well to remember that there is a remedy; any drayman might have his license taken away from him next business week, one is under bond and the bondsmen are responsible for mischief they cause.

Damaged by the Storm
The Schooner Geo. A. Howes, Capt. J. T. Beverage, arrived yesterday from New York, to load with lumber at the Blades mill and the Clark mill for Newark, N. J.
The Howes was near Hatteras in the storm of Saturday, and the wind was hard. That morning she broke her foremast and had her flying jib blown away. She finally got into Ocracoke Inlet and harbored there until Tuesday morning, then sailed for the city.
Coming and Going.
Mr. and Mrs. John B. Waters and child who have been visiting at Mr. F. O. Roberts left yesterday for their home in Wilmington.
Miss Marion Radcliff, who has been at home attending the Fair and Miss Charlotte Riley, who assisted in Miss Radcliff's concert during Fair week left, returning to the Metropolitan conservatory of music.
Mr. C. P. Mebane, cotton buyer, and family, who have been spending the winter in the city left, returning to Wilmington. Mr. Mebane has been found a most pleasant man in all the relations of life and his daughter Miss Nannie soon became a favorite in the social circles of the city. All the family have made many warm friends who hope to see them back when the fall comes.
Miss Addie C. Earl, who has been visiting Miss Bettie Wahab left for her home in Wilson.
Mrs. W. S. Edmonds came down last night from Kinston to visit Mrs. C. E. Slover.

A Lyncher in Trouble.
When a mob lynched Slaughter, the murderer of two men in Alleghany county, it will be remembered that the sheriff shot one of the lynchers, Alexander Rose, in trying to save his prisoner. Rose has 24 shot in his body, 14 in his hand and his condition is critical.
Friends of the murderer who was lynched want to lynch Rose in retaliation and he has been taken to Winston by the sheriff for safe keeping and those who were with him in lynching Slaughter want to get him away for fear he will tell who else were in the party as he will do if he is forced on the stand. The other lynchers threaten Rose's life if he tells on them and Slaughter's five brothers are asking their threats also.
Rose is a man of family and is counted a good citizen.
The Curio Department.
The curio department of the Fair, always interesting was this year especially so and deserves further mention than from the press of others matter, we were able to give it while the Fair was in progress. There were many antique exhibits and very many relics connected with the great historic past.
Tryon's palace, New Berne, N. C., was well represented by furniture which once graced its lordly halls in the days of the Royal Governors. Mr. S. M. Brinson showed Tryon's desk which was bequeathed to the present owner by Mr. Zach Slade, two beautiful marble top tables, the property of Mrs. R. P. Williams were there, Tryon's clock now the property of Hon. C. C. Clark was also in the collection.
The silver communion service, date of 1753, presented to Christ (Episcopal) Church this city by King George of England and which is still in use by the church proved an interesting exhibit to many. The Royal Gov. Martin tried to steal this service when the Americans ran him out of New Berne and out of the State but the patriots were too sharp for him.
A cup and saucer of Lowestoff china (very rare and valuable) and a teapot, all the property of Governor Caswell, the first Governor under the State constitution were shown. So when Gov. Carr was at the Fair, the present Governor could have taken tea from the same cup used by the first Governor.
There was a large supply of Confederate war relics, swords, battle flags, uniforms, &c., also a Confederate newspaper printed on wall-paper! And, a Confederate geography. Old John Brown's powder flask was there, also a gun taken from one of his men at the time of the raid on Harper's Ferry.
There were Revolutionary relics of great interest. Among them was the family silver of John Wright Stanly which was used at the entertainment given in honor of Gen'l Washington when he visited New Berne in 1791.
A silver medal for bravery at the battle of Waterloo, 1815 and a bronze medal for bravery at Leipzig, both bestowed upon Wm. Strauss were shown by a lady of Wilmington, a sister of the one who received them—he died years ago in Germany.
Mrs. Eva Baxter had a collection that was worthy of special mention. It embraced a variety of curious and interesting articles brought from foreign countries—mainly China and Russia—in the early part of the present century by her grandfather Capt. Shubal Baxter.
The above gives some faint idea of the department, but lack much of bringing out the many points of interest that made the department worthy of a very close examination. It was rich in historic interest and possessed more articles of decided merit than has ever been the case before. We were glad to see it, keeping pace with the advances made in other departments of the Fair.

A GOOD REPORT
What the Northern Doctor-Tourists Say of the South
From the Charlotte Observer we clip the following:
The Northern doctors were delighted with their trip through the South, judging from a special to the Morning Advertiser, of New York, over the signature, "Clark Bell." Mr. Bell, who accompanied the medical editors, is one of New York's most distinguished lawyers. He has the following to say of Charlotte and the South:
"The reception given to the party of Northern editors visiting the South has been most hospitable. From the moment we left New York on the Old Dominion Line of steamers, the reception tendered last Saturday evening at the Commercial Club, Atlanta, the party has been overwhelmed with attention from the people of the Southern cities.
"There was a superb banquet tendered at Charlotte, N. C., in the county of Mecklenburg, where the first declaration of American Independence was proclaimed in 1776, at which the ladies of Charlotte assisted and warmly welcomed the ladies of our party.
"North Carolina has great natural advantages. Its climate is salubrious and its resources inexhaustible. At Southern Pines, where New England people have founded a beautiful town with fine hotels and lovely winter homes, we spent a most delightful day and were entertained by the citizens first at one hotel and then at another, welcomed by the mayor, a veritable live Yankee transplanted into original North Carolina soil.
"The Seaboard Air Line gave us special parlor cars and sometimes ran special trains when necessary to make important points or meet engagements.
"It is superfluous to say, Whisnant, and Col. J. H. Winder have traveled with us, and Thomas J. Anderson, its general passenger agent and his charming wife, are now with us.
"From our standpoint the Southern towns on our route stand the strain of the financial situation better than do our Northern towns.
"I was especially struck with the thrift of Athens, Charlotte, Asheville, S. C., and with many railway towns through which we passed.
"Northern men and women should visit the South. Nothing so dispels illusions or corrects false impressions as contact, acquaintance and intercourse.
"J. T. Patrick, who is the guide and foster-father of our party, is the ablest man in the State in influencing immigration from the North and Northeast to North Carolina.
"Ex-Governor Jarvis, whom I had the pleasure of meeting, explained to me the great interest taken in North Carolina in influencing Northern immigration, and he assured me that settlers would be warmly welcomed and treated as brothers. We are impressed with the wonderful resources of both North Carolina and Georgia for settlers who are familiar with fruit culture, for which these States furnish remarkable facilities.
"I shall speak later on these topics."

Two Stores Now Instead of One
Messrs. Smallwood & Slover, who are amicably dissolving partnership, each to run a separate business have about finished the division of the stock on hand and Mr. Smallwood has taken nearly all of his portion over to the roomy and well located western store of the Gaston House (or shall we say of the Chastanqua Hotel, the new name) in which he has for several weeks past been receiving his new stock.
He opened yesterday with a good line—nearly all perfectly new—of house furnishing goods, builders and painters materials and farmers supplies.
Dr. Slover was busy at the old stand where he will remain. He has a large amount of new stock on the way and was ordering still more. Each house expects to carry on an undiminished trade under the new arrangements. The stocks of each are pretty much in keeping with those of the heretofore existing firm. We hope for the continued success of both gentlemen and we believe they will have it.
Telephone System.
Telephone patents expired Jan. 30th. On the strength of that, wide awake Durham has already organized a new telephone exchange—with a hundred members to start it, with a charge of $15 per year at the residence, and $20 per year at a place of business.
Raleigh is now negotiating for a similar service with more members and lower rates. Isn't the matter of doing something in this line in New Berne worth considering!

The Social Event of the Season.
The German at the Albert Wednesday evening was the most enjoyable of any that has taken place this winter.
It was complimentary to the guests of Miss Emma Katie Jones; Miss Mattie Dewey Heartz, Durham; Miss Mattie Elzette Oates, Charlotte; and Miss Lucretia Gerrell, Winston.
The pretty and unique figures of the entrancing woman were gracefully led by Mr. Miles Howard in style that lent additional charm to the occasion.
The gentlemen were in full dress while the costumes of the ladies were most elegant.
"Ill habits gather by unseen degrees, As brooks makes rivers, rivers run to sea."
—D. DUNN.

PREMIUMS AWARDED.
At the Seventh Exhibition of the E. C. F. O. G. & I. Association.
Department 5.—Poultry.
Class A.—American Breeds.
Mr. B. A. Fox, the noted fancy poultry breeder and expert of Richmond Va., was judge of the poultry at the Fair, and performed the duties pertaining to the office with pleasing skill.
The poultry was judged according to the American Standard of excellence which establishes an ideal bird of perfection, to which point it is impossible for the living bird to attain. This is considered the proper plan so that no breeder may rest satisfied, but be even reaching forward to higher achievements. A score of 100 is the highest and if reached it would mean that the established ideal had been reached. No bird is given a first premium unless it scores as high as 90—if the best on exhibition falls below that it is given 2d premium. The scores of the winning birds and their owners are:
Barred Plymouth Rocks.—Cock, 2d premium, 88 1-2; J. P. Kerr, Haw river, N. C.; Hen, 3d, 88, W. H. Bray, New Berne, N. C.; Cockerel, 1st, 93 1-2; J. P. Kerr; 2d, 93 1-2; E. E. Hudson, Kennedysville, Md.; Pullet, 1st, 92 1-2; 2d, 91 1-2; J. P. Kerr.

COULDED ITEMS OF NEWS.
Gen. Jubal A. Early is gradually sinking, and his physician states that he can not survive many days longer.
Champion Jas. J. Corbett is now on trial in the criminal court at Jacksonville for the prize fight with Mitchell. If he is convicted the trial of officers of the Duval Athletic club for aiding and abetting the fight.
Thomas Higgins, a burglar, is to be hanged with Prendergast, murderer of Harrison, on the 23rd inst. The former is disgusted at the companionship he is to have in leaving the world, and threatens to commit suicide to avoid it.
Secretary Herbert has received four offers for raising the Kearsage from Rockator Reef in addition to that from the Merritt Wrecking Company. When Congress appropriates the money for raising the wreck, the contract will be awarded.
The main reason thus far given for loss of the Kearsage is that the maps were wrong. It is said that the only survey of the dangerous place on which she was destroyed was made nearly sixty years ago. The loss is partly attributed to the currents getting into opposite directions from what was anticipated, and partly to not sighting the reef before dark.
