LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard, Jno. McSorley—Good stock, good work N. Whitford—Refrigerator for sale.

The street sprinkler was on duty yesterday. Its good effects were readily seen.

The steamer Neuse brought in quite a large number of passengers this morning and a large lot of freight.

The temperature yesterday was as high as 69 1-2, the lowest point reached. The previous night was 47 1-3. The truck is jumping.

The turn table of the W. N. & N. R. is now in position and the brick foundation of the outside circle for its track is being built. It will quickly be ready for use.

Several blocks of Pollock street now have the laying of the water works pipe completed. In three or four days more this will be the case the entire length of the street.

The steamer Neuse took out a pretty large shipment of fish and clams yesterday. Some from New Berne, some from Morehead and a portion come from points tributary to the W. N. & N. R. R.

The River View Poultry Yards, Wood Bros., proprietors, made shipments of their buff cockin fowls yesterday to Wilmington, N. C. and to Nashville, Tenn. They are also shipping eggs. The breeding time is here.

The steamer Albemarle brought in 5000 fine fire brick for the new dry-kiln of the Stimson Lumber Co. yesterday. 150,000 brick will be used in its construction in addition to these.

The Wilmington Star publishes over eight hundred city lots to be sold for city taxes by the collector on April 2d. Such a state of things is most direct evidence of money scarcity and consequent depression. It is to be hoped that the passage of the Wilson bill, and other whole some national legislation and the spring trade will greatly relieve the situation in Wilmington and all over the country.

Come, And Get Your Cash.

All to whom the East Carolina Fair has awarded premiums are requested to call at the office of Mr. Chas. Reizenstein and get them at once, also all to whom the Association owes any bills are asked to present them promptly for settlement.

It is desired to close up the books in the shortest time possible as the meeting of the stockholders will be held on the 29th inst. and the books belong in the hands of the auditing committee five days before that time.

The Cabbage Crop.

The truck farms around the city show an increase of acreage in cabbages—some have planted twice as much, and the young plants are growing finely. The recent light snow did not seem to hurt them at all, in fact it seemed to toughen them, and the warm weather prevailing since is pushing them ahead perceptibly.

Mr. A. W. Lindsay one of the large Norfolk truckers who was here to the Fair upon viewing our cabbages declared that we could beat them on this crop. Mr. Lindsay is a good judge in the matter as he has an immense plantation under cultivation, 1,500 acres of it in truck.

Considerable shipments of the cabbages will soon be going off. The truckers are now preparing for the season by making up their boxes so they will be all in readiness.

The average around the city is somewhat larger than usual—some have planted nearly twice as much as they did last year.

INCREASED BUSINESS.

The Stimson Lumber Company Sell 10,000,000 Feet For the Year 1894—the Mill to Run Day and Night to Fill the Orders.

The Stimson Lumber Company have taken so many orders for lumber that they are now compelled to double their dry kiln capacity making it 60,000 feet per day—and run their immense saw mill day and night to keep up with them. Last year they sold six million feet. This year their sales will reach ten million.

The price at which it is sold is a little higher on some grades than last year, on some a little lower. The average is substantially the same. This puts a more satisfactory aspect upon the operations of the year now being run.

The dry kiln being put up is an old style one with improvements which make it surpass any other on the market. Neither smoke nor sparks can enter where lumber is and adjacent property, it is said, will no doubt be endangered by it than they would from being alongside of a residence. It will be constructed entirely of brick and steel, except the doors, and be as near fire proof as can be made.

Coming and Going.

Lieut. E. W. Van Lucas, of the corps of engineers arrived from Wilmington and left on the steamer General Thom for Ocracoke to take current observations. He will return home via New Berne. The Thom is expected back soon.

Miss Sadie Eaton returned from Baltimore.

Mrs. J. W. Wall, engineer on the W. N. & N. R. R. left to spend a week at his home in Suffolk.

Mr. Z. R. Polson returned home from Norfolk.

Mrs. Mary Alt, of Baltimore, who attended the Fair, and since remained to visit her daughter Mrs. W. T. Lane, left for her home yesterday by the steamer Neuse taking her little grandson Master Thomas Lane with her for a visit.

Mr. W. F. Kornegay of Goldsboro, who has been making a short visit at Mr. W. B. Boyd's returned home yesterday morning.

Mr. B. L. Perry of Beaufort, proprietor of the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead, passed through en route to Clayton to attend a meeting of the syndicate which owns the property.

Mrs. C. Follman left for Kinston to visit her sister, Mrs. Maria Cummings, who is very ill.

Mr. R. H. Berry, returned last night from a South Carolina insurance business trip.

Mrs. Bettie Whaley left on the steamer Albemarle for the north after her spring stock of millinery. She intends also to bring an expert milliner back with her to assist her through the season.

Mr. D. F. Jarvis, left on the Neuse for northern markets after his spring stock.

Miss Annie Bell, of Raleigh who has been visiting at Mr. Geo. Henderson's returned home.

Mr. F. J. Lennox of Utica N. Y. who has charge of putting in the hot water heater for Mr. C. E. Foy, returned to the city last night from a business trip to Raleigh and Durham.

Capt. Kilby E. Terry, wife and son, registered at the Fulford House last night. They will go to Stella this morning. The captain says the late newspapers announcement that he would be the Republican candidate for Congress was premature.

Mr. John R. White from near Maysville was in Friday with a fat beef which he sold to Mr. S. Cohn & Son for over forty dollars.

Rev. Mr. Lantry of Goldsboro is in the city at Capt. Abbotts. He is selling books.

Lower Rates for Truck.

Dispatches announce that the officials of the different South Carolina railroads and the Seaboard Air Line have held a conference at Norfolk and effected an arrangement between these lines and the Old Dominion Steamship company which places them in a position to offer the growers of produce in and around Charleston the best facilities in marketing their produce at cheaper rates and best time to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other northern and eastern points.

They also announce that the Old Dominion line has agreed to handle all business offered by this route during the entire season, at rates lower than any competing line can offer.

More Home Meat Less Westerns.

"The number of boxes of western meat that comes to this place now is comparatively small, and if our farmers continue to raise their meat as they did last year, the number will be much smaller. They say that they are going to do it."—Louisburg Times.

The above item shows that the farmers of Louisiana in common with those through the State generally are making up to the importance of raising home supplies. The farmer who does not realize the necessity for this will fall behind his more prudent neighbors.

Ex-Mayor Hewitt has been talking again. There is danger that the Mayor's opinions may become common.

A LAMENTABLE FRATRICIDE.

JOHN RUSSELL SHOOT HIS BROTHER JAMES, WHO EXPIRES 2 HOURS AFTERWARDS

John Escapes—They Quarrelled About a Horse Gollar Which the Slayer Forbid His Brother Using.

A terrible affair occurred Thursday at Fort Barnwell which resulted in the death of James Russell, a young man 21 years old at the time of his brother John, aged 19. The young men are sons of R. A. Russell, a well known farmer of this county, who was the Democratic candidate for the Legislature in the last coalition campaign, (1888) and who was spoken of for the office of Collector of Customs after the last Presidential election.

The trouble was caused by James persisting in using a horse collar which John forbade him to use. After some disagreeable words John went in the house fired a load of bird shot out of his gun, loaded it with buck shot and sought James, threatening to kill him. The latter presented his breast and told him to shoot. John attempted to fire, the cap popped but no discharge followed.

James then slightly advanced toward John who then with an oath remarked he'd shoot him anyway and fired the other barrel, the load took effect at the knee and would not have proved fatal but for the fact that an artery was severed. It might possibly not have proved fatal anyway had the proper remedies been at hand to use at once and some one to use them aright. Dr. M. H. Carr of the neighborhood was summoned as quickly as possible but the young man lived only about two hours after receiving the wound.

The shooting occurred in the afternoon. John remained at home quite a while after his brother's death but finally ran away. A colored man named Arkison drove for him when he went off. He has not been taken and his whereabouts are unknown. Another colored man named Lewis Watson was the witness of the shooting.

The coroner's jury declared in the verdict that the deceased came to his death from a gun in the hands of his brother John.

John, who by his rash act, has brought crushing grief to his relatives and great sorrow to their friends, and made himself a fugitive from the outraged laws of his country, is a young man from whom no such action would have been expected. He was considered a quiet, easy going young man, and thus, shooting his brother, is not only a shock to their friends, but a matter of great surprise to them.

John attended the New Berne Collegiate Institute in 1892-3, paying his way with money of his own earnings. His conduct here bore out the reputation which he bore at home as spoken of above.

While the young man has borne this reasonably good name, and while the stricken family are entitled to sympathy and while the whole affair is a very deplorable one, it does not bide the fact that the killing was wilful. His going to the house, deliberately shooting the load of small shot from the gun, and reloading with large, after having made his threats, gave him ample time to reflect, and makes the killing most brutal and horrible.

Remarkable to say this is not the first time Mr. Russell, the father has suffered in a somewhat similar manner. A few years ago an older son, Luke, was shot and killed by a negro thief whom he and others were pursuing.

CULLED ITEMS OF NEWS.

The Don M. Dickinson Presidential boom is making a mighty effort to have its train seriously.

We clip the following from the Raleigh Christian Advocate: Rev. J. F. Butt says: We ask for the prayers of your readers for a great revival at Bladen Street church, Wilmington. The house is crowded night and day, many conversions, an old man converted powerfully last night, who has been a disciple of Ingalls.

The Greenville Reflector is informed that the contract has been let for a new church building at Long's school house, near Farmville, and another church building is in course of erection at Ayden.

The Carolina Beach property, near Wilmington, has been sold by the Wilmington bank which had a mortgage upon it. The steamer Wilmington was also sold and brought $14,000.

THE OAKS COUNTRY FARM

Fancy Poultry on a Large Scale—Fifteen Acres to be Devoted to it—Wood and Ellis Proprietors.

The lumber to erect the building for the poultry farm which Mr. L. S. Wood and Mr. John Ellis are establishing on the Hackburn & Willett farm is being hauled out and the work will commence this week.

They intend to go extensively into the business of fancy poultry raising, having ample breeding pens of ten or twelve breeds embracing all the leading varieties.

Besides the breeding pens they have fifteen well located acres on the ridge between the main farm building and the river. These will be divided into ample breeding yards for ten or twelve breeds of all the leading varieties.

In addition to the breeding pens for high class birds there will be 500 brown Leghorns (one of the finest laying breeds) kept for eggs. There will be unlimited range for them. The proprietors are now buying quantities of Leghorn eggs and all the fowls they can get this department up to the point desired.

Their partnership in the poultry farm does not interfere with the previously established poultry industries of the proprietors. Mr. Ellis retains his connection with the Union Point Poultry Yards and Mr. Wood with the River View Poultry Yards; they will each be conducted as heretofore. The farm is a distinct business.

It will be known as "The Oaks Poultry Farm," the title being taken from the name of the plantation on which it is located.

RALEIGH INSANE ASYLUM.

Annual Meeting of Directors.—Dr. Wood Resigns.—Dr. Kirby Elected Other Business.

The annual meeting of the directors of the insane asylum was held Monday. Dr. Wood the superintendent resigned. Dr. Wood's administration has been able and successful. His resignation was accepted to take effect June 1st. Resolutions very complimentary to him were adopted.

The directors unanimously elected Dr. George L. Kirby of Goldsboro, now superintendent of the Eastern Insane Asylum as Dr. Wood's successor.

W. R. Crawford, Jr., was re-elected steward and Mrs. Whitaker Matron.

A new executive committee composed of John B. Burwell, B. F. Boykin and L. A. Potter was elected.

The new infirmary will be completed and opened over June 1st, but will hardly be furnished and occupied this year.

The number of insane in the asylum is 286, and seven are at home on probation.

During the past three months eighteen have been received, five discharged and two died.

A Wonderful Dream.

And it came to pass I had a dream, and saw as it were a vision, and a great concourse of people were gathered together with me, some from the North, some from the East and some from the West. And behold, as I looked at them I saw, as it were, strange lines on their faces, and they turned neither to the right nor to the left, but with eyes set, they looked eagerly forward. And behold as I looked some were people of high estate and some were the laboring class, both old and young, male and female, they passed before me in a continuous throng. Then said I to one who stood on the outskirts of that great crowd, Pray, tell me, friend, what is the meaning of this vast multitude? and why go they all in the same direction, though they have no leader? And the stranger made answer: "See you not the direction the crowd taketh?" And I looked and behold with one accord they were going to the South! And I questioned again, Why, my friend? What attraction has the South for the people of the North the East and the West? And he made answer: "In this city, on the South side, there dwelleth a Rich Merchant! Some do call him a queer name. Though it begins with an I, it is NOT ISAAC, but Ike. And again they fix another word and call him Bro Ike! And why is that, my friend? I asked of the stranger who was so kindly explaining. He made answer in these words: "Because his building is Big, his stock also is Big, and his HEART is very Big! He sells every day to a Big Crowd, and many people who trade there gain Big Bargains! Hence the PRINCE of the name. And do all those people trade with this LARGE ISAAC? I questioned again. The answer came, "Yes and many more that we cannot see; his customers come from far and near! But harken! you will hear they are singing as they go! Then from the afar off came the sound of many voices chanting, and these words were borne to my ear:—

"We are travelling on the way to Big Ike's store, We gain many bargains when we enter the door! He sells goods so cheap that never before Has there been such a fiend to the laboring poor? Then there was a sound as of many hand clapping and I awoke!
