LOCAL NEWS.

HOWARD.
Wanted—Situation.

To-day is St. Patrick's Day, the patron saint of Ireland.

The Railroad Commission has refused to grant the request of the A. & N. C. R. to change the rate of freight on lumber from a special to regular tariff.

The Feast of Purim in honor of the deliverance of the Jews by Queen Esther will be observed by religious services conducted by Rabbi Kaiser next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Charlotte Observer's special Washington news says that a substitute for Representative Grady's O. H. Perry's (of New Bern) claim bill was reported by Representative McLaurin.

The Christian Advocate says that there is an unusual interest in the Methodist Churches in Raleigh. The pastors of Edenton and Central churches are preaching powerful sermons to large and deeply interested congregations and opening the way for penitents at every service. There have been some conversions.

A North Carolina drummer to sell goods at the North was among the passengers on the steamer Neuse yesterday. Mr. Otto L. Nelson, of Wilmington was the man. He represents the Spiritine Chemical Co., of Wilmington. He is the same young gentleman who was in charge of that company's exhibit at the East Carolina Fair.

The Kinston Free Press says that in the Sand Hill township of that county on the morning of the 13th inst. the six-year old daughter of Mr. Alonzo Korney was badly burned. Her mother was in the garden getting greens when it happened. It is supposed the child was playing in the fire. She was badly burned on the stomach and her right side, the skin peeling off from places as large as a hand. Hopes are entertained of her recovery.

The Kinston Free Press notices the mad dogs thus: "Mad dogs are reported from quite a number of places in North Carolina. In Greensboro one bit 86 other dogs, and there has been a general thinning out of dogs in that section. Mad dogs bit quite a number of dogs and cattle in the Aurora section of Beaufort county, and in the Bayboro section. Strange dogs and dogs acting strangely should be promptly killed."

Rabbi Kaiser and Bride.
Rabbi L. Kaiser, of this city was married Wednesday the 14th inst. at 9 p. m. in Edenton to Miss Sarah Grunwald, at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. D. Newman, Rev. Dr. Salzman, of Norfolk, officiating.

The Rabbi and his bride, arrived on the steamer Neuse Friday morning, and during the day numbers of friends called upon them in their home on Broad street.

The Rabbi conducted the usual Jewish religious services last night. The meeting was largely attended, and at its close the bride was the center of attraction of many friends—those who had not yet met her, crowded around for the purpose.

This Journal, along with other numerous friends, extends its heartiest congratulations.

Business Removals.

J. Butler has now moved all the stock of furniture from his Middle street store to the one in the Chantique hotel and turned all his attention to that store.

W. P. Jones has moved his furniture store into the building vacated by Mr. Butler.

Mr. Greenblatt will move into the store the last mentioned firm are in as soon as they are out.

We will not say who will occupy Mr. Greenblatt's place a little later.

Coming and Going.

Messrs. Howard Lowry and W. P. Lowry, of Pittsburg, Pa., are in the city stopping at Mr. J. J. Wolfenden's. Messrs. Baldrige and Smythe, of Pittsburg, are also in the city.

Mr. T. Bate, hotelier, of Philadelphia, who has been in the city prospecting with a view of locating in New Bern, left on the steamer Neuse for his home.

The family of Mr. W. H. Davis and Mrs. D. L. Roberts returned home on the steamer Neuse, having taken the round trip pleasure.

Miss Vera Benton of Newton Grove, who has been visiting her uncle Dr. J. H. Benton, left, returning home.

Mr. Sam'l L. Gerock, brother of our townsman Mr. Edward Gerock, who has been in the city a short time on business returned to his plantation near Maysville.

Mrs. W. R. Ellis left to visit relatives at Pollockville.

Mr. W. J. Walls, of the W. N. & N. R. returned on the steamer Neuse from a trip to Virginia where he has been visiting relatives.

Mr. T. W. Dewey's family returned from Goldsboro where they have been visiting relatives.

Mr. R. F. Broadus, of Cool Springs, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. L. W. Fisher, of Baltimore came in yesterday morning and left on the steamer Neuse in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lennox, W. J. Congdon and M. Lewis, all of Urica, N. Y., who have been here the past two weeks, left on the steamer Neuse last evening for Petersburg, Va.

Gaining Prominence in His Profession.

We are glad to see the Atlanta Constitution that Mr. Shepard Bryan son of Judge H. R. Bryan of New Bern is rising in his profession in his connection with the leading law firm of Smith & Pendleton of that city. We copy the notice:

"Mr. Shepard Bryan is now associated with the law firm of Smith & Pendleton. Mr. Bryan is a native of North Carolina. Like a large number of the bright young sons of the Old North State, he determined to come to Atlanta to cast his lot. He has been located in this city now for about a year, and during that time has already won recognized prominence in the legal profession and established a name for himself.

Mr. Bryan graduated from the University of North Carolina with distinguished honors, and is a young lawyer of recognized ability and worth. He has for the past year been associated with the firm of Erwin & Cobb, and during that time has won the admiration and respect of a large circle of friends.

Cleveland's Shooting a Disaster.

President Cleveland and his party have been considerably hampered for their success in bagging ducks and geese in the North Carolina sounds.

It seems that the natives of the coast fail to render to the President's prowess that admiration that has been generally accorded him. We copy from the last issue of the Beaufort Herald of its local hunting items and also a reference to Cleveland's shooting:

"Capt. Wm. A. Wade killed 11 black ducks near the Straits at one shot last week. This is not considered a very big shot either. There has been killed at one shot in this county 45.

Mr. Cleveland has come and gone and with him he took back to Washington 81 North Carolina brant and several geese and maybe a loon. It was considered a great big lot of game in Washington. A fisherman casually remarked: "I think it d— a poor hunting."

Wilmington Revival Under Rev. Mr. Butt.

We believed when Rev. J. F. Butt left New Bern for Wilmington that his work in that city would be felt and it is being found so. A recent issue of the Messenger contains the following notice of what is taking place under his ministry.

The revival at Bladen Street M. E. church, Rev. Mr. Butt, pastor, continues with unabated interest.

The revival started without being appointed. Two weeks ago last Sunday sinners sought the pardon of their sins and thus it began. Up to Wednesday night there had been between fifty-five and sixty professions of conversion and some twenty-five or more reclamations of back-sliders.

Rev. Dr. Nash, and Rev. Mr. McClure of St. Andrews Presbyterian church, have rendered some assistance. Dr. Nash has preached two powerful discourses.

Six hours a day are spent at the church. From 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning services are held. In the afternoon two hours are spent in prayer meeting services. At night from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock preaching and prayer services are held. The church is packed with interested hearers.

Can Lower Insurance be Secured?

There have been mutterings of dissatisfaction at several places in North Carolina, about existing insurance rates. New Bern being among the number, but no action towards securing relief has been taken. Raleigh appears to be strongly exercised in the matter. A correspondent in that city writes the Wilmington Messenger as follows:

"The business men here are in arms against the insurance trust known as the Southern Tariff association. Some of these desire arrangements made for securing insurance from companies not in the trust, and declare that rather than pay the double rates now charged they favor not insuring at all."

There is to be a Danish and Swedish colony in Camden northy. Two hundred families are expected during the present year, sixty of these to arrive by the end of May.

THE IMPORTANCE OF GOOD ROADS.

Both Country and Towns and Cities Benefited by Them.

The JOURNAL during its entire existence, has been an advocate of bettering the public highways, especially those that are most travelled—those that lead to the towns and cities and other central points.

The first and strongest point in favor of good roads is that they are cheaper to the people from a financial standpoint, not to consider the annoyance and detention occasioned by their present condition.

The Wilmington Star says that this is about the season of the year for such notices to appear, but they are rather earlier than usual this year.

Most of the papers mention the fact that trade is dull in the towns on account of the dreadful condition of the roads which makes traffic on them almost impossible, and as a consequence the town merchants sit and wait for the country customers who do not come and can't come until the roads dry up.

This shows how the towns suffer from bad roads, suffer even more than the country does, and how much they are interested in having good roads in their midst. They feel the want of them keenly when their shelves are stacked with goods, which remain there weeks scarcely touched while the bills are maturing and pay day drawing nigh, and mainly because the country people who trade with the town can't reach it over the bottomless roads.

Every live town should take an interest in the roads leading to it and exert itself to the end that they might be put and kept in a good condition.

"OLD BLANFORD CHURCH."

Beautiful Poetic Lines Copied From a Pane of Glass in This Ancient House of Worship.

The following lines, written on a pane of glass in "Old Blanford Church," at Petersburg, Va., were copied into the Prayer-Book of Mrs. James G. (Mary E.) Stanley, formerly of New-Bern, by Miss Kate Beckwith, many years ago. They have been attributed to many persons,—among others, the actor. Their author is not known, but their beautiful expression of the true spirit of devotion and poetic sentiment are well worthy of a writer of great fame.

Old soldiers will remember Blanford Church. It was on the Confederate lines around Petersburg in the late war, and its old church yard, where great numbers of soldiers are buried, was the scene of many a stirring incident. Burials were often attended with much danger, and in some instances funerals had to turn back,—notably that of a clergyman so heavy was the firing thereabouts.

The Church is not very far from the famous "Crater," and is about the same distance from the Federal "Fort Steadman," in another direction.

Mrs. Stanley was Miss Mary Wilkins of New-Bern. Miss Beckwith is now Mrs. Spaulding of New York.

Bristo' Parish, in which Blanford is situated, was organized in 1642, but a church in this immediate neighborhood was not built until 1780, and Blanford Church, in its present form, not until 1788. It was often called the "Brick Church." Thomas Jefferson was the contractor for the first church, while Thomas Ravenscroft contracted to build the church substantially as it now stands.

These are the names of others; and doubtless relatives of those mentioned; are too well known to require comment. Around the old church cluster reminiscences of early Colonial days, of the Revolution and of the Confederacy, and among its Vestrymen are included many names distinguished alike in North Carolina and Virginia.

GRAHAM DAVES.

Loth! Thy Church shall, next to These, Best beloved of all things be.

Thither at each hour of prayer, Shall my hallowing steps repair; And my longing soul shall wait, For the opening of Thy gate, Lest a word I fail to share Of the Holy service there.

At what time the welcome bell Shall of prayer and praises tell, Let its notes be heard at morning, Or at eve ring out its warning, Sweetly tolling, shall its sound Bid me to the holy ground.

Vain excuses, idle pleas, Well may suit cold worldly ease; Hearts that warm and thankful are, Will for God no trouble spare. Help me Loth, lest I stray, From Thy Church and These away.

Though the sultry sun may glow, Though the wintry wind may blow, Weak though I may be, or strong, Short though be my way, or long, Feat or Fast or common day, Be it, when I'm called to pray, Give me but a willing mind, And Thy Church I need not find.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For the coming theatrical season the New Bern Theatre will be conducted under the auspices and control of O. Marks, Jno. Green and Hugh J. Lovick for the benefit of St. John's Lodge.

As a committee representing the Lodge these gentlemen have suggested the services of energetic and efficient co-operators and the public may expect rare attractions for the coming season under such splendid management.

Our worthy and enterprising citizen Mr. O. Marks has abandoned for the present his idea of constructing a new opera house but it is his contemplation to make desirable improvement in the old opera house and at an early day to thoroughly equip it with the necessary and other embellishments and comforts.

BLOOD TO THE BRIDLES.

Denver Thoroughly Alarmed—Chief of Police Arms His Men With Breech-loaders and Revolvers, Lays in a Stock of Dynamite Cartridges, and Bids Defiance to the Governor and Militia of the State.

Denver, Col. March 16.—The political fight waged by Gov. Waite culminated today in most exciting scenes, and notwithstanding a lament many times, in all probability had a shot been fired a mob would have quickly formed that would have captured the Governor before official assistance could have rescued him.

On Fourteenth street the First Regiment of the Colorado National Guards stood, flanking the Chaffee Light Artillery, consisting of four Gatling guns. Their position commanded the entire front of the hall, and at one time the militia was under motion to attack the hall, when the arrival of Secretary Lorenz with a message from the Governor, stayed the attack. This was for a delay to permit another conference looking toward a peaceful settlement.

INTENSE ANXIETY IN THE CITY.

From that time on until the United States troops were called out the most intense anxiety prevailed. The Governor declared he would order the militia to fire upon the city hall regardless of the crowds of spectators, and the police board within as solidly maintained their position to resist attack.

Soon after 6 o'clock this evening Chief of Police Stone received a telephone message from Gen. McCook stating that he had ordered troops from Fort Logan to protect the chief and aid him in preserving order.

DEFIANCE TO THE GOVERNOR.

At 10 o'clock two wagon loads of breech-loading shotguns and ammunition were unloaded at police headquarters in the City Hall. The department was now equipped with a shotgun and two 45-caliber Colt revolvers for each man, in addition to the regulation club. A quantity of dynamite cartridges was also stored in the police vaults in readiness for an emergency.

"We will hold the City Hall against all attacks from the outside, if it takes dynamite to do it," was the expression of Chief of Police Stone. "We have 110 men on duty and they will be here as long as they are needed. If the Governor wants blood to the bridles we will give it to him, but he cannot have the City Hall."

The militia started from the army promptly at 2 o'clock. Adjutant Gen. Tarsney was in command, assisted by Brigadier Gen. Brooks.

At 3:15 p. m. Brigadier Gen. Brooks, accompanied by four aids-de-camp, rode up to the City Hall and stated the Governor's orders must be obeyed.

Gov. Waite remained in his private room at the Douglas all day, and admitted no one but his closest friends until a committee of citizens from the Chamber of Commerce called upon him late in the day.

The result was a failure to get him to consent to anything. "I shall order the military to fire," he reiterated. "The people may assassinate me if they will, but I propose to have my way."

This was the situation when Gen. McCook asserted his position and prepared to preserve the peace.

ARRIVAL OF FEDERAL TROOPS.

The troops, 600 strong, arrived at the Union depot at 8:15 o'clock by a special train from Fort Logan. The militia was sent back to the army, and at 9 o'clock Gen. McCook ordered the troops to bivouac at the depot until morning. He has held a conference with Gov. Waite, at which Adj. Gen. Tarsney and Brig. Gen. Brooks, of the Colorado National Guard, were present.

The monster crowds are slowly dispersing, and the police have gone out on their regular beats. No mob violence is now anticipated.

No effort to cause the arrest of Gov. Waite was made tonight, and hostilities have ceased.

TROUBLE TOMORROW ALMOST CERTAIN.

Late tonight Gov. Waite issued an order calling out every company of militia in the State. They are to come to Denver immediately ready to act.

The Colorado National Guard consists of two regiments, one with headquarters here and the other in Pueblo. The entire force can muster probably 1,900 men.

The Governor says the companies here are not sufficient to cope with the crowds and police force. They cannot reach Denver before Saturday.

The sheriff will attempt to cause the arrest of Governor, Adj. Gen. Tarsney, and Brig. Gen. Brooks early tomorrow morning.

The United States troops will remain in the city until peace is assured, and the prominent men will continue to urge peaceful means of settlement.

As Gov. Waite seems insensible to arguments looking to arbitration, peace can come about only by the withdrawal of the city hall people or by some action of the courts that will restrain the Governor.

The situation now looks serious for tomorrow.

RECAPITULATION OF THE TROUBLE.

To understand the situation it must be known that some years ago the citizens of Denver asked the Legislature to give them a new charter that would take the police, fire and public works department out of the hands of the municipality and put it in the hands of boards offered by appointments made by the Governor. It was believed that this would result in removing the matter from the corruption of politics.

Gov. Waite had shown a desire to make these departments subservient his political ambitions and has tried to make all of them political boards filled with Populist followers.

The deposed members applied to the district court and obtained a temporary injunction to restrain the Governor, the Mayor and the new members from taking possession of the office of the police and fire board by force.

This was objected to, but after arguments had been heard Judge Graham declined to remove the injunction. Then after several days' deliberation the Governor decided to ignore the injunction, and so issued last night his order to the militia.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT

The Association Meets in Raleigh and Perfects All Final Arrangements for Its Erection.

At a meeting of the North Carolina Monument association held Tuesday afternoon Col. Mulholland, of Louisville, who has the contract for building the monument, and State Geologist Holmes were present, the latter as an expert on granite. The association decided to use granite from the quarries at Mt. Airy.

The height of the monument was ordered to be increased ten feet, making it seventy-two feet and $2,500 was added to the cost, making the total $25,000.

May 30th was chosen as the date of laying the corner stone, that being the day of North Carolina's secession. A committee of arrangements for the ceremony was appointed.

A suit of Confederate uniform, slouch hat and belt was secured by Col. Mulholland to be sent to Munich, Bavaria, where the statues will be cast, which are to stand at the base of the monument and also the bronze seals which are to ornament the dies of the monument has already been placed.

The work of quarrying the stone will begin at once and next month the work of preparing the monument foundation here begins. The contractor is to put up four bronze cluster lamps of three each at the monument.

THE UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB.

Bright College Songs—In New Bern On the 29th Inst.

It was a fine sight to see the members of the Glee Club march on the stage and take their position. The melodies selected from the the ever pleasing college songs were well chosen and suited the voices well. Their singing clearly demonstrated that they had been thoroughly trained and drilled.

The concert was indeed a grand success in every way and we congratulate the students and faculty of the University on such excellent and promising a Glee Club, whose concerts are so fine and enjoyable and who have merited as they received encore after encore, after each of their best selections.

Wilmington will be glad to see and hear again the Glee Club of the University of North Carolina.—Wilmington Messenger, May 9, 1892.

George Gould isn't as politic as his father was, or he would not have publicly endorsed railroad pooling.
