Presiding Elder Swindell Sunday.

Presiding Elder Swindell's sermon in the Centenary M. E. Church Sunday are very highly praised by every one who was there.

In the morning he preached a missionary sermon from Matt. III B. "Prepare ye the way of the Lord." The sermon not only dwelt strongly on the duty of Foreign Missions work but also on the need of each Christian working personally with those in need.

The evening sermon was based on the command: "Let your light shine." Each sermon made a deep impression on the hearers.

Wm. C. Royall Drowned

Mr. Will Royall a young man who moved to the city near Christmas, from Goldsboro was accidentally drowned in Trent river, off from Sullivan's mill opposite the city yesterday. Mr. Royall and Mr. Joe Snelling had started fishing. Mr. Royall knew nothing of the water. Mr. Snelling was used to it to some degree but was no expert.

When at the place indicated a flaw of wind espiced the boat. As it was turning Mr. Snelling leaped overboard thinking thereby to give his companion a better chance, and told him to stay in the boat and hold on to it.

In this state of affairs Mr. Snelling was suddenly surprised by Mr. Royall leaping from the boat in his fright upon his (Mr. Snelling's) back. Mr. Royall could not swim; he was heavier than Mr. Snelling and both youths went under and Mr. Snelling swam a long distance under water in the grasp of his companion. He finally freed himself and managing to get hold of Mr. Royall properly he succeeded in getting him to the boat which had righted and was lying filled with water about even with the water's edge. Giving Mr. Royall a hold of the boat he told him to simply cling to it, to make no effort to get in.

But Mr. Royall, either not comprehending or too frightened to heed, made the attempt to clamber up; then the boat again tipped and Mr. Royall losing his hold threw up his hands and sank. That was the last seen of him.

The accident occurred when the water is about 20 feet in depth. Parties were quickly organized and had a dozen boats with four or five men in each were soon seeking with dragnets and large fish hooks to recover the body, but up to night no success attended their efforts. The search will be renewed today.

Mr. Royall's father, Mr. W. B. Royall and family moved to the city just before the Fair. There are several of the boys, good, clever young men, who have made many friends here. The bereaved parents and other relatives have their deep sympathy in their trouble.

Mr. Royall has his church membership with St. John's Methodist church, Goldsboro. He was born in Sampson county, Sept. 25, 1876.

Mr. Snelling was rescued in a short time by Mr. J. D. Hensley.

A Quick Trip

A special on the W. N. & N. R. R. made the run from New Bern to Jacksonville, thirty six miles, in one hour and from there to Wilmington, fifty miles in an hour and fifteen minutes, a total of only 2 1/4 hours for the whole 88 miles. This is good time. Engineer Walls and Conductor Crapanza were in charge.

We failed to find the time made for the whole distance on the return. The first 40 miles of it was covered in 59 minutes. Engineer Kelly was then on.

Indications of Summer.

The thermometer registered 69 yesterday when it reached its highest point the lowest point was 58 1/2. Sunday the temperature was up to 70 1/2.

The warm weather is bringing ice into demand; the wagon of the New Bern Ice Company has been making its regular rounds for some little time and its trade is getting larger.

Fruit trees are in good bloom; some peach trees have young peaches on them. We are afraid they are too soon for good luck.

A Twin Neighborhood

The Burlington News of last week says:

Since Windsor Mills began operations in the summer of 1891, 5 pairs of twins have been born in that neighborhood. The surroundings seem to be pretty healthy. Another coincidence, five pairs of twins are working there now. Col. James H. Holt, Jr., is very proud of the record.

THE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Invitation to the several Pastors and Congregations to Participate in the Meetings at the Baptist Church.

The following special invitation sent by the pastor of the Baptist church to the other churches of the city was approvingly read by the several pastors to their congregations Sunday, and the attentions on the services will no doubt be augmented by the cordiality of the invitation:

My Dear Brother

On next Wednesday I expect a brother from Wm. P. G. Elson, to begin a series of sermons in the Baptist church. I expect that he will remain in New Bern and preach about a week or ten days. When it does not conflict with the regular services of your church, I cordially invite you and your people to attend and take part in the meetings. I not only give you and your people this formal and hearty invitation to participate in this meeting but I also earnestly desire and fervently pray that other churches shall follow this one and that in all of them there may be untold Christian zeal.

Your fellow laborer in the Gospel,
RUFUS FORD,
Pastor Baptist Church

March 17, 1894.

The meetings which have been held since Sabbath before last preliminary to the coming of Mr. Elson are developing increased interest.

The pastor, Rev. Rufus Ford conducted services Sunday night, which were conducted by Rev. C. G. Vardell, of the Presbyterian church. To-night's meeting will be song service interspersed with prayer.

Mr. William P. Sturtevant of Portsmouth, Va., the gentleman who is to lead in the singing while the meetings are in progress has arrived and under his direction the members of the choir are perfecting themselves for the musical portion of the services. The first practice under Mr. Sturtevant's guidance was held Sunday night after the regular service was over. Gospel Hymn familiar to all, will be the ones used.

It is desirable that the singers from the other churches unite with the Baptist choir in rendering the music and they are invited to do so.

Mr. Elson is to arrive Wednesday and preach his first sermon that night. We hope to see the meetings productive of great good and to see Christians generally laboring to bring this result about.

Prospective Truck Package Factory.

Mr. S. Newton, Superintendent of the Farmers' Manufacturing Company of Norfolk was among the outgoing passengers on the steamer Neuse yesterday.

Mr. Newton has been in the city several days looking into the matter of establishing a branch of the factory here to supply the truckers of this region packages of every description for the shipment of their produce.

Mr. Newton after making such examination as he wishes decides that it is too late to run for this season's trade—it would be practically over with by the time the factory could get started, but he thinks it pretty certain that they will begin here next September—it will take two or three months to get ready with such a factory as they mean to start.

The aim to establish a factory that will employ from fifty to one hundred hands the year round and make barrels, boxes and crates—in fact everything a trucker needs for packing purposes.

They will make berry baskets and other such things as can easily be stored away in stack between the seasons and have them in readiness when the time arrives while the more bulky goods will be made as the season approaches.

The barrels they make are East's patent ventilated ones, a kind which has rapidly grown in favor since it was invented by a Norfolk man and large quantities of the barrels are shipped to other trucking points. The Norfolk factory is now turning out 2,000 of these barrels a day, 2,000 pea crates and 10,000 straw berry crates.

The goods are made of sweet gum which is found around New Bern. plentifully, and Mr. Newton thinks they can not only furnish the best grade of goods in their lines but furnish them cheaper than the common one's can be obtained in completion.

We will be glad to see the proposed factory located in New Bern. We have plenty of labor and plenty of raw material, and as Mr. Newton says there is no need to send away from home for the finished products when we have the raw material and the labor right at hand for it.

To Massachusetts to Await Orders.

Lieut. John Morrissy of the revenue cutter Winona left with his family yesterday for his old home, Nantucket, Mass., where Mr. Morrissy will await orders as to his future work.

Mr. Morrissy has been 1st Lieut. of the Winona ever since she was built, and as her service was in Eastern North Carolina waters he and his family have resided a very considerable part of three years in New Bern.

They carry with them pleasant recollections of their stay and many friends regret the transfer which causes their removal. They will ever be welcome visitors at any time they choose to come.

WILL BEGIN BY JULY FIRST

Congressman Grady Confirms the News in Reference to the Public Building.

We received a communication from Congressman Grady last night. We give an extract from it which does its own talking.

We are very glad indeed to see that our needs are receiving attention.

"The Supervising Architect of the Treasury showed me his list of buildings now awaiting working drawings in which New Bern stands second and he expressed the opinion, after consulting with his chief clerk, that work will begin by the first of July, unless some unforeseen accident intervenes, as the destruction by fire or otherwise of some public building of which he will notify me."

Death of Maj Edward Whitford.

Maj. Edward Whitford, of Vanceboro township, a well known farmer and a magistrate died suddenly Sunday afternoon. He was 62 years of age, and only a few minutes.

The trouble was no doubt heart disease. He was about 52 years of age. Maj. Whitford passed through the war and made good record for himself as a good and brave soldier. His wife and several children survive him. Also his brother Maj. Hardy Whitford.

Tribute to Dr. Guion

In notice of the death of our esteemed friend Dr. J. A. Guion of this city, the News-Observer Chronicle says the following well merited tribute to his memory:

"Dr. Guion was a possessor of fine social culture, of high attainments and fine character. He was well educated and his mind was in the most active and energetic condition. In his early days he was surgeon in the army, and he ranked intellectually above the side of men of the highest intelligence."

He was a brother of Hon. Haywood W. Guion, whose aptitudes of intellect has rarely been equalled among North Carolinians and who, like his brother, Dr. Guion, possessed the robust virtues of the manhood matched with courtesy and culture."

A Jointed or Glass Snake.

R. Whiting, the popular agent of the Seaboard Air Line Road at Hamlet, captured a five jointed or glass snake among the sand dunes surrounding that place and forwarded it to Messrs. Whiting Bros. of this city, where it is on exhibition.

Before capturing it, Mr. Whiting was afraid it was a poisonous snake and was disposed to shoot it. He was, however, put a halt by Mr. Whiting's brother, a very competent hunter, who has applied for a patent where he hopes to make a fortune.

LOST STOCK.

Monroe, N. C. had a very heavy load storm Saturday.

A Government check for $1,000, given during the war to correct an error, is still in the possession of a New York man.

Workmen near Lumbly, Texas, exchanged an old flat market, milk cows, load and pinned. The stock was partially perished.

The discovery that Mount St. Helens is an active volcano comes in good timing; the State of Washington office this additional attraction to the autumn tourists.

Three tramps who robbed dwellers in Anson county are in jail at Wadesboro one being a 11 year old white boy from Illinois.

A Raleigh correspondent states that Supreme court there decides that any city or town can pass an ordinance making it punishable for any unmarried person under 21 years of age to enter a bar-room.

A tornado at Santa Ana, Texas, destroyed much property. A Mrs. Watson and four children were killed.

Washington people are gossiping over the expenses connected with the Pollard-Brockbridge suit. It is the most expensive case that has been tried in Washington in years.

Germany has 5,000,000 depositors in savings banks—more than in any other European country. Strong evidence of their being a frugal and industrious race.

A friend of Col. Brockbridge gives the names of what the defense will be in the Pollard case. It contends that the defendant had never promised to marry the girl, and that she was not of good character when the colonel first met her.

Hollywood cemetery at Richmond, Va? where the remains of Jefferson Davis were re-moved to, is also the burial place of Presidents James Monroe and John Tyler.

The Rev. Charles H. Tyndall, of the Broome Street Tabernacle, New York, recently carried a roster into his pulpit to illustrate his sermon. During the performance the roster crowded, which was not in the program. Some "progressive" preachers do strange things.

Gov. Waite, of Colorado, is now awaiting the decision of the Supreme court on lengthy statements and questions submitted to them before making any further move against the city authorities of Denver.

Another death has resulted from football. Percy Trueblood, a 14 year old son of James Trueblood, a prominent citizen of Chattahoochee, died Saturday morning of injuries received the previous afternoon from playing football. An antagonist's knee struck him in the groin, causing a rupture. He suffered intense agony for twelve hours.

All diseases of the skin cured, and lost complexion restored by Johnson's Oriental Soap. G. W. Gaskill.

LOST STOCK.

Having lost 2 shares of stock, (Number 1904) in the A. & N. C. Railroad notice is hereby given that application will be made for a duplicate thereof.

Removal of the Christian Advocate.

Last week's issue of the Raleigh Christian Advocate contains the following notice to its patrons:

"This will be the last issue of the Raleigh Christian Advocate for this interim. The new paper will be issued from Greensboro, N. C. March 28th. All correspondence with the paper should henceforth be directed to the North Carolina Christian Advocate, Greensboro, N. C. All our exchanges will please note this change."

Lecture and Song Service.

Hon. E. R. Dudley conducted song service at St. Paul's church last Sunday night, which were highly elaborate, captivating and irresistible.

At the conclusion of these services, Rev. H. C. Phillips opened the door of the church for members, and at once, as a result of the effort of our distinguished fellow citizen, one soul confessed conversion, faith in Christ, and gained the church.

In Birmingham, Ala., Saturday a negro Charles Fleming, a desperate convict, attempted to escape from the street gang Street Commissioner Burkholder overtook him on horseback and ordered him to surrender. The negro snatched the officer's pistol from his hand and fled into the house, and put a third through his own head, killing instantly. Burkholder's wound is not serious. The horse died.
