The Weather Bureau says fair weather to-day.

Gen. Battle's position at the postoffice does not interfere with his newspaper work he remains on the staff of THE JOURNAL.

The fire near the depot which caused the alarm yesterday was extinguished without damage before the engines arrived.

Mr. L. Walnan is the salesman at Mr. Sam'l. Edwards', who has moved here from Goldsboro and opened in the store formerly occupied by Mr. Walnan.

The steamer Pearl May is now making the run between New Berne and Bay river while the Trent is undergoing repairs.

Mrs. Mary A. Neely, of Chicago, will speak to the ladies of the Church of Christ to-night in the interest of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. A full attendance is desired.

Mr. L. G. Daniels of Bayboro arrived yesterday on the steamer Neuse with a car load of Western horses which he has been purchasing. They were taken across the country to Mr. Daniels livery stable.

Five New Berne sportsmen Chas. Bell, Edger Bryan, Stephen Hurt, Charles Lane, and John Thomas, Jr., returned yesterday with five fine deer, killed in two days at Adams creek.

The work of getting the large family monument of Mr. James A. Bryan, described elsewhere into position was largely directed by Mr. J. K. Willis. It was an undertaking requiring no small degree of skill but he was fully equal to the occasion.

The water works construction is progressing rapidly. Queen and Graves have been added to the streets that are finished, the work on Craven extends from Johnson to Pollock and the force is now working in both directions on Broad street. The works are expected to be in operation by the first of May.

The officers of the Presbyterian church, though authorized by the congregation to go ahead and raise the needed money for the improvements wanted, deem it advisable, as there was very little discussion of the question at the meeting in which the vote was taken, to again place the matter before the congregation, as though no action had been taken. It is hoped all interested will attend the meeting to-night and give voice to their views on the matter.

Coming and Going.

Miss Annie Taylor, who has been down to her home at Adams creek a few weeks is again in the city visiting Mrs. G. W. Wallace.

Mrs. G. W. Charlton and child left yesterday morning to visit relatives at Kingston.

Mrs. R. W. Pugh left for Goldsboro being summoned there by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her son's wife.

Mrs. M. A. Neely, of Chicago, Ill., arrived to visit at Rev. D. H. Pattee's.

Capt. W. W. Caraway of the Richmond Dispatch is in the city.

Mr. D. F. Jarvis returned from the north where he has been after a spring stock.

Miss Lucy Righton returned from the northern markets where she has been purchasing a spring stock of millinery.

SHIRT Not Recovered.

The search for the body of Mr. Wm. Royall, drowned on Monday, was continued yesterday, both by firing the cannon and dragging, but success has not yet crowned the efforts.

Some despair of recovering the body is beginning to be felt, but the body, unless caught by log or something else at the bottom, ought by this time to be rising of its own accord. A watch should continue to be kept.

Mad Dog Killed.

Policemen Brinson and Dixon shot and killed a small mad dog on the streets yesterday.

The dog was observed near the market cutting up queer actions, and after biting another dog he ran up the street and through the alley by the Baptist church to Hancock, and down that street to its foot. There he was intercepted by the officers and killed. He was foaming at the mouth and made straight for Mr. Brinson, trying to bite him before he fired. He had, earlier in the day, bitten another dog besides the one spoken of. Mr. Bright refuses to believe his dog was mad and is trying to establish the contrary.

Good Shipments Continue.

We told of the large shawl shipments made from Roanoke Island by steamers Neuse and Albemarle on the closing trip of last week. The catch continues: The Neuse returned yesterday and reports having taken 50 barrels and boxes of fish from the island on her outward trip. Monday, and no doubt the steamer New Berne which touched there the next day got as many more.

All that the Neuse received were shad except about 15 boxes which were blue fish.

On the trip previous to this one the Neuse carried forty tons of ice to Roanoke Island to be used in fish packing.

Post-Master Manly Again

According to what we announced yesterday the change in the post office took place last night. Post-Master Clarke finished the day's work and turned the office over to his successor Mr. Matt Manly; though he is the new post-master is an old hand at the business, having held the position during President Cleveland's first term. He has been tried and found both faithful and efficient and when the Democrats after being out four years were again restored to power, all eyes turned to Mr. Manly as the right man to again fill the position.

Mr. Manly has as his assistants Gen'l C. A. Battle, Gen. R. D. Hancock and Romulus Nunn. The latter, as patrons of the office know, has just had about a year's experience in the office under Mr. Clarke and now has a pretty good understanding of the present workings.

Since Mr. Manly's first term the office has advanced one class; it then ranked a third grade—it is now second. Mr. Clarke, who retires has been a good, accommodating postmaster, and he has looked well to the office, and he has not rested satisfied with simply discharging the duties of the office, but has sought, as opportunity presented itself, to secure better mail facilities for this region.

And, Miss Howerton who had charge of the money order department has attended to it admirably and to the satisfaction of all. The same can be said of her sister Miss Calvine, who attended to the stamp window.

We give credit where credit is due; Mr. Clark is simply on the wrong side of the political fence, and so we welcome the new administration. Long may the present incumbents fill their positions.

At The Baptist Church.

Rev. P. G. Elsom, the Virginian evangelist, began his series of meetings in the Baptist church last night. There was an extra good congregation.

Mr. Elsom first talked on prayer. This talk was based on a few verses in the seventh chapter of Mathew. He also gave a short talk on faith, based on the first 6 verses of the 11th chapter of Hebrews.

Short talks were made on both the above subjects and then after prayer and singing the sermon was delivered. The subject was "Obedience" as manifested by Peter in the incident recorded in Luke 8: 1-8.

The congregation seemed very much pleased, and after dismissal many remained to meet and welcome the brother in our midst.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS

A Desire to Better Their House of Worship Seems to be Spreading Among Presbyterian Congregations.

As our readers know, the Presbyterians of New Berne are now moving in the matter of improving their church building, the desire for the completed changes being created by the belief that the making of them will result in making the work of the church more effective by leading to increased attendance, and thus to increased growth and prosperity of the church, spiritual and otherwise.

While this effort at home is being made it may be interesting to note what is being done in the same line by some other North Carolina Presbyterian congregations.

Charlotte Presbyterians are moving with a vim as regards the financial aspect of their church work. The Observer tells that the annual Presbyterian church has had a deficit of $21,780 hanging over it. Six weeks ago the pastor Rev. J. H. Boyd preached a strong sermon rousing the people to action and a week later canvassers started on their rounds and worked so thoroughly among every one connected in any way with the church that in five weeks time they had on their lists the names of 381 persons—a greater number than it was expected could be realized from, and instead of raising only something over twenty-one thousand dollars they had twenty-three thousand and the church was declared free from debt, and a jubilee service was held on the strength of it Sunday three Presbyterian congregations of the city uniting in it. This makes $63,000 that church has paid in twenty years.

Rev. Dr. Pesson, of the First Presbyterian church of the same city is now moving in the matter of having their house of worship, an old one remodelled at a cost of $10,000.

Such interest in making improvements in church buildings already established, as well building as new ones is a good sign. While it is a fact that true and acceptable religion may be indulged in any where, even in a barn, it is nevertheless also true that a building attractive in every way is not without its effect in drawing men there and thus drawing them from worldliness to better things, and one which from any cause does not present as comfortable, pleasing and inviting an aspect as it might, fails in that degree in attracting congregations, and thus keeps the organization from exerting the measure of influence to which it might attain.

A Fine Monument.

The erection of the largest and most conspicuous monument in Cedar Grove Cemetery was finished yesterday. We allude to the James A. B. or family monument furnished by Messrs. Beatty Bros., of New York.

The monument is seven feet at the base and stands thirty-two feet high. The bottom base is of granite. The remainder is of pure Italian marble.

The faces for inscriptions are large and extend upward to an unusual height. Above the piece containing them rises the shaft; it commences eight feet from the base and has two angels at its foot, one looking toward the West and the other towards the East, and a third angel stands at the very top.

The angel at the west, over the entrance that leads below the monument stands with clasped hands and has a wreath of immortelles on the right arm. The face has a sad expression. It is the Angel of Memory.

The one towards the East looks upward and grasps an anchor. This is the Angel of Hope.

At the very apex and facing the North, is the third angel with open book and uplifted pen. This is the Recording Angel.

A festoon of flowers encircles the lower portion of the shaft and draperies partially envelop the upper part. The entire monument has suitable, but not elaborate ornamentations.

It is a very beautiful piece of work. The cost is $5,000. The weight is thirty five tons.

The Advertised Tax-List.

The list of all who have not yet paid their city taxes will appear again in Saturday's JOURNAL. Both the city tax collector and the sheriff are now advertising the delinquents.

The duty is not a pleasant one to either the taxpayers or tax collectors, but the government has to be supported and all who share its benefits must contribute their due proportion to its expenses. All citizens should meet their obligations on this line as promptly and cheerfully as on any other.

But whether tax-payers settle willingly or not the officers have no discretion about collecting.

They are bound both by their oath of office and by the laws themselves to do their duty and unpleasant though it may be they must take whatever measures are necessary to collect from each one who owes.

The Salisbury Herald tells of a large and vicious looking tarantula being found in that city behind the clock of one of the citizens. It had a spread, feet extended, of six inches, and though dead when discovered it had such a dangerous appearance that it was examined with hesitation and care.

DR. BLACK'S SUCCESSOR.

N. M. Lawrence Elected Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

Mr. T. A. Green returned last night from attending the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Oxford Orphan Asylum which was held at Durham, the 20th inst to elect a successor to Dr. W. S. Black, who has resigned, Conference having called upon him to take the position of presiding elder.

The Board was in session from 8 to 12 p. m. There were a number of candidates, but after a careful consideration of all Mr. Nathan Mathewson of Tarboro was elected.

Mr. Lawrence's present home is Tarboro. He is a native of that place and is 33 years of age.

He served the South bravely during the war and at its close entered upon a business career and has held acceptably responsible positions with transportation companies and the Southern Express Company.

He has been a member of the Methodist church for thirty years and is one of that denomination's leading laymen in this State.

It is considered that in Mr. Lawrence a worthy successor to Dr. Black has been found and that the prosperity now attending the work of the Asylum will continue.

Ocean Buoys Fish.

These fish were never so thick as on Sunday along the beach from Chicami-como down to Hatteras.

We are told by Capt. G. W. Wallace, "ocean buoys" were so thick at Hatteras, Saturday and Sunday, the 17th and 18th, that one man jumped in the wash of the surf along the beach and threw out three hundred by the tail, some as large as they ever have, 11 and 15 pounds each.

BEAUFORT CORRESPONDENCE.

Superior Court—The Big Whale.

The Superior court of this county opened here today at 10 o'clock. Judge Brown presiding, Solicitor Allen at his post.

We note the familiar faces of the following Attorneys present.

M. D. W. Stevenson, W. W. Clark, P. M. Simmons, Pearsall, Gibbs, L. J. Moore and C. R. Thomas of Craven county and Daugherty and Felton of this town.

Very little business on the docket. Court adjourned this evening at 4 o'clock, and a party consisting of Judge Brown, Messrs. Simmons, Clark, Pearsall, Allen, and Hardy of the Chronicle and your correspondent and one or two others took a trip to see the big animal the whale which was captured today near this place. We found the whale in 11 feet of water with its back and small part of its tail visible, it is about 60 feet long and will be totally visible tomorrow at 12 o'clock. Quite a party will visit the scene tomorrow. It is only to see such an animal to realize it—60 feet long, an eleven feet thick, (diameters) The whale I can say nothing about.

Dr. Robinson, proprietor of the Virginia Dare Hotel, spares no pains to make his guests at home, and supplies his tables with such as the market is noted for prepared to myrtle the appetite of his guests, everything is up to that of the first hotel of any town. J. M. H.

Happenings in the town and Neighborhood.

The painters were busy Saturday putting the finishing touches on Mr. W. P. Bell's house.

The guard house was on fire Sunday night but was discovered and put out before much damage was done.

A house just out of town occupied by a colored family, was in their absence burned Wednesday afternoon, nearly all its contents were destroyed.

Many of our people went down to see the small whale Friday and Saturday which a party of fishermen discovered and killed near the light-house on Thursday last.

Mr. J. D. Webb is preparing the hall above L. Leary & Bros. store for the occupancy of Miss Dees who expects to use it as a school room. We learn that her school will open in a few days.

An effort is being made to organize a Lodge of Knights of Pythias here. Our town has already three Lodges, Masonic, Odd Fellows, and Sons of Temperance.

About 1 o'clock Thursday night, a house near the hotel occupied by Mr. Seward Willis as a residence and barber shop was discovered to be on fire. The fire engine responded promptly and though the fire was under full headway, succeeded not only in preventing it from spreading to other buildings, but stopped the fire almost at the stage they found it, the frame work of the building was left standing and the furniture inside ruined. But little was saved by the family as they had barely time to escape themselves. J. R. J.

THE UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB.

In New Berne, Thursday Night, March the 29th.

The concert given by the Glee Club of the University of North Carolina at the court house last night was, we may safely say, the most thoroughly enjoyed musical event of the season. Messrs. Harris and Batchelor, especially delighted the hearty commendation of the audience.

The warbling of Mr. Mangum has been said to exceed that of many professionals. The frequent applause and repeated encore showed the delight and appreciation of the audience. We think it more than probable that the expectations of the most sanguine were surpassed.

Greensboro will gladly welcome the club at any time in the future they may visit her.—Greensboro Daily Record, February 6, 1893.

CULLED ITEMS OF NEWS.

The Rev. J. T. Gattis, a prominent Methodist minister, is very ill of a number of the stomach at Durham.

Germany has 5,000,000 depositors in savings banks—more than in any other European country.

Evangelist W. P. Pitt has concluded very successful meetings at Charleston, West Virginia.

The News-Obs's special Chronicle has the following: "A letter from Senator Vance received by his son at Washington says that his improvement has been so substantial that by the end of the month he will be in his seat again. He will be there certainly in time to vote for tariff reform."
