Dr. M. P. Robinson—Virginia Dare Hotel.

There is considerable cotton on the yard yet, and it continues to arrive in small quantities every few days.

The cold snap played serious pranks with the truckers but helped the fish and oyster business.

Dr. J. F. Rhem has established his office on Broad street nearly opposite J. J. Tolson's grocery store.

Mr. C. T. Watson ploughed up his peas after they were injured by the freeze and planted beans in their place.

The weather moderated yesterday but cooler at night. Fair and colder weather is predicted for today.

The truck commission men from the north, of whom there were some dozen in town, are all going home to stay till the peas bloom again, and the parting between them and the hotel men is sad indeed.

Among the periodicals in the Y. M. C. A. reading room is Words & Works, the paper of weather prophet Hicks. The last number contains his forecasts for April.

The box sheet of the famous Labadie Rowell Company will be opened at Nunn & McSorley's this a. m., at 9 o'clock, in order that subscribers may have the opportunity of making the first selection of seats. Tickets will be placed on sale Monday morning and at that time the board will be opened to the public.

The Third Partyites held their township meetings last Saturday. The correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger says it was the same old set, except that Harry Skinner was in Washington City. Delegates to the county meeting the coming Saturday were appointed, among them were two negroes.

Too careful examination into the hygienic condition of cities and towns cannot be exercised. The precaution property rests with the citizens. That of the authorities remains only to see that these measures are carried out. Spring will soon be here and before it becomes hot weather is the proper time to investigate and see that all streets, alleys, gutters and sinks are in good condition from a sanitary standpoint. With advent of water works where an inexhaustible supply of pure water can be obtained at a nominal price, both by the city and individuals, the splendid health record New Berne has, can still further be improved upon.

Sheriff Lane, the Orator.
The ladies of the Confederate Memorial Association have invited Sheriff W. B. Lane to make the address on Memorial Day, May 10th, and he has accepted. Mr. Lane can speak of the trying times and gallant deeds of the war from personal experience. He having gone through the war as Captain of a company in the 1st N. C. Cavalry.

Good Work on an Alley.
The alley between Middle and Craven streets immediately fronting the Baptist church is being put in the best order it ever was. Being narrow—only a little wider than a cart—it would often happen after rain that water and mud would block the entire width.

Now, it is being graded so that all the water will immediately run to one side and pass on thence to the street drain.

Through this passway is "hot as alley" it is a much-needed short cut in the heart of the business part of the city, and the putting of the alley in such good condition will be appreciated.

THE U. N. C. BOYS.

The University Glee Club gave a delightful performance at the Y. M. C. A. last night. There were sixteen well trained voices pretty evenly balanced, and their enlivening songs met with a hearty cheer from the audience. Mr. McKenzie was especially fine in his humorous songs and he was repeatedly encored.

The greater number of the pieces rendered were noticeable for the distinct enunciation and evenness of time.

The young men were very clever in their "call backs," and they may be assured of having given an enjoyable evening.

Coming and Going.
Mrs. C. T. Westcott, of Chestertown, Md., who has been visiting relatives in the city, left returning home; her sister Miss Feltie E. Guion left to make her home with her.

Mr. J. W. Grainger, of Kinston, and Mr. Dempsey Wood, of Falling Creek passed through last night en route to Morehead to try the blue fishing which is now said to be quite good there.

Messrs. J. C. Hunt, Baltimore, J. P. Seat, Norfolk, Va., O. D. Lewis, Dr. D. W. Smith and S. J. Lane, Vancelboro, N. C., arrived in the city yesterday and are stopping at the Fulford House.

Mr. E. L. Nixon of New York, who has been here the past ten days looking after trucking interest leaves this morning for Savannah, Ga. He expects to return by April 15th, and remain here during the season.

The University Glee Club, sixteen members in number, arrived from Wilmington last night. Fourteen registered at Hotel Albert. They were Messrs. Chas. Roberson, F. N. Cooke, D. Lindl say, A. W. Mangum, P. W. McMillen, J. H. Daingerfield, J. W. McAllister, W. R. Webb, F. F. Bahnsen, F. B. McKinnon, B. E. Sianly, D. Eatman, E. B. McKenzie and Jno. L. Patterson. The New Berne member of the Club, Mr. W. Jos. McSorley stopped at his home in company with his friend, Mr. F. B. Beabow. The Club leaves for Goldsboro this morning.

Wilmington's Growing Star.

The Wilmington Star is receiving many compliments for the enlarged Sunday edition which it intends to continue, with a prospect, we believe, that the enlargement may be extended to the week day editions also.

The Star completed its 54th semi-annual volume on the 23d inst. It has been devoted to the interest of Wilmington and neighboring counties during those 27 years. It deserves generous support and we are glad to see these evidences of its prosperity.

Charles Crabtree, of Durham, Disappearing.
A Durham man, Charles E. Crabtree, disappeared on Tuesday the 20th inst and has not since been heard from. He is supposed to have wandered away in a fit of mental aberration and fears are entertained that he has come to an untimely death.

He is a married man with an interesting family, lived happily at home and there is no known reason for his disappearance.

He was book-keeper in the factory of Edward Parish.

Y. M. C. A. State Convention at Wilmington.
The programme of the Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, of North Carolina, as previously announced will be held in Wilmington April 6th to 8th (Thursday to Sunday inclusive).

The W. N. & N. Railroad gives reduced rates on the occasion and the Board of Directors of the New Berne local association, at their last annual meeting, empowered the President, Dr. J. D. Clark, to appoint delegates from this association. Those who can attend are requested to let him know, the number is not limited—the association can send as many as will go.

Mr. W. J. Ramsey of Trinity college, who was leader of the singing in the 15th meetings at New Berne will have charge of the singing at the Association meetings.

All the day sessions and the Thursday and Saturday night session will be held in the Association building; Grace M. E. Church and the first Presbyterian and first Baptist church will be used at other times.

A comprehensive and instructive programme has been arranged.

Among those who take prominent parts in the convention are: Rev. H. F. Christberg, pastor Central M. E. Church, Asheville; Rev. Thos. Hume, D. D., Chapel Hill; Hon. R. B. Glenn, Winston; W. G. Burkhead, Whiteville; Rev. Egbert W. Smith, Greensboro; Rev. J. W. Lee, Greensboro; H. P. Anderson, Secretary International Committee; F. S. Brockman, College Secy International committee; Evangelist W. F. Fife, Charlotte; and W. B. Giles and J. Wm. Lee, Greensboro.

The above names will give some idea of the high character of the work that may be expected from the convention.

Each department of the Association work—the regular, the junior, the college, railroad and other special branches will receive due attention, and the work be discussed in all its divisions.

The meetings are of a character to prove beneficial to all who attend.

THE INTEREST DEEPENS.

A General Closing of the Business Houses to Attend the Revival Meeting—Penitents and Converts.

According to the request made, the business places of the city closed yesterday to give all connected with them an opportunity to attend the afternoon meeting at the Baptist church. The closing was general—dry goods and grocery stores, beef stalls, mechanic shops and bar rooms all locked their doors during the hour of service.

The result was the church was crowded below and many were in the gallery.

The sermon was on the love of God and Christ; the text was John 3: 16—“For God so loved the world that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life.”

The speaker's portrayal of God's love was strong, and vivid was his picturing of the danger and final doom from which God would have the sinner to be saved.

The meeting turned out promptly at the expiration of the hour, but an afternoon meeting was held to which about three hundred remained, and at which gratifying evidences of interest were manifested.

EVENING SERVICES.
Another large congregation assembled at night, and a powerful, impressive and convincing sermon was delivered on Future Punishment from Matt. 25: 41: “Depart from me ye cursed into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels.”

Mr. Elson showed the need for a hell, 1st; On account of God's justice; 2d, because it is according to law; 3d, immortality shows there is a hell. We are all immortal, but we do not all go to heaven, so there must be a hell.

The duration of the punishment in hell was spoken of and several passages of scripture given showing that it will continue without ceasing forever.

Who will go to hell was discussed, and it was shown that the drunkard, idolaters, liars, deceivers, adulterers, and all such would be there. The means of escape was pointed out and Christ shown to be the only way.

A touching appeal was made to sinners to flee from the wrath to come and a large number responded, filling the front pews. Several conversions followed.

The meetings will be held at the usual hour today and night, 4 and 7:30 p. m.

The Christian Advocate.

The Christian Advocate came to us last night from its new home in Greensboro, bright, crisp, improved in appearance and full of promise.

The Advocate was established in 1855, and ever since our recollection it has been a credit both to the denomination it represents and to the State, a paper worthy of being in every family and now that the Methodist papers of the State have been consolidated with this one there is good grounds for believing that it will be better than ever before.

Rev. D. Atkins, D. D. of the Western N. C. Conference and Rev. W. L. Grissom of the North Carolina Conference are the editors.

The paper is published by a joint stock company, of which Rev. F. L. Reid was recently elected President; one of the editors, Mr. Grissom, who is spoken of as a fine business man, is Secretary and Treasurer. Among those taking stock we notice the name of our townsman, Mr. L. H. Cutler.

The desire is to distribute the stock as largely as possible among the ministers and clergy men of both conferences.

OUR SCHOOLS.
Anent the commendatory mention of Craven county schools in yesterday's JOURNAL, comment may not be inappropriate.

Concerning the proficiency of the public school teachers, which is something to be proud of, the boast that the schools run a term of over three months savors of the ironical.

While no direct mention is made of the New Berne Academy it is fair to suppose it was included in the reference to schools of Craven county, as the teachers there are perhaps as good as the balance.

It is to this latter special attention should be called, for without detriment to the teachers there, who are as good as the balance, this school is not of that high standard it should be.

If New Berne is not to lose the proud educational prestige obtained when justly named the Athens of North Carolina, there must be a greater concentration of home support, and the curriculum raised to a higher grade and higher priced instructions.

Surely with its income from private bequest, and proper home patronage, such a school should be had here as would obviate the necessity of sending either boys or girls out of the town for education that would fit them for any of the ordinary vocations of life.

When this is done, the school will have enough support to be self-maintaining. Children now found scattered at half a dozen private schools will all go there.

CITIZEN.

Here is a little romance from the press dispatches. A poor young man rescued a girl from the surf at Atlantic City last summer. She was in her bathing suit and for the life of him he could not tell whether she was an heiress or a factory girl. She was pretty, however, and the gallant young man clung to her and saved her life. She turned out to be an heiress. They were married in Brooklyn a day or two ago.

THE GREAT FREEZE.

It Was Widespread and Very Destructive—Fruit Killed, Field Crops Greatly Damaged.

We glean from exchanges news as to the results of the late freeze over the State and other parts of the country.

The Raleigh News-Observer-Chronicle says the killing freeze left fruit blossoms, vegetables, etc., cold and lifeless. It is probable that nearly all the fruit was killed and early vegetation started the same fate. Commissioner Robinson said at his office specimens of peach, pear and quince blossoms and all were dead. The peaches would break to pieces when touched so thoroughly had the cold afflicted them but as the vineyards were only partially budding out the grape crop is not destroyed. There are left enough dormant buds to give a full crop, which ought to be worth something in view of the fact that there will be a scarcity of other fruit the coming summer, especially if the better quality of grapes are raised. Blackberries are not killed.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer quotes the Commissioner of Agriculture in saying that he believes the damage is greater than was at first anticipated by the most fearful. He goes on to say:

“Everything green was full of sap, having been ‘rushed’ by the hot heavy weather from March 1st to 23rd. Early which is in places knee high, out in joint and clover a foot high. The latter is already black. The fruit so far as he has examined it he finds all killed. The snap has slain the gardeners. He declares he never saw such a warm spell unless followed by a snap. In 1871 there was a killing frost April 26th, which killed corn down to the ground.”

The same correspondent says:

“Farmers who came in today, after their grain is greatly damaged and their fruit is slaughtered. The worst news from the truck growers and berry growers is looked for. Their loss must be immense. Even in some hot houses here the cold damaged plants. The weather all day was cold and ice did not melt to the shade. This of course increases the damage.”

The cold wave has killed destruction with it. It touched with its blizzards influence all the United States, save the Gulf coast of Texas and the lower part of Florida. At Wilmington the minimum temperature was 28; it fell to 20 on March 23 and thus the signal of a severe winter.

Wherever hard frosts in the State, the reports are similar to those given. But gaw would have begun shipping string berries in about a week but they are all destroyed; the same is said of the Samson huckleberry crop.

Reports from Florida state that the orange crop is badly damaged and straw berries killed.

Telegram to the Mason Telegraph, dated March 28th, from the fruit sections of Middle and Southern Georgia, says that the fruit crop, peaches, plums and pears, early vegetables and watermelons have been entirely destroyed by heavy frost. This means a loss of millions of dollars to that section of the country.

Charleston's loss by the cold was heavy. A white frost completed the work of the freeze. Potatoes, of which there was a large crop, suffered the most.

Says it is "Destruction Without Loss."

The Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger, quotes Commissioner of Agriculture Robinson as follows, in reference to the effect of the freeze on truck:

“The reported loss of $1,000,000 on truck, etc., while apparently a loss is really destruction without loss, as truckers will get high prices which would not have been the case if there had been a full crop. The North Carolina truckers were complaining that the Norfolk truckers were up with them. There is now a prospect for those who have anything to get something for it. There will be no over production.”
