"Mr. President, it is my melancholy duty to announce to the Senate the death of Hon. Zebulon Baird Vance, late a Senator from North Carolina. He died at his post of duty, with his complete armor on, with his face to the front, courageous, hopeful and useful to the last. Sufferings even these important concerns which did not break down his proud spirit, dim his noble intellect, nor shake his fearless fortitude. Physically wrecked and overcome with incurable aslady, he stood Mr. A. Cohn, left on a trip in the firmly in the line of his comrades, and at the last moment screnely gathered his robes around him and stepped with the dignity of a Senator and the faith of a Christian from earth into heaven. It looks as if bysome prophetic intuition he had re turned from the spring flowers and genial skies of Florida to lay down his sword and shield on the very altar of his coun-

ry.
For more than forty years, in peace and Senator Vance whose remains were to lie in war, he has been the most beloved and the most honored son of that great State From the overflowing ocean across the Mrs. H. M. Dewey and Miss Hattie hills and valleys, to the majestic moun Dewey, mother and sister of Mr. T. W. tain tops, he was a familiar and most dear Dewey who have been visiting him left object to the hearts and homes of all our people. Language cannot describe the admiration, love and gratitude of all ages; Mr. Walter Duffy, of Lexington, Va., is of both sexes, of every class, condition spending a few days in the city with his and race, of the whole people of North Carolina, for this great and good man, their benefictor and bulwark in prosperity and adversity. Standing by his lifeless form to-day, it shed upon his mortal ashes the tears of this affection and deepest sorrow. He seemed as if by destiny to hold in his hands the hearts of the people; and at this moment the throbbing breasts of thousands are following his silent march to the tomb. If he had faults they were bold, brave, open faults, and are forever eclipsed and forgotten in the fulfillment of a great and glorious life and in the maganimity of a noble nature.

At the hour of 9 to-night the commit-ces of the two Houses of Congress, thu entire delegation of the State of North Carolina and the special committee from the State, with the sad family and friends, will leave the capital of the star spangled republic and bear the remains of Virginia to the beautiful capital of the honorary pall-bearers and the comhis burying ground on the mountain side overlooking the blue torrent of the rench Broad river and in sight of lovely Asheville, and there leave them, in the shade of the evergreen and in the mirror and melody of flowing waters, to sleep with his patriotic fathers. And, as the clouds at evening throng upon the bosom and eternal towers of Black mountain, so will a shadow of sorrow rest upon the bosom of all his people. But the light of his life, with the early rays of mo rning, will dispel the gloom from the mountains and their hearths.

May our Almighty Father, in his supreme and infinite goodness bestow upon them his strength and comfort,'

Senator Ransom then offered the usua resolutions declaring the great sorrow with which the Senate has heard of the leath of Senator Vance; providing for a committee of nine Senators to take order for superintending the funeral to-day,

The resolutions were agreed to and the Vice President announced the appointment of the Senate committee as follows ment of the Senate committee as follows

On the Secretary's desk was an immense floral piece representing the broken trunk of a galix tree, a North Carolma growth, around which roses and other flowers were twined, and along the walls at close intervals were ranged potted plants of palms and evergreens with two rall North Carolina pines on each side of the Vice-President's chair, and a tall palm in the recess behind it.

Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, Gen Grant's daughter, occupied a front seat in the gallery to the east of the reporters gallery.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Executive Council that the parties having the matter in charge should insist upon the fuffillment of the contract, and if necessary take steps to enforce it, that justice may be done.

Resolved, That a copy of the above be sent to the Governor and Commander-in-Chief and published in the city papers.

The Raleigh-News-Observer-Chronicle gives the following committee of arrangements appointed by the ladies for laying the corner stone of the Confederate Montrees.

At $50 o'clock the casket containing the remains of the dead Senator was borne into the Chamber by a squad of uniformed Capitol police and placed on a bier in the area. It was preceded by the committees of arrangements of the two Houses, the members of which wore white soarfs, and was accompanied by the honorary pall bearers wearing black scarfs. The top of the casket was covered with a profusion of roses and lilies.

Then immediately afterwards the deputy sergeant at arms. Mr. Layton, announced the arrival at the main entrance of the Chamber to the Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, the Vice-President and Senstors stood up and remained standing while the members of the House were seeking their seats - the Speaker taking his beside the Vice-President, at his right hand side, and the members theirs on the Democratic side of the Chamber, which support—but there is nothing for them was entirely vacated by the Senators.

Next came and were received with the like honors, the chief justice and assistant ustices of the Supreme court of the United States, who took chairs in the second row on the Democratic side leave both men and women. This is the case ing the chairs in the front row to be oc-States and the members of his Cabinet, who entered immediately after the Supreme court.

Then The Ambassador of England to the United States" was announced, and all present stood up while Sir Julian Pauncefote was conducted to his place. The religious observances were begun with prayer and the reading of scriptural selections by Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of
