Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kincheloe, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

TOMORROW.

I said "Tomorrow!" one bleak windy day—
"Tomorrow I will live my life anew"—
And still "Tomorrow!" while the winter grew
To spring, and yet I dallied by the way,
And sweet, dear sins sins still held me in their sway;
"Tomorrow!" I said, while summer days wore through,
"Tomorrow!" while chilly autumn round me drew;
And so my soul remained the sweet sin's prey,
So pass the years, and still, perpetually,
I cry "Tomorrow I will flee each vile—
Tomorrow, surely, shall my soul stand free,
Safe from the siren voices that beguile"
But death waits by me, with a mocking smile,
And whispers—"Yea! Tomorrow, verily"
—Philip Bourke Marston

THE SHIP OF LOVE.

F. L. STANTON

Gales that blow the ships away
Over leagues of lonesome sea,
Search the dreary deep to-day—
Waft Love's wandering ship to me!

But the winds reply:
"We roam the sky
And we trouble and toss the sea;
And thy Love's ship sails
Where the black night wails,
And comes no more to thee!"

Stars that light the seas afar,
Where the mists and moaning be:
Blend your beams in one great star—
Light Love's wandering ship to me!

But the stars reply
"We light the sky,
Far over the lonely sea;
And thy Love's ship dreams
Where no bright star beams,
And comes no more to thee!"

MARSHAL MACMAHON.

A Brilliant Soldier But Lacking in Great Crises.

MacMahon was a specimen of a class of warriors who, in every age, have appeared in France, and of whom the highest by far may perhaps be found in Vercingtorix, the opponent of Cæsar. The qualities these fine soldiers possessed in common are quick intelligence, undaunted courage, admirable skill in handling troops in the field, but withal little wisdom in the greatest crises, a somewhat overstrained sense of honor, and a certain weakness when brought to test by ill-fortune. It is the character of the Gaul, through all his history; it was seen in Bayard, in Francis I., even in the Grand Conde, and very clearly in Ney; and it contrasts most strikingly with the less brilliant, but more solid and far more useful gifts of the men like the heroes of Nassau, Turenne and Wellington.

The training of the marshal had a direct tendency to bring out what was most attractive but least stable in a disposition of the kind, and to exaggerate, not to correct, its defects. He was an Algerian soldier until he had reached mature age; and if this school of war fell in with his daring nature, made him excel in bold and daring feats of arms and fashioned him to heroic exploits, it unfitted him for the duties of supreme command in the great scientific warfare of Europe, requiring as they do profound intelligence, comprehensiveness of judgment and real strength of character.

MacMahon's checkered career is an illustration of this; he was an ornament of the Algerian army of France; his capture of the Malakoff shows energy and skill; his march on Magenta, if not very brilliant, was well conceived and completely successful. But when brought to the test of war on a great scale, and opposed to a man of the power of Moltke, the marshal proved a conspicuous failure, and his conduct was a series of disastrous errors. He fought ably a gallant fight at Worth; but he ought not to have fought at all, and his subsequent retreat shows want of insight.—Scottish Review.

A Favorite for Coughs and Colds.

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for colds and colds we have ever sold," says S. Keel & Son, of Coal Run, Ky. It is a favorite because it can always be depended upon. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs and effects a permanent cure. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is freely given, as it liquefies the tough mucus and makes it easier to expectorate. 25 and 50 cent for sale by J. V. Jordan Druggists.

The avarice of the miser is the grand sepulcher of all his other passions as they successively decay.

An Old Song

When giants lived in ancient times,
Sing heigh, my boy, sing ho!
In good old England, or foreign climes,
Sing heigh, my boy, sing ho!
They carried things with a high old hand,
Nor strong, nor weak, could before them stand,
And they killed whom they pleased throughout the land,
Sing heigh, my boy, sing ho!

But the giants didn't have things their own way when Jack-the-Giant-killer arrived on the scene. You remember the story. Recollect, too, that every age has its giant-killer. We have our giants in the form of all sorts of dread diseases, supposed to be incurable. Our Jack is in the form of Dr. Pierce, who has proven the expression "incurable diseases" to be a fallacy. Can you imagine more potent weapons to assist a woman in killing the giant-disease, than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It's the only guaranteed remedy for all functional disturbances painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses of womanhood. In female complaints of every kind, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. It's simply a question of the company you prefer—the Giant or Jack!

A person is always startled when he hears himself seriously called old for the first time.

Croup and Whooping Cough.

I have three children who are subject to croup, and have found that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure them quicker than anything else I can get. If you do not believe that this remedy will cure the croup, do as I did, try it and you will soon be convinced. R. M. Chatham, Dewey, Illinois. Whooping Cough is also deprived of all dangerous consequences when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. There is nothin equal to it for either of these ailments. For sale by J. V. Jordan Druggers.

For putting a horse in a fine healthy condition try Dr. Cady's Condition Powders. They tone up the system, aid digestion, cure loss of appetite, relieve constipation, correct kidney disorders and destroy worms, giving new life to an old or over worked horse. 25 cents per package. How a Chicago Man Was Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. John Hall, of 9235 Commercial Ave, Chicago, met with a serious accident for which he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, freely, with the best results. "But now," says Mr. Hall "comes the best part of my story. For many years I have been quite a sufferer from rheumatism, with stiffness of the joints. Since the application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, all symptoms of rheumatism have disappeared; in fact I believe that it has banished every trace of rheumatism from my system." For sale by J. V. Jordan. Druggist's.

He draweth out the thread of his verbosity finer than the staple his argument.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by indigestion Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them Sold by New Berne Drug Co.

The Population of New Berne

Sold by all druggists.

War is a game, which, were their subjects wise, kings would not play at.

One of Mr. Jordan's Excellent Medicines

J. V. Jordan, Druggist's sells a preparation for rheumatism that has performed some remarkable cures. Frank Shepardson an engineer on the Southern Pacific Ry., who resides at Los Angeles, Cal., was troubled with rheumatism for a long time. He was treated by several physicians, also visited the Hot Springs, but received no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which is the medicine referred to above. He says it is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism.

The Handsomest Lady in New Berne

Remarked to a friend the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when other cough remedies had no effect whatever. So to prove this and convince you of its merit any druggist will give you a sample Bottle free. Large size 50c. and $1.
