LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard.

Personal to—M.

B. Swert—Bel & Co.

W. D. BARRINGTON.—A 25c soap.

J. P. Taylor.—Bavarian Beer.

F. Ulrich.—Trade remember me.

N. N. & W.—Steamer to day.

Nunn & McSorley.—Sporting goods.

Some complaints have been made of the profane and outlandish language used by some of those who were at the alarm of fire Wednesday night. The chief of the fire department, Mr. W. D. BARRINGTON, is a gentleman of too high character to countenance such conduct and if it is repeated he will feel compelled to adopt such measures as will prevent it. We are sure that it was thoughtlessness on the part of the young men, but they should remember that the enthusiasm usually engendered at fires does not license them in using such foul language. It is not only unbecoming to them, but disrespectful to others.

Coming and Going.

Mrs. M. D. Nelson, and Miss Annie Roulhac returned home last night.

Messrs. Geo. R. Brinson, J. W. Miller, R. H. Baxter and J. W. Brower of Pamlico were in the city yesterday.

Introducing Pham to the Public.

The Peak Sisters as registered at the Albert last night are:

Betsy, Cindy, Dorothy, Eastasy, Fannie, Arminity, Gershy, Hannah, Belindy, Ingy, Jacoyn, Kettrey, Lucindy, Mirandy, Narcissy, Orphey and Patsy Peak.

Disturbed by Quarrelling Trespassers.

A couple of colored youths, one the name as grown and the other somewhat smaller, who were out in charge of horses yesterday, trespassed with them upon the Academy Green and there became engaged in a quarrel while the school in the old building was having recess.

The smaller boy drew a knife upon the other and at this juncture fear of the consequences caused one of the lady teachers to call upon a passer to quell the disturbance.

They vacated the grounds with out further trouble upon being told to do so and informed that they had a right to be there.

It should be understood by all that the Academy grounds are not public property and that no one has the right to use them except as the privilege is extended by those in charge.

To New York by Small Yacht.

Mr. Andrew Van Sickle of New York who has been spending a couple of months at Capt. H. H. Dowdy's has built a yacht, a combination of sail and gasoline motor while here. The craft was launched yesterday at the foot of Pollock street. She has a length of 21 feet on deck, 17 on keel and has a width of 6 1/2 feet and is provided with a suitable cabin. She will be known as the Humming Bird.

Mr. Van Sickle proposes, with only one other man to start next week on the Humming Bird for his home, sailing the season on pleasure. Upon arriving there she will be fitted out with machinery.

Mr. Van Sickle expresses his admiration of the New Bern climate and declares his intention of coming here again next winter.

UNITED STATES COURT.

The Docket Cleared—Will End this Morning.

Court convened at the appointed hour yesterday and disposed of the following cases:

U. S. vs. G. D. Swain. Motion for new trial. Motion overruled. Judgment prayed by U. S. attorney. Sentenced to 30 days in Beaufort county jail and fined $100 and cost.

U. S. vs. Miles Duncan, col., Perjury. Motion for arrest of judgment. Motion continued for further consideration.

Joseph Edwards, col., Perjury. Not Guilty. Selonia Bray, col, Perjury. Continued until next term of court. All these perjury cases were in matters of obtaining pensions.

This cleared the docket and all jurors were dismissed for the term.

Court adjourned to convene again at 8:30 o'clock this morning for the concluding routine of business.

Peake's Sisters To-night.

If anyone had a doubt that a treat is in store for those who attend the entertainment to-night it would have only been necessary to have attended the rehearsal, on the sly, which was held in the Association Hall yesterday afternoon.

There will be no end of fun—recitations, music—vocal and instrumental, solos, duets, trios &c, on instruments of every shape and kind.

At the close of the concert refreshments will be served by the Sisters. Ice cream and cake at reasonable prices.

The price of admission has been placed at a low figure, 25 cents, on account of the serving of refreshments. Doors opened at 8 o'clock.

Children under fourteen 15 cents. Reserved seats, without extra charge, on sale at Nunn & McSorley's, commencing at 12 o'clock.

Two Union County Alligators.

President Thos. A. McIntyre sent a five-foot alligator up to the city yesterday from Onslow county where he was killed by him taxi-berneize. This one arrived on the freight train at noon.

The regular passenger train of the W. N. & N. railroad brought up another alligator at night—a huge fellow—the measured 10 feet and six inches and was a very ugly looking customer.

The last alligator was shot by a young son of Mr. McIntyre. One ball entered where the head and neck join, the other was plumb between the eyes.

Mr. G. W. Moulton has both the alligators at his home and will begin the work of mounting tomorrow.

About a year ago a large alligator was seen for awhile almost daily lying on a log in Brinson's creek four miles from Jacksonville as the train would pass. This continued until one day he was fired at and he has never been seen since.

A Fondness For Light Brahmas.

In spite of the $50 reward which Mr. Wm. Dunn offered for the apprehension of the thief who stole his fine Brahmas chickens two weeks ago, or the return of the chickens nothing has been heard of them whatever. This is to be regretted as they are all choice fowls—a rooster stolen was one of the pair that took the second premium at the world's fair. Mr. Dunn has the hen still. The two cost him $40.

Valuable as the missing poultry is Mr. Dunn would rather have the thief or thieves captured than to get it back. His yards have been raided repeatedly in the last two years—the nocturnal visitors have been coming every two or three months and during the time have stolen half a hundred chickens from him, and straggle to say they take the white Brahmas every time. It may be imagined that he wants to put an end to it.

Mr. Hege, of Salem, who thinks of moving to New Bern has a partial remedy against such—the dogs which he breeds in connection with his poultry yards instills a wholesome fear which keeps these at a distance.

The Water Works.

The repairing of leaks, putting down what gate covers had arrived, &c., consumed the time of the water works company yesterday so that the pressure was not put on as expected—it is not likely to be put on now before to-morrow—possibly not until Monday.

The gate-covers, funnel-shaped affairs have been the cause of many an inquiry as the company during the last day or two has been putting them down along the lines of pipes. The system contains twenty-four gates. By means of these any portion can be cut off so that no water can flow into it when it is desired to work upon that part. Without the covers the gates would have to be found by means of the construction chart and then have to be dug down to each time they were used. When they have covers they can be found at once by them and be used quickly and without trouble. They are now all in position except one or two and by having it so the work will be considerably expedited, should the high pressure when put on reveal the fact that any repairs were necessary.

The Leazar Literary Society of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts announce the second annual contest by the undergraduate members in the college chapel for Friday evening, May 4th, 1894. The debate will be on the query "Resolved that North Carolina should open the doors of her colleges to both sexes."

OUR PUBLIC BUILDING.

The Contract for its Erection About to be Made.

We are in receipt of a copy of a letter under date of April 24th from Hon. Jeremiah O'Rourke, supervising architect to Congressman Gray in reply to one of his in reference to our public building. Mr. O'Rourke says:

"I have the pleasure of informing you that the working drawings for the building at New Bern, N. C., were taken up on last Saturday, and the work on it in this office will be pushed as rapidly as possible; and you can therefore assure your constituents that the contract for the erection of the building will be made just as soon as the financial portion of the work is completed."

Respectfully Yours,
J. O. ROURKE,
Supervising Architect.

Coroner's Inquest Today.

Coroner R. S. Pinrose will go over to James City with a jury this morning to examine and have a post-mortem examination of the body of James Madden, 197, who died at a luncheon two weeks ago and was buried at James City.

Parties having given the coroner information of their belief that he was foully dealt with and that if investigation proves he was poisoned the guilty party can be apprehended.

The coroner has a very disagreeable task ahead of him, but it is one of those cases that has to be met which circum-stances call for such action.

Notes from the Presbytery.

Rev. C. G. Vardell, the retiring Moderator of the Albemarle Presbytery who in virtue of the position, preached the opening sermon at the session just held in Elizabeth City gives us the following points which will be of interest here:

Rev. F. W. Barnes, having accepted the call to the pastorate of the Goldsboro church, was received into this Presbytery from Wilmington Presbytery and a committee was appointed for his installation.

The committee consists of Rev. W. D. Morton, D. D., of Henderson, and Rev. C. G. Vardell, of New Bern. The installation will take place the last Sunday in May, the 27th.

Dr. Eugene Daniel, of Raleigh, was elected delegate to the General Assembly. This meets in Nashville, Tenn, May 17th.

A memorial will be sent up to the General Assembly from this (Albemarle) Presbytery asking that an interim committee be appointed to look into the matter of providing a graded system of Sunday School lessons with the Bible as a text book.

The Presbytery owns property in Raleigh which was previously ordered to be sold. This session of the Presbytery ordered that $700 of the proceeds be applied towards the erection of the Presbytery church in Kinston. We are glad to hear this. The Kinston Presbyterians have owned their lot for some little time but were not able to proceed with the building. Now they will doubtless at an early date see the consummation of their hopes realized in possessing a house of worship of their own.

Rev. Robert Hines of Vance county was licensed. He is a young man, the son of a Presbyterian minister. He will be engaged in evangelistic work in Pitt and Martin counties.

CULLED ITEMS OF NEWS.

There is no material change in the coal miners strike.

Wilmington is kicking against increased insurance rates recently imposed by the south eastern tariff association.

The remains of Wm. Hooper, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, will be moved from their burial place at Hillsboro to the battle grounds of Guilford court house.

The Washington Progress says that a colored woman gave birth to strange child a few days ago that had a mite tail about an inch long when it was born. It died in a few hours.

The Greensboro Record has this to say: "North Carolina produces the finest wheat in the world. Wheat raised by Col. Henry G. Thynas, near Thomsville, was awarded the first premium at the World's Fair, at Chicago. Score another for the Old North State."

The penitentiary bakery factory of Columbia, S. C., was burned on the night of April 24th. The fire is supposed to have been started by a convict who was left to lock up. The total loss was $30,000, $5,000 of which was for the building. The building was uninsured. The machinery and stock was insured for $50,000.

None of the so-called army movements of the unemployed are so formidable as those along the line of the Northern Pacific R. R. Not less than 24 have stations 50 to 800 each who declare their intention of coming to Washington peacefully if they can—forcibly if they must.

Miss Mary Gilmer, a Cincinnati clerk, was brutally murdered Wednesday by being shot five times by a Catholic priest named Father Dominick O'Grady. She had been the object of unwelcome attention from him for a long time and sought to avoid him. After the arrest of the priest he tried to commit suicide.

The fourth annual session of Confederate veterans was formally opened on the morning of the 25th inst by Gen. B. S. Ferguson of the first Alabama brigade, in Winnie Davis wigwag at 9 o'clock. There were fully 10,000 in the building and many who could not gain access to the immense hall. There were over 800 camps represented at the roll call. A subscription toward the Chicago Confederate monument was then taken up and $1,300 was landed in in a very few minutes. Routine business then followed. The local military gave an exhibition drill in the afternoon, witnessed by thousands.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S DISPENSARY LAW.

Discussed From an Unprejudiced Stand point by Prominent, Intelligent Citizens in the Very Hot-beds of the Excitement.

EL JOURNAL.—From the general tenor of newspaper articles which appear from day to day, it might seem to the readers that the people of South Carolina are suffering under a terrible despondency. That there is great opposition to the law is true, and along several lines, but I have watched the current of events with a good deal of interest from the first and have endeavored to look at both sides, and I am satisfied that the law has been exceedingly beneficial in its results, that it is sustained by the best moral sentiment of the State, and an hopeful and in a good degree confident, that if a change is made, it will be to straight out Prohibition.

I have been reading the New York Voice for a year or more, and among the best I frequently find a thing or two to say about South Carolina. Some time ago the Voice sent me to a large number of representative clergymen of the leading denominations of all parts of the State, asking in opinion upon these questions:

1.—Is the dispensary law sustained by the best moral sentiment?

2.—Is it an improvement over the old system of license?

3.—Has it decreased drunkenness, and its attendant evils?

The last issue contained eighty-three replies—thirteen of which were to the effect that the dispensary law was an improvement over the old system of license, and the remaining seventy were in favor of Prohibition. Sixteen were from Prohibitionists who would not be satisfied with anything less than Prohibition, and ten were from persons who oppose the dispensary on other grounds than Prohibition. They are good reading for temperance people, and I would like to submit a few of them for the enjoyment and encouragement of many who from the general tenor of the published articles may have been led to think that the law is an impious one, and only evil continually.

Reasons why the law is unpopular. From Dr. Samuel M. Smith, pastor 1st Presbyterian church, Columbia, South Carolina.

1.—Prohibitionists are opposed because it transfers the traffic to the State, and by the temptation of revenue puts a premium upon the sale of liquor. 2.—The moral sentiment opposed to it is not so strong as it once was. 3.—The whole liquor traffic is not so much broken up by the law as it once was. 4.—Some oppose it because it is not a total prohibition, and the temptation to which they are hostile. The most influential papers in the State, have from its very inception, been incessant in their condemnation of it, have instilled all prejudice to its just and fair consideration, have stigmatized its character, its purpose, and its methods with bitterest contempt and disgust.

From Rev. J. D. Brinn, Professor in the Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C.

The secular papers are as a rule, enemies of the dispensary law, because it is an approach to Prohibition, and is calculated to destroy the whiskey element that is so powerful, unscrupulous and moneyed, and is so frequently a source of revenue to those papers. People are afraid to think, or to see our streets free of saloons. It is doubtless true and I suppose no one would deny it, that in a general way the liquor evil has been considerably reduced. Of course straight Prohibition would meet with as much opposition, and be nearly as difficult to enforce.

From Rev. C. E. Cliechester, pastor Marine Church, Charleston, S. C.

"My impression is that the law is looked upon as a decided improvement over the old law, for it has closed up every barroom in the State. The effect has been to cause a great decrease in drunkenness. Sailors can now reach the Bethel without being enticed into barrooms by the way."

From W. H. Dowling, pastor Baptist church, Hampton, S. C.

"The best moral sentiment of this entire section of the State sustains the dispensary law as a great improvement over the old license system. It has decreased drunkenness seventy per cent."

From Rev. C. C. Brown, Superintendent.

"The dispensary law in itself considered is a good and wise one. It has reduced drunkenness fully one half. It has smashed the social glass and torn down the gambling halls which were fast in connection with every bar. If we only had a proper man for Governor the law would be a blessing to our State."

From J. H. Dixon, pastor Presbyterian church, Florence, S. C.

"The whiskey men are fighting the law with all their energy. It has decreased drunkenness, its enemies admit that. Railroad men say that they see less drunkenness. It is ten times better than the saloon system."

From Rev. J. E. Carlisle, pastor M. E. Church, Darlington, S. C.

"Morally I see no difference between the dispensary and the license system. The special constable feature has been the great practical error in the law. I wish to say for this town, the seat of the (Continued on 4th page)

Washington Letter.

Mr. Mills of Texas made the closing speech Tuesday, April 24, in the general debate in the Senate.

In the House Mr. Henderson secured the consideration of the Post Office Appropriation bill, including the fast mail item. This measure was delayed on account of Mr. Henderson's enforced absence at Senator Vance's funeral. It will probably be disposed of before the House adjourns this evening.

Coxey's army is reported to be steadily approaching this city with reinforcements coming to meet him from other directions.

Frank Harton the editor of the Post was stricken with paralysis at his office today. The attack is quite serious, but his many friends here hope for the best. He was Postmaster General during part of Arthur's administration and was one of the most approachable men I ever knew. He was the life of the Post. He is universally popular. He is President of the Gratiot Club.

It is said that there is a general understanding in administration circles to punish in some way every Democratic Senator who votes against the tariff bill. This is as it should be. The bill ought to be passed or gotten out of the way in some manner.

Senator Jarvis takes the oath of office tomorrow. Senator Knower has the privilege of escorting him down the aisle of the Senate Chamber to the Vice President's desk. I shall try and be present.

The Civil Service Commission has issued an injunction against Secretary Carlisle.

Gray Carr has been made a defendant in the Superior court of Wake county in the suit of R. O. Burton against the State auditor and Treasurer for $5,000 counsel for in the notable tax case of the State against the Wilmington & Weldon railway.

A Strange Case.

Mr. W. H. Kirk, of Spring Creek, living about nine miles from this place had, a short time ago, a cow let by a supposed milk dog, the cow on showing symptoms of hydrophobia was killed. One of his daughters, Miss Nime Kirk drank of the milk of the cow and now is very sick and shows symptoms of hydrophobia.

We learn that many cows and other animals in all the sections around here have been bitten, and great care should be taken as to using milk from any cow that has been exposed to this horrible disease. Aurora Progressive Age.
