LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Howard.
C. E. Stover—If you owe me.
E. W. Smallwood—General Hardware.
Custom House—Supplies for Revenue Vessels.

The steamer Neuse is now ahead on the largest cargo of truck for this season. Her cargo on this line yesterday was 2,900 packages.

The Atlantic and New Berne Hose Reel Teams were out last night with their reels, practicing throwing water from the hydrants.

Our hardware merchants are looking out for desirable kinds of dog muzzles in contemplation of the city ordinance which is expected to pass requiring their use.

Bears have been catching hogs badly near Pollockville lately and young men of that neighborhood plan to have a big bear hunt at an early day with a view both to lessening the annoyance and having some exciting sport at the same time.

A howitzer has been shipped to Raleigh by the New Berne division of the Naval Reserves, and with it the salutes will be fired every half hour during May 22nd, in the Capitol square, quite near the Confederate monument. The foundation of the monument was finished Saturday.

At the earnest solicitation of many friends who wish to take the cheap trip to Wilmington the managers of the excursion have postponed it to Tuesday of next week, the date first chosen being too close to memorial day for convenience of preparation. There is an encouraging outlook now. More tickets were taken yesterday, and as the number is limited the only sure way of securing one is for the name for the same to be promptly left at Mr. D. F. Jarvis's store.

A Good Meeting.
The Y. M. C. A., meeting Sunday afternoon was one of the most interesting ever held in the rooms. It was a praise meeting. Dr. J. D. Clark, the leader, made the opening talk, and when he concluded others followed voluntarily in easy succession and the talks were ended only by the arrival of the hour for closing.

One of those who spoke testified feelingly of having been reclaimed by the influence of the meeting held the previous Sabbath from a wrong life into which he had drifted after having lived a Christian life for several years.

The meeting was calculated to have done any one good. The men of the city, whether Christians or not who fail to attend at these meetings miss opportunities that are both elevating, spiritually beneficial and enjoyable.

Good Work Still Progressing.
Some of the male members of the Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. Rufus Ford, in charge, will, to-night, establish a mission station at the corner of Pollock and Norwood streets, in the old Colligan building. The room they will use is the same one occupied by the King's Daughters in teaching a day free school. This last mentioned work has been in progress for several months and is highly creditable to the ladies engaged in it, as well as to the young men, the King's Sons, who assisted them.

The work to be commenced to night will be continued on each succeeding Tuesday night and those engaged in it propose also to establish a Sunday School and to hold a Sunday afternoon service at the same place.

It is hoped that the effort will meet with a ready response from those living in the neighborhood—that they will be present in good numbers and lend their assistance in carrying on the good work.

Coxey is circulating a petition among the business people of Washington asking Congress for permission to speak from the Capitol steps. It is being numerously signed.

Base Ball To-Day And On The 10th.
The Morehead City Base ball team which was recently challenged by the New Berne nine will be up Thursday morning (Memorial Day) and a match game will be played between the two sides at ten o'clock at the Fair grounds.

There will be a free exhibition game played at the Fair grounds this afternoon at 5 o'clock. It will be between the regular nine, Capt. David Foy, and a picked nine by Capt. C. J. McSorley.

Coming and Going.
Messrs. L. J. Moore, and P. M. Pearshall, went up to Kinston to attend Superior court. Mr. Pearshall will remain there while his professional duties require his presence. Mr. Moore will come back home each evening returning in the morning.

Mr. J. M. Hines, left for Kinston to canvass for THE JOURNAL while court is in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Marks, and child, went up to Kinston to visit relatives.

Mr. Sam'l Smallwood and family left on the steamer Neuse to visit relatives in West Setauket, L. I.

Mr. W. H. Potter, who has been visiting relatives in the city left for home in Boston.

City Elections.
The voting yesterday was light. The following are the results:

FOR COUNCILMEN.
1st Ward—J. E. Latham, 62.
2d Ward—F. Ulrich, 77.
3d Ward—H. J. Lovick, 60.
4th Ward—Virgil Crawford, 86, scattering, 8.
5th Ward—Isaac Wayne Eubanks, 165, S. R. Ball, 22.

Tickets and boxes were at the polling places for the voters to give an expression of opinion as to whether they favored buying or renting the water works. Very few availed themselves of the opportunity to express their views, but as far as was shown the sentiment is almost entirely in favor of buying. The vote was as follows:

1st Ward—For buying, 45; for renting, 5.
2d Ward—For buying, 53; for renting, 4.
3d Ward—For buying, 40; for renting, 2.

Honors to a New Berne Boy.
Mr. Chas. A. Scott, the fifteen year old son of our townsman Mr. S. H. Scott, is making for himself a fine record at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College in which he is a student in his first year.

When the essay contest occurred at Christmas, he won first honors and a gold medal with his literary production upon Agriculture, and now in the annual declamatory contest which came off last Friday night, he has again won the victory and added another gold medal to his laurels.

The contest was open to all the students of the college and fifteen tried to achieve the honors. Out of the number, Mr. Scott's leading competitor was Mr. Paul Stanley, of Goldsboro, of the sophomore class. He had advantages over Mr. Scott in age as well as in the length of time he had been attending school, and Mr. Scott, with the odds against him scarcely hoped for more than to acquit himself creditably before the assembled audience, and he naturally feels laudably elated at the success that crowned his efforts.

Put Out the Fire Themselves.
The dry-kiln of Chataqua mills, those of D. Congdon & Co., were discovered to be on fire yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, around one of the ventilators. The firemen were quickly on the scene, but the fire had been extinguished before they arrived by the mill men with their appliances for the purpose. Connection was made with a hydrant and a little water was thrown by the firemen but it was no showing of actual work.

As the wind was carrying whatever sparks might have come from the mill in an opposite direction from the drykiln, the fire is supposed to have caught by sparks from a passing locomotive.

The excellency of Capt. Congdon's arrangements for extinguishing fire was highly complimented on account of the work done yesterday; the fire at first was supposed to be inside the kiln, and steam which would quickly have extinguished it there was at once turned into the kiln by a large steam pipe direct from the boiler, a length of hose was soon attached to the pumps and in a little over a minute one stream of water was on the fire and then two of them, being 1 1/2 inch ones, were being thrown upon it inside of three minutes, with the result that it was soon out.

A gentleman who tells us that he has been all over the country and been in the largest mills north and south, but has never seen any other so fully equipped for fighting fire as this one. The mill itself can in a few minutes apply water on any that occurs.

There are two pumps each of which can throw two streams, and 600 feet of hose besides the automatic sprinkler, an elevated tank from which the fifth stream can be taken but which is designed primarily for extinguishing fires by its own action; pipes extend from it through the mills, and at intervals, there are openings which have been closed with easily melting metal which, should a fire start, would melt towards the fire and spray it with all the water then standing in the tank.

HUNTING AND FISHING.

Wood Sports on the Lake Near New Berne—Eagles, Alligators, Deer and Bear.

The lakes that lie a few miles from the line of the A. & N. C. R. R. a little below New Berne are attractive spots for the lovers of the rod and gun.

Their characteristics are told in sportsmen's book that have a national circulation, and we doubt not that many of our own citizens could go to these published works and learn facts about these hunting and fishing resorts to which they are comparative strangers though they lie within about a dozen miles of the city.

Two visits were made to one of the Lakes last week by young people on pleasure bent. The first to each case was made from Pollockville, near which village most of them resided; a journey of about seven miles being required for them to reach their destination.

The lake chosen was the one designated as Catfish lake, which lies near the boundary line of Craven and Jones counties.

It is a body of water deserving a better title, being five miles wide, and eight long and abounding in fine fish along with a few of the kind which its name would lead a stranger to suppose were its principle inhabitants.

The first of the trip alluded to was by a fishing party of young ladies and gentlemen. This party consisted of Messrs. Alonzo Bryan, and John Bender of Pollockville, Miss Maggie Hunter of Havelock; Mrs. Hortense White of Crofton; Mrs. Mattie Simpson of Riverdale and Miss Hattie Washburn and Selma Foy of Pollockville.

They spent the day at the lake and secured a good supply of perch, robins, etc. One of the young ladies, Miss Foy, was fortunate enough to catch a catfish so large that it took the strength of one of the young men to get him out of the water.

Mr. Allen Bender, a brother of Mrs. John Bender ran a deer into the lake and the boys put out, after him with their boats to knock him in the head with their oars, not having guns along but he was too swift for them and got away. The day passed pleasantly and all went home well satisfied with the trip.

Friday afternoon seven young men went to the lake for a hunt, camping there all night and beginning early Saturday morning.

Their fun began though, about as soon as they arrived. An eagle's nest was espied up a tree whose branches overhung the waters of the lake and Mr. John Pritchard resolved to have the young eagles and heroically mounted the tree. All the others laid down their weapons and became so ardently interested in watching his movements that the swift approach of another very much interested party was passed unnoticed by all. This was the old eagle.

The first intimation any one had of his presence was when he swooped down upon Mr. Pritchard and planted his talons in his clothing at his shoulder. Mr. Pritchard instantly threw up both hands to ward off the attack of the powerful bird, and as he loosened his hold upon the tree the eagle pulled him over so far that he lost his balance and came tumbling downward about thirty feet into the water below.

By this time those on shore had all recovered their guns; all fired and the eagle fell. He didn't have much chance to do otherwise but the young men accorded the honor of killing him to Mr. John Bender. It was a gray eagle and measured five feet from tip to tip.

Mr. Pritchard fortunately was not hurt either by his encounter with the eagle or by his fall, but he thinks that next time he'd rather fight something else than on eagle. He didn't volunteer his services to go up that tree again. Neither did any of the others and the young eagles are there yet, possibly being looked after by the other parent bird.

Another incident of the evening was the killing of an alligator by Mr. John R. Oliver.

The alligator measured 7 1/2 feet, one load of ten buck shot close to his shoulders did the work; the young men had been alligator hunting before and knew just where to fire.

They tell us that the lake is filled with alligators, but that they will not trouble a man, though it is death to a dog to enter its waters, and at the barking, the alligators heads can be seen popping out of the water all around.

The best luck at alligator shooting was 2 years ago when three of them, Messrs. Blount Berry, Edward Mattocks and Emmitt Bender, all of Pollockville, killed seven in half an hour.

They wound up their sport for the last trip by a deer hunt the next morning; when the dog started him he made for the lake, under fire of two of the hunters, both of whom missed him, but after he reached the water he was chased for a mile and a half and finally killed by Mr. J. H. Bender. It was quite a fine buck.

Having secured venison enough to give all as much as they wished for the time being, the happy hunters turned homeward with plans in their head for a bear hunt on their next expedition.

Another Mad Dog.
Sunday morning, when Mr. A. L. Bryan, of Pollockville, arose he found that his bird dog had gone mad; and was tearing around near the house biting at the bushes and trees. Every symptom of hydrophobia was present, foaming mouth, swollen tongue, etc. Mr. Bryan promptly shot his gun and ended the animal's life, fortunately before he had had any opportunity to bite any one.

It is astonishing how many dogs have been going mad lately and in view of this fact it is a wise net for city councils to require extra precautions to be taken through the streets, now beginning, if no longer.

A curious hydrophobia item comes from La Grange. A cow being the animal effected. The Times of that place tells it thus:

"A few days ago Mr. Rufus Mozingo noticed one of his cows acting in a very peculiar manner, bellowing, and trying to fight everything. Subsequently the case developed into hydrophobia of the most pronounced nature, and the cow died in a few days. It is not known that the cow was ever bitten by a mad dog."

Proposed Convict Farm For Dyer.
We clip the following item from the Morganton Herald as sent to it by its Raleigh Correspondent.

"There are 1,050 convict now at work on the three farms on Roanoke. This is all that are needed there unless the State had more lands. One hundred and fifty miles are now there."

"This Summer Governor Carr, Superintendent Leazar, and the directors will visit the lands near Dover on the Atlanta and North Carolina railroad, and examine them, with a view to using them as farms. They are not swamp lands as is generally believed. It would seem much better to use the State's own lands than to pay high rents to private parties, especially on so treacherous a stream as Roanoke."

"The State owns the Atlantic and North Carolina railway and could easily build branch roads through the farms."

"If the State is going to keep on the farming business, it seems reasonable to suppose that it would be better for it to dispossess its own land than on leased lands but it appears to us that a still better way is to put the convicts on the roads. A thousand men well used, could do good service in this respect."

KINSTON CORRESPONDENCE.
Superior Court Attendance, and The Business Before It.

Court for this county convened here this morning with Judge Brown, presiding.

Solicitor Allen and the following attorneys present, viz:

H. E. Shaw, LaGrange; L. J. Moore, New Berne; T. C. Wooten, Snow Hill; D. M. Hardy, Goldsboro; Plato Collins, N. J. Rouse, W. D. Pollock, J. Q. Jackson, A. J. Laffin, D. E. Perry, C. H. Brown, Sol. Allen and A. T. Hill of Kinston.

There is quite a docket of petty offenses, however there is one case of manslaughter, State vs. Earned Jones, for killing Herbert Buss. Also the case of W. N. & N. R. R. vs. Oaslow county which is set for Thursday.

The attendance is very good, but the old cry of no money and hard times is the general topic of conversation, most especially with our third party friends.

CUSTOM HOUSE, NEWBERN, N. C.
Collector's office, May 7, 1894.

Supplies for Revenue Vessels.—Sealed proposals for supplying ship chandlery, rations, and coal to vessels of the United States Revenue Cutter Service in this Collection District during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1895, will be received at this office until 2 o'clock p. m. of Wednesday, May 16, 1894. The coal furnished to be anthracite or bituminous of best quality, uniform in character; to weigh 2,240 pounds to the ton; to be delivered on board the vessels at such times and in such quantities as may be required, at localities readily accessible to said vessels, and to be subject to inspection as to quality and weight. Bidders will name the prices both for steaming and stove coal, and also their facilities for furnishing the vessels with fresh water, and their charges therefor. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, and no contract will be put in force until Congress shall have made an appropriation for the purpose. Schedules of ship chandlery may be had upon application to this office. STEPHEN H. LANE, Collector.

CULLED ITEMS OF NEWS.

The Supreme court has granted young Fuller, convicted of murder at Fayetteville, a new trial.

—Near Little Rock, Ark., negroes burned up a house and one of their men confined in it with small pox to prevent the spread of the disease.

—Commenced commander Kelley, unable to get railroad transportation from Des Moines, Ia., is contemplating floating the thousand men down the Mississippi river on rafts.

—Col. E. D. Hall of Wilmington is to have command of the Confederate veterans of Raleigh on the occasion of laying the corner stone of the North Carolina monument to the Confederate dead. This is to take place Tuesday, May 22d.

—The Miss Virginia Landette, poetess, the goddess of Liberty in the Statue of the Centennial Exposition, the Misses, says, spent nearly a year in Washington, 1890.

—The University of North Carolina held the University of Virginia in a baseball game at Lexington, Va., on Friday, a score of 4 to 2.

—There are thousands of the Coxey army in Washington, D. C. North Pacific, Nebraska, Elizabeth, N. J., Springfield, Mo., Valparaiso, Ind., Homestead, Pa., and Des Moines, Ia., all making for the capital steps. At Springfield, Mo., Colonel O'Day gave the army 5,000 pounds of flour.

—Col. W. C. P. Buckenridge opened his congressional campaign in Lexington, Kentucky, on Saturday, the 5th inst. Large numbers gathered from all over the State. Many of the influence were soldiers and backwoodsmen. It is estimated to have been superb, though it is thought that speech delivered from the better classes. He opened by saying: "I am asked for no consolation, and attacked the ministers' union for their support to him."

—The article on North Carolina Methodism, of the present day, in Sunday morning Journal, which we copied from the Christian Advocate shows remarkably good and healthy condition of that denomination in the State. Its institutions of learning, both male and female, as there enumerated make a larger list than those not posted would suppose, but a proposition is being started to have still another female college at Raleigh. It is decided upon this will make six female colleges for that State besides its male colleges and the high school in different parts of the State.

—The Charlotte News tells the following: "When the Presbyterian Synod was opened here, its first number were three girls, named Propst, who had been abandoned by their mother. After the orphanage was moved, the eldest of the children, Minnie, was sent to the Industrial College at Asheville by Mr. R. B. Alexander, who had taken a fancy to her and who paid her expenses there. A wealthy northern lady saw her in the college, became attached to her and secured her as a companion for her self and two daughters. They are to spend the summer in Europe, and will spend the winter in New York. She is with an excellent family, and from an abandoned orphan has taken her place among the best of New York."

—"It is not the clothes which make the man, but they help." —Asox.
