It looks as if the Major would feel like withdrawing from the business now the oig works with their ramifications extending even to the suburbs are getting in operation, but instead of that he is has orders to equip and supply three more the upper floor was used as the Y. M. C.

Mr. Dennison has just received and put fine. Nothing but pure cream used in into service a new 30-horse power boiler making them. Orange, Pineapple, Vanilla, This is not to take the place of the boiler into service a new 30-horse power boiler he has been using, but is additional thereto, He will also repair and enlarge an old boiler he has and place that in position beyond that The store-bad fing was another and Summer samples from Wanamaker has also put in a new pump. It is of the same style as that used at the regular water-works, only smaller.

The Major expresses himself unequivo cally in flavor of the city's owning her own water works, and furnishing free hydrants at every corner to supply all the water that any one wants for any purpose

Death of Mrs. L. J. Taylor.

Mr. L. J. Taylor received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his wife, Mrs Carrie Lovick Taylor, in St. John's Hospital, Baltimore, where she has been for two months past.

Mrs. Taylor has been a great sufferer for two years past, but has had the consolations of religion to sustain her. She united with the Baptist church when only twelve years old.
