LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS
Howard.
Salesman wanted.

A fine rain is reported in the Broad creek neighborhood, Pamlico county.

The weather Bureau predicted showers last night followed by cooler weather to day.

Another rain seemed almost certain yesterday, but the clouds rolled by without it.

The rose festival by the Kings Sons and Daughters will be held next Wednesday night.

Advices from Morehead City state that guests from the hotel were out trolling Friday and had fine sport. They captured several hundred mackerel and cero.

Tomorrow is Children's Day in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. T. Lyon's morning sermon will be specially to the children.

During the thunder squall on Thursday evening the lightning struck the tall China berry tree on the sidewalk north of Mr. W. P. Burrus' residence scaring the trunk from top to bottom, with a sort of rattle which made a complete circuit of the tree. The report was startling.

Where the overflow occurred Thursday at the end of the Episcopal church sidewalk an opening was made yesterday for drainage to the aqueduct on Pollock St. The place where the water stood, however, will soon be too high for any trouble to occur just at the same place again, as the improvement work on the sidewalk will be extended still further.

The New Berne baseball team are preparing to interest the citizens with good ball playing all through the summer season, and to do this they have got to put their grounds in good condition—cut down trees, fill up holes, etc. The boys seem to be in dead earnest to equip themselves for ball playing, and any donations from our citizens to help them carry out their plans would be gladly received.

The rain which we had Thursday afternoon only reached about five miles from the city on the Neuse road and only about three miles we are informed, down the W. N. & N. R. R. The rain farther down a little earlier in the day was between Mayville and Stella, but there was none either in Jacksonville or Swansboro.

Pamlico Superior Court.
Monday morning is the time for the superior court of Pamlico county to begin, Judge Armfield presiding.

Judge Armfield has just held Hyde county court, and at last reports from there he was suffering from a spinal attack that it was doubtful whether he could hold the Pamlico court or not. He was, however, to telegraph this afternoon as to whether he could or not so that the attorneys of New Berne who have professional business there could base their action accordingly.

Mr. W. T. Cobb attorney for Pamlico county left yesterday for the court.

Johnson's Oriental Soap is far superior to all the other so-called medicinal soaps for beautifying the complexion.

Coming and Going.

Mr. H. B. Duffy who has been making a flying trip to Mayville, Stella and Swansboro, returned home yesterday.

Mr. John C. Whitely returned from Jacksonville where he has been attending the Onslow county Sunday school convention.

Dr. Chas. Duffy, President of the State Board of Public Charities, left yesterday morning for Raleigh to attend a meeting of the Board.

Mr. W. P. Whitaker, of Raleigh who has been at Morehead fishing passed through en route to his home.

Miss Mary Bryan who expected to have left a few days ago left yesterday to visit relatives at Halifax.

Miss Kate Vardell, who has been making a brief visit to friends in Wilmington, returned home last night.

Dr. E. L. Cox, and wife of Jacksonville arrived last night en route to their home from Greensboro where Dr. Cox has been attending the State medical convention.

Mr. M. P. Williams, soliciting agent of the Norfolk and Western fast freight line who has been in the city on his regular monthly visit left on the steamer Neuse for Elizabeth City.

Miss Lula Delamar, of Oriental is visiting relatives in the city.

President Cleveland Not at Morehead.

Thursday the Buoy tender Violet, on which President Cleveland started on his second fishing trip in North Carolina waters arrived at Morehead or rather anchored off Fort Macon in sight of that place. This was about 11 o'clock in the morning. That afternoon about three o'clock, she went off presumably for a trolling trip, returned in an hour or two and anchored at the same place remaining all night and leaving yesterday morning at sunrise.

It being known that Cleveland had been aboard this boat it was taken for granted he was there still and telegrams were sent out to several papers accordingly. In fact, some one on the Violet, "a fat and handsome person," was considered to be Cleveland. Pilots reported that they observed this gentleman "while the steamer was out trolling, pulling up the spanish mackerel and blue fish as fast as he could throw out his line."

But the President was not there at all! The fat and handsome" gentleman was somebody else. Cleveland got off the boat when she was at Hatteras.

Will Summer in the Catskill Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hallock left by the Neuse yesterday evening for the Catskill Mountains in New York State, where they will make headquarters for the summer, returning early in November.

Mr. Hallock migrates as regularly as the birds he loves to write about enjoying the pleasures and privileges of gentlemen of wealth and leisure, without the anxieties and responsibilities of a housekeeper who maintains a dual establishment.

He finds at all times congenial employment in writing up for publication the objects he discovers in his travels.

It is ever a pleasure to have Mr. Hallock and his wife about.

The Catskill Mountains are a great resort in the summer. There are about 500 hotels in the range, from the small ones that accommodate about a score up to the mammoth one 1,800 feet in length that accommodates three thousand. It is said that 50,000 visitors are there in the summer.

Will Extend the Sidewalk Improvement.

Mr. T. A. Henry, Dr. Frank Duffy and Dr. F. W. Hughes, who in the order named own the three pieces of property on Middle street just above the Episcopal church lot have decided to improve the sidewalk in front of them by building it up with brick curbing and shell rock marl to correspond exactly with that portion of the walk along the church lot. This will bring the work clear up to the Bangert line and that little portion will be all that will be left to complete the square.

We hope to see the work go right forward. For the combined qualities of beauty and good service durability and cheapness, that kind of pavement cannot be surpassed. New Berne has quite an advantage over many places in having the material out of which they are constructed as handy as it is and in such quantities. It should be utilized more.

Elegant North Carolina Work.

Mr. J. W. Stewart has just received at his livery establishment one of the handsomest carriages that ever entered the city. It is of North Carolina make, being one from the factory of Tyson and Jones, Carthage, N. C., which makes as elegant riding vehicles as are used in the State.

The carriage is not only handsome now but the beauty is enduring, because there is no imitation work about it. The material and workmanship is first class all the way through. We are glad to see such high class work being done in North Carolina and glad also to see the home industries of the State being patronized by our people.

Miss Lida Carr, of Durham, the accomplished daughter of Col. J. S. Carr, will reside at the laying of the corner stone of the Confederate monument in Raleigh, on the 23d, that grand poem of the South's poet Laureate, Father Ryan, "The Fabled Banner."

THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

Its Main Object to Secure Foreign Trade for the South—The Good Results Expected at Wilmington and Elsewhere

The Star of Friday morning announced a special meeting of the Wilmington Produce exchange to be held that afternoon, Col. I. W. Avery, special commissioner of the Cotton States and International Exposition was to make an address in behalf of the Exposition. It is to be held in the fall of next year.

Col. Avery seeks to get Exchanges to endorse the Exposition and the State authorities to make an exhibit, and to ask our Senators and Representatives in Congress to favor appropriation by the general Government for a national exhibit.

It is stated that the main object of the proprietors of the Exposition is to secure for this country the foreign trade of all countries south of us—the West Indies, Mexico, South and Central America—whose trade amounts to eleven hundred millions of dollars, of which this country now gets about one-fifth, the balance going to other countries, when it ought to come to the United States.

Alabama, it is said is the first coal state of the South, with Mobile a gulf port, and yet her shipments of coal to these countries is very small, while England two thousand miles further, sends them annually $8,000,000 worth of coal. Shipments of coffee from these countries to the United States annually amount to $120,000,000, and of this the South gets only six millions. Wilmington used to have some of this trade, but has none now, and this exposition is to help her regain it.

Direct trade is one of the great purposes of this movement; and the State of North Carolina with her great tobacco interests, her cotton manufacturing, the second in the South, her established port of Wilmington, one of the oldest and best on the Southern seaboard, will be one of the chief beneficiaries of this increased trade.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Senate is making a show of doing itself and the country justice by having a motion to investigate the charges of bribery against its members, and the sugar trust frauds.

Buttz, the South Carolina renegade, now living in Dakota, who attempted to bribe Senators Hunter and Kyle denies the charge, but the testimony of the two senators will prevail.

Portions of Minnesota and Wisconsin were deluged by a cloud burst on the 16th. Several lives were lost, and nearly a million dollars of property destroyed.

Senator Kyle, of South Dakota, has just unearthed some stupendous frauds upon the government in Indian claims. The frauds amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Pat Winston, former Republican of the State, now living at Spokane, Washington, is out in a letter announcing his conversion to the Third Party. There are leaves and fishes in sight, and Pat is after them.

The State Medical Association elected Dr. J. H. Tucker, of Henderson, President of the Association for the coming year—a most fortunate election.

A committee of naval officers, appointed by the Secretary of the Navy, are now at Homestead investigating the armor plate frauds in which the government has been largely robbed, and our navy put at the mercy of foreign war ships in consequence of the defective material palmed off upon the officials.

It is more than probable that by this writing that Utah has been admitted as a State. Some legislation for the preservation of the State already in the Senate more impatiently demanded than the admission of others for no better reason than to give more Senators and members of Congress to bodies already too large to be effective for good.

The Louisville, Ky., Courier Journal, edited by Henry Watterson, and the leading organ of the Democracy of that State, makes as severe and caustic arraignment of the conduct of our Democratic Senators as parliamentary language permits, and the pity of it, the criticism is fully warranted by the facts in the case. Mr. Watterson says they have reached the lowest depth of contempt.

"White caps" made a raid in Meeklenburg county a night or two ago, burst in the door of Mr. Johnston McClure's house and attacked him with fence rail, breaking his arm and otherwise injuring him. Two white men, named Segall and Freeman, were the assailants. Warrants have been issued for them.

The State convention of Kansas Democrats has declared for free coinage, a tariff for revenue only and an income tax. The third congressional Democratic convention of Tennessee favors free and unlimited coinage of silver, the Wilson bill (original), the repeal of tax on State Banks, and tabled a resolution endorsing the administration.

The past week has been one of many prominent gatherings. The Southern Baptists concluded their convention at Dallas, Texas; the Southern Methodists are in conference at Memphis; the Episcopals of Virginia are in council at Richmond; and their North Carolina brethren at Greensboro; the general assembly of Presbyterians is in session at Nashville, Tenn; the North Carolina doctors met at Greensboro; the Populists of Georgia held their State convention; the Democrats of Alabama have held conventions and there have been other gatherings too numerous for limited space.

Notice.

The members of the "Superior" Base Ball club are requested to meet at the Academy Green this afternoon at 8 o'clock.
HERBERT MOORE, Captain.

A GRAND PLACE.

A Partial Description of Glenoe Stock Farm, Onslow County.

The Episcopal excursion on the 16th inst. gave quite a number of New Bernians their first trip down New River and their first visit to the grand stock farm of President Thos. A. McIntyre, of the W. N. & N. Railroad, that region having at quite a recent date first been made easily accessible from New Berne by the opening of the railroad and the running of a steamer on the river in connection with the road.

New river is really more of an estuary than a river proper. Seven miles above Jacksonville is as high as it can be navigated—by land it is only four miles from Jacksonville to the highest navigable point.

The view of the New river at Jacksonville does not begin to give a fair idea of that stream. It is so narrow there, but it quickly widens out below, and at President McIntyre's farm is between one and two miles wide. It appears there pretty much as the Neuse does at New Berne, and at the point called Stone's bay, 21 miles below Jacksonville, it is a good three miles wide. It is often called five miles, but we are informed by those familiar with the river that the latter is nearer the correct figure. Near the mouth of this river grow oysters which many declare are the finest in the world, and its fish are of the finest flavor.

The scenery along the river is quite pretty, and some of the most desirable sites throughout its whole length lies the magnificent farm and elegant winter home of Mr. Thos. A. McIntyre, who is now in New York.

The farm is on the southern bank. It has, nearly 2,000 acres, four hundred of which are in cultivation. By water it is ten miles from Jacksonville, the nearest point on the W. N. & N. Railroad, and is accessible in that way by land in five miles to the nearest station, Verona.

Two passes on the river, a firm shows but little, because it is set in woods, but has left along the shore, which recently hide away the new buildings.

A pier with a warehouse on the end juts out from the landing to deep water. The land here is considerably higher than the river. A road with proper slope leads to the high level, around above and then on to the buildings, while strong rustic steps are at the right for those who choose to use them in making the ascent.

The lodge or residence of Mr. McIntyre and family is at the right a few hundred feet back from the river, near enough to give a view of it through the trees and get the breeze from it. The building is unique, pretty and well designed, and it is not in any field, neither is it fenced, it is right in the wood, with the exception of clearing enough around it to give a medium sized yard. The family being absent, the main portion of the house was closed, but the conservatory with its choice and rare plants was thrown open to the visitors.

A little further back from the river and on the opposite side of the road is the home of the superintendent, Mr. L. A. Gay and his family, a commodious place in keeping with the character of the farm.

A little further on straight ahead lie the poultry yards, barns, stables, etc. There are eight rooms, well planned stock-barns, one being devoted to the cattle, the others to the horses, the stalls of the high bred ones being labelled in large printed cards with the name and pedigree of the animal that occupies each. The beautiful standard-bred Kentucky stallion Wiseman, with Abdullah and Hambleton blood flowing in his veins is a magnificent animal. He was at the last East Carolina Fair; there are also four thoroughbred mares of as fine pedigrees as can be obtained. The work horses of the farm are choice ones of their kind.

Mr. McIntyre is breeding a superior strain of mules, first class animals on each side being selected. The sire is the unusually fine jack, Monarch, one of the best in the South.

We can see no reason why the raising of horses and mules should not become a prominent industry with us, and a stop thus be put to the importation of so many Kentucky or more distant raised ones.

With the exception of two grade Jerseys, all of the cattle on the farm are thoroughbred Holsteins and are perfect beauties.

The poultry yards are divided off by wire fences. Besides the chickens a good number of turkeys and ducks are being

STAFF CORRESPONDENCE.

Hyde County Superior Court—The Attendance, and Cases—Other News.

ED. JOURNAL.—Leaving New Berne at 12 o'clock on Friday night last, in company with Messrs. D. F. Jarvis, W. D. McIver and others, on the steamer "Varena," with Capt. J. L. Williams to helm with the wind dead ahead, we beat our way to the mouth of the river, at about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon when we set our course, and at 11 o'clock we anchored safely at the bridge, one and a quarter miles from this place. McIver and I packed, just for there is nothing but dust in the air here, for the county seat, where after some little lounging we woke the proprietor, and were soon comfortably quartered, and you can imagine how sweet we slept after having been tossed about for 23 hours on the steamer.

Today court convened at 9 o'clock. Judge Armfield presiding with collector Blount at his post.

The grand jury was soon closed with D. G. Satter foreman.

The following attorneys present:
T. G. Skinner, Hottel, L. C. Latham, Greenville, M. M. Bond, Edenton, J. H. Small, W. B. Rodman, E. S. Simmons, and S. T. Beckwith, Washington; A. S. Simmons and J. S. Mann, Hyde; W. D. McIver, New Berne.

There is quite a full docket but owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Warren a number of cases were continued, as Mr. Warren could not be present.

Two important cases were disposed of to-day, viz:

State vs. Ed Adams. Charges for libel Defendant submitted judgment suspended upon payment of cost.

State vs. Robt. Mann for larceny, judgment 2 years in State prison. The said Mann looked up and ran when near the jail, and after a lively chase was captured in the creek in a drowning condition, and securely locked up.

There is one other case of some little interest to come up tomorrow, to-wit: Benjamin Donnell, for assault on a colored woman.

It is thought court will adjourn tomorrow.

LATER, Donnell was convicted and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

We note the polished, and smiling editor of the Gazette, and the courtly and pleasant Jacobson of the Progress, are soliciting and collecting for their paper. Also Mr. Coney of the Journal of Elizabeth City. I laughed to report that Mr. Henry Walden is sufficiently recovered to be out, after quite a continued spell.

We are feeling fine, I never have witnessed so much dust.

The first Irish potatoes I have seen were served for dinner to-day.
