The New Bern College Institute commencement exercises will be held from May 24th to May 31st. An interesting programme has been arranged.

There is a rumor of a colored woman having been killed by a bar on white oak river Jones county. We have heard nothing definite or reliable about it.

The remodelled American House, formerly occupied by Mr. N. Whitford, is looking almost like a new place under the changes that are being made and the repainting it is receiving.

Gen. C. A. Battle will have beans from his garden for dinner to day. They are fine ones of the Valentine variety. They are the first to be picked that we have heard of.

Friday evening there was a severe wind and hail storm in portions of Greene and Lenoir counties, and a heavy rain and hail storm in portions of Pitt, Craven and Jones.

Rev. D. H. Petree, returned from Jacksonville where he has been attending the Sunday school convention (undemonstrated) of that country. He reports good attendance, from all parts of the country, very successful work and a splendid convention generally.

The Beaufort Herald's Harlowe happenings say that the pea picking is now about over and that the crop is a fair one although they were put so far back by the freeze. Their Irish potatoes are looking well and the pickers are anticipating a good and profitable crop.

Mrs. H. P. Chandler, of Kerney, Neb. and Mrs. W. E. Walton, of Butler, Mo., passed through last night en route to Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allen accompanying them. Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Walton are visiting numbers of points in our State. They will return Monday to spend a day in New Bern.

A telegram from Raleigh yesterday brought the news that the regular term of Pamlico Superior court which should have been held this week will be omitted. The reason is that Judge Armfield's sprained foot is giving him such trouble that he cannot stand upon it, and consequently is unable to attend to the duties and there is no other judge available at this time.

Williams & Taylor, of Washington, N. C., soliciting agents for truck shipments, have got a full page advertisement in the Gazette to last through the potato shipping season. This makes it necessary for the Gazette to get out a half sheet supplement. The ad. spoken of is not in the supplement but in the regular paper. It shows pluck and enterprise.

Next Friday the Methodist Sabbath school, of Riverdale will have a picnic at the church, in which they will be joined by the Baptists of the same place. Their picnics are generally quite well attended. The attendance is not confined to either the church or the neighborhood. People from a large range of the country around gather with well filled baskets and a good number go down from New Bern. All who choose to be present are made welcome.

"Our Dead"

Mr. William H. Oliver has sent to Raleigh a list of the names of the Confederate soldiers who are buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery, with the request that it be placed in the corner stone of the monument which is about being erected at Raleigh.

There are nearly two hundred names on the list.

Preparing for the Encampment.
Col. Eugene Harrell, quartermaster General of the North Carolina State troops passed through last night enroute to Morehead City to look after preparations for the State Encampment.

The encampment will be at identically the same place at which it was held last year but the grounds will be slightly extended and be put in better shape. It is expected to be the best and pleasantest ever held.

The Kings Sons and Daughters have gone to work for the rose festival which they are to hold next Wednesday night with the intention to make it a success.

The festival will be held in Y. M. C. A. Hall. There will be four booths of different colors under which ices will be served. The booths will be red, white yellow and pink. Each booth will be covered with roses of the same color it is, and the dresses of the young ladies who serve under each booth will also correspond therewith.

A little entertainment will precede the festival, therefore a light admission fee will be charged.

Outlook on Crops.

A good rain, the best since the dry spell began, visited us yesterday morning. The showers are rejoicing the hearts of the farmers whose crops were being injured by the drought, but the drought has been of such long continuance (the last rain before it set in was on April 9th) that the truck crops cannot possibly recover from its effects no matter how good the conditions may be from now forward.

Under the most favorable circumstances there will not be more than half a crop of potatoes, the same can be said of beans, and crops in general have, of course, seriously suffered.

The yield being small, prices ought to rule high accordingly and it is likely they will.

Getting in Good Shape

The W. N. & N. Railroad has completed two more side tracks at their yards in this city. They now have there the main track down Queen street, the side track between that and the depot for the passenger train, one side track which runs alongside the freight warehouse its full length for direct loading or unloading of the cars, two side tracks to the end of the warehouse, and then the one to the turn table and three from that to the round house.

The ground at the front end of the warehouse is being filled in to bring it to a level of the platform so that carts can drive up into the warehouse for loading and unloading. A convenient arrangement.

The railroad is getting all its property here in pretty good shape, both in respect to appearances and conveniences.

Sold stolen Corn to the Owner.

At the term of Hyde county Superior court just closed, Robt. Mann, col., was convicted of larceny and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Mann made a curious theft. He went into the store of Mr. B. E. Boomer, stole a sack of corn, and sold it right there to the clerk without ever having taken it away.

He did this by first being with the proprietor, and he being called away the negro took the corn into his possession in the little interval that elapsed between the departure of Mr. Boomer, and the coming forward of the clerk.

When Mr. Boomer came in he noticed the change in the position of the corn, and upon making inquiry detected the trick.

Upon Mann's being convicted he made a statement to the effect that two other colored men Frank Hastings and Gus Saunders were the ones that broke into the store of Mr. O. T. Credle, on the 9th of March, and that the stolen articles were then concealed in the keeping of a white man whom he named.

Warrants were issued for all. Saunders ran away when the attempt to arrest him was made and was shot at and wounded as he was escaping. The other two were arrested but no goods were found where indicated.

It is said: "A man that wears out the sole of his shoe in the middle is bound to be rich."

ATLANTA EXPOSITION ENDORSED

By the Wilmington Produce Exchange and Both a State and a National Exhibit Advocated

At its special meeting Friday, the Wilmington Produce Exchange, was endorsed by Col. I. W. Avery commissioner of the cotton States and International Exposition to be held in the fall of 1895, and at its conclusion the exchange by a set of resolutions endorsed the Exposition as being of special timeliness and practical value to our whole country, but calling especially for Southern sympathy and co-operation.

The purpose of the Exposition is to enlarge America's Foreign trade, and especially to extend our business relations with our neighbors, south of the equator. We give two sections of the resolutions adopted.

Resolved: That Wilmington has large benefit in this enterprise, as the most central of one of the oldest of the South Atlantic seaports, and as the ocean outlet of North Carolina, the first to be raised and manufacturing State of the South, in number of mills and spindles, and one of the best all around commonwealths of the United States in health and wealth and variety of resources and industries, be it further

Resolved: That we recommend a fit North Carolina exhibit to show our powerful State, and that we ask our entire State delegation in Congress to support a national exhibit, and that a copy of this action be sent to each Senator and Representative.

In his address Col. Avery spoke of the great benefits that would result from the Exposition, particularly to North Carolina with its vast and varied products and resources and said the primary object is to build up commercial relations between the South and the countries of South and Central America, Mexico and the West Indies and thus to help all our industries and benefit all our railroads.

A Wilmington Bicycle Race.

A competitive relay race, the first ever held in North Carolina, was run between Wilmington and Wrightsville and back Friday by representatives of teams Nos. 1 and 2 of the Carolina cycle club of the former place.

Two wheelmen started, each carrying a dispatch from Mayor Fishback of Wilmington to Capt. Ed. Manning at Wrightsville. The dispatch was to be delivered as addressed, signed by the recipient and returned to the Mayor. There were six riders in all on each side, the five relays for fresh riders being placed along the line accordingly as each club considered to its advantage.

The start was made from the Orton House in the presence of hundreds of people. The time to Wrightsville (ten miles) by team No. 1, was 38 minutes and 30 seconds; by team No. 2, 36 minutes.

On the home stretch, the Messenger says, Mr. Sawyer of team No. 2, returned the dispatch just 204 seconds ahead of Mr. Wright, of team No. 1, the latter being only a block and a half behind. The time of the winning team for the twenty miles round trip was 68 minutes and 15 seconds; that of team No. 1, 68 minutes 41 1/2 seconds.

The race is said to have been greatly enjoyed.

The leading Democratic papers with one accord, are denouncing and exhorting the Senate for its action on the high protective tariff amendments to the Wilson bill.

The Fayetteville Light Infantry has been cordially invited to Richmond as the guests of the Richmond Blues on the occasion of the unveiling of the monument to the Confederate soldiers and sailors in Richmond on the 30th inst. and to participate in the ceremonies incident thereto. It seems impracticable for them to accept on account of the engagement in Raleigh on the 22d inst. in Raleigh on the 22d inst. but the conviction will be submitted to the company at their next meeting.

THIRD PARTY SPEAKING.

Col. Harry Skinker, Populist Leader, Addresses an Audience of Four Hundred, Sixty of them Negroes, at Kinston.

At 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday, Col. Harry Skinker, of Greenville, the acknowledged head of the Populist movement in North Carolina, addressed a court house full of people at Kinston in a speech nearly two hours long.

The audience was composed largely of farmers, among whom were sixty odd colored men, both fair representatives of their class.

Upon entering the Court room, the speaker was greeted with applause. After a few minutes in shaking hands, he was formally introduced by Mr. Thos. Aske of Lenoir, who alluded to him as "a young man filled with patriotic sentiment from his forefathers." He commenced with:

"I feel grateful to my friend for the manner of his introduction, but except that my name has been connected with this movement from its inception, I would only be known to you as one of the thousands of Adams. I can see from your contracted brows that I am near enough sympathizing with you for you to approach the situation which I portrayed in the trap of the Commonwealth and distress of the miners."

He called upon the audience "as one man to follow that banner which alone promises relief from present trouble." He discussed the cause of these troubles, and ended the sentence with: "If you have heretofore whispered the truth, do so no longer, but speak it out trumpet tongue."

He compared the conduct of the Democratic party with the charge of the six hundred at Balaklava, and that now as then "somebody has blundered." Reviewed the action of German and other Senators and the result of their policy. "And here too somebody has blundered."

Referred to the immense resources of this country and the suffering thousands to again add the refrain: "Somebody has blundered."

Graphically he alluded to still wheels of the factories, the steamship windows weary way homeward to a family in penury and want, and here again he reached that somebody has blundered.

"Our blunders have brought us to the parting of the waves; and you Democrats and Republicans, tell it not in Gath, nor publish it in the Streets of Ascalon, that the Populist are responsible for this, for we told you so. In the future there can be but two waves—the dependent and the independent—the American and the British—the bondman and the freeman. The people can be deluded and charmed no longer by party precedent. Under which King will you serve?"

"It is no time for cowardice. If you believe that plutocracy has control of the Democratic party, be honest enough and bold enough to come out in favor of the people." The farmer is the foundation of all human progress. The man who is not in sympathy with the suffering which occasional Coxe's army is fit for treason, strategy and spoil. The party in power that will not legislate for the suffering of the people ought to be sunk so deep in the cess pool that not a bubble will remain to point where it sank.

"While I look upon the Coxe movement as wrong, I do not know what I would do in their place. It is the duty of the Government to pass such legislation as will obviate the need of such movements. Charles the Second asked, 'What can these Roundheads do?' They cut off his head. The Roman Emperor, like Grover Cleveland, controlled a corrupt Senate."

"On liberty, what crimes have not been perpetrated in its name? Seventy-five per cent of the farmers are tenants. Ninety-one per cent of the population pay the bulk of the taxes; nine per cent own the wealth, while the balance bear the burden of government."

"I am afraid if the people of this country could realize their real condition, there would be revolution. When we see the party we have lauded upon as a rod, and realize that that rod has turned to a serpent, we are bowed down and discouraged, but dark as our condition seems there is a star above the mountain—a very sunlight of liberty that will lead us out."

"It seems that the Almighty himself has brought the people to believe that both the Democratic and Republican parties are their enemies." The Republicans kept the colored man in office. Cleveland has 3000 in office in Washington City, several consuls and a post-master at Fayetteville. I am not making any light about this. I simply want them to quit chucking the nigger at me."

There was much more on this order. The audience was very attentive and there was moderate applause. It is estimated that over half those present were Democrats.

After the speech the Populists county convention was held, and delegates appointed to the State, Congressional, Judicial and Senatorial Convention.

The Teachers Assembly and Its Work.

The work of the North Carolina Teachers Assembly is annually growing in interest and value to the teachers of our State, and to its influence is largely due the general prosperity which is now being enjoyed by the schools throughout our borders.

Its delightful midsummer meetings in the teachers' own "home by the sea," at Morehead City, bringing together many thousands of teachers and their friends for most profitable educational work and in charming social intercourse, have given a new encouragement and inspiration to the teachers and induced a stronger support and appreciation of the teachers' work among those who patronize the schools. And the enjoyment and benefits which the teachers and friends of education in North Carolina are to derive from the Teachers' Assembly are yet but just begun to be realized.

Besides the intellectual and social enjoyment of the Teachers' Assembly, the physical benefits which are derived from the trip cannot be overestimated. There is nothing, which can so completely and effectively restore strength and energy to a thoroughly exhausted teacher as the rest and recreation of a summer at the seashore. The pure salt air, the plunge in the splendid sea, the excitement of sailing and the inspiration of the presence of the mighty ocean—these make us forget the fatigue of the schoolroom, and every hard-worked teacher finds the recuperation so greatly needed.

There is no place in the United States so valuable to the North Carolina teacher as the sessions of the Teachers' Assembly. —Official Circular.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

A cow near Charlotte has given birth to triplets.

The Shelby Review says that their recent term of the Superior court cost the county the sum of $22,587.73. A pretty good pile. It adds that it cost the male factors and litigants was about ten times that amount.

Brown, Coxe's lieutenant, is a Tennesseean. He lectured in camp the other day and declared that when Christ died his soul was worn out, and part of it was incarnated in him and part in Coxe.

The numerous friends of Gen. Booth, the head of the Salvation army, are acting today to celebrate the fifth anniversary of his conversion, which occurs this year. He will be presented with a jubilee thanksgiving of $50,000.

President Cleveland probably concluded that it would be no greater tax on his patience to wait for shots at snipe or for the fish to bite than to stay in Washington and wait for the Senate to act on the tariff bill.

The La Grange Times gives this in its Snow Hill item: "It is said the Populist party at their recent meeting here took up a general collection for the campaign fund and got $1.15. They will have to do better than this or hire some mighty cheap cantors for the fall campaign."

There was a fearful gale on the lakes on the 18th inst. Not far from Lake Michigan a schooner was wrecked and the crew, who were on board for a week, were blown away by the wind as it was then. The storm had lasted 36 hours and at night had not abated. Evidence of vessels and loss of life have been reported.

It is almost an accepted fact that the Democrats and Populists of Kansas will fuse and divide the spoils. The Populists taking the governor and capital officers, while the Democrats are to have the members of the legislature and half the congressmen.

The American Tract Society is to build in Nassau street, in the lower part of New York city, a million dollar building twenty-three stories in height. All the floors above the fourth will be partitioned into offices to be rented for business purposes. The roof will be three hundred feet above the sidewalk.

Considerable apprehension is felt as to what will be the result of turning loose upon already crowded communities the Coxe armies now gathered at different points in this country. These men are largely adventurers, naked and hungry—desperate and with the same causes actuating them as moved the commune of Paris in the days when her streets ran red with human blood. Thinking people are looking anxiously to Congress to do something to arrest the impending trouble.
