LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard.
Mrs. Poirier.—Bargains.
J. R. Parker, Jr.—Pictures free.
J. J. Disoway & Co.—Save a dollar.

Rev. F. D. Swindell, Presiding Elder will preach in the Centenary Methodist church Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

In going along a public highway—street or road, to turn to the right is always right. The rule should be remembered.

Mr. J. R. Parker, Jr., announces that he will give a very nice and pretty picture with every pound of Sea Foam Baking Powder purchased from him.

Mr. J. W. Swatwood has just had a large refrigerator constructed for use at his store, according to plans of his own, which seems to be admirably adapted to his business.

Mr. Geo. T. Hudson has bought out the dry goods business of Mr. Cohen at the market dock who has been doing business under the nom de plume of "Cheap John."

Riverdale is getting a big share of the picnics. There have been picnics there this week three days in succession. Hancock street Methodist were there Wednesday, the Presbyterians Thursday, and the Sabbath school of Riverdale Methodist will have a picnic at the church to-day.

Polk Miller, the jovial President of the Virginia Field Sports Club, and the inimitable delineator of Negro songs and dialect, who has made crowded houses burst their sides laughing wherever he has appeared, will occupy the boards at the theatre Saturday night.

A bicycle club should be organized in New Berne. Eight or ten months ago when the sport was all a rage, there was a club, and in fairly good shape, but for some reason, it is no longer heard of. We have now more wheels than head, and a number of good riders, but there is no organized effort at the present to get up any interest in this pleasant and healthful sport.

The members of the base reel team of the Atlantic fire Company will meet at their engine house this afternoon at 7 o'clock for practice. It is hoped that the boys will be out in full at the hour appointed—for if they expect to go to Winston, the place appointed for the tournament this year, and compete for the prizes they must have practice at the hydrant. We would like to see the boys go and bring back the laurels as they have done in the past with their quick steamer.

A Literary Treat To-night.
To-night in Y. M. C. A. Hall our people will have an opportunity of hearing one of the gifted men of the State, Mr. Walter R. Henry, in his lecture on the great theme, "Woman, Her History and Heroism, Her Place and Power."

From his college days Mr. Henry has borne a fine reputation for his literary culture, and for the beautiful thoughts, figures and images which he weaves into his essays, lectures and orations.

During the last political campaign Mr. Henry was one of the foremost workers and he made a fine impression wherever he went. His speech at New Berne was not surpassed by any delivered here. He spoke twice at Scotlan Neck and upon the second occasion he was greeted by an audience of six thousand, which is said to have been the grandest demonstration in the State except the one in honor of the Vice-presidential candidate Stevenson at Winston.

Mr. Henry's lecture on "Woman" is spoken of as evincing profound study, sparkling with the gems of history and literature, and portraying the condition of woman during the different epochs of the world's history, and her triumphant sovereignty from the darkness of the past. The price of admission is 25 cts. The lecture will begin at 8:30. All ministers will be admitted free.

Coming and Going.

Rev. F. D. Swindell, P. E., of Goldsboro and Rev. J. T. Gattis, of Durham, went down to Beaufort last night. Rev. Mr. Swindell is just from the General Conference.

Mrs. Bettie Whaley and daughter, Miss Bonita, and Miss Myrtle E. Pope, went down to Riverdale to attend the picnic to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kennedy, Mrs. Matt. Wooten, and Messrs. W. S. Herbert and Dempsey Wood of Lenoir county who went down to Morehead for a day's fishing returned home yesterday from the sport they expected to have. Messrs. Porter Humphrey, Ernest Dewey, Edward Porter, Borden and several others from Goldsboro and a few from other places remain at the Atlantic Hotel to enjoy the fishing.

Presbyterian Pic-nic.

The Presbyterian Sabbath School with quite a number of invited friends boarded the steamer Trent yesterday morning and went down Neuse river, then came back as far as Riverdale and landed there for dinner about twelve o'clock.

They were well pleased with the place finding it well adapted to their purpose.

The sumptuous dinner having been partaken of, and several hours spent pleasantly in rambling along the woods and shore, playing base ball, &c., all embarked between three and four o'clock and came on towards New Berne.

The boat touched at the wharf to permit those to get off who wished to do so and then the steamer with the greater portion of the party went on up Neuse river for several miles, and then returned getting back about seven o'clock.

The day was a pretty one. The place selected was a new one to the school, it being the first time they had ever gone down the river and the picnic was enjoyed accordingly.

Advertising Pay.

Says an exchange: Those firms, whose names you see constantly before the public, know that advertising pays. They have tested it, thoroughly. The reader may not read every time the advertisement, but he sees it and he is impressed with the fact that that firm wants to secure trade and is willing to bid for it—an impression is made and when he wants to purchase goods he just follows that impression.

Occasionally a firm succeeds very well without advertising, but the proprietor has to split his throat and oftentimes shortens his days working for what advertising would bring him.

The R. & R. Fire Co. Excursion.

The Rough and Ready Fire company, col. excursion, left here yesterday morning for Wilmington. It carried about two hundred people.

A telegram from Chas. H. Russell the chairman of the excursion committee telegraphs upon their arrival in Wilmington, the Mayor welcomed the fire company to the city and tendered them the use of the city Hall free. They had an entertainment in at night and they are reported as having a grand time.

Not for Purchasing Purposes.

We are informed that the statistics on traffic through the New Berne and Beaufort canal do not have any connection with a proposed purchase of the canal by the Government. These statistics are secured every year on every river or water way being improved by the government.

The observations taken on the canal mentioned are for the "water-way between New Berne and Beaufort, N. C.," and are taken there because at that point a true record can be secured.

Disciple Meeting at Jasper.

A week's meeting has just closed in the Disciple church at Jasper conducted by Rev. B. H. Melton of Pollocksville which resulted in three conversions. The attendance is spoken of as good.

The church at that place is weak as yet. It has only fourteen members and only three male members. The church building is so old it can be used but has never been completed. An effort will now be made to finish it. About fifty dollars was raised during the meetings for the purpose.

A Card.

In reference to the fact that the Chief Engineer's wagon was out in the colored firemen's parade on Monday, I wish to state that I was absent from the city, and the wagon was obtained by false representation made to my wife that I had promised her, no part of which representation was true. The wagon is the property of the Chief Engineer and is never used even by him except on proper occasions.

W. D. HARRINGTON, Chief Engineer.

POLK MILLER AT THE THEATRE.

He Tells Stories and Sings Songs to the Delight of a Large Audience.

The entertainment given at the Academy of Music last night by Polk Miller, of Richmond, the celebrated delineator of the character of the Old Virginia Negro was one of the most delightful, to which it has been the pleasure of a Roanoke audience to listen.

VANCE MONUMENT FUND.

Ladies Appointed to Canvass the City For Subscriptions to it.

At a meeting of the Central Committee of the Vance Memorial Association held at the court house in New Berne, May 24th, 1894, the following committees were appointed to solicit subscriptions in the several localities named:

South Front and East Front streets—Mrs. R. P. Williams, Miss Mand Land, Pollock and Craven streets—Miss Lillian Roberts, Miss Leah Jones.

Broad and Mill streets—Miss Olivia Meets, Miss Fannie H. Hand.

New, Johnson and Honors' streets—Miss Sadie Manly, Miss W. M. Oakes.

Metcalfe and Governor streets—Miss Etta Nunn, Miss Mattie Dal.

E. H. MEADOWS, Pres.

J. W. PIDDLE, Secy.

Malaria Introduced by Bad Water.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, Secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, says that the evidence that malarial diseases are introduced into the system, in many if not most instances, through the medium of the drinking-water is, to his mind, conclusive. The water containing the germs or plasmodia is surface or superficial soil water. Those living in malarial districts who confine themselves to water from cisterns or wells driven or bored beneath the stratum of marl or impervious clay—in other words, beyond the water which soaks down from the surface—are to a large extent free from attacks.

Dr. Lewis says that if the people of our eastern counties could be generally convinced of this fact and thereby induced to act upon it, the health conditions of this really fine section would be revolutionized for the better. To bring this about is the object of the Board of Health. In order to do this facts must be presented to them in the concrete—not by illustrations from "Asia and Spain and 'Ocher side of Hillsboro," so to speak, but by instances from among their own neighbors. He asks if any one knows any facts bearing on this subject that they will write them to him in detail at their earliest convenience. Give the name and post-office of the head of the family having the experience. If not personally familiar with the facts send the name and address; that the Doctor may write him direct.

Hancock Street M. E. Sunday School Pic-Nic.

The steamer Trent with the genial and accommodating Capt. Herman Dowdy at the wheel, pulled out of the foot of Craven street dock at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning with Hancock Street Methodist Sunday School and a goodly number of friends and invited guests for Riverdale, under the charge of Mr. S. R. Hill the efficient Superintendent.

The choir rendered good and delightful music on the way down, accompanied by an organ played by the efficient organist Miss Jennie Gibbs, who knows how to finger the keys. Mr. Ed. Bangert added considerable in the performance on the Jew's Harp, and after about one and a half hours ride we arrived at the wharf which has been lately repaired and put in thorough condition. The cargo of live stock, and baskets and boxes were landed, and the children and young people scattered over the woods plucking wild flowers. Ropes were brought forward and swings were hung up in the safety oaks. Swinging and jumping the rope was quite amusing.

About eleven o'clock we heard the distant muttering of thunder and it told of the coming rain which made its appearance very soon, to the displeasure of the school; it thwarted the plans to some degree for about two hours.

In the meantime the crowd gathered in the dwellings and had a jolly good time drinking lemonade dispensed by the hands of the genial Tooker as every body called him, the crowd of stars began to ply shufly but, a word from the Superintendent soon put a stop to it.

The long looked for hour for dinner came at last, and a beautiful supply of well prepared ham, chicken, pies, cakes and other things too tedious to mention were spread before the people, and every body seemed to be satisfied, contented and paid. We wondered where so much well prepared eatable came from. The writer of this article has attended many picnics and must say that he enjoyed this dinner as well if not better than any picnic heretofore.

I will not forget to say a word for Bro. Harley the efficient and polite pastor who was so careful and considerate to look after the welfare of the visitors.

After dinner the crack game of ball took place between the Joe Parson Blues and the Herman Dowdy Grays, with a get there umpire from Oriental whose decisions were fair. It was very hard to tell which side beat. The only way I could tell was by paying attention to Charlie Edwards who seemed to be under the hat all the while. Capt. Dowdy at the bat may be considered a heavy hitter and very fleet on the base. Harry Lewis played his part well, if he did have a cigar in his mouth almost long enough to bat.

All praise to brother Ball in his good and positive management of the boys, we will attend again next year.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

The Corner stone Laid in the Presence of an Immense Multitude—Impressive Ceremonies.

Fifteen thousand people were present at the exercises attending the laying of corner stone of the Confederate monument at Raleigh, Tuesday, all trains running into Raleigh that morning were packed with visitors and many had previously arrived.

Thursday was perfect, the streets were lined as early from and the windows of every building along the route of the procession were crowded.

Owing to the crush the procession was formed with difficulty but it was an imposing one seven blocks long. It was formed on Fayetteville street and marched thence, amid cheers, to the Capitol.

A platoon of police with the hat in command and mounted members following with Chief Marshall Stronach at the head had thirty mounted marshals.

The Raleigh Band.

Four military companies—Fifti Rifles, 40 strong; Greenville Grays, 40 strong; Durham Light Infantry, 35 strong; and the Governor's Guard.

Carrriages with the Governor and other distinguished men.

The Fayetteville Light Infantry, the second oldest military company in the United States in their splendid gray uniforms.

Representatives of Bryan Grimes camp, No. 424 bearing the flag of that organization.

The flag of the 18th regiment, N. C. troops, Cook's brigade, all torn and rent by shot and shell, which had been carried throughout the war. On it was inscribed the chief battles in which it was engaged: Frazier's Farm, Sharpsburg, Gettysburg, etc. The column of veterans, about 250, led by Col. E. D. Hall, who commanded Cook's Brigade in nearly every one of these battles.

Other battle flags, among them was one that had lain on the coffin of Jefferson Davis.

The Oxford Delegation.

The Ladies of the monumental association.

The students of the Agricultural and Mechanical College in full uniform, making a handsome show.

State officers and other prominent gentlemen.

The Raleigh Fire Department.

Five hundred mounted men from Raleigh and Wake county, with their horses gaily caparisoned with Confederate flags, these made an imposing appearance and were vociferously applauded.

The stands were at the Hillsboro street gate of the Capitol square where the corner stone was to be laid. One stand was filled by a special choir of one hundred ladies; it was a choir of beauty.

Gov. Carr called for marching to order and welcomed the multitude.

The News-Observer-Chronicle says the scene in front of the stand was one never to be forgotten. It was a perfect sea of upturned faces on every side.

The programme was carried out as follows.

The choir rendered the Old South State.

Walter Grimes, who introduced the bill providing for erecting the monument made the opening address giving a history of the monument.

Rev. James A. Weston, who was a major in the Confederate army and distinguished for his bravery, made an invocation, appropriate in conception and beautiful in language.

Then the choir sang "Let us go over the River and Rest Under the Shade of the Trees."

Then Capt. Thomas W. Mason delivered the oration with magnetic eloquence, an oration historic, patriotic and worthy of preservation in permanent form.

Capt. Mason declared that one third of the military population of North Carolina lost their lives in the contest and in vigorous language portrayed their heroism as great as in numbers, first in battle, nearest the foe at Gettysburg and whose rifles gave the last salute to the flag when it was folded in immortal honor.

The contents of the corner-stone box were then announced—among other things a lock of Gen. Lee's hair; a button from his coat; a strand from the tail of "Traveller," his horse; a piece of the apple tree at Appomattox; souvenirs from

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

New Orleans has had another disastrous fire. This time it was in the fashionable residence portion of the city. West end.

A large crowd in attendance at the commencement exercises of the State normal school at Greensboro, Gov. Cameron introduced the orator congressman Bryan of Nebraska.

A certain element in Alabama were opposed to Senator Morgan, but he got the nomination of the State Democratic convention in Montgomery on Wednesday.

Mr. Goodwin has been credited with saying "It is the power to see what is really going on in the world that is the real power." It is the real power that is the real power.

Senator Mills says the proposed amendments to the tariff bill, which he has been opposing emphatically, have gotten him between the "David and the Goliath" and he is afraid he will have to make water "as the children say" in case the bill is amended.

The prominent newspaper is correct, about double as many Chinese have registered as in this country and furnished the Photographers Johnnie and said he had to sell these surplus registration papers to other Johnnies who may want to come to this country.

Certain Senators are found and bribery and are being investigated by a committee of their fellows. It is hardly probable the Senate will bring in a verdict against its itself, but the country will have its opinion.

Col. W. C. Oates, the Administration candidate for Governor got the nomination in the Democratic State convention of Alabama on the 22nd of the first ballot. The vote was 208-222 Johnston, 232.

W. T. R. B. H. of Waco, Texas, has of North Carolina, and Sen. Prof. W. E. R. Bell who moved to Texas, with his family about a year ago, did on the 18th from an oversight of a telephone taken through mistake.

Judge J. H. B. of Texas, who was candidate for Governor in 1890, in Press dispatches was former Post Master General of the Confederate States, very popular in Texas, and an anti-Cleveland Democrat.

Senator Morgan made a speech on the tariff on the 23rd elucidating that subject and attempting to explain the position of the Democratic party in relation to it. It may satisfy Senators, but will the country agree?

A cynical man writes to ask why it is that legislative bodies seldom lose an opportunity to investigate charges made against wealthy corporations. This cynic can guess as well as anyone, but we will give him a start by suggesting that he ask a few Congressmen.

The Alliance Gleamer says that Mr. W. D. Holt, has invented and had patented a riding play which takes rank with any labor-saving implement of the kind ever placed on the market in this country.

The Index of Lexington, Ky., carried sentiment too far when they refused to decorate the graves of the Confederate dead because Colonel Breckinridge was a member of the Veterans Association. The heroic deed of the "Lost Cause" are not responsible for the action of any one unworthy man who may bring discredit to himself, but who cannot affect the glory.

The vote by which the Senate confirmed the Kansas Negro Taylor as Register of the District of Columbia was 31 to 15. The papers do not give the names of the ayes and noes as they should. The people and the party have a right to know, and will find out. If the party is going to give its best offices to colored men, it is dead in the South.

The Senate has given another serious blow to the Democratic party in the South by the confirmation of the negro Taylor to be Register of Deeds for the District of Columbia. Down here the only thing that has made many loyal to the party was the idea that it was a "white man's party," and this departure will not be advantageous to the party or the country.
