REPRESENTATIVE GRADY.

The Honorable Mr. Grady is a "tramp." He has more than once, since he has been in Washington given evidence of superior scholarship, but we were not quite prepared for his letter to the Scientific American on "Venus, Fly Trap." It is as follows:

To the Editor of the Scientific American: The interesting story about the Venus fly trap on page 265 of the Scientific American, April 28 1894, which represents that plant as being able to distinguish between animate and inanimate matter, lacks some elements of truth, if it includes that variety which grows in North Carolina—and I have never heard of any other kind.

There are on each lobe of the trap, down near the line of junction, two small hair-like spines which are the triggers of the trap, and nothing can throw it without touching one of these. A single touch is sufficient to throw the trap. The location of these spines renders it impossible for a fly or any other small insect to spring the trap until it is in such a position that the closing is entirely envelop it. There is no need of any "second stimulus," and the plant cannot distinguish the touch of a fly from that of any other object, living or dead.

These plants are numerous in my native county, and I have always found it more agreeable to watch their pranks, and those of their neighbors, the trumpets (Sarracenia), than to "fret" myself "because of evil" political "doers."

B. F. Grady, House of Representatives U. S., Washington, D. C. This is a departure from the usual ways of Congressmen, as original as it is refreshing:

What must be the embarrassments of a Congressman who has always found it more agreeable to watch the pranks of Venus' Fly Traps "and those of their neighbors" than "to fret because of evil political doers?"

While there are so many men in the country who are willing to contend with evil political doers, the kind hearted Democrats of this district should come to the relief of Mr. Grady, so as to enable him to give more attention to the fly traps in which he is so much interested.

Science and literature is the proper field for Mr. Grady, and some one else should be sent to Washington who would find pleasure in contending with political evil doers.

He must be a patriot who is willing to serve the public to the neglect of his fly traps, but a generous people will not require the sacrifice.

Two Popular Ballads. Though he may write farm ballads for the rest of his natural life, Will Carleton will be known best to the next generation for his "Over the Hill to the Poor House" and "Betty and I are Out," so that it is interesting to learn how little pecuniary reward he received for these notable poems. The "Betty and I" he contributed to the Toledo Blade while he was a salaried writer on that paper, and received there for merely "editorial encouragement," and the other, contributed to Harper's Weekly, brought a check for $30. The poor-house referred to in the poem is the one near Hillsdale, Mich. says an exchange.

Mr. C. B. Pridgen has eight ducks that have laid about four hundred eggs this season and are not ready to set yet. They are the Rouen breed and are about the size of the Pekin.

The W. N. and N. R. R. Co. will soon begin work on the wharf and warehouse at M. rules. We learn that the pilings, etc., are now being gotten for it. This is much needed as the freight for the Steamer has to be carried out and brought ashore in small boats.

Mr. A. T. Barker, our bee man, can take his hands full of bees and carry them to the bee hive. He expects to have him some patent hives made and wants some Italian Queen bees. We predict success to our friend Barker as he takes delight in his vocation.

Mr. E. S. Smith at this writing is quite sick and his friends are anxious about his recovery sincerely hope he may be better soon.

Another excursion from Jacksonville to the banks 4th Sunday on the new steamer Geo. D. Parry. The steamer is very suitable for excursion; it being double decked with canvas canopy overhead, and also comfortable seats.

An Interesting Story. Here is a curiosity well worthy a place in such works as Disraeli's "Curiosities of Literature." It is a simple story, of course, but a wonder nevertheless, especially when we consider the fact that it is entirely made up of the titles of one author's works:

"Oliver Twist," who had some very "Hard Times in the Battle of Life," and having been "Saved from the wreck of the Golden Mary" by "Our Mutual Friend," "Nicholas Nickleby," had just finished reading "A Tale of Two Cities" to "Martin Chuzzlewit," during which time "The Cricket Chair" pelted him on the "Hearth," while "The Chimes" from an adjacent steeple were heard, when "Seven Poor Travelers" commented to sing "A Christmas Carol." "Barbary Rags," who had just arrived from "The Old Curiosity Shop" with "Some Pictures from Italy" and "Sketches by Boz" to show to "Little Dorrit," was busy with "The Pickwick Papers," when "David Copperfield," who was taking "Some American Notes," entered and informed the company that the "Great Expectations" of "Dombey and Son" regarding "Mr. Lirriper's Legacy" had not been realized.

He also said that he had seen "Boots" at the "Holy Tree Inn" taking "Somebody's Luggage" to "Mrs. Lirriper's Lodgings" in a street that is "No Thoroughfare," opposite "Bleak House." This latter named place is also thought to be the same building in which "The Hanted Man" gave "One of Dr. Harigold's Prescriptions" to "An Uncommercial Traveler," the object being to cure him of a mania brought on through brooding over "The Mystery of Edwin Drood."

A Household Treasure. D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at F. S. Duffy's Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

Every time a profane man blames a thief he condemns himself. "Now good digestion wait on appetite, And health on both," says the great Shakespeare, but he did not have in mind a coated tongue or torpid liver, with all the symptoms of biliousness, so common in this country. All this, and more, can be cured by Dr. Pier's Golden Medical Discovery, a purely vegetable compound, which restores the action of the liver, gives tone to the flagging energies of the dyspeptic's stomach, and thus enables "good digestion to wait on appetite, and health on both." By druggists.

Asthma, and Hay Fever cured by a newly discovered treatment. Address for pamphlet, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo N. Y.

Some people would like to be considered the salt of the earth without doing any of the salt's work.—Rams Horn.

H. Heineman, Milwaukee, writes: "One box Japanese Pile cure has cured me of a case of 28 years standing, after being treated by New York's best physicians."
