LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Howard. C. E. Nelson.—Pat Lamb. Sam'l. Cohn & Son—Fine Beef. A. Hatchett—Richmond Dispatch. J. J. Dismway & Co.—Aermotors.

The Trent Lumber Company is putting up an addition connected with the planing mill to increase their storage capacity. We are pleased to learn that the company is receiving just as many orders as they can fill.

Rev. C. G. Vandell will be detained at Salisbury on account of the sickness of his little child which is very ill. There will however, very likely be morning services held to-morrow, of which announcement will be made in to-morrow morning's paper.

The Progressive gives as an estimate that a thousand barrels of onions will be shipped from there this season. It also tells that Mr. E. Tutthill realized seventy-five dollars on one-third acre of asparagus. He gave away considerable and ate all he wanted.

Stonewall had the pleasure of hearing the Presiding Elder, Dr. Swindell on Sunday night, 11th inst.; he preached one of his able and stirring sermons. The 2nd quarterly meeting on that circuit was held at Berne's Chapel that day. A large concourse of people were present and heard a fine sermon.

We see at Mr. R. Berry's something for sale, which though common enough in some localities we have never seen placed on the New Berne market before, rhubarb or pie plant. We believe some of our farmers raise it but simply for their own table. There is no reason why it should not come into general use as it is an esteemed article of food where in common cultivation.

The lawn party was very satisfactory in every way. The attendance and patronage was sufficiently large for the refreshments to be nearly all consumed by ten o'clock and the refreshments were choice enough to suit anyone. The scene was prettily illuminated, as it was by the numerous Japanese lanterns suspended overhead. The Academy Green is a beautiful place for such gatherings and it would be a good idea to have them often.

Among the chickens in a brood hatched out Thursday belonging to Mrs. Henry E. Lane, of Foyland, six miles from the city, is one that is a curiosity. It has one body regularly shaped, and then what might be called a part of another body with two feet attached to it, the connection being on the back. As a rule such freaks do not live, but so far this little fellow is as lively as any other in the flock.

Fayetteville's Youthful Band. The youthful brass band from Fayetteville which is to be at the Atlantic Hotel this season in addition to the orchestra, is composed of members of Maj. Yere's military school.

The band has for its leader Prof. Weiss a skillful musician, who trains the students well in that line. Two of the older members of the band are sons of Rev. J. T. Lyon, pastor of Centenary Methodist church of this city. They are his sons John and James. The former has the leading corner, the latter leads in alto. The band will pass through the city on Tuesday evening's train.

They continue their homeward journey to-night. They took the trip on the large Schr. Geo. A. Howe, and report a pleasant trip on the wide Atlantic.

Mr. T. C. Daniels returned from a trip in Georgia and elsewhere. Mrs. Hughes and her daughter, Miss Jennie, went down to Morehead.

Mrs. J. D. Perry, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Smith, left for her home at Rockyhook, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Garner and child, who have been visiting his sister, Mrs. Fred Hardison of the city and other relatives at Newport, left for their home in Salisbury.

New Boats. Messrs. W. B. Blades & Bro., have just had a three mast schooner, the Ivy, built at Bethel, Del., for their lumber trade. The Ivy is a three master with a capacity for 200,000 feet of lumber. The Ivy is expected to arrive here the latter part of next week. Instead of sailing she will be towed here to serve time as she is needed to get right to work. Those who are to bring her out here left yesterday on the steamer Neuse for the purpose. At Norfolk they will take Mr. Blade's tug Hygiee, now there and proceed on their way.

The party, who left, consists of Mr. W. H. Davis, heretofore mate of the steamer Neuse, but who now severs his connection with boat that to become captain of the Ivy, Messrs. Robert Davis and Wm. Willis who will also take places on the schooner; Mr. Will Parsons who goes simply for this round trip; and Capt. J. A. Marshall of the schooner Strand who goes to visit his family and have charge of the tug on the homeward trip.

Meeting of County Superintendents at Morehead City. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hon. John C. Scarborough, has selected Tuesday, June 26th, as the date for a general meeting of all County Superintendents in the State at Morehead City, during the session of the Teacher's Assembly. This will be a most important meeting and conference in the interest of the public schools of the State, and it is hoped that every county Superintendent will be present if possible.

All proposed changes in the school law will be fully discussed and amendments thereupon will be prepared for the consideration of the General Assembly, in Raleigh, this winter. A large number of County Superintendents have signified their intention to be present at the meeting, and it is likely to be one of the most useful and valuable conferences of school officers ever held in the State.

Womans Missionary Society Annual Meeting. The request is again repeated in the Raleigh News-Observer-Chronicle for all delegates expecting to attend the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference to promptly send their names to Miss Francis Burkhead, Hillsboro street, that city, that homes may be provided for them.

Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald who preaches the annual sermon before the society on Sunday the 24th inst, is spoken of by the News-Observer-Chronicle as a native North Carolinian, though now a resident of California. He was elected Bishop four years ago, after serving acceptable in nearly every office which the church has to bestow. He is a fine preacher, both in the pulpit and out. He will probably be present during the greater part of the session, and it is hoped that a full attendance of delegates from the various auxiliaries and Bright Jewel Bands will be at the meeting.

The Free Press says that notices are posted calling a convention of Republicans to meet in Kingston Saturday, June 23, to select delegates to the congressional and State conventions.

THE PRESS CONVENTION.

A Profitable Session—Grand Reception, Ball and Banquet—Fine Drive—Visit to Public Institutions.

Special to JOURNAL.] MORGANTON, N. C., June 15.—The attendance upon the Press Association has been increased by the arrival of a few scattering editors.

The session now closing has been an interesting and profitable one.

The reception and ball given were grand affairs. The hall was gorgeously decorated and graced with delegations' charming ladies and gallant gentlemen.

A charming drive was extended through the beautiful grounds in and around the city. We visited those fine institutions, Monmouth Hospital and the Deaf and Dumb Institute.

The banquet was held last night, it was elaborate and elegant.

The election for officers resulted as follows:

President—W. C. Erven; editor of the Morganton Herald; Secretary and Treasurer, J. B. Sherrill, editor of the Concord Times.

We visit the Waldensian settlement and go to Black Mountain to-day.

The Mt. Airy Excursion.

The excursion which leaves New Berne at 7 o'clock on the morning of the 26th bids fair to be the exceptional occasion of its kind to the people of New Berne and vicinity. It is being handsomely advertised by pictorial posters from which we quote as follows:

"For the first time the people of the East have an opportunity of visiting the mountains of the West at a cost within the reach of all. This is the opportunity of a life time and none can afford to miss it."

"Leaving New Berne in the morning, our route is over the W. N. & N. R. R., into Wilmington, the city by the sea, is reached, thence by the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., to the historic city of Fayetteville the 'Capital City of the upper Cape Fear' region, thence by the same route to the progressive wide awake city of Greensboro in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. This in one day we pass from Alpha to Omega, as it were; from the ocean shore to the rugged grandeur of the oldest scenery of mountain chains."

"After leaving Greensboro, the scene is one of ever increasing beauty and interest to an Eastern Carolinian. Just six miles north of Greensboro and directly on our route, is a consecrated spot. The mention of which fills the breast of every North Carolinian with pride—the historic Battle Field of Old Guilford Court House."

"Aside from its historic interest, which makes it so dear to us all, it is in itself a lovely spot for the eye to feast upon."

"There are nearly one hundred acres laid off in beautiful parks, with carefully preserved groves, sparkling waters and glossy lake, sodded slopes and stately monuments that crown its knolls."

"It is a duty every son and daughter of the Old North State owes their common country to make at least one pilgrimage to this sacred shrine and drink in the patriotic inspirations that surround it."

A Revolutionary Hero on Pensions.

Prof. Edward Graham Daves writes to the Baltimore Sun as follows: "Some years after the close of the Revolution Capt. Edward DeCourcy, of Queen Anne's county, one of the Maryland heroes of the battle of Long Island, destroyed his commission in a fit of indignation at the claims for pensions by men who were not entitled to them or who, he thought, could afford to dispense with such compensation for their services."

"I served my country from patriotic motives," said this noble soldier, who had lost his health in British prison ships, "and I hope that none of my descendants will ever claim pecuniary reward."

"A little more of this spirit in our own generation would solve one of our financial problems. It is very unlike that of a recent patriot who in a moment of his displeasure at non-appreciation of his sacrifices exclaimed: 'If I ever love another country, then darn me!'"

Liquor Dealers Convention at Wilmington. For this occasion the W. N. & N. Ry., will sell round trip tickets, New Berne to Wilmington and return for $3.10. Tickets will be sold June 19th and 20th, good to return until June 23rd.

J. M. HOWARD

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Trustees of Trinity college, Durham, have adjourned without electing a successor to Rev. Dr. J. F. Crowell, President, whose resignation goes into effect July 15th.

The latest from the seat of government is that the Democratic members of Congress will fight among themselves over the sugar tariff in the Wilson Bill, and that its fate in that body is probably sealed.

Massachusetts Republicans deny emphatically Mr. Havemeyer's statement to the Senate committee that the sugar company had contributed to their campaign fund in that State.

The papers of the State just now, as a general thing, are saying very little about State politics. It is almost impossible to talk intelligently on this subject, and then too it may not be policy.

More than one of our Southern colleges have gotten on the road to progress by admitting women to an equal share in these institutions. It is true this was done in all colleges, and it would be wrong to think that the women are the intellectual coldest of the women.

Congress, they say, promises to partially relieve the party and the country by an adjournment in August. They have so far hung like a mill stone around the neck of both, and a grateful people will celebrate the day when they can get rid of this useless expense.

Later news than we had yesterday says the Women Suffragist carried their point before the Kansas Populist convention at Topeka. The male Populist will have a hard time of it now, because "alcohol is monstrous uncertain."

As will be noticed elsewhere in this issue, Mr. C. N. Vance has gotten an injunction against his father's widow, and the Senate committee to prevent another removal of the Senator's remains.

Assistant Secretary Remond of the Interior Department has rendered a decision that will cut off and stop thousands of fraudulent pensions. It affects mostly those who deserted and afterwards re-enlisted and were properly discharged. This class is cut out of further pension drawing.

Some of the papers continue the abuse of General Rosser and Rev. Dr. Cave for their hot Southern speeches at the unveiling of the soldiers' monument at Richmond, Va., on May 20th. Everybody knew before they spoke that both these gentlemen were still unreconstructed, and that they would talk in that strain. They are no more responsible than those who invited them to speak, with full knowledge of what they were doing.

The News and Observer Chronicle says that the citizens of Raleigh are preparing to give a handsome banquet next week in honor of Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, who delivers the address at the commencement of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Arrangements are being made to make it an occasion which will be a credit to the Raleigh citizens and an honor to their distinguished guest.

The Senate committee on the sugar frauds have gotten through with the examination of President Havemeyer of the Trust. He very candidly admitted the combination was made to protect their interest and that it made sugar higher than if it were on the free list. It is not thought the investigation will amount to more than enlightenment of the people.

University School of Geology. Prof. Collier Cobb, of the University, spent last night in the city, and left at noon today for King's Mountain, where he will begin his summer school of geology next Thursday. He says ladies will be allowed to enter this school, but the main strength will come from the University.

Prof. Cobb will do some valuable work in bringing to light some of the mineral wealth lying around King's Mountain. He will interest himself in the platinum discovery there.—Charlotte News.

POTATOES PAYING WELL.

One Hundred Dollars Per Acre and Another Crop Now Growing—Good Enough.

When it was realized that the combined influence of the cold snap and subsequent drought had cut off the potato crop on a large scale, we reminded our readers of some experiments which the truckers have pursued through in former years without their being a resultant money loss to the growers.

The marketing of the potato is now well advanced and good reports of the total results are beginning to be heard. We copy one we have just received from Stone's.]

"Digging Irish potatoes is all the go and the farmers are getting good prices. Mr. A. B. Swindell, a tenant on Mr. C. H. Parker's Duxey farm, planted 15 acres and has realized about $1,200. An acre yielding 400 barrels, and digging the well net a neat little sum of $1,700. What will beat this? And this was only about half a crop."

The same land is now in corn and will produce 8 to 10 bushels per acre. The general corn crop is very nice, cotton is small but looking strong and healthy.

We expect to hear of other fine reports like the above as the potato shipping season gets toward its close.

From The Progressive Age we clip the following notes on crops at Ansonia:

Mr. C. S. Dixon has dug as much as seventy-five barrels of Irish potatoes per acre.

Mr. J. S. Dixon has dug one hundred barrels of Irish potatoes from sixteen acres of land.

Mr. J. B. Bender had shipped Friday evening from his land, and the subject of Ansonia, one hundred and twenty-five barrels of Irish potatoes.

The corn crop on our soil should be now to be above an average.

Just run much every week now.
