LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

W. M. Watson—Sale of land.
Lost—Locket and chain.
E. W. Carpenter—For Rent.
J. W. Waters—Administrators Notice.

We had showers yesterday according to the prediction of the weather Bureau. Fair weather is predicted for today.

Dr. G. K. Bagby has received notification that the German patent on his dental articulation cup has been granted.

A little scrapping took place between two of the spectators on the field at the Fair grounds yesterday during the base ball game. The combatants were quickly parted before any serious damage was done.

The Teachers Assembly was considerably reinforced by those who went through yesterday. The JOURNAL will have a representative to furnish reports of the proceedings.

Wilmington covered herself with glory and New Berne was completely vanquished in the base ball game at the Fair grounds yesterday. It was a very much one-sided game. The score stood 25 to 6 in favor of Wilmington. "Marbles."

Miss Mabel Thompson was one of those who won the prize for attendance in Miss R. C. Brookfield's room at the Academy. She and Master Herbert Bryan being equal in the number of days they attended.

From the interest being manifested the Mt. Airy excursion is likely to carry a good number. It is not often that an opportunity is given to go to the mountains for the small sum of $4.00.

Vandemere High school exercises, Prof. C. S. Burgess, principal, closed Tuesday. The music department was taught by Miss Maud Jenkins. The school is pronounced as having been well attended and done some good work.

The Goldsboro Rifles passed through last night for their encampment at Morehead. The tents were already pitched and in waiting for them. With those on the train last night and those who preceded them to make ready, the company is 41 strong.

The colored State Teacher's Association commences its thirteenth annual session at Beaufort to-day. The first passed through last night. Others are expected tonight. It is thought that about a hundred will be in attendance.

The house of Mr. W. F. Hill, on Craven street, opposite the court house, which he has been engaged in remodeling and changing from a two-story to a three-story, is to be completed, all but the painting, by Saturday of next week. The place contains a total of twenty rooms, 12 in the main part, 8 in the rear portion. It is to be a boarding house run by Mr. Hill's wife.

Congressional Convention.

Messrs. P. M. Pearsall and M. Manly took the round trip to Wilmington yesterday to the meeting of the Executive Congressional committee of this, the 3d district. It was a full meeting. All nine counties were represented, 8 by attendance of the members, 1 by proxy.

The time chosen for the convention to meet was fixed for the 19th of July. The place is Dunn, Harnett county.

Two Mails a Day for Certain Places.

In addition to the full mail which the W. N. & N. freight train carries, the morning passenger train now takes mail for the following places: DeBruhl's, Pollockville, Maysville and Jacksonville. These places will hereafter have two mails a day from New Berne.

One of our citizens suggests to us a schedule by which a double daily outgoing mail for the North can be had without additional cost; and that is to have it so that the departing afternoon train will get to Wilmington in time to make connection, which we are informed under its present schedule, is missed by forty minutes.

When traveling, always take a cake of Johnson's Oriental Soap with you; diseases are often caught from using hotel soap.

At the Theatre Last Night.

No entertainment of the season exceeded the one last night by our visitors from Wilmington in variety and in the genuine enjoyment it afforded every one present.

The musical features both vocal and instrumental, were indeed gems and enclosures reigned throughout.

Fun on board the Nantucket gave a scene of ship life in a time of leisure with the marines engaged in just such antics as would be expected of the "boys" wanting all the fun possible out of a little leisure time after duty well performed.

Fun on a clothes line was novel, mirth provoking and startling. Mr. Hewlett astonished the audience by his agility on a slack wire, and the songs of his wife won long-continued applause.

The maneuvers in the march of the marines were watched with intense interest. This was a highly pleasurable feature of the evening.

The tumbling of amateurs we never saw excelled.

The farce was a fitting finale to the whole.

The audience filled the house and the visitors expressed their appreciation thereof.

We are glad to have the visitors and hope they enjoyed their stay as well as the New Bernians enjoyed having them here.

Plan of Our Public Building.

While in Washington, D. C., Mr. P. M. Pearsall called upon the chief clerk of the supervising architect of the government public buildings for direct and positive information about the New Berne building in which we are all so much interested, that he might let New Bernians know reliably what to expect.

Mr. Kepper, the gentleman interviewed, after consideration, told Mr. Pearsall, he could assure the New Berne people that the building was to be begun by the first of August, certainly not later, and possibly sooner than that.

Mr. Pearsall viewed the plans of the building and is well pleased with them. It is to be a three-story brick building without basement and fronting the narrow way towards Pollock street. There will be one entrance at the corner of Pollock and Craven streets, and another on Craven street.

The first floor will be devoted exclusively to the post-office, the second floor will have the court room and the rooms of the officers of the court—marshal, clerk, district attorney and judge, and the third floor will be devoted to the jury rooms and custom house.

Coming and Going.

Mr. W. B. Boyd, left for Winston to attend a meeting of the Grand Lodge K. of H.

Miss Lalla Clark, of Washington, N. C., who has been visiting the Misses Bryan, left for Morehead.

Miss Rachel Brown, stenographer of the Assembly, went down last night.

Miss Kate Vardell returned from Columbia, S. C., where she has been for a week or two visiting friends and attending the commencement exercises of Columbia Female College.

Among the teachers who went through to Morehead to attend the Assembly were Prof. E. E. Britton, Chairman of the Teachers' Bureau; Dr. Atkins of Asheville, who is so prominently spoken of for the Presidency of Trinity college; Prof. Thorn, Sup't of the Graded schools of Durham; Prof. Howell, of Goldsboro; Prof. Gramsley and wife of Greensboro, and Prof. Irving, principal of the school at Waco, Cleveland county.

A Strike in Wilmington.

The Wilmington cotton mill operatives are on a strike.

The directors of the mill ordered a reduction in wages. In three minutes after the notice was put up 226 looms were shut down and all the weavers stopped work. Some, however, finished up the unfinished "cuts" in their looms.

The directors claim that even after the reduction they will be paying as high wages as the best mills and higher than the average.

As an answer the operatives have got up and published a card giving figures showing higher rates paid for similar work at other North Carolina mills.

The directors gave the committee from the weavers and carders a hearing, but no agreement was reached and the hands still refuse to go to work.

A Day of Pleasure at Havelock.

We have a communication from Havelock telling of a day, the 16th inst., passed very pleasantly by the good people of the Methodist Sunday-school at that place:

The pleasure of the day consisted of indoor exercises and out door sports. There was music by the choir, speeches by the small boys and girls, and an address to both the young and old people by Rev. Mr. Greening, the pastor of the church. The exercises closed with song.

After this a plentiful dinner was served, and after dinner the young ladies and gentlemen passed the evening away sitting under the shade of the trees or riding to and fro, while the boys played ball, girls jumped the rope, etc. All had a good time.

Visitors from Newport and Riverdale were plentiful.

CHARMING MORGANTON.

A Beautiful Mountain City Nestling at the Foot of the Blue Ridge.

"Thou who wouldst see the lovely and the wild Mingling harmony on Nature's face, Ascend our Blue Ridge mountains. Let thy foot Fall not with weariness, for on their tops The beauty and the majesty of earth, Spread wide beneath, shall make thee to forget The sleep and tiresome way."

The State Press Association was again very fortunate in having met in so delightful a little city as Morganton, "The Gem of the Upper Catawba Valley."

Morganton is situated on the W. N. C. Railroad, about sixty miles east of Asheville and in one of the most captivating and promising locations in the western part of the State.

It was our pleasure to be the guest of Dr. Jno. Tull, a most estimable gentleman and one of the leading men of the place. The residence of Mr. Tull is on a commanding elevation with a large lawn shaded by trees of rich foliage, shrubbery and evergreens. The latter, conynymus, so very well known in New Berne for its abundance, predominates. The street fronting the house has recently been McAdamsized, largely through the influence of Mr. Tull. The rock or cobble is from a farm of his on the side of the mountain that had been quarried years ago by gold seekers, and even now particles of the yellow metal can be seen glittering on Morganton's highways—streets of gold.

The home of Mr. Tull is a happy one, evincing all the influences of a refined and cultured people. New Bernians will be glad to know that Mr. Tull is a native of our city. He married a Philadelphia lady, whom is a relative of the Honored Col. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times. The family is blessed with five exceedingly bright and interesting children—Miss Julia, a beautiful and charming young lady, and Masters Joe, John, Isaac and little flaxen-haired Charlie with his flowing ringlets of curls.

MORGANTON.

Morganton is the county seat of Burke county which was formed in 1777 from Rowan, and was named after Gov. Thos. Burke, and not in honor to the English statesman as has been popularly supposed.

The county lies just under the shadow of the Blue Ridge mountains, 1,260 feet above tide water, and has a population of 15,000. Its area is 400 square miles and abounds in numerous well cultivated farms. The timber resources are good, and the water courses furnish the finest of power that could be easily utilized for manufacturing, building and other purposes.

PRODUCTS OF THE SOIL.

Among the products of the soil that does well are tobacco, grain, fruits, grasses, etc. Minerals and ores abound in many places in the country and await only development by men of experience and capital.

PUBLIC SPIRITED.

The town has considerable manufacturing, and as an inducement to others, has a standing offer to all new enterprises, exempting them from taxation for the first five years where $5,000, or more is invested. There is a good bank, schools, churches—Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopalian. A big fire destroyed one of the hotels a few months ago, but the Mountain Hotel still remains. Mr. J. M. Kincaid, the clever proprietor, did all he could to make it pleasant for "ye editors."

The streets of Morganton are far superior to those of the average town and are sure to impress strangers. From the ruins of the fire mentioned above there are now numbers of brick stores that would do credit to a much larger city.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

Morganton has two State institutions that she may well be proud of—the Hospital and Deaf and Dumb Institute. The former is of native brick and is the largest building in North Carolina, having a frontage of 918 feet as against 723 for the Capitol at Washington. It takes a full hour to walk around on the outside of this mammoth structure. It stands a lasting monument to the humanity of our State. As to the condition in which the hospital is kept, it looks as though it would be an utter impossibility for it to be improved upon. Dr. Murphy, the superintendent impresses you as a man of the highest type of character and is thoroughly conversant in all the branches of its management. The estimated cost of the hospital is one half million dollars, and it that it is pronounced to have been economically constructed. The Deaf and Dumb Institute is another magnificent brick building not yet quite completed. It stands upon a beautiful site and commands probably the finest view of any point near Morganton. Prof. E. McK. Goodwin is the able superintendent, and he is fully awake to the importance of the position. It will be ready for occupancy about the first of September.

DELIGHTFUL SCENERY.

"What scenes to the grandeur now loom to the view— North, east, south and west is the regions that's below— Around and after the peaks doth arise, And point to their builder who lives in the skies."

In all directions beautiful blue-capped mountain peaks arise towering up in their grandeur and sublimity. Mount Mitchell, the highest peak east of the Rockies can be seen on a clear day, and Roan mountain, the next highest, can also be seen. Other peaks that are in view are Pinnacle of the Blue Ridge, Table Rock, Short Off, Hawk's Bill, Whowing Rock Gap, Grandfather, Biliten and Propst's Knob. Enjoyable drives are sometimes taken by parties to these wild and rugged cliffs and mountain passes occupying days and even weeks along mountain sides and gushing waters.

The city of Morganton alone is a gem of beauty, referring especially to the resident portion. Nearly all these residences overlook some shaded knoll with spacious lawns to set off their architectural appearance. The usual cramp of a city is thus avoided.

The drive-ways are among the beautiful they are sublime, winding around verdant hillsides and over rippling streams and gurgling water falls. There is all to please the eye of the tourist and attract the attention of the prospector. A grander and nobler people do not exist. In fact to know Morganton you must see it and her splendid people, for Morganton is a charming place, In distant or in high lands, No town delights us editors taste Like Morganton in the highlands.

At the Rate of $300 Profit Per Acre.

Rev. N. M. Jurney, of Mt. Olive makes a remarkably good showing on a little patch of Irish potatoes—only a quarter of an acre which he planted at his home.

The quarter of an acre gave him a yield of 33 barrels and after paying all expenses of the crop Mr. Jurney found he had $78 85 cents left as net profit.

This yield is at the rate of 132 barrels to the acre and the profit at the rate of $307.40 per acre.

For a short crop season this report shows remarkably well. Of course the right kind of land and intelligent culture had much to do with Mr. Jurney's success but he also lays a good share of the credit to the special potato fertilizer manufactured by Messrs. E. H. & J. A. Meadows of this city, and to the good quality of the seed potatoes which he also obtained from the same firm.

Although Mr. Jurney's trucking was on quite a small scale, full statements of his management of the crop, and the cost thereof, the kind of land it was on, &c., would make interesting reading, and if he will take the trouble to send us such a statement we will publish with pleasure.

Watson, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of John W. Watson, Esq., of Hadnot's, Carteret Co. They were married at 10 a. m., and left for Jacksonville their future home. Peace and prosperity to you.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Ex-Congressman Thomas M. Boyner, of Pennsylvania, committed suicide in Washington City on the 16th by shooting himself through the head.

General Ransom's Sugar episode is engaging the attention of the Press just at present. They all exonerate him from any blame.

The Supreme court of Virginia has decided by a vote of three to two that Mrs. Belva Lockwood may practice law in the courts of that State.

While people are talking all over the State of the failure of the Democratic executive committee to recommend a primary for U. S. Senators, the Press, with rare exception, is as mum as oysters.

News comes from Washington that the Senate will vote on the Tariff bill July 1st. Those fellows have heretofore broken so many promises, the country takes this statement with a great many grains of allowance.

Senator Walsh of Georgia has been elected President of the Southern Exposition. Ex-Mayor J. T. Ellyson, of Richmond, Va., is one of the vice Presidents, and the entire organization is completed and at work.

The seized property of blockade distillers does not sell high. It seems people are afraid to bid on it. At a sale of such property in Dare county the other day, the two horses brought $500, while the wagon sold for $100.

The unsettled and uncertain condition of politics in the State has resulted in a disposition, largely entertained by all three parties, to bargain and scoop off with each other. The Democrats will only give land for members of the Legislature in a few doubtful counties.

The discovery of the anarchist plot in Washington, with which it is attempted to implicate Coxey's army, is thought to be but the beginning of trouble there and in other money centres. Possibly self preservation will induce the dominant powers to pass some legislation that will relieve any excuse for congregation of such gangs, and the motive for such murderous plots.

A powerful effort is being made for the pardon of Miss Lou Parrish, a pretty sixteen year old Henderson county girl, sentenced to the penitentiary for sixteen years for killing Will Johnson. Johnson had slandered her to make friends, and when charged with it, confessed. In the quarrel Miss Parrish became very much enraged and struck him with a knife. He died and she was convicted. The public generally think she had sufficient provocation.
