The Little Helpers will meet this afternoon at half past two o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Gies Henderson.

Our young town team, Mr. C. C. Clark, Jr., has taken the position of bookkeeper for Mr. J. E. Latham.

Wilmington had a fine Sunday night which also proved eleven small hours well occupied by our good people.

Two boxes of antelopes were shipped from Morehead yesterday morning. They were raised by Mr. M. L. Willis and were the first of the season from that place.

We see it stated in the Economist-Falcon that Dr. Harmon, the well known oculist is to leave Elizabeth City for Morehead City to-day.

We have seen some of the finest wild goose plums raised by Mr. H. A. Brown on his farm at Croxton that we ever held. Some of them lately measured being five inches in circumference.

Mr. J. Joseph Kinsey, of LaGrange, has been invited to deliver a masonic address at Aurora on the 30th inst and has accepted the invitation, says the Saturday Times of the former place.

The LaGrange Saturday Times announces that a grand ball on El Barbecue is on the tapis and will take place at Seven Springs on the Fourth of July. A brass and string band will be on hand to entertain the merry makers.

Two hundred and fifty colored excursionists spent the day in the city yesterday. It was a big day at Wilmington for outward bound excursionists. There were five—one to New Bern, one to Fayetteville, one to Goldsboro, one to Southport and one to the Hamocks.

Mr. D. Allen Willey, staff correspondent of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, passed through New Bern last evening on his way to Morehead City. Mr. Willey is in this section looking over its advantages for the investment of Northern capital.

Dr. Crecy in the Economist-Falcon recommends roughing it at Nags Head by setting up a tent on the sea beach, with coils under it and have meals furnished on the European plan. He says "the roar of the surf would lull you to sleep and every inspiration of the maddening ocean breeze would be more healthful than a whole magazine of drugs." What do the Morehead visitors think of the idea?

People do not come up as quickly as they should in listing taxes and this is the last week in which to give them in. Mr. J. Havens is now at the court house to take the State and county list and Mr. J. E. Latham at his office. The intention is this year to enforce the penalty of a double tax where an omission to give in is made without reasonable excuse. Attend to the matter today and you will be sure not to be put to inconvenience and expense.

This Morning's Excursion.

The Mount Airy excursion leaves at seven o'clock this morning. It gives an unusually favorable opportunity to view the picturesque scenery along the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, Pilot Mountain and the mountain ranges in the extreme north-western part of the State.

The manager Mr. Berry Gleaves is one of Wilmington's best citizens and he will permit no misbehavior whatever on the train but there will be cars with reserved seats at 50 cents each for those who prefer them.

W. P. Draper, Druggist, Springfield, Mass., writes: "Japanese Pile Cure has cured my 7 years' affliction; could not walk half a mile in the last three years, now walks any distance."

Will Preach Here Thursday Night.

Rev. J. W. Crawford, preached two fine sermons at Morehead Sunday. As his style they were thoughtful, practical and with something suited to the needs of every hearer in the audience whatever his position might be.

The morning sermon was delivered in the Assembly Hall, the evening one in the Methodist church. The latter was on "Character," the building of character being the central idea.

After the sermon Mr. Crawford made a few direct and edifying remarks on the value of education and the duty of obtaining one and of helping others to do the same even at great sacrifices.

Thursday night Mr. Crawford delivered a discourse in Centenary M. E. church on Education. The affection and esteem in which Mr. Crawford is held here, owing to his four years faithful service and his prominence in religious and educational work since, assure him a large audience, and no one who can hear him should fail to do so.

Peace Institute Increases Its Faculty.

As high a standard as Peace Institute, the Presbyterian Female college of the State, has ever maintained, we are pleased to see that it does not rest satisfied with its achievements. For the approaching session the art and music departments at least will be more fully equipped for service than ever before. The latter will hereafter be a regular music conservatory with two professors and four assistants.

Miss Carrie Polk, daughter of the late distinguished Col. L. L. Polk, a graduate of the school, who shows great talent in all forms of art work, has been added to the faculty as assistant of Miss Buck, who has charge of the art department.

Some of Miss Polk's fine work was exhibited at the last exhibition of the New Bern Fair and it attracted much favorable attention from the best critics present. For one piece shown, a painting, Miss Polk has had her work refused an offer of $50.

The young parents are to be sympathized with in their desolateness though the Lord has taken the little angel to his loving embrace, where a wave of trouble shall ever reach it, while its little body sleeps so silently beneath the heavens till soul and body shall be re-united at the resurrection.

AT MOREHEAD.

The Sea-Side Social and Political Mecca of North Carolina—The Teachers' Assembly.
(Special Correspondent JOURNAL.)

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 25. The program at Assembly Hall Saturday night was agreeably different from that published.

Miss Stevens of Henderson, the model of two years ago, rendered a magnificent piano solo, after which Capt. W. H. Kendrick of Raleigh made his humorous lecture on "Wide Hunting," in which he made some very personal hits, without giving offense to the part of an audience for the public enjoyment.

There was preaching at Assembly Hall, and each of the churches by visiting clergymen yesterday. At the morning hour Dr. Crawford, of Trinity college preached an able sermon in Assembly Hall, and its counterpart in the Methodist church at night.

Most of the contents of the intercollegiate debate on Saturday are clerical students, and the man who was so good a "second best," Mr. T. A. Smoot of Trinity, has been assigned to duty in New Bern during the summer vacation, and will yet give his modelist brother Stewart for that brighter medal to be awarded for a life spent in usefulness to his maker and his kind.

Saturday night's train, like all others, abled considerably to the New Bern arrivals at the Atlantic, among whom were Miss Gertrude Bagley, H. L. Taylor, Supt. S. L. Dill, A. & N. C. R. R., Harry Marks, C. T. Hancock, New Bern JOURNAL, E. L. Lyon, Carl Richardson, Misses Pearl Powell, Lola Ives, Mrs. C. L. Ives, W. T. Watson, C. D. Bradburn, Miss Hattie Mitchell, Mayor pro tem F. Ulrich, Messrs. T. A. Green, W. G. Brinson, and others scattered at the different stopping places in town.

The excursion on Sunday brought more New Bern people than you have either the space for, or apt to set up, in your office.

It may not be entirely devoid of interest to New Bern people to know that Councilman Ulrich is playing Ward McAlister down here, outwitting in dress such connoisseurs as Editor Latham of Washington, N. C., and Maj. Rogers of Richmond, Va.

The beach and surf was lined Saturday evening with bathers, some of whose costumes, however nice they may have been for an artist model, was cause of some adverse comment.

Another indiscretion down here is the way in which a few married men make themselves conspicuous on the ball room floor, to the detriment of the single ones, and the courtesy and good nature of the young ladies. They evidence the fact of small liberty at home, and the purpose to make the most of their opportunity while away.

Up to 11 o'clock Saturday night, the best attainable count was 39 teachers out of 500 visitors. Dr. Dimwiddle of Peace Institute, Raleigh, and Prof. C. D. Melver, of Greensboro Normal school being among the Saturday arrivals.

One of the appreciable attractions here is the manner in which the hostess, Miss Perry, looks after the social and other comforts of ladies unattended by male friends. She introduces them to congenial company, and no one need be a "wall flower" at the Atlantic.

The only imposition practiced down here so far was by Tinker Dowdy, proprietor of the Roxboro hotel, who came down shaved, with a standing collar and heavy hat, and passed off for a western congressman. His wife carried him home yesterday.

In an attempt to interview Chief Justice Shepherd on the political situation, the Judge made it more patent than ever that he would not descend to the level of a politician. He has his opinions and an abiding faith in Democracy, but says he has neither time or inclination for party matters.

Commodore Stevenson's private yacht is haunted by a mermaid, and the owner has deserted her and sought nightly protection under the legal wing of Attorney W. W. Clark.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Jarvis' Speech A Splendid Effort—Warmly Congratulated—North Carolina Items of Local Interest.

Senator Jarvis made a short but strong and pointed speech in the Senate on June 22 in favor of the income tax. He makes a very dignified Senator and has impressed everyone here very favorably. The debate in the Senate has been very exciting since Thursday when Hill made his forcible speech against the income tax.

Senator Harris is leading the Democrats in the tariff fight with all his skill and splendid parliamentary ability. I laughingly told him I felt a great sympathy with him, with such a fight on hand, and the thermometer over 90 degrees in the shade. He improves under the strain and his son tells me nothing agrees with him better than the excitement of a contest such as this. He is seventy-five years old, but has the vim and vigor of a man of twenty-five.

The session of the Senate yesterday came to an end at 7:15 o'clock last evening without any material progress having been made in the consideration of the income tax features of the tariff bill, a condition of affairs which led Mr. Harris to give notice that he should not consent to an adjournment to-day until the bill was reported back to the Senate. It is thought to have any effect at all, a vast amount of work will have to be done, although the situation can be simplified by the adoption of all the committee amendments in a bill. This, however, would require unanimous consent. Mr. Hill was on the stump all day assailing with equal persistence and alertness the position of the Republicans, Democrats and Populists who favored the bill. He gave so plain an indication of the determined character of his opposition, last evening that it hardly seems likely that he will allow any points to be gained by the managers of the bill (judging unless he finds himself in a hopeless situation). As far as preventing an adjournment goes, Mr. Harris was unable to hold a quorum after 1 o'clock last night and may find himself tonight in the same predicament.

The public buildings committee authorized a favorable report on Representative Branch's Elizabeth City public building bill for $75,000. The advisory committee only recommended $50,000, but Representative Grady, who is a member, induced the bill committee to report for the full amount of the bill.

Representative Bower has been here at work this week for several of his constituents. Among other things, he completed the big mail contractor here to understand that he cannot delay coming to face with the money due those who have "star routes" in his district—not even if he has to turn collector himself. He actually went on a collecting errand himself this week.

The controversy over the remains of Senator Vance is so deplorable that I prefer to have nothing to say about it. Mr. Charles N. Vance states as his ultimatum that his mother is to rest beside the body of her illustrious husband.

Wade Shore Camp Meeting.

An interesting camp meeting is now in progress six miles below Morehead at Wade Shore on Shackleford banks. It began Thursday last week and is to continue through next Sabbath. It is under the auspices of the Southern Methodist church.

Services are held three times every day at 10:30 a. m., 3 p. m., and at early candle light.

Sunday, people assembled at the camp meeting from the neighboring country for miles around. New Bern, Morehead and Beaufort were fairly represented in the congregation and numbers of the summer visitors at the seaside also went over. About a thousand people were on the grounds during the services and at one time a hundred loads of many kinds and sizes lined the shore for half a mile or more.

There were nine ministers present: Rev. W. Y. Everton, the pastor on that circuit; Presiding Elder F. D. Swindell; Rev. R. P. Bumpass, pastor at Beaufort; Rev. J. T. Abernethy, of Beaufort and Rev. F. S. Becton, all of the Southern Methodist church.

There were also the following visiting ministers of the Northern M. E. church present: Rev. W. Q. A. Graham, the Presiding Elder and principal of the Marshallberg Academy; Rev. W. S. Crowder, of Harker's Island; Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Marshallberg; Rev. Mr. Cooper, pastor at Wildwood.

The meeting place is on a slightly elevated portion of the shore under the shade of closely growing trees mostly cedars. Beneath these trees all undergrowth has been cleared away and plain benches constructed of sufficient capacity to seat all who go, and the area is lightly enclosed except spaces at front and rear for entrances. It is a place well suited by nature for the great gatherings, which not only answer their purpose religiously but give occasion for pleasant re-union among friends, whom distance keeps from seeing each other often unless it be on occasions of this kind.

The meetings, as we said, hold all through the week, and if everything works favorably through the time, next Sunday will probably be the chief day of all.

J. E. LATHAM.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The gush of sentiment which accompanied the report of Morehead has excited the comment that possibly it is a case of first love and at night.

While gentlemen were discussing the Senate debate of last week, one of the option bill on the train yesterday, a gentleman from Newport said to the reporter they had better let the option bill alone the more they legislate about it the worse it gets.

The State politicians are beginning a time with much promise and hope, but propose in a few weeks, to make the walking ring from Morris to Morehead and have the veto returning from the sea-shore.

The Southern Development Association was organized in New York last week, and will doubtless be the most important thing much northern capital into southern enterprises. Both Wall Street and Broadway Wall Street men will be busy in the month than when they now are.

Maj. Tom Brown, U. S. Army, died on Saturday. Several times he was the Richmond Dispatch, New York, was a brother-in-law of G. D. T. B. Kingsbury of the Wilmington Messenger, and a worthy representative of the old time southern gentleman who was a gentleman last passing away.

The Board of Trustees of the New College will meet in July on the purpose of electing a president to succeed Dr. C. W. Well, who has resigned. The News gets it straight from inside that Dr. James A. King, of Asheville, will be elected president if he will consent to leave the post. It is not known now whether he would have or not if he were elected. It is understood to be the determination of the Board to elect a Southerner.
