LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Howard, National Bank—40th Dividend.

There was a small scarp on Pollock street yesterday morning between a white man and a negro. No serious damage was done.

There were refreshing rains yesterday all the way from Morehead here. It was not unneeded by growing crops, and the lanes were a broader smile to-day.

The painting and other improvements on Pollock street, between Craven and Middle gives an object lesson people in other parts of the city would do well to profit after.

Five potatoes and green corn are reported to low in the northern markets. It puts a sad-sad look on a truck to see face to read telegraphic quotations.

The trucking season is nearly over here while the crops were cut short, first by frost, and afterwards by a protracted and disastrous drought, until very recently all vegetable, save cabbage, have brought remunerative prices.

Mr. T. A. Hancock of Trinity college, mentioned in yesterday's paper as one of the medal contestants at Morehead, came up yesterday, and has been assigned as assistant to Rev. Mr. Lyon of Centenary M. E. Church.

Mr. T. C. Hancock, local editor of the JOURNAL, went off yesterday on the M. A. excursion, and will be absent till Friday night. In his absence the "sub" bears the indulgence of the JOURNAL'S readers.

Considerable improvement has been made on the second floor of the Duffy building over Nunn & McSorley's. Messrs. Nixon and McIver have had it splendidly fitted for offices with all modern conveniences.

A turkey weighing eight pounds and measuring twenty-five inches in circumference is the farm product which the Saturday Times in its last issue brags on. It was raised, it says, by Major Jones on the farm of Miss Kate Wooten.

Have you listed your city and county taxes yet? If not it should be attended to today. No excuse can be given that sufficient public notice was not made. Mr. J. E. Latham lists for the city and Mr. Johnathan Havens for the county.

The Knights of Harmony will meet tonight at their lodge room at 8 o'clock, every member is requested to be present. Reports of officers will be read, showing condition of the order financially and otherwise, also the installation of new officers for ensuing term.

The drummer boys—the men who travel all over the country, and whose business it is to keep up with the financial condition of communities, say that New Berne is the best city in the South. She has never had any boom to put fictitious valuations on real estate that increases regularly ten per cent a year in value.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of sixth Judicial District, P. M. Pearsall, Esq., Chairman, held in Goldsboro, Tuesday, it was decided to hold the Convention at Morehead, on Wednesday, July the 25th. Mr. Pearsall reports the outlook for Democratic success brightening every day. The place selected is a good one and will afford the delegates a pleasant visit to this delightful resort.

Mr. W. J. McConnell of New York, the young gentleman who came so near being drowned at Morehead on Monday evening while out bathing with Miss Minnie Warren of Edenton, passed through yesterday en route to Raleigh. He expressed himself as feeling very grateful to Mr. Jno. C. Thomas, Jr., of New Berne, Capt. Piner and Mr. Gib Arthur of Morehead, for having saved him and the young lady from being drowned.

AT MOREHEAD.

The Sea-Side Social and Political Mecca of North Carolina—The Teachers' Assembly.

(Special Correspondent JOURNAL.) MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. June 26. Eighty odd new guests registered at the Atlantic last night, among whom were the following New Berne people: W. H. Oliver, J. M. Howard, Miss Annie Chadwick, Mrs. E. E. Perry, Mrs. H. B. Duffy.

The soldier boys from Goldsboro "struck camp" this morning, and went home to swelter in the heat and dust of business. They gave a final salute to that anticipated piece of ordinance known as "old Democracy."

Among those of State fame who arrived yesterday, U. S. District Attorney C. B. Aycock and Col. Harry Skinner, the leading Populist, were conspicuous. They roomed together, and verified that passage in scripture, or some other good book, which says: "The Lion and the Lamb shall lie down together."

Col. Jno. C. Scarborough, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the man of length whose stentorian voice dispenses logic from the rock bound cliffs to the pebbly sea shore is here, and will orate to the educators, and anybody else that chooses to go to hear him. He is a feature at Morehead—an attractive one, and tall enough to be seen without eyeglasses.

Editor Dan Whitchard of the Greenville Register, and Ramsey of the Progressive Farmer—the twin editors of the North Carolina Press Association, are also here having a good time. W. H. Ragsdale came along to take care of Whitchard, and Ramsey is hunting a female guardian with indifferent success.

Apart from the address of Mr. E. E. Smith of Atlanta, Ga., on "Character Building," which had many hearty encomiums, but little was done in Assembly Hall yesterday. Mr. Smith is specially noted down here from the fact that he is the only man who ever came here from Georgia who was not at least a colonel. Being a man of extreme modesty, possibly he would prefer his publishing house had more notice, and he less.

Of the attempt to wire you last night an account of how Miss Minnie Warren of Edenton and Mr. W. J. McConnell of New York, were saved from drowning while surf bathing yesterday evening, by the timely and heroic assistance of Mr. Jno. C. Thomas, Jr., of New Berne, Capt. Piner and Mr. Gib Arthur of this place, and the trouble which has grown out of this suppression of news is matter of too purely personal interest for your correspondent to say more than that the parties whose lives were saved desire to publicly express their obligation and gratitude to their rescuers.

Coming and Going. Solicitor C. B. Aycock of Goldsboro, came up from Morehead yesterday and spent the day in the city.

Mr. T. A. Green came up from Morehead yesterday, leaving his family there.

Mr. H. I. Rogers of Durham, who puts slabs over dead people, at living prices, passed through from Morehead yesterday on his return home.

Hotel Albert arrivals—W. H. Cohen, City; J. M. Leach, N. C.; Brooke French, N. C.; C. B. Aycock, Goldsboro; S. W. Hassell, Kingston; G. W. Pegram, Petersburg; J. L. Mayerburg, Goldsboro; J. D. Parrell, Baltor; C. D. Goodwyn, W. N. & N. R. R.

T. Cooper Hicks, of Richmond, Va., was on the train last night going to Morehead for the purpose of putting in his usual touch with people who buy groceries.

Mr. W. W. Clark spent the day in the city yesterday and returned to Morehead in the afternoon.

Mr. Thos. C. Daniels, went down to Morehead last night.

Maj. Wilson, of Morganton, and chairman of the State Railway Commission, went down to spend some time at the seashore.

Mr. P. M. Pearsall, passed through for Morehead from Goldsboro where he had been in attendance to a meeting of the executive committee of the sixth judicial district.

Mr. Wm. G. LeDuke of the Treasury Department at Washington, was on the evening train for Morehead. He will return to New Berne and most probably visit Roanoke Island for its historical interest.

Home-Made "Sox." While not one of the largest, our knitting factory is among the most creditable of North Carolina enterprises.

It is creditable both because it is a good financial investment and because it opens up a means of respectable living to the poor and honest uneducated poor white girl of the South.

They knit good socks out of North Carolina cotton, and their handiwork competes with like goods made elsewhere in price and quality.

Everything else being equal, wear home-made "sox."

New York Truck Quotations by Wire. Messrs. Palmer Hivesburg & Co., of New York, telegraphed the following quotations for that city last night: Plums, wild goose, 40c. @ 50c. per bushel; Blackberries, 5c. @ 6c. per quart; Potatoes, round, $1.50 @ $2.00, Chiff reds, $1.50.

MOREHEAD.

"Thou Peaceful City by the Sea"

Oh, Morehead City by the sea! What can we mortals say of thee? Thou health inspiring, peaceful place, A blessing to the human race! Thou hast no wondrous dwelling here, No palace beyond compare, No Gould, nor Astor, yet has come To seek in thee a restful home, No millionaire dwells there with thee, Thou peaceful city by the sea!

But who that sees thy sky so blue, Thy water with its changeful hue, Thy soft sea air, that cheers the mind, And bids us leave all care behind, Thy shining sands, thy boats that glide Like plumed birds, the sea wind ride, Can fail to see thy suburban charm, Thy blessed, health inspiring balm, Our praises now we offer thee, Thou peaceful city by the sea!

The weary soul who roams in quest Of peace and health, finds here a rest, Far from the world's exciting throng, And all that to the crowds belong, Along the quiet shores he may "Pursue the tear of his way."

And find that nature gives to those Who turn to thee for sweet repose, The boon of health, that's found in thee, Thou peaceful city by the sea!

But not alone with those thou'lt share Thy health-bestowing gifts, so rare? The bath-string hangs outside the door, Thy people tell it over and o'er, A welcome they will freely give, To all who seek a place to live, With friendly glances, they kindly stand To take the stranger to the land, And bid him find a friend in thee, Thou peaceful city by the sea!

'Tis in the fragrant month of June, When nature's charms are all in tune, There comes a time enjoyed by all, Who hasten to the Assembly Hall, Assured the days will be replete, With choicest gifts for those who meet, With teachers young and old who come From city schools and country homes, To interchange opinions— Thou peaceful city by the sea!

'Tis then the Atlantic opens wide, Her shoals and bays the travelers hide, Within her walls, where can be seen The country lass, or fashion's Queen, The learned man, or raw recruit, Who teach young ideas how to shoot, There Harold gives the friendly hand, To every member of the band, And bids them welcome find in thee, Thou peaceful city by the sea!

Oh! Morehead, city by the sea! Our memories still will cling to thee! Time air so sweet, thy waters blue, Thy banks delightful to our view! The broad Atlantic sweeps thy shore, With ceaseless chant, or sullen roar! And in its caverns wide and deep, The forms of many loved ones sleep! And treasures rich and rare to see! Thou peaceful city by the sea!

Christ Church Year Book.

The year book of Christ, Episcopal church this city for the year ending May 1st, 1894 is before us. It is a valuable record of the years operations of the church—officers, membership, meetings, finance reports of pastor and officers, the society or chapter organization and work also the facts in reference to the Sabbath school and mission work of the church, &c.

It is a work both of interest and use to the members of the present, and is a book of such a character that if the publication is continued each year, as we suppose it should be, every member should feel a pride in keeping a full file of it.

The book is issued in neat and strong pamphlet form—the home firm of Job-printers Richardson & Son, than whom there are no more careful printers to be found. To say the publication was issued from this house is guarantee enough that its mechanical execution is all that can be desired.

The White House. North Carolina has a White House now as well as Washington city. It is located at Morehead, and is the old Sea Breeze House, kept by Mr. J. T. Eaton. It has been newly painted and is all white walls, shutters, chimneys, roof and fence.

It presents a novel appearance, but with a cool and inviting one. At a little distance it looks almost as if it had been in a snow storm.

49th Dividend

Of the National Bank of New Berne June 26th, 1894.

The Board of Directors of this Bank have this day declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. free of tax from the earnings of the past six months, payable on and after July 10th, 1894.

G. H. ROBERTS, Cashier.

Craven County Democratic Convention. Pursuant to the order of the Democratic Executive Committee of Craven county, held at the Court House in New Berne, on the 28th day of June 1894.

The Democratic Convention to appoint delegates to the State, Congressional and Judicial Convention and for such other business as may come before the Convention, will be held at the Court House in New Berne on the 14th day of July 1894 at 12 o'clock—All the Democrats of Craven County are requested to hold meetings at the usual place in the several Townships on Saturday, the 7th day of July, 1894 to appoint delegates to the County Convention as provided by the plan of organization.

By Request the meeting in the 7th township will be held at Riverdale and the meeting in the 8th Township at Smith's school house.

This June 26th 1894. JAMES W. BIDDLE, Chm'n. Dem. Ex. Com. Craven Co.

W. P. Draper, Druggist, Springfield, Mass., writes: "Japanese Pile Cure has cured lady 7 years afflicted; could not walk half a mile in the last three years; now walks any distance."

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Governor T. Linn and Senator Butler are making a regular stew of South Carolina politics, and seasoning it with a beautiful supply of red pepper.

They say Governor Tillman of South Carolina wants to sell his big sock of whiskey at wholesale. If he will sell it to some Western dealer the traveling men will be under obligation.

Governor Hoop of Texas, announces his determination to retire from politics. When they get too dirty for chow to stomach it is time they were disintegrated. Carolina is not cheap enough, but it will take a strong disinfectant to fill the bill.

John Sammons to be killed. He has the sympathy of all good people in his determination of having to borrow gold from the wall street cat throats to keep his credit up. Poor old man.

Mr. S. T. Ansell has received the appointment to the Cadetship at West Point Military Academy from the First Congressional District of North Carolina, and has been notified of his appointment by Representative, Hon. W. A. B. Branca.

Senator Dave Hill, is both anti-Cleveland and anti-income tax. The country may excuse him for the former, but will not for the latter. His politics are more Hill than Democrat.

Constitutional evidence, though stronger than personal testimony in that it can not perjure itself, is not always reliable. If it were, no judge or jury would be required to pronounce the death sentence against George Miller for the outrage and murder at his neck, Miss Anna Wimberly, near Apex on Saturday.

Senator Tom Jarvis, made a speech on Friday in favor of the Income tax, that has created much commotion by the Democratic and general Press. It was his first speech in the Senate, and the attention and consideration shown him indicates that he is considered not an unworthy successor to the much lamented Vance.

The assassination of Carnot, President of the French Republic in the zenith of his popularity and power was unexpectedly startling. A few days previous a like attempt was made on the Italian Premier, Crispi. From respect and admiration the United States Congress adjourned for one day. The number of the despatch points to the repetition of history—the name, name, tickled upstairs, the handwriting on the wall.

Guilford Battle Ground Celebration.

Prof. Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of North Carolina, will, this year, deliver the oration at the Guilford Battle Ground celebration. The exercises will hold on the fourth of July, beginning at 10:30 a. m. sharp.

The subject of Prof. Alderman's address will be "The Life and character of William Hooper, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence from North Carolina."

Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson, Senator J. B. Gordon, Secretary Hoke Smith and other distinguished sons and grandsons of North Carolina will be present. The battle-field and monuments will be regally decorated with flags and bunting; brass bands and a splendid Vocal Chorus will render spirited music; the sounds of cannon will be the signals of the day; mounted marshals, dressed in blue and buff of Continental uniforms, will enliven the scene. A fine Restaurant will cater to the tastes of visitors, and every attention will be given to their comfort.

The day will be wholly given up to festivity and pleasure. The Guilford Battle Ground Company was organized May 6th at Greensboro, North Carolina. Its object is to redeem from waste the battle-field of Guilford Court House, and adorn it as a park and erect monuments thereon. It owns 75 acres of this battle-field, which is laid out in walks, drives and avenues. There are eight monuments already completed, and one in course of construction. Five delightful Springs are handsomely fitted up Lake Wilfong, on the grounds, is a lovely sheet of water. Fifteen thousand people attend the Celebration every year. The addresses all rise to the dignity of history. The museum of relics is a most valuable and interesting feature. The battle was fought between Green and Cornwallis, March 15th 1781. The British were driven from the State.

Pamlico S. S. Convention.

The Pamlico County Sunday School Convention will meet in regular session at Stonehall on the 14th of July. It is hoped that all the scholars of the county will be represented. T. J. Sawyer, Pres. (Geo. T. Farnell, Sec'y.)

For Rent.

The office adjoining mine on Broad, near Middle street, five rooms and a kitchen. Also two offices of three nice rooms each, on Broad, near Court House, also a cottage of seven rooms near same locality. Parties having city property for sale or rent, can leave description and terms with me. E. W. CARPENTER.

"A thing done when thought of is never forgotten."

Now just as soon as you think of something you need in our line call and get it—then you will be certain not to forget it. We have lots of little things, such as collars and stud buttons, shoe strings, porpoise hide, and linen scarf retainers, cuffs, holders, bachelor buttons, (don't use them though—get married), collars and cuff handkerchiefs and bows.

ENDORSE JARVIS' LETTER.

The Will of the People Should be Expressed and Abided by.

EDITOR JOURNAL: I have read your fully Senator Thomas J. Jarvis letter to the chairman of the State Executive Committee, and give it my hearty approval. It is like every political article that ever emanated from his pen, plain and practical, and treats the very essence of good Democracy. I have often thought that the election of United States Senators was too far removed from the people. The ideas suggested in that letter should be applied to all important elections both State and Federal. The people should express their preference in their own way.

We are now upon the eve of an important election, and it depends upon the people in their primary acts, whether and put the right man in the right place. We want no party hacks who think that he and his kind own the country, and the entire congressional district. We want men nominated who are honest, capable and faithful, who have their own convictions and are well prepared to defend them. We have had entirely too much of this preliminary canvassing coming along from a ring, we want our primaries to be free and untrammelled.

It is too often the case that so-called conventional delegates sent to a congressional convention are selected by a ring, each of said ring has a candidate in mind before the delegates are even heard of, known, or invited to meet. The whole thing is cooked and prepared before the ring and often a candidate is nominated who is not so acceptable to a majority of the voters, and they are expected to swallow the candidate nominated by a packed convention, no matter what the voters may think of his character or qualifications. Political hacks who manage a living by getting office-seekers into this wide spread disorganization and political trouble in North Carolina, that political corruption exists in the State, no one man can deny. Votes and influence are bought for salaries received by men whose trade is politics and manipulation of our State elections are too long controlled by them.

Let our people express their own opinion in their primaries, and see that the delegates sent to the congressional convention will voice their sentiments. Such a proceeding would have a telling effect throughout the State, and just so sure as the sun rises and sets, just so sure as North Carolina gets democratic, provided the people will act on their State elections. Senator Jarvis has suggested they should do so in the approaching Senatorial contest.
