Coming and Going.
Mr. W. H. Oliver, who has been down to Morehead, "seeking whom he might devour" returned to New Berne, and his office yesterday.
Mr. John C. Thomas, Jr., who was the man assistance in saving Miss Minnie Warren of Edenton, and Mr. W. J. McCunnell of New York, from drowning while surf bathing at Morehead Monday, spent yesterday in the city and returned to Morehead on the afternoon train.
Mr. D. A. Wiley, of the Baltimore manufacturing staff was in the city yesterday and paid the JOURNAL office a pleasant call. He will have something to say about this section that will be truthful and on possibly commendable.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bryant, went to Morehead yesterday in a double buggy behind a pair of "spanking lays." If the sand is not too deep they will get there on time. Mr. Bryant generally does.
Mr. Moses Patterson, and his daughters Misses Lida and Mary, are off to the mountains on the Mt. Airy excursion.
Rev. F. L. Reel, of Greensboro went down to Morehead.
Editors Herbert of the Kingston Free Press and Latham of the Washington Gazette were on the evening train wandering their way towards the breezes of old ocean.

Hotel Albert Arrivals—T. D. Warren, Edenton, N. C., W. Toms, Durham, N. C., Wm. Weitzel, Jr., Baltimore, W. H. Cohen, City of D. Bralham, City, S. A. MacRae, Fayetteville, J. E. Kulle, N. Y., H. I. Cook, Fayetteville, D. A. Wiley, Baltimore, I. A. Potter, Beaufort, W. S. Chadwick, Beaufort, J. R. Young, Norfolk, W. E. Hoser, Baltimore, J. E. Mason, R. A. D. R. R.

Resigns His Pastorate.
Rev. D. H. Petree, pastor of the Church of Christ, this city, has resigned his charge, much to the regret of his many friends and admirers.

Mr. Petree has been in New Berne not quite two years, during which time he has done a most acceptable work. Under his ministry there have been twenty additions to the church here—ten by letter and ten by baptism. At other places where he has preached at intervening times, he had forty conversions, all by baptism.

In appreciation of his valued services and esteem in which he was held the officers of the church drafted the following resolutions with request that they be published in the JOURNAL and Watch Tower:
Whereas our worthy pastor, D. H. Petree, has deemed it best to tender his resignation as pastor of the Church of Christ worshipping at New Berne, N. C., and whereas he has urged our acceptance of the same, hence after mature deliberations, we have, though reluctantly, acquiesced in his request.
Now therefore resolved—1st—That as a loving pastor, a faithful preacher, and an earnest worker for things eternal, he will ever be dear to our recollections.
2d—That as Bro. Petree has served us so faithfully and lovingly during the past two years, we can and do most cheerfully commend him to the Christian churches, as a Brother full of zeal for Christ, full of love and kindness for the brethren, and full of doctrine for the faith that is in us.
3d—That these resolutions be published in the New Berne JOURNAL and the Watch Tower, and a copy be placed on the record book of this church.

The Colored Fair.
The probabilities are that the colored fair will be more largely attended this year than ever before, the week including the Fourth of July having been selected as the date on which it is to be held.
Cheap excursion rates have been procured. From Norfolk, including admission to the fair, it is only $4.00; Edenton, $3.50, and Elizabeth City $2.50.
The general admission is only 25 cents, and season tickets $1.00 if purchased before July 2d. After that date they will be $1.25.

M. MANLY, P. M.

Mr. W. H. Oliver, who came up from Morehead yesterday says he had a good time down there. He is entitled to it wherever he goes, except in the White House while Cleveland is host. He can't get in the Kitchen room, nor does he want to go in the blue room.

The old, but apropos adage, that the "constant dripping of the water wears away stone," is our excuse for again mentioning the advantages that would accrue to our business men from a telephone line from here to Morehead. If one word to the wise is not sufficient, THE JOURNAL will be the criticism of repetition. This action is taken in this matter for the benefit of both New Berne and Morehead.

Notice.
By order of the Democratic Executive committee of the Sixth Judicial district, the convention for nominating a solicitor for said district will meet at Morehead City on Wednesday July 30th, 1894.

AT MOREHEAD.

The Sea-Side Social and Political Mecca of North Carolina—The Teachers' Assembly—Musical Contest.

(Special Correspondent JOURNAL.)
MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 27.
Tuesday was the star day at Assembly Hall, or as the Secretary put it on the bulletin, "our biggest day," by reason of the interest awakened, and the enjoyment and satisfaction produced by the performances of "the sweet girl graduates." The incidentals of sunshine, clear air and spicy breezes were all in perfect condition. The audience in attendance was the largest at any time, except that which gathered on Sunday morning for worship, and to hear the excellent sermon of Dr. Crawford of Trinity. On both occasions the ladies were largely in the majority—to use Col. Ingersoll's favorite characterization, "three Marys to one John."
The devotional exercises took an initiative of unusual cheerfulness and animation, from the hearty singing by the whole congregation, of the beautiful hymn with piano accompaniment by Miss Lida Holden, the Assistant Musical Director.
Stand for the right, brother. Stand for the right, God will give thee victory. Then cheer, brother, cheer.

The pastor of the Baptist church in the city, Rev. Paul's discourse on Christian Charity from 13th Cor., interspersing the reading with a few brief remarks, and led in prayer.
Miss Mary Biggs, of Catherine Lake, sang a solo, "Magnetic Waltzes," which greatly delighted the audience, and elicited hearty and prolonged applause.
Then the impending crisis was reached. President Hollogg surrendered his prerogatives to Secretary Harrell, who assumed control, and invited the contestants to come forward. Of eight who had "entered" at Raleigh, before the session commenced, only three put in an appearance—Miss Sophie Martin, graduate of St. Mary's, Raleigh, Miss Jessie Fowler of Statesville, graduate of Peace Institute, Raleigh, and Miss Blanche Hutchinson of La Grange, graduate of Western Maryland college.

The rules which would govern the contest were read—which probably nine out of ten already know, but which are here inserted for the benefit of the tenth: each contestant to play two pieces, one of her own selection, with which she might be in any degree familiar, the other to be drawn at random, after entering the hall, from a collection provided, she never having seen it before.
The audience were requested to maintain perfect stillness, and in no case to applaud, and well did they keep the faith." The silence was profound as each in order played her selection. A short interval followed, in which friends breathed more freely, and exchanged signal glances, and then came the trying ordeal, to play on sight what the lot had cast into her lap. The interest was intense, the faces of the contesting players flushed and glowed as they scanned the notes and with deft fingers brought from the responsive keys the answering chord, but the time passed quickly for all felt that they were being royally entertained. In a brief space of time "the sweet song died," and the players resumed their "citta amida" silence which seemed almost oppressive because every one's finger-tips were aching to break forth in applause.
The Secretary announced the names of the judges, till then unknown to each other and to the contestants, and the contestants to them. They were Prof. Wynmans of Fayetteville, Miss M. Whitaker of Enfield and Miss Daisy Stevens of Henderson, (who won the Assembly gold medal two years ago.)

While the judges were out, making up their decision the audience was addressed by Mrs. Cotton of Tarboro, upon the subject of a Woman's Industrial Training School to be established at Raleigh in commemoration of Virginia Dare. Mrs. Cotton is fully enthused with her subject and her address was exceedingly interesting and forcible.
On the return of the judges it was announced that their decision was in favor of Miss Jessie Fowler. At the mention of her name—although renewedly requested not to applaud—the enthusiasm "burned away the barriers" and burst uncontrolably forth.

The night session was crowded with good things. Prof. Rensberg of Fayetteville gave a clarionette solo, which was greatly admired, and heartily applauded. Miss Jennie Watson of New Berne, just home from Greensboro Female college, and always appreciated, seemed to be at her best. She sang a beautiful solo, and being recalled, another, and was conducted to a seat by our gallant Secretary amid a tumult of applause.
The Assembly's beautiful gold medal awarded to the winner in the musical contest, was presented to Miss Fowler by Dr. McIver of the State Normal School in a very neat and appropriate address.

"Miss Bryant, of the State Normal School, read a paper of great merit, on the subject "How to teach Geography." She is a Kentuckian, and rejoices in the doubly significant names of "Dixie" "Lee," and is a young woman of unusual mental force and activity, who has added to her studies in "Dixie," a two years course in a Mass. college, and won her degree in a series of distinguished letters we do not now recall.
President Crowell of Salem Academy, read an interesting and valuable paper on the subject "What is Female Education?" Time forbids more than this here mention.
As we write, seventeen couples are "flitting the light fantastic" on the floor of the spacious ball room of the Atlantic. They seem to enjoy on here of her magnificent soap-dance. All the "Uncles and Aunties" were present, but the few teachers of prominence who have been down, and their women folk.

They are saying faster than they came. But few of the prominent educators have been here still, and of these President McIver of the Greensboro Normal School, Professor J. Y. Joyner, Professor Noble of Wilmington, Dr. Denard of Peace Institute, Raleigh, Capt. W. B. Kendrick, Raleigh, and others had Morehead and the Assembly since yesterday morning. Professor Noble entertained the entire most acceptably on the train to New Berne.
There is a discrepancy in the statements of your correspondent and the Western Union telegraph operator here made to Capt. Tress. Unquestionable testimony will be offered before a jury, the Judge will not give a verdict in favor of the JOURNAL, correspondent.
Last night and this morning it stormed and rained here without permission of the weather bureau. The wind whistled and howled as if it had blown its last, while rattling showers rose on the blast.
The anonymous poetic muse who contributed such good rhyme in yesterday's JOURNAL should not so have imposed upon People's houses to leave out the fact that the only place at Morehead, "far from the madding throng" was the New Berne House when they have good "vitae" three times a day, and can rest quiet in a comfortable night.
Poor, try, probably, and as a matter of fact, the most enjoyable incident to New Berne people at Morehead was the sudden arrival of her lady friends at Morehead City. The crowd was not numerically very large, but an elephantine enjoyment to the fortunate.
Miss Jennie Shaw Bell, This lady, who 28 years ago, came to Harker's Island and purchased a tract of land and built two school houses for the benefit of the islanders, died on the 8th day of June, 1894, at her home on the island, aged 77 years. The place is one of remarkable beauty, commanding an extensive view of the sound and also of the light house, about 3 miles distant, there is a beautiful grove of live oaks, in which the cottage home of Miss Bell is completely hidden. There is a smooth lawn of emerald green turf between the cottage and the school house. Miss Bell believed that the way to help people effectively, was to teach them to help themselves. If she found a family in distress and the husband out of work, she would employ the man to gather up shells or do some work around the place at good wages, so the family might be provided for and their respect preserved. She gave employment to the women, making rings and doing other work at good prices. She left all her property in trust to Ench Lewis, of Philadelphia, Chas. G. Ames, of Boston, and Wm. E. Clarke, of New Berne, N. C., who will endeavor to carry out her wishes for the benefit of the islanders. There are two large circles in front of the school house planted with "Tucas" Spanish Lavonets which are growing finely and making an unusual growth of three or four feet. Also a large number around the house and yard, of two or three feet in height.
They give the place a tropical appearance, and one, upon looking around, wonders if he is really in North Carolina. The island is about 5 miles long by one mile in the widest part. It has a population of about 200, almost exclusively engaged in fishing.
It is situated in the sound, about 9 miles from Morehead City and about 5 miles from Beaufort. The beautiful simplicity of her life, and the enthusiastic zeal with which she worked for her islanders, won the respect and admiration of all who knew her. There is many a one, both male and female, who but for her efforts would be now ignorant and helpless, to-day are good and useful citizens of the State. She had a child-like faith and trust in God the Father, was ever ready to promote the happiness of others, and minister to their wants in season and out of season; as far as her own comfort and ease was concerned, she never seemed to think of it. We may truly say of her "Well Done Thou Good and Faithful Servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things and I will make thee ruler over many." God loves God best who most loves her fellow man, and by her deeds she has nobly proved her love for her fellow man. She was buried in the beautiful cemetery of the Episcopal church at Beaufort.

"A thing done when thought of is never forgotten."
Now just as soon as you think of something you need in our line call and get it—then you will be certain not to forget it. We have lots of little things, a man is always forgetting, such as collars and stud buttons, shoe strings, porpoise hide, and linen scarf retainers, cuffs, holders, bachelor buttons, (don't use them though—get married), collars and cuff handkerchiefs and bows.

P. O. MONEY ORDER CHANGES.

New and Better Form Brought Out—Lower Charges—Postal Note Doomed.
The Postoffice Department has made a considerable reduction in the rates for the transportation of currency. This reduction applies not to the postage which has gradually grown into an almost being assured.
The new order is a great improvement over the one now in use. It is on white paper and somewhat different in style of a check.
The rates charged for only one are as follows:
Up to and not exceeding $2.50 10c
More than that and not exceeding 5.00 15c
" " " " " 10.00 20c
" " " " " 15.00 25c
" " " " " 20.00 30c
" " " " " 25.00 35c
" " " " " 30.00 40c
" " " " " 35.00 45c
" " " " " 40.00 50c
" " " " " 45.00 55c
" " " " " 50.00 60c
Money orders up to $5 will be issued by officers now allowed to issue postal notes only, these still being known as "limited money order offices." As was the case in the old system, no bill is issued for more than $100.
The "limited money order offices" now known as postal note offices, will be allowed to issue money orders up to $5, but not to pay them. As before, the matter will be required to fill out an application, giving name and residence of payer, amount, etc. The postage on a money order clerk may bill on the application on a post of order, but this must sign be in the name of the presence of a witness.
