A. & N. C. R. R.—Sunday Excursion.

A. & N. C. R. R.—Special Rates to the Colored Fair.

Good rains are reported at Maple Cypress yesterday.

The steamer Albemarle, of the N. N. & W. Line, will sail today at 4 o'clock p. m., which will be her last trip.

The Mt. Airy excursionists arrived a little before eleven o'clock last night. They were the best pleased crowd of the kind we ever saw. There were no expressions heard except of high approval.

Mr. E. B. Lewis of the Asheville school stopped in the city yesterday on his return from the Teachers' Association. He is a son of the well known and popular Dr. R. H. Lewis of Kinston.

Jno. Willard, a colored farmer living near Rocky Run, this county, has cotton blooms in a fine field of cotton. The rains in that section have proved of great benefit, and crop prospects are fairly good.

We are reliably informed that Hon. C. A. Cook, of Warren county has withdrawn from the race for solicitor of the second district which now leaves the field clear for R. W. Williamson, a colored lawyer of New Berne.

A telegram was received yesterday from Greensboro announcing the illness of a little grand child of our townsman Mr. L. H. Cutler. A special train was chartered and Mrs. Cutler and daughter, Miss Addie, left immediately to reach the little one which we hope they may find improved.

A few subscribers to the DAILY JOURNAL appear to be under the impression that yearly subscriptions are $5, even when paid at expiration of time, but it is a mistake. The price has always been 50 cents per month or $5.00 when paid in advance. We have a large number of names that pay regularly a year in advance, and it would be unjust for others to expect a greater privilege. Paying by the year has its advantages on both sides. The subscriber gets it for a dollar less and our collector one instead of twelve visits for the subscription.

Morehead Sunday Excursion.

Sunday the A. & N. C. R. R. will run a cheap excursion to Morehead City. This will be the last Sunday of the Teachers' Association, and some of the most prominent divines of the State will preach in the different places of worship there.

Drowned in a Tar Barrel.

The little four year old daughter of Mr. Noah Johnston, who lives in Pamlico county, some six miles from the city, got drowned in an old tar barrel sunk in the ground and filled with water by the recent rains, on Thursday.

The innocent "little tot" wandered from the house and her mother, and before her absence was noted, had joined the happy throng beyond the river to bask in the consolation of Him who said "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Druggists will tell you that Johnson's Magnetic Oil always gives satisfaction and is the cheapest. $1.00 size 50 cts.; 50 ct. size 25 cts.

TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

Election of Officers—Memorial Fund to Vance—Large Number of Arrivals.

(Special to JOURNAL.)

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 29.

The election of officers in the Teachers' Assembly took place today. Capt. C. B. Denison, of Raleigh, was elected President; Prof. J. Y. Joyner, Vice President, and Col. Eugene Harrell, Secretary and Treasurer.

Among other important business today was the appointment of a committee on Education and Day at the State Fair, and a committee to get students memorial fund to the late General Vance.

The discussion brought up yesterday was continued today on the relationship of preparatory schools to colleges.

A concert and literary entertainment was held last night.

A good many new visitors arrived on the train tonight, probably about 75.

New Berne still leads in number of visitors here, though they are from nearly every section of the State and a great many from other States, all seeming to be enjoying themselves and relishing the refreshing breeze.

Coming and Going.

Dr. Geo. Blackwell, the intimate, went up on the A. & N. C. from Morehead city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smallwood, left yesterday morning for Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va. Mr. Smallwood will return in a few days, but Mrs. Smallwood contemplating remaining there some time. The waters there are far famed, and in a social point, no body knows better how to make things pleasant than Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood.

Mrs. M. McK. Nash, left yesterday morning for a visit to her daughter on Long Island.

Mr. S. D. Jones, the Insurance man, went up to Kinston yesterday.

Editor Jacobson, of the Washington Progress passed through from Morehead yesterday on his return home.

The family of Mr. W. B. Boyd went to the seashore on last evening train eastward.

Beautiful Exhibit of Home-Made Furniture.

We ever look with pride upon any evidence of manufacturing advancement in the South, especially in our own state, and the nearer home it is the better we like it. It therefore gives us more than ordinary gratification to copy the following from the Goldsboro Argus:

"The Goldsboro Furniture factory will be represented in the coming great New York exposition by some of its handsomest pieces of native oak furniture as the eye of anyone has ever rested upon. The pieces are the design of Mr. H. A. Sping, foreman of the factory, and the work of the factory, and the finishing, which is supervised by the work of Mr. Maurice Mansfield, who has charge of the finishing department of the factory. The pieces sent forward will attract the attention and hold the admiration we are sure of, all who visit the exposition.

ON MOUNTAIN TOPS.

3,300 Feet High—High Enjoyment—Delightful Weather.

Mt. Airy, N. C., June 28.

The Mt. Airy excursionists, somewhat scattered yesterday, some went to the White Sulphur springs and the granite quarries or Flat Rock, as the place is called, while others to the number of fifty or more ascended to the very top of the Blue Ridge mountains. THE JOURNAL was one of the latter.

A drive of twelve miles brought us to the foot of the mountain, then took a drive of five miles more to the Fairy Gap Road, bringing us to the summit.

Here we found the Fairy Gap Hotel, a well kept place with accommodation for about fifty people. The hotel is situated on a ridge and about one half the water that is in the yard goes over one side of the mountain and thence to the Gulf of Mexico, while the remainder comes down the other side and flows on to the Atlantic ocean. A spring of delicious water, nearly ice cold, within 200 feet of the hotel is the very source of the streams by which it is conveyed to the latter.

This property devolved to the present proprietor, Mr. M. T. C. Mitchell from his father, Mitchell's Peak, along side perpetuates the name of one of his ancestors.

A half mile climb brought us to its summit, which in clear weather is said to command a view of four states. To the south Mt. Airy could be seen in the distance, about fourteen miles away and about as much farther beyond it almost in a direct line was Pilot mountain, rising like a cloud against the sky.

It will be remembered that we were in Virginia. This view into North Carolina gave the view of this State unmistakably. Over to the west the long range of Blue Ridge mountain could be seen extending along, and the most distant ones we saw were informed were in Tennessee. Over towards West Virginia a long extent could be seen, but as it was said that the latter State could only be seen in fair weather, and the day was somewhat cloudy and there were no landmarks to tell which was which, we were unable to tell whether the excursionists viewed four states or only three.

The view on every side was magnificent—high mountains and long stretches of valleys greeted the eye in every direction.

After dinner we went to the Devil's Den, a place very appropriately named. It is a rough, angular passage, down, down, into the mountain. The depth is said to be between four and five hundred feet. Unless you are willing to do rough climbing don't explore it, but if you start go on and see it all while you are at it. Our word for you'll never make the descent a second time. Out of five ladies who started at the time we did, two went as far as any did and that was within one room of the bottom. Some of the men who started lost heart before they got to the place where the lumps had to be lit.

We are now starting to the spring and quarries while those who visited the latter yesterday, are off to the Blue Ridge or Pilot mountain. Every thing is fine and the universal verdict from each excursionist as far as heard is that he would not have missed the trip for any thing like the cost.

Staff Correspondence.

You can imagine my surprise on reaching Cove, Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock to meet Messrs. E. E. Harper of the JOURNAL and T. G. Wilkinson, Sec'y of the Y. M. C. A. They had just arrived making the trip from New Berne on their bicycles. They each wore the expression on their countenance, that they had experienced somewhat a disappointment—that there was rather more work than play. While I went off to have some repairs done, the train came and I supposed they had taken the train to Kinston. But on reaching Dover, I learned that they were recognized as they passed through on their bicycles heading their way to Kinston. Suppose they made their safe return home.

I notice Mr. J. B. Ellis near Perfection has a few acres of fine tobacco growing, this I believe is his second year raising tobacco.

After a days ride through the dust this extreme warm weather, your correspondent finds it very pleasant to be so hospitably entertained by such big hearted men as Rev. D. W. Porter, Geo. Richardson, W. H. Sutton, Seth West and others. I also notice the continued improvement at Dover. Among which is the extension of the warehouse, or depot. They are badly in need of a nice passenger depot at that place.

Mr. Ed. White has plenty of cotton blooms; had some on the 26th—the first bloom I have seen.

A visit to Sheriff Lane's farm will convince any one that he made no mistake in selecting Mr. John Lane to take charge of it. It has been said that the farm has the best crop on it that has been there for 44 years. On this farm is the burial place of Mr. Burton Carmon, who died Sept. 28th, 1853; aged 63 years. It has a marble head and foot board to mark his resting place. He was the grandfather of our countryman, Sip Carmon. There is no sign of any others buried there. On this plantation also I learn was an Indian village.

This entire section has been visited by fine rains, and crops are generally looking well.

N. C. LOCAL MINISTERS CONFERENCE.

The Oldest Conference of its Kind in the World—Originated in Durham—Quarter Centennial Next Month at Rutherford College.

The North Carolina Local Ministers Conference, will hold its Quarter Centennial and campmeeting at Rutherford College, Connely Springs Station, in July from the 19th to the 23d. Rev. W. P. Williams is President; Rev. Levi Branson, Secretary.

The North Carolina Local Ministers Conference was organized at Durham twenty-five years ago, with Brantly York, D. D. as President, and Levi Branson as Secretary. For sixteen years the Conference changed yearly from Kinston in the east to Asheville in the west. Many of the local preachers and lay workers attended from time to time and became interested, so that much good has been done by way of inspiring local and unpaid missionary work.

In 1886 the Conference again met at Rutherford College, built a Tabernacle, and elected that as the place for permanent meeting. In 1890 the College was burned, and the Conference held in 1892 at Raleigh, and in 1893 at Trinity Park, Durham.

It was then decided to hold the twenty-fifth session of the Quarter Centennial back at the old Tabernacle at Rutherford College, where it will convene July 19-22, 1894.

This was the first, and hence the oldest Local Preachers' Conference by name, so far as known, anywhere in the world.

The Quarter Centennial is to be celebrated with much enthusiasm, and a great campmeeting is to be held after the olden style. Many local preachers are expected, also many traveling preachers and distinguished ministers of other denominations.

The Tabernacle is only one mile out from Connely Springs, depot on the W. N. C. R. R.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Dave Hill and the balance of the Wall street troupe failed to carry their motion in the Senate on Thursday to strike out the Income tax clause of the Tariff bill by a vote of 40 yeas to 21 nays.

Senator Hoar's strenuous opposition to the temporary extension of the current appropriation bill, has complicated the National situation. The whole business at Washington seems to be badly mixed.

There are people who think that it is a change of men and not a change of air that the House and Senate chambers need.

He who supposes that friendship for the shear trust is confined to one party in the Senate, should lose no time in having his eye tested.

Two Academy men died for not knowing the difference between alcohol and acetone. They stole the poison from a drug store.

John S. Johnson broke the world's bicycle record for one mile at Waltham, Mass., Tuesday, covering it in 1:56.

The millionaires who have received the production of our laws, so long without contributing their pro-rata tax for its support, are mad as March hares at the proposed Income tax clauses of the Tariff bill.

Telegrams from Paris, France, say that Cassimier Perrier, the New President, wept when unanimously elected. He has no cause to be ashamed of this exhibition of his feelings, for it is recorded of humanity's Saviour, that "Jesus wept."

George White and Plummer Cheatham, colored brothers-in-law, both of whom claim to have been nominated for congress by the republican convention Wednesday open an opportunity for a democratic candidate that has heretofore been taken advantage of.

The coalition of the great army of western labor unions with the Farmers Alliance for political purposes, materially changes the National partisan outlook. The two old parties can no longer ignore the fact they have a numerical contestant that will force recognition.

The most gigantic strike of this decade is on in the west. Most of the rail roads leading into Chicago are tied up. Five thousand desperate workmen there have put on their war paint, and every interest is suffering. They are actuated largely by the same communistic spirit that deluged the streets of Paris with human gore.

"Procrastination is the thief of time."

Do not procrastinate when you really need anything in our line. There is no use waiting, some people wait too long for everything. Do not be one of that kind. If you need a pair of shoes do not procrastinate until the sole is all gone, if you need a suit do not wait until your old one is seedy, if you owe us a bill do not wait until time eats up the profit.
