THE GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE.

President Issues a Proclamation—Burning Cars and Stopping Trains—Wild for Vengeance—Firing on the Mob.

Mr. J. W. Moore received the following special telegram yesterday afternoon.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 9.—The President has issued a proclamation warning all Illinois mobs to disperse by noon to-day.

The United States troops fired upon a mob near Chicago, killing one and wounding several.

Martial law is threatened.

Sunday morning, the seat of war in the great railroad strike was transferred to Hammond Indiana just across the border line and from an early hour mob violence reigned supreme.

The rabble, at daybreak, overturned fifteen cars, set fire to a Pullman car and an incoming train was taken possession of and side-tracked.

A telegram for assistance was sent to Chicago for assistance to get the train out. A company 35 strong was sent—one half took position at the rear of the train the other half at the front, then almost like a flash the crowd increased to about 2,000. A telegram was sent for more troops and for awhile the crowd was held at bay with bayonets.

In the afternoon other troops arrived, and about the same time a mail train came in and the mob attempted to block the further passage of the train by throwing a Pullman car by ropes across the tracks.

But there were regular troops on the engine on the roof and at the car windows waiting for the conditions of affairs then imminent. An officer gave the word and from all over the train a volley was fired, then the regulars made for solid earth and with fixed bayonets dashed for the mob on both sides of the track.

But the firing had scared the mob so its members were fleeing like a flock of geese or lying flat on the ground, heedless of being run over. Most of the bullets had either gone over head or plowed the ground, but a few took effect. One man was killed instantly. Two wounded fatally and others more or less. Said to say nearly all hurt were innocent spectators. The man killed instantly was a carpenter searching for his son.

WILD FOR VENGEANCE.
But presently the indiscriminate firing of the regulars created intense rage and excitement. Hundreds of the mob rushed to their homes and returned to the scene with revolvers and shotguns, filling the air with oaths and imprecations, and declared their intention of killing every man wearing an army uniform.

In the meantime a dead line had been thrown out. Beyond it Mayor Reiley mounted a box car and pleaded with and prayed to the crowd to be calm and commit no further violence. The crowd was unwilling to respond to the advice, but at this moment the regulars were reinforced by three companies that came in from Chicago on a special train on the Michigan Central. These were Company F of the Fifteenth Infantry, Capt. McDowdmeagal; Company A of the Fifth Infantry, Capt. Kendall, and Company E of the Fifth Infantry, Capt. Brown. The latter, as brevet major; was the senior officer in command of the troops.

On the arrival of these reinforcements details were sent out and tracks and crossings were patrolled, the crowds being kept to the highway. Overwhelmed by the display of military force, the mob gradually thinned out, and at midnight the streets of the town had resumed their normal aspect.

A mass meeting of indignant citizens held Sunday night protested against the shooting. Mayor Reiley and ministers made speeches which pacified the crowd but all declared the shooting unjustifiable and an outrage.

Gov. Matthias has ordered fifteen companies to mobilize at Hammond.

The company that did the shooting returned to Chicago on their own train, else an attempt would have been made to arrest them on the charge of murder.

A Costly Strike.
An afternoon paper prints the following about the cost of the railroad strike:

"Competent authority estimates the property loss in this city alone, by fire and waste during the last ten days, at $2,000,000—a loss traceable directly to the strike."

But that vast amount is insignificant compared with the loss of sacrifice of wages and paralysis of business. The tie-up has thrown out of work, and now it is announced as the result of a careful canvass, that industrial establishments employing 100,000, will shut down until the strike is down. Other manufacturing communities throughout the West are doing the same thing, and it is not an exaggeration to state that the ranks of idlers in the West will be increased 1,000,000 men by reason of the strike.

West is, therefore, losing $2,000,000 a day in wages, estimating the pay of the men at the low average of $2.00 a day.

On the basis of the estimates of men out of work in Chicago now by reason of the strike, the workmen are contributing $300,000 more in drafts upon their resources for the cost of living, or a daily total of $500,000.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, headache and pains of every kind instantly relieved by Johnson's Magnetic Oil. $1.00 size 50 cts.; 50 cts. size 25 cts.

Washington Letter—Tariff Bill in Conference.

The tariff bill has at last gone where it will be a subject of agitation and irritation for two weeks or more. If when it returns, with the approval of the conferees, it is unlike the Wilson bill, the chances are that it will be much more unlike the bill passed by the Senate.

The debate over the reference of the measure to conferences was for the most part, very tame, and the two hours allowed for the discussion was evidently more than could be used to advantage by the House. Mr. Wilson made a strong presentation of the situation earnestly defending the original House bill, and insisting upon the duty of the House to resist the Senate amendments. Mr. Reed made a very brief speech; devoted chiefly to rhetoricalness, and then the debate lagged.

Both Wilson and Reed were loudly applauded by their respective parties. The debate closed earlier than the hour fixed and the Democrats did not consume all their time, and the Speaker announced the appointment of Wilson, McMillin, Turner, Montgomery, Democrats, and Reed, Burrows and Payne, Republicans, to serve as conferees.

The first meeting of the conference committee on tariff is called for 12 o'clock Monday.

The House committee on elections has submitted a report upon the contested election case of Williams against Settle, of North Carolina in favor of Mr. Settle, who now occupies the seat. The report is signed by a majority of the Democratic members of the committee, who declare that the minority report of Mr. Paynter (Dem.) is not in accordance with the North Carolina Supreme Court decision upon the law.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.
A calculation has been made if all the stamps issued by the government last year had been of the Columbian size they would have been sufficient to have made a ribbon that would have encircled the globe three times. There were issued, in round numbers, four thousand million.

From Chicago comes news of the danger of a general strike. Ninety-eight trusts and labor councils were represented in a stormy meeting held Sunday night to take action on the American railway union strike and Pullman Boycott. There were seven National chiefs of labor orders besides the committeeman in the meeting. After midnight reports were given out that a general strike would be declared.

In Crawfordsville, Indiana, several large military companies were organized by Gen. Lew Wallace in view of the threatened trouble by strikers. Gen. Wallace believes that unless the strikers are put down at once civil war will ensue. He organized his companies to offer them to the services of the States should there be any call for them. Central Indians, especially the rural districts and the towns, are bitter against the strikers.

As a result of the railroad tie-ups in the west, shipments of fruits and melons have congregated in Atlanta to such an extent that they are being sold cheaper than ever known there before. Hundreds of car loads of watermelons, destined to Chicago and other western points, have been side-tracked and the railroads are almost giving them away—selling them in some instances at less than the actual cost of bringing them as far as Atlanta, while bananas are being literally disposed of at twenty-five cents a bunch, and pine apples at from three to five cents apiece.

INTERN'L TEMPERANCE CONGRESS.

Summary of Proceedings—Temperance Results in the Union—Good Future Outlook.

S. C. DISPENSARY.
The heartiest kind of a greeting was given to Gov. Tillman, of South Carolina who said he had come to tell you Prohibitionists that we have discovered a system to destroy the saloon. He flourished a bottle of good dispensary whiskey, and outlined the system of State dispensation. He gave the figures showing that liquor selling had been reduced from $13 saloons in the State to 66 dispensaries, and arrests for crime had diminished one half.

He claimed for the law that it destroys the element of personal profit, the liquor is pure and of honest measure, there is no treating nor sale by the drink, no "chalking up," no sale at night, gambling dens and kindred places are diminished, and the local whiskey rings are broken up. You'll all come to the dispensary system before long.

A SOUTH CAROLINA WHITE RIBBONER.
Mrs. Sallie F. Chapin, of Charleston, President of the State W. C. T. U., who has several times appeared on the boards of the theater in this city and is well known and pleasantly remembered by many of our people, said: "We are Prohibitionists, first, last and all the time, and we know that the Dispensary was a long stride toward it. It meant something to us women in this no-cursed city to know we had a governor brave enough to say to the foreign hordes of drunkard-makers, you shall stop your work of destruction, and shut up your dives. I gave the 'Evans law' my approval right then and there. I had known the framer from his infancy, it was not the first time he had helped me in my work. His bill, he assured me was suggested, by no thought of 'revenue.' If carried out as intended, would have made the Dispensary no more objectional than a drug store, even less, and it was to be closed in the evening and on Sunday. It was the means to an end, and we hope the administration will so use it, and give us Prohibition."

SOME POINTS MADE.
In the progress of the meeting these facts among others were developed.

That among the 65,000,000 people in the United States, 6,000,000 of whom are christian voters, there are 240,000 saloons or one for less than every 300 persons—say one for every 60 of the adult male population.

That for the year 1893, (according to the National Bureau of Statistics), the cost of intoxicants for beverage purposes, was $1,000,000,000 and the quantity consumed, was 4,000,000,000 gallons.

NOTES ON THE STRIKE.

Several More Companies of Troops Ordered to Chicago.

At least ten people have been killed in the Chicago riots, and seven more fatally wounded and about fifty injured, more or less.

A passenger train of Wagner palace cars was got into Chicago Sunday. There were sleepers, but there was only one passenger on the whole train.

California strikers and their wives are preparing to resist the soldiery to the death and it is said a fight will most certainly follow the sending of troops west to Oakland.

Chicago passed a comparatively quiet Sunday, but the city is still in a state of nervous uncertainty. The lawlessness was confined to the burning of a few cars and some minor encounters Saturday was worse than Sunday, especially as to incendiaryism.

"I am not surprised at your observation," said his companion, "but what is your preference?"

"Why a Prince of India Cigar."

"Oh, pshaw!" was the answer, "I prefer two things to the book."

"What are they?"

"Why, two 'Prince of India' cigars, 5c. Only at Gaskill's Pharmacy."

"Poor clothes make unhappy faces."

It is a well known fact that a man's emotion and surroundings will in time have an effect on his facial expressions.
