The Great Chicago Strike and Blood Shed.

The country is in a fearful condition, hundred thousands of men becoming frantie over the labor situation in the Trains blocked by strikes and cannot be moved. Steam Bonts sailing with half freight, people suffering in some parts of the country on account of uncomatable transportation. With such state of affairs the country is in a tearful condition, es especially the Northern and Western

Wars, strikes, and bloodshed, are not the proper way to adjudicate matters, there must be some compromise between the manufacturers the money kings and the laboring man At the present prices the manufacturer North cannot increase wages and compete with the manufactur-er in the South, hence the cut in wages. In the near future seven eights of the manufacturing in the United States will be done in the South. Legislation alone can settle this matter. Emigration must be prohibited for a few years, and prevent the scumbs from all parts of the earth from settling among us.

But why need the South be troubled?

This is no fight of ours, it is a question that we are not interested in. There has been no day in the annals of history that the South has been more prosperous than the present day. While our smoke houses and corn-cribs are amply filled, and the crops bid fair to be the best we have had for years, then why should we strike?

The strike made by the Great American Bankrupt Dealer is sufficient for the demands of the South. Then in the name of peace and common sense, why don't everybody strike for BIG IKE, who has bought the fifteen thousand dollar stock of Men's and Boys' Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods of Frank W Thornton, at such 'great sacrifice. Merchants and farmers of Fayetteville, Wilmington and surrounding country, why not stike while the iron is hot and lay in your supply for the coming year at Seventy-five cents on the dollar of New York ost? The hard, solid cash accounts for the above strike, and the great bargains accounts for the great rush every day, and people are daily convinced that all our advertisements are true.

We respectfully eall your attention to our immense stock of Young men' Youths and Boys Clothing. Please see us.
