ME CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The Democratic Convention of this dietrict will assemble at Dunn, ntry of Harnett, on the d July 1894.

The late Craven County Democratic Convention appointed Delegates to the Congressional Convenon but presed no resolutions in gard to it, thus leaving the delas to vote and speak as they e, provided they speak for racy and advocate and vote or the nomination of a true Demo-

The number of candidates is un smally large, and still the bars are own so that whoever will can en ter the rece. Nearly every county has a reprecentative in the field, and it is usual for detegates to support their ust 1. anty man as long as there is a reasonable hope of his nomina. July 26.

This writer holds the credentials of a delegate, but it will be impossible for him to attend the Convention, and therefore we take the liberty of suggesting that the maintenance of principles is very much more important than the nomina-tion of any particular man.

Gentleman of the Convention, platform, sound to the core and avoid personal bickerings. It any man has a personal grievance let him bear it like a man, and not thrust it upon the party.

Let us be careful to avoid bringing about the condition of affairs that is now so discreditable to a ster State. Nothing. can be more humiliating to the good people of a oble State than to see leading citisons engaged in a disreputable contest for personal advantage to he detriment of society.

Politics affords a field for the manhood, and he who rises to the sighest plain is the best represensative of a brave, virtuous and intelligent people.

We trust that the Dann Convention will leave no scars to be eyethroughout the campaign. Let our standard-bearer show no wounds but those inflicted by the enemy in the hottest of the

There was a big sensation spoiled the other bight about 11 o'clock, much to the disgust of newspaper row. This is how it happened. An Italian, it seems had ctolen one of Baby Buths toy gans from under one of the trees in the White Lot. His conscience represented him and he put the toy under his cost and carefully deposited it about 9 o'clock in the front yard of Mr. Cleveland's official residence. One of the detectives saw him. Several policeommar residence. One of the de-tectives saw him. Several police-men were summoned. For a while none would touch the dynamite bomb. Finally Mr. McCasta of the police force came along and after a colored boy picked it up cautiously started with it followed by a squad of police to the station. They met a citizen who has a houses full of children, showed him the bomb. When he explained to them what it was and showed them how to 140 it.
