THE ENCAMPMENT ENDS.

The State Guard Pass Through Returning Home-Piessure of the Troops and of the Citizens.

The encampment is over. The troops went through last night returning to their homes. We are glad to say that t is regarded as the best encampment over held. If the wishes of the State troops prevail, Camp Vance will be made he permanent encampment grounds.

Ti e train which bere the troops hom ward was composed of eighteen cars. It left the encampment grounds at ten minutes to six, and upon reaching New Bern mother engine was called into service and the train moved from here in two rections

In the train were baggage cars taking dong the equipments of each company. The things used at the encampment belonging to the State are still there. Adjutant General Cameron, Quarter-master Eugene Harrell and Col. Smith, remained over to look after them.

The soldiers as a rule like it splendid, at Camp Vance, some say they would like it still better if trains ran with greater frequency-every half hour seems the general desire with the men, but the fremency of the trains and the time of runng rests with the officers. The railroad officials accede to their wishes fully in this matter, and the matter can be regulated is those in authority desire.

The visitors at Morehead and citizens express pleasure at having had the Western N. C., soldier boys there. Both at the camp grounds and at the hotels, they have deported themselves orderly and gentlemanly, and added to the seasons pleasures, the general wish is that they could have stayed longer.

M. E. SHAW POR CONGRESS

Citizen of Fayetteville and a Good Man For the Position for Which He Was Nominated. DUNN, N. C., July 19 .- H. E. Shaw was nominated on the ninth ballot, Craven voting last, giving Shaw thirty one votes. M. MANLY.

FATETTEVILLE, N. C.-H. E. Shaw nominated, Craven dividing on the next to the last ballot and voting solidly for Shaw last ballot. C. R. THOMAS.

The above telegrams show the action of the Democratic Congressional convention beld at Dunn yesterday.

H. E. Shaw, the gentlem in minated, is a member of the Favetteville bar; a lawyer of ability and prominence. He was a Presidential elector in the last Cleveland campaign, and during the canvass he spoke in New Berne at the same time that Walter R. Henry and Solicitor Pou did.

Mr. Shaw is counted a good man for the position to which he has been nominated and a good campaign worker. He is familiar with both State and National politics and is well informed on all the leading questions of the day.

Mr. Shaw knows how to deal with both the opposing parties, and it is said the Third party speakers dread to meet him as they dread but few men and it is thought that whoever they select as their standard bearer he is not likely to do much in the way of crossing the path of the champion of Democracy.

The canvass is opening; let every Democrat fall into line and work for success.

Miss Corinne Harrison at the National Teachers Association

The National Educational Association in session at Asbury Park, N. Y., is attended by five thousand or more teachers, the South being well represented by such men as Henry A. Wise of Baltimore, Presidents of State Universities, State Superintendents of Public Instruction

A correspondent of the News-Observer Chronicle writing under date of July 14th gives the following pleasing mention of a New Berne young lady teacher who has made quite a high reputation for herself in the educational world:

"The first paper today was a superb com tribution by a member of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, of whom we felt proud-Miss Corinne Harrison, upon "What makes-what mars the teachers." It was a philosophical exposition of requisites of true education and the true teacher, and with her marvellous nunciation, every word was distinctly heard and appreciated throughout the ly complimented."

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Prohibitionists of South Carolina are opposed to the State Dispensary and are threatening to put a State ticket in the field. It is thought that the expected reestablishment of the dispensary may force them out.

The Democratic Convention of the First Congressional District will meet at Green-ville, on Wednesday, August 15th, 1894, at 19 o'clock, M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress.

The Pullman shops are to re-open. The following notice was posted by the company on the 18th- "These works will be opened as soon as the number of operatives taken is sufficient to make a working force in all departmenta."

Beventy-five masked men overpowered the guards and burned the Rock Island bridge at Wankomis, south Enid, July 18th, and the soldiers were fired on at Round Pond. The situation is growing worse and more troops are ordered out.

Memphis, Tenn., and St. Louis, Mo., have been having earthquake shocks. Three distinct shocks with vibrations from North to South were felt at 6:30 a. in., on the 18th Inst., and a slight shock at St. Louis about 7:10. The latter ratited pictures on the walls, rocked chairs and moved dishes on tables but did no damage.

Advices from San Pranciaco say that it may be stated absolutely that overtures have been made to the strikers on behalf of the railroad companies, which, if accepted by them will bring the long pending strike to a close The terms offered as a basis of compromise are that the company will take the strikers back to work, except those who have been guilty of crimes. The matter is said to have been submitted to Dehs for his decision.

SNAKE IN A LIVING DOG.

NEW BERNE, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1894.

The Story That a Snake Will Grow on the Liver of a Snake-Bisten Dog Apparently Bomonstrated-The Explanation.

We have seen it in 'print and heard i post morten examination will reveal a main.

crew of the Carolina and the colored man. It was an astonished crowd when macy. the liver was brought to view. Attached to it by his mouth was something snakelike, about four feet in length and about as large around at the largest part as the small part of a man's little finger. The liver had been partly eaten up by the thing. Taking hold of its body with a Jr., Sam'l Hudson; Alternates, J. F. Nohle split stick it was pulled away, and after A. C. Bent, F. W. Dixon, and Z. T. Capt. Lancaster put the parasite in alcohol and brought the bottle containing it to the city; it is now at Dr. Street's office and anyone who chooses may

Mr. J. S. Basnight, proprietor of the New Berne Lumber mill, upon viewing it stated that an occurrence similar to this came under his observation when a boy. That a bull dog owned by his people; would kill any snake he saw and had been bitten more than once and when he sickened and died, to test the correctness of this same story the dog was cut into, and two of the snakes (?) were found attached to his liver, similar to this one, only smaller-probably a little over foot. It was such a remarkable thing that it vividly impressed itself upon hr. Basnight's memory.

Presiding Elder F. D. Swindell tells us that a brother of his had a dog which was bitten by a snake and having heard the statement spoken of examination was nade with the same result, one of the reptiles being found similarly existing. Dr. Frank Duffy was sought to give an explanation and viewing the specimen he accepted all the facts attending its finding but did not believe that the bite of the snake had anything to do with its de- FOOD REPORT. velopment. He identified it a specimen of ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall the Eustrongylus gigas or strongylus written. It is a parasite to which dogs are subject, and is of the species of nematode worms. It is introduced into the dog's system in some way, when in a larval state and then develops and becomes the parasite. It has a common name, the call on us. We have just relarge kidney worm. Medical works coived a new and handsome line allude to it and speak of its size as vary- of Negligee shirts, sashes, and ing from one or two inches up to about summer Neckwear, Pleeted bosthree feet. This specimen seems to be an exceptionally large one.

It seems that any dog and some other nimals are hable to be infested by it, and the finding of it in snake bitten dogs merely a co-incidence.

We quote the following from a medical work:

"This worm, recorded in the catalogue of human parasites is doubtful as such. Pertaining to the same family as Anchy as its common name indicates its usual habitation is the kidney. It is the largest of the nematodes, and is a long cylindrical red worm, slightly tapering and blunt at the ends. * * The mouth is enclosed by six rounded labial papillae. The female commonly ranges from one to three feet in length and from a fourth to nearly half an inch in thickness. The male ranges from six inches to a foot in length and from one to three lines [a line is the twelfth of an inch] in thickness.

"The mature parasite is common many fish eating mammals, from which it is interred that fishes are the intermediate nost for the juvenile condition of the worm. It is frequent in the wolf, dog, mink, weasel, raccoon, other and seal. It also occurs in the hog and is reported to have occurred in the horse, ox and man.

have occurred in the horse, ox and man. Usually it is solitary and occupies one of the kidneys coiled upon itself.

* * The worm is occasionally found in other positions, as the abdominal carity, the intestine, liver and lungs, but perhaps in most of these cases has been derived from its usual habitation.

*The cases on record of the occurrence of this formidable parasite in man are of very early date and are mostly doubtful as to the authentic nature of the worm, and are all unsatisfactory as to the attendent phenomeus."
