Of course good and intelligent culture must be given melons throughout their growing to attain such results, but Mr The boy had ridden through the city Bray tells us that the proper growing of seed has much to do with it, that a seed watermelon does not belong to be pulled at the stage of ripeness which fits it for being eaten-but it should be allowed to remain on the vine as long as it will and mature to the fullest and then be stored away the same as is customarily done with cucumbers. He cousiders that to obtain the best results this is essential and as he is so successful it would seen that he is pretty good authority.

The date 1585 is that of the first settlenent of the Island, and 1894 that of the corporation of the association.

And, by the way, would it not be well for the city of Raleigh to adopt Sir Walter Raleigh's colors, red and white. We believe the city already has colors, red and yellow, but what do they signify? and what ould be more appropriate than that North Carelina's capital city should have for its colors those of the distin uished man for whom it was named-

SENATOR HILL'S SPEECH.

His Remarkable Defence of Cleveland-Better Outlook for the Tariff Bill.

was held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of endeavoring to reach some agree-ment which would result in the final passage of the tariff bill. No conclusion had been reached when the caucus adjourned after three hours discussion, but it was Herald, July 19.

ter than it had been for several days.

There is said to be ground for believing that a compromise can be reached on the lines of the 40 cent duty on coal, with a proviso allowing free importation from any country that reciprocates in like fash-ion for American coal; a 45 per cent, ad valorem duty on all signs, with the dif-ferential stricken on; and with the iron ore rates, like the coal, remaining un-thenged.

The caucus was preceded by a comparatively brief session of the Scuate, in as well as a most remarkable part. President Cleveland could not have asked from his most devoted friend and admirer a more ardent, earnest, and even fulsome detence than was delivered Tuesday by the senior Senator from New York.

The speech was the pricipal feature the day, and, although not equaling dramatic intensity the powerful arraignment of Mr. Cleveland to which Senator Gorman gave utterance last Monday, wa revertheless of sufficient interest to hold the unabated attention of the immense crowds which again thronge t the gal-leries and the floor of the Senate.

Coming, as it did, from a man political enmity with the President has passed into a proverb and who, perhaps, more than any one man has been, in turn, the target for the assaults of the President and the friends of the administration, the speech was a unique exhibition,

Those in close relations to the President were taking occasion last night to rehearse its telling points and were rejoicing that some one had the temerity to break a lance with Mr. Gorman, even though the champion of the President was an arch-enemy in a new role.

MR. HILL'S REMARKABLE SPEECH. Mr. Hill seemed to have searched harmonious affair, and the work was through every corner of his mind for material with which to buttress the convention was in session only about the Chief Executive has been recently President against the assaults to which subjected. No lawyer pleading at the Mr. O. H. Allen, the present solicitor bar for a client could have been more explicit in I is arguments or apparently more pleased when they struck a respontive chord in the hearts of his auditors,

He asserted that the much-discussed meets at Rocky Mount to-day. The county, and the nomination was seconded letter, being private and unofficial, was not unconstitutional. de gave the President credit for an honest effort to carry out the policies and theories of the Democratic party; he eulogized Cleveland's famous tariff message of 1887 as a grand on this way home from Morehead City short, made such a fallant defense of the President, who, to use his own words, Hanover, Rodolph Duffy of Onslow, C. had been unjustly stracked, that one H. Koonce of Jones, M. D. Pollock of of his closest triends in the Senate, after vainly endeavoring to stem the current of his amazement, left the chamber.

As if to make the contrast of these enconiums all the stronger, Schator Hill undertook to deliver a characteristic rebuke to the Senators who complained of executive interference when by their own confession they had been repeatedly to the White House to learn just what the President would approve and what would meet with his objection. This point, delightfully feasted all the staff and force and as many of the neighbors as would come in.

Mr. Caffery, who followed Senator Hill, created something of a sensation by the plain truths which he told regarding the framing of the sugar schedule, and by his declaration, in response to a question by Senator Teller, that he would not help enact into law any bill that contained a provision for the free entry of sugar.

HILL STAYS AWAY FROM THE CAUCUS. After all this came the caucus, Its purport and its lack of result have already been told. Three members were onspicuously absent. They were Senators Hill, Irby, and Murphy, all three of whom are now placed in the category of opposition to the bill.

without effect, and finally fled. Thomas has surrendered to the authorities. Mr. Hill was invited by Mr. Gorman to be present, but frankly repried that as he was trying to defeat the bill with its obectionable income tax, he did not believe he ought to participate in a conference which had for its object the settlement of threatening difficulties. Mr. Mills regarding whose position there is some interest, left his committee room to be present, but listened with evident indifference to the proceedings, and frequently left the room and wandered about the corridor.

Mr. Gorman, the chairman of the caucus, called his colleagues to order but made no speech, contanting himself with Walter Raleigh, surrounded by sufficient the mere announcement that he would be words with suitable ornamentation to glad to hear suggestions as the Senators present saw fit to make. Mr. Jarvis, of North Carolins, afforded a text for the speeches by the presentation of a resolu-tion that the bill be sent back to confer-shield with white chevrons from right to left (in bent dexter) with the crest, a stag the conferees. While no vote was taken standing, and below the shield his motto followed during the three hours of the session were decidedly in favor of affirma-tive action.—Washington Post.
