Notice is given that all dealers having playing cards in their possession must list them.

The Naval Reserve cruise is nearly ended. The Montgomery has been ordered to Wilmington. The next thing is "Back to New Berne."

In condensing the report of the Lenoir county convention held in New Berne, it is stated that G. L. Kilpatrick was nominated for sheriff. The present incumbent, Mr. J. D. Sutton was re-nominated.

Two more car loads of logs to make cuttings along Queen street have been brought in by the W. N. & N. R. R. The street is not only being fixed up for the present but the work is being done in an enduring way.

Mr. T. A. Green of the Executive committee of the Board of trustees, was making arrangements yesterday for the repairs and improvements that will be made on the Collegiate Institute building and property to put it in readiness for the school opening.

The Scotland Neck Democrat tells that on Friday the knitting mill at that place shipped fifteen cases of hosiery weighing 4,467 pounds. The goods went to several states in the Union. We hope sometime to be able to chronicle as extensive a trade for the New Berne mill which is small as yet but we believe likely to grow.

Mr. Philip Thomas, proprietor of the New Berne Cigar Factory, has received an order from Wichita, Kansas, for 6,000 of his "Pres-nut" brand of cigars. An intimation is given that the firm ordering will want them hereafter in larger quantities. We are always glad to see New Berne firms receiving orders from such distances.

This morning the A. & N. C. R. R. stock holders train will pass through New Berne en route from Goldsboro to Morehead. It leaves New Berne at ten minutes to nine o'clock. It starts back at half past five this afternoon. All stockholders and their families will be passed free and no other passengers will be allowed of the train.

Mr. S. L. E. Cleve and Joe Rosenbaum became involved in an affray yesterday and were tried before Mayor Ulrich acting as mayor. On the charge of assault each was found guilty and judgment suspended upon payment of cost. On the charge of assault with a deadly weapon (using a chair) Mr. Cleve was bound over to Superior court.

Mr. U. C. Holton, of Vandemere is spoken of for the office of Register of Deeds of Pamlico county to fill the vacancy made by the death of Mr. T. D. Perkins. Mr. Holton bears the name of a good citizen and his friends claim that the section of the county in which he lives is entitled to representation in the county offices.

The Atlantic fire company practiced with the horse hose-rol yesterday evening. They had the engine out also. The boys didn't seem to mind the sliding on the ground, especially little "Jimmie."

Another practice will be had this afternoon at 6 o'clock sharp. All of the firemen taking part are requested to be on time, as it is necessary to have day light for the practice. It would be advisable for the "small boy" to keep the sidewalk as there is danger of his being run over.

Rev. J. T. Lyon.

A letter from Rev. J. T. Lyon, pastor of Centenary M. E. Church who is now at Asheville, brings the gratifying intelligence of his improvement. We quote from the letter:

"My throat seems to be well—or at least it does not give me any pain now. My doctor thinks I will be all right after a little while, if I take proper care of myself."

Mr. Lyon thinks he will be home the last of this week.

Death of J. G. Creagh.

News of the death of Mr. J. Gates Creagh, of Richlands, Onslow county, reached New Berne yesterday. He died at Mt. Airy. The remains are expected to arrive tonight and to be taken to the old A. L. Simmons burying ground near Pollockville, for interment.

Mr. Creagh was in his younger days a resident of this city. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife but no children.

Mr. Creagh's brother, Harry, of Norfolk, is expected to arrive tonight also. His sister, Mrs. Clara Howard, of Onslow county, is already here at Mr. J. J. Howard's.

Star Naval Reserve Personnel.

Yesterday afternoon the boys who voluntarily offered their services to assist ashore and wheel them to the slack worked manfully and when through the long and tiresome job were back as negroes and tired out.

Graceful Harris Lane, the son of that genial gentleman, Sheriff Lane, of Craven county, was terribly distressed when he came out of the ash-pit yesterday, for fear that his best girl would not know him when he gets back home—for he hasn't washed his face since he has been on board, as he is afraid the salt-water will hurt his complexion.

Bangert, of Newbern, smokes his pipe all day and mourns his bitter fate.

Nick Bray, of the Fourth Division, has a chill every morning when the call sounds to scrub decks.

J. J. Lovick, the sporty seaman of the Newbern division, dons his white flannels and makes mashes upon the reservation. He has our sympathy, in that his clothes fit so loosely. He fears that when the home people see him he will be taken for "Squib Moore," the "nute" on the Fourth.

Those affectionate and staid cousins, Dan and Bert Roberts, have fallen in love with one of the beautiful ladies residing at this delightful quiet summer home. 'Tis amusing to watch these cousins rivals fighting, each to distance the other in their little "affaires de cour."

Lieut. Roberts, the handsome and graceful Lieutenant in command of the New Berne Division, is the hero of the battalion officers with the ladies; he is "radiant to death," and the heart of that beautiful "girl he left behind him" in the "City of Elms," has need indeed to be sad.

Billy Salter, the ugliest clerk in the magnificent establishment of John Dunn New Berne, general confectioner, loves to have his name in the paper.

Those crazy fellows in the Fourth division, all have blistered hands today—we all rejoice.

Hollowell says Uncle Prentiss Prentiss' breakfast jokes are old, but they still bring tears to his eyes.

Look After the Drainage.

A few days ago we called attention to the fact that the water which flowed into the sand pit at the corner of Hancock and Queen street did not flow off but stood in it to stagnate and become offensive. The authorities of the W. N. & N. R. R. have now replaced the single pipe which was used to convey the water to the opposite side of the street with two twelve inch ones.

Thus for the work is all right but the trouble is not remedied yet. At the discharging point on the opposite side of the street, the water is supposed to flow into the city's drain pipe and through it into the drain well near the colored Presbyterian church, but the opening into the city's pipe is higher than the discharging point of the railroad's and consequently no water from the latter can reach it except the excess which rises above the discharging pipe. The pipe to convey the water from that place to the drain-well needs to be lowered so that it will take all the water away.

The sidewalks of Hancock street from the A. & N. C. R. R. depot to Johnson street is a much travelled block and yet during a heavy rain it is a bad place to walk along as water collects in puddles on it badly. It should be remedied. And on Johnson street only a few feet from Councilman Ulrich's residence, the water at the time of a heavy rain overflows the sidewalk so that the middle of the street has to be resorted to by pedestrians. It is true it soon flows off but the drains should be large enough to carry it off as rapidly as it falls.

Good work is being done on our streets in general and with just a little more attention the portions of which we have been speaking will compare favorably with the rest.

On Saturday Judge Aldrich decided the South Carolina dispensary unconstitutional in its main features and an injunction to close the dispensary has been applied for. Judge Aldrich is a circuit judge, and was elected by a Tillman faction.

Cheap Rates to Mt. Airy.

Tickets at 6.50 will be on sale again the 24th and this will be the last chance of the season to take this excellent trip at such low cost.

The New Tariff Law.

All dealers and manufacturers of Playing cards, are hereby notified to make return to me under oath of all playing cards on hand on the day the new Tariff law goes into effect, under penalty of the law, for failure to so do—merchants and others in the counties of Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Hyde, Pamlico and Pitt will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly. W. T. CAHO, Deputy Collector, New Berne, N. C.

Wake County's Champion Water-Melon Raiser.

Wake county has no special or widespread fame as a producer of the luscious watermelon, but the industry is carried on on a scale not generally known or appreciated by thousands of people who live with an hour's drive of large "patches." Mr. H. G. Bagwell, of Garner, is doubtless the champion melon man of Wake—the county which produces almost everything to the greatest perfection.

Two visitors to Mr. Bagwell's farm on yesterday brought in two magnificent melons weighing over seventy pounds each. Their equatorial circumference was fifty seven inches—their oblong circumference fifty-two inches.

Mr. Bagwell recently had on the Raleigh market twenty-seven melons averaging sixty-four pounds each. He has shipped twelve thousand melons this season, and has disposed of three thousand on the Raleigh market. There are now more than six thousand melons on his "patches," which is a stretch of land comprising nearly forty acres. He easily gets twenty-five to thirty cents for his finer melons, and receives an average of seven to eight cents net for the bulk of his shipments, consisting of various varieties and all sizes.

The famous Georgia melons may come in a little ahead of Wake melons in the matter of ripening early, but they can never equal the Wake melon in point of beauty and excellence. Mr. Bagwell proposes to keep a few of his fine specimens and exhibit them at the State Fair.—Raleigh News and Observer.

HAVING A BIG TIME.

The Reserves Keep Up a Lively Racket—Fat and Saucy—Good Shooting With Big Guns—Reserves Beat at Base Ball.

From the reports of the Naval Reserve cruise as given in the Star and Messenger of Sunday we glean the following:

Last night Southport was alive again and never before have we seen so many ladies on the garrison since the cruise began. Music, both vocal and instrumental, was heard on shore and every Southport girl and Naval Reserve seemed to have had a big time.

A scale came up about 12 o'clock and rain poured down furiously, soaking a number of sleeping beauties. The officers called all hands to place-side awnings, which were bravely responded to by two-thirds of each Division who worked about two hours in a hard pouring rain.

The boys, after drying their clothes, spent a sleepful and quiet night with the exception of a little fun by the tin-pan brigade.

The seventh day of the North Carolina Naval Reserve's cruise opened under glowing auspices. The boys were fresh, and ready to do their duty on service at the guns on board the Montgomery.

They ate fat, saucy, and enjoy hard work. The morning began by the boys scrubbing the decks as usual, and the decks are now as good and as clean, presenting the appearance of a parlor. It is the pride of every Naval Reserve in board, and brings praise from the officers to do their full duty.

After an elegant breakfast, the mess-divisions reported on deck and were given a couple of hours of liberty. At ten o'clock all hands were called to fall in, and embarked in their small boats for the worship Montgomery, where the boys in their usual merry way worked hard all day manning the heavy guns and receiving instructions from the officers of the ship, which were entertaining and instructive. It was enjoyed and listened to attentively by all the divisions.

Lieut. Commander Morton is receiving grade from the boys on every side for the kind and clever way in which he gives his commands to the seamen. He also allows the boys as much liberty privileges and shore leaves as he can consistently.

The crews which manned the guns on the Montgomery were selected as follows: First division—Mason, Veno, N. C. White, McCracken, Stone, Bray, Pespencer, Pickler.

Second division—S. W. Merrill, Harry Burr, Fred Burr, T. C. DeRosset, Anson King, John Robinson, James Williams and James M. Ward.

Fourth division—Hartfield, Hill, Bangert, Richardson, Caraway, Selter, Lovick and Lane.

The following crew was selected to race the crew from the Collins and the Montgomery (Lieutenant Hill and Daniel of Newbern, Hodges, Williams, Prentiss, H. A. Barr and coxswain DeRosset, of Wilmington. It is a strong crew, and expects to win.

GOOD WORK WITH THE BIG GUNS.

The Reserves breakfasted at 10 o'clock after which they man from each part of the ship, twenty four in the squad, very despatched aboard the cruiser Montgomery to man her secondary battery at target practice. The bulk of the wrecked schooner Watts lying on the marsh opposite Southport was used as a target, and forty-eight rounds were fired by the men, making two shots for each. The boys handled the five-inch rapid fire guns with telling effect and riddled the old wreck with shots. The distance of the target was about 900 yards, and very few shots missed. Out of nine of the Charlotte Reserves who made shots, six of them put balls in the old hulk. The best shots were by Arampert, Hill, Daniel, Hodges, Williams and Burr, (H. A.) The gun squad was under command of Lieut. J. H. Barnard. The target practice was concluded at 2 p. m. and the gunners hurried back aboard the Nantuxet for dinner.

THE CRUISERS BALL PLAYERS WIN.

After dinner the regular ship routine was gone through with and leave of absence was granted the men to attend the game of base ball between a team from the Naval Reserves and a team from the crew of the Montgomery. The game was called at 4 o'clock p. m. with the grand stand full of ladies and naval officers, and a big crowd of men on the field. The Naval Reserves team was made up of Roberts, Daniel, Foy, Selter, Graham, Bray, Roberts, Stevens and Merrill. The Montgomery's team consisted of Norcott, Clickstone, Whelen, Dwyer, Golden, Carroll, Hill, Hawkins, and Pinnington, and "subs," Woltman and Jacobs. Nine innings were played and the result was a score of 11 to 7 in favor of the Reserves. The Montgomery's players gave three cheers for the Nantuxet.

Bert Roberts of the New Berne Reserves made the play of the day at the ball game yesterday afternoon. It was a long running catch in center field, with his back to the ball.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Mt. Airy now has a telephone exchange.

The story which was started that Carlisle would resign is denied.

The Raleigh Press states that there are thirty three prisoners in the county jail, and more than a month till court meets. There are three capital cases on the docket, two murder and one rape.

The Greensboro Patriot tells that Mr. William Calvin Rankin, of Alamance neighborhood, says his neighbors have invented a new pie which is growing in popularity every day. The pie is made of sliced green cantaloupes. The new dish tastes very much like sweet potato pie, and the editor says he can testify that it is hard to beat.

The Monroe Enquirer gives this item: "The wonderful stalk of corn in Mr. M. E. Yandle's field, near Stouts, which has taken the coloring of the horned snake which was buried near where it was planted, still attracts great attention. We have been presented with a blade from the strange colored stalk. It is the most wonderful thing of its kind we have ever seen."

The local paper at West Point, Miss., "points with pride" to the record of the coming factory in that town during the recent blackberry season. It earned and shipped 87,400 one and one-half pound cans of wild berries, all of which were picked within a mile of the town. And there is hardly a square mile in the South that would not supply the raw and ripe material for one such factory. It is not immigrants that we need so much as to get a move on us, says the Charleston News and Courier.
