The Tariff Bill Will Become a Law Without Cleveland's Signature-Adjournment.-Income tax.-Recommendation to Remove

the Negro Taylor,

It is unquestionably Mr. Cleveland resent intention to permit the tariff hill o become a law without his signature There is no danger of his vetoing the bill bough he would probably like to do so if the business condition of the country would admit of his doing so. It is evident however, that he does not want bill to go to the archives of the State. De-partment with his signature attached. It would be somewhat of a lemmitation for him to approve the measure which he has already so roundly denonaced, and by withholding his signature he can maintain disattitude of disapproval.
