WASHINGTON LETTER.

Josephus Daniels Interviewed, - Fusion vs.-John B Eaves, Mugwump Organ Finds Something Good to say of the Gorman Compromise.

There are a great many North Caroliscats still left. There will no doubt be a nians here who keep in touch with state ville was organized two months ago and large attendance, and it is well to make and National politics. No one is more alert, more patriotic and more reliable 1200 carnetters have struck in New than Mr. Josephus Daniels, Chief Clerk Aside from the interest that attaches to of the Interior Department. Feeling sure the lady on account of her remarkable your readers would like to have his views on the situation I asked him for them. He says: "I believe we pass the danger-line in North Carolina. We will not anticipate tomorrow nights change is largely due to Pou's leadership.

Every democrat remembers the stauuch filt John B. Eaves always makes against fusion. He is a straight out Republican with a big R. He does not beheve in compromise. He can be depended on to do his share towards disrupting any compromise scheme. Dan Russell and Mary Ann have on foot.

Harper's Weekly, the Mugwump organ finds something to praise in the Seoate bill. At any rate the uncertainty is ended and if everybody will look ou the bright side and go to work, business will boom this fall.

DIAMOND SHOAL LIGHT.

and has started off well. The Hotel will Changes in the Plans-The Most Difficult Light House Engineering in the World.

The light house board has for the past two months been at work devising plans for the new light which it is proposed to erect on the treacherous Diamond shoals, off Cape Hatteras, if it is possible to accomplish this engineering feat. The or iginal designs proposed a masonary structure built on the caisson principle. The structure was to have its base at least 120 feet beneath the waters surface, and was to be built up to a height of 156 feet above the water.

The very great uncertainty of securing a caisson which could stand the terrific bombardment of the Hatterass seas, and the failure to find a solid foundation of the failure to find th to practically abandon this scheme in favor of a screw pile light, such as have been found to be the best kind of a structure where the waves beat heavily, as it affords the least surface for their attacks. These piles will be sunk nearly 100 feet in the botton, and will tower about 160 feet above the waves. The keepers quarters will be small in comparison to those which were designed on the masonry structure, but the tight will be just as high and bright.

There is a great deal of doubt among some engineers whether it is practicable to erect any sort of a light station on the shoals on account of the shifting sands and great seas, which run high the year The shoals extend fourteen miles off Hatterns, and the spot selected for the light would be on the outer edge. Should the light ever be finally completed it is believed that the most difficult piece of light house engineering in the world will have been accomplished—Washingto Dispatch, Sept. 4th.
