Rolls Royal Entertainers, at Opera House Monday night.

Rev. J. T. Ab-nethy, of Beaufort, has taken charge of a high school at Lake Landing, Hyde county. His family are still in Beaufort.

Congressman Woodard spoke for the Democrats at Kinston last night and Attorney General Ashorn speaks there today. Gen. Battle speaks at Lagrange today, at Maysville on Friday the 29th, and at Jacksonville Saturday Sept. 28th.

Gen'l. O. A. Battle and Messrs. W. H. Oliver, delegates to the State convention of Democratic clubs, returned home last night well pleased with the event. Mr. M. DeW. Stevenson, another delegate, returned the preceding night.

Messrs. Nunn & McSorley, who have heretofore been manufacturing only taffy and fruit candies, (buying whatever else they need in their confectionary business) are now adding to their factory and will hereafter make in addition to the preceding, cream and caramel goods, coconut bon-bons, etc. They resume manufacturing operations to-day.

Yesterday we copied from an exchange an article on danger in the communion cup the danger of infectious diseases being communicated thereby. This morning we give another article on the same subject taken from a medical publication which one of our physicians furnished us with his approval of the statements it contains. It will be found on another page.

From the Kinston press we learn of the organization of a Knights of Pythias lodge there. The officers are as follows: Past Chancellor, Dr. C. B. Woodley; Chancellor, Commander, G. E. Kornegay; Vice Chancellor, G. D. Hawks; Prostate W. H. Hickson; Master of Arms, G. W. Sumrell; Keeper of Records and Seals, C. Felix Harvey; Master of Finance, J. E. Hood; Master of Exchequer, J. F. Taylor.

Rolls's Royal Entertainers.

The above company will exhibit in New Berne Monday night. Mr. M. W. Lincke, the advance agent is now in the city. He informs us that the show consists of various kinds of music both vocal and instrumental—the songs comic standard and instrumental ones—all kinds of fancy as well as clog dances also a sleight of hand performance and a marvelous contortionist exhibition. There are seven of the performers; three of them are ladies.

Remove the Obstructions.

An accident that came very near resulting in a serious accident occurred last night near the corner of New and Middle Sts.

A young gentleman was driving down the center of Middle Street and just before arriving at New, his horse became frightened at an object on the right side of the street, and before he could think, or begin to think what was the matter, his buggy had crashed into the pump which is situated just in front of the Catholic Church, thereby sustaining some injuries though happily to no great extent.

This pump has been an eye-sore to everybody who drives horses for a long time past and should be looked to by the city authorities without delay, as it is more than apt to be the cause of some accident to some horse or driver.

MR. HILL'S CONCERT.

Beautiful and Charming Music—Fair Young Ladies

"O Music, mother of Thought, thy gracious boon Of blessed courage and renewed resolves Thrills the rapt soul, then leaves us over-voiced, And Hope, but new discerned, anon dissolves. Though transient be thy sweet transporting spell, Like love it soothes the aching, pained heart."

Some one of fame has said that "the sweetest music is that we never hear; the prettiest women are those we never see; the best things in the world are those we never get."

The above quotation may have been true at the time it was written, but had the author been present at the musicale last evening he would no doubt have felt compelled to re-call the assertion.

Last night witnessed one of the prettiest and most delightful musical events that we have had in New Berne for a long time. The large hall of the Y. M. C. A., was fairly well filled with a cultured and appreciative audience which was feasted to the following admirable and well-carried-out program:

-PART FIRST-

Chorus—Morning Invitation, Vozzie—Juveniles.

Instrumental Duet—On the Race Course, Blake—Misses Powell and Ives.

Vocal Solo—Oat on the Deep, Lohr—John D. Clark.

Vocal Solo—Waiting, Millard—Mrs. W. B. Hill.

Vocal Solo—Star of my Heart, Denza—T. W. Dewey.

Instrumental Solo—Polonaise in A, Chopin—Miss Lula Ives.

Vocal Duet—Good-bye, Good-bye, ye Roses Fair, Holmes—Miss Roberts and T. W. Dewey.

Male Quartette—Welcome Wanderer, Sankey—Clark, Hartsfield, Harper and Timberlake.

-PART SECOND-

Chorus—Among the Lillies, Czibulka—Class.

Vocal Solo—Cerulean Love Song, Carroll—Miss Stella Roberts.

Instrumental Duet—Charge of the Uhlans, Bahm—Misses Ives and Powell.

Vocal Solo—Swiss Song, Echert—Miss Laura Suter.

Vocal Duet—Fly Away Birdling, Abbott—Mrs. W. B. Hill and T. W. Dewey.

Vocal Solo—By the Fountain, Adams—Miss Pearl Powell.

Male Quartette—The Chapel, Kreutzer Harper, Timberlake, Clark and Hartsfield.

Vocal Solo—Belouin Love Song, Pinson—T. W. Dewey.

Vocal Duet—The Hunter's Song, Kucken—Misses Suter and Powell.

Vocal Solo—Good-bye, Tosti—Mrs. W. B. Hill.

The spacious stage contained about forty singers, principally among whom were many of New Berne's fairest daughters, and they had been extremely fortunate in getting such happy selections, and if possible, were more fortunate still in the mastery with which they carried out their parts, both vocal and instrumental. The opening piece by fifteen little Misses and boys gave a just conception of what might be expected. It was a bright and dashing chorus, splendidly rendered by the happy little children. In the midst of the chorus little Miss Sadie Moore in kneeling attitude sang in most solemn, and touching words a short prayer. Her voice is remarkably sweet and so clear that every utterance could be distinctly heard.

We too well recognize our inability to properly review the remaining portion of the program.

Mrs. Hill has now been in our city two months and this is the first time our people in general have had the opportunity of having her appear before them with her music pupils, and they were well pleased at the advance shown.

Mrs. Hill has had in her class some who previously were without knowledge of music and they have had their singing talents remarkably developed, while others who were fine singers before have shown rapid advancement.

Mrs. Hill possesses good talent in the musical line, she not only has the correct knowledge and the power to impart it, but also the happy faculty of inspiring her pupils so that music becomes a positive pleasure to them.

She will now leave for her home in Wilson but we hope to have her with us again.

Coming and Going.

Miss Lida Rodman, of Washington, N. C., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. O. H. Guion, left returning home.

Mrs. F. M. Simmons and daughter left, returning to Raleigh. Miss Laura Mann, of Hyde county left returning to St. Mary's.

Miss Mary F. Shane of Baltimore who has been visiting her sister Mrs. J. R. Parker, left yesterday by the steamer New Berne returning home. Mrs. Parker and children left with her on a visit.

Mr. D. S. Amos, of Palo Alto, came in last night on a business trip.

Mr. John Dunn returned home on the steamer New Berne from a Northern business trip.

Notices—Democratic Ex. Com.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Onen county at my office today at 12 o'clock, on a full attendance is requested as business of importance will be transacted. S. B. BRADHAM, Sec'y. Ex. Com. J. W. Brooks, Sec'y.

Two "Dead Beats."

J. W. Hansley and Chas. W. McClammy, the brick masons who recently came up to New Berne from Wilmington, about two weeks ago appear to have been anything but a desirable acquisition to New Berne's population even for the short time that they were here. Their whereabouts are unknown—they may have gone back home.

In the latter part of their stay, they went to drinking. The last seen of them was Thursday morning. They leave behind them unpaid bills, (one of which was their board bill) and an unfinished job of plastering for Mr. W. E. Hill, for which he informs us they had under one pretext and another drawn more than the part of the work they had performed would amount to. The last money was obtained from him upon the plea that they wished to change their boarding house and wanted the money to settle up so they could get their trunk—the truth is they had no baggage and did not go back to their boarding house after getting the money. Mr. Hill has some thought of having them arrested for false pretense.

These men came here and I found plenty of work in their line waiting to be done. They advertised when they arrived, received immediate application for their services and had other work ahead as soon as they got through where they were that would have fasted them for quite awhile. If they had come here, filed to obtain employment and become embarrassed thereby, our sympathies would have gone out to them. But when they found work readily obtainable, and then disappointed those who employed them, neglected their duties, squandered whatever they received, swindled those with whom they dealt, and ran away exposure should follow them to prevent others from suffering at their hands.

Cannery in a Small Way.

The Charlotte News has the following to say of what a Mecklenburg farmer is doing in a small way at canning vegetables.

"Mr. A. N. Sample of Hopewell, who several seasons ago established a cannery on his place, has had a most successful season. He has already sold over 200 cases of goods. Mr. Sample has put up 5,500 cans of tomatoes, and is to can 3,000 more. He finds that this business pays better than raising cotton. He has not only been furnishing shipped goods, but is supplying the Charlotte market also. His goods compare favorably with the Northern goods and there is no reason why the preference should not be given to local canners. Mr. Sample is the man who raised the tomato weighing 5 pounds. He had many weighing two pounds."

What a Mecklenburg farmer can do a Craven county one can do also. There ought to be a good large vegetable cannery in New Berne, if one is not established there should be numerous small ones. They could be run in the town or country either. Mr. H. R. Bryan not long since was advertising a newly invented canning fit which would at trifling cost enable any trucker to engage in a small way in the business and thus save a very large portion of the crops raised, which when prices fall too low for shipment would otherwise be lost to him.

We hope that numbers of our truckers will seriously consider this matter. It would give us great pleasure to see this become a thriving canning region. Trucking and canning would go well together.

Captain Sam Ashe

EDITOR JOURNAL.—This gentleman's friends are urging him for Senator Vance's unexpired term in the United States Senate. Is there any other North Carolinian from the seaboard to the land of the sky possessing equal claims to the position? Ashe has been literally the unflinching and unswerving pilot of the democracy through rocks, sand-bars and hurricanes for the last quarter of a century. Never losing his head, never giving way to vain rancor, bitterness or hate, keeping a strong hand on unreasoning impulse and excitement, always representing the intellectual and patriotic interests of his State, a conservative of the conservatives, but striking with the armed power of a titan when the right hour came, this quiet and modest gentleman has been North Carolina's great organizer of victory for many years. Who denies this? Let him speak.

Who ever failed, in our days of darkness, when without harbor, compass or star we were drifting, drifting, drifting, to go to the old News and Observer for the word of command? And it came, wise, straight and true. This man's service has been beyond price. And now when the mighty shadow of trusts is darkening the land like the coming of a storm, and the wizards of the money bags are the autocrats of Senators, men like Sam Ashe, who would perish at their posts rather than sell themselves or their country, are the men we want. He has brains, character, a noble record, and we are his debtors beyond what we will ever be able to pay. Send him. J. S. I.

THE SEUSE ROAD MACADAMIZING.

Let the County Help—Our Citizens are Aroused and Doing What They Can—The County Should Second Their Efforts.

Mr. W. W. Clark deserves great credit for the enthusiasm with which he took hold of the work of procuring subscriptions to macadamize that much used portion of the Seuse road just beyond the city limits up to the A. & N. C. R. R. and the liberal responses that he has met with shows conclusively that the people were ripe for the improvement and needed only for some one to lead in the matter. A few days more at best, will complete the list of both city and country subscribers.

Now that the citizens have shown such great interest in the work it behooves the county to further their efforts by a liberal appropriation. It is probable that by the time Mr. Clark gets through $500 or $1,000 dollars from the county will be sufficient to complete the work of putting the road in the order desired. The tax payers are back of the movement and will uphold the commissioners in making the allowance. When you see the citizens running their hands down into their own pockets and giving from one dollar to three hundred dollars each to such an object it means that they want the work done.

We hope the county commissioners will act as promptly and as liberally in the matter as the citizens themselves have.

We will suggest moreover that the private subscription list may be further augmented in this way: After what money possible has been secured, there may be others perfectly willing to aid in the work who cannot give the cash now or who are willing to add to their cash subscription such other services as they can render. They may be able to loan the use of a mule, horse, wagon, cart, implements, &c., for the whole or part of the time that the work is in progress. This they might do almost without cost and with but little inconvenience to themselves, but by keeping that much of the cash that had been subscribed from being paid out, the same good would be accomplished.

Let there be no backing up until the good stands complete, a benefit to all who use it and an object lesson to the whole county.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

There are thirty-two law students from the University in Raleigh to stand examination.

The flying machines are like the perpetual motion machines always almost ready, but never quite ready to work.

The Senators who put the 630 tariff amendments through would perhaps have preferred to worry along without the endorsement of Henry Clow, the wall street magnate.

Billy Breckinridge would never make an actor. His disposition to continue the death scene after the audience has left the theater is a very weak point.—Wash. Post.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Old Fellows have passed new legislation on the admission of women to the order through the Rebekah Lodge. The new legislation admits all Odd Fellows and wives and white women over 18 years of age who believe in the Ruler of the Universe. Formerly only the wives of Odd Fellows were admitted.

October 10th, a monument to the Confederate soldiers who fell at the battle of Bentonville will be unveiled. It is to be a marble shaft. Gen. Wade Hampton is to deliver the oration.—Raleigh Visitor.

During the last campaign in Kentucky, Breckinridge, at the conclusion of one of his speeches, alluded to the great strain to which he had been subject. He said that he wanted peace and repose for both mind and body, and after the election he proposed to spend a couple of months in England. Then he sat down and the band at once struck up "God save the Queen." Some of the light-minded sniggered and the Colonel's face displayed quite a variety of expressions.—Atlanta Constitution.

It seems pretty well established that Pullman of car company fame, is either a perjurer, a swindler of the government or both. An exchange states that: "The Pullman car company pays taxes on $1,600,000. Before an investigating committee Pullman swore his company had a working capital of $36,000,000 and a surplus fund of $25,000,000, making a total of $61,000,000. Pullman and his company are robbers to thus defraud their country of justly due taxes. There ought to be some way to make such pay their just part towards the support of government, which is of more benefit to them than to the poor people who are taxed on all more than they are worth."

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Convention of the State Association at Raleigh—A Red Letter Day—The Speeches—Senator Jarvis' Eloquence Electrifies the People.

The convention of Democratic Clubs came off in Raleigh, Thursday, Sept. 21st. The weather was splendid, and fully half the counties in the State were represented by delegates. The meeting was a great success and brought together a great crowd from all parts of the State.

The distinguished gentlemen who came from a distance were the recipients of much attention. The day was ushered in by the marching of the clubs behind national music. At 11 o'clock the exercises were opened by a speech by Senator Ransom, who, however, was preceded by Col. Julian S. Carr, President, in a short, graceful opening of the programme, which was eloquent and elaborate, setting forth the demands upon the Southern people for them to remain with the Democratic party.

Senator Ransom began speaking at the Academy of Music just before noon. He was introduced by B. F. Aycock, Esq., He faced quite a large audience. He was in good voice, after his long speech at Smithfield Wednesday, and was well received.

His speech was mainly a review of what the Democratic party had done. He dwelt at length on the repeal of the election law. He rejoiced at the restoration of the South to all her rights, and at the fact that her ballot boxes are all her own, and that A. W. Shaffer, late supervisor of elections, can send out no more warrants of arrest.

He went on to speak of the financial reforms the present administration had accomplished. He said the new tariff would effect a saving of $50 to each farmer on his year's purchases. The audience burst into applause when in the course of his speech Senator Ransom alluded to Ex-Governor Holt as considered by the people of the State as its wisest financier.

Senator Ransom spoke two hours and then Col. Carr called the club convention to order.

Governor Carr made an address of welcome. After a brief speech Mr. Kitchin introduced Hon. Chas. H. Mansur, who spoke an hour.

The convention then adjourned until night. The number of visitors to the club meeting from other points was about 400.

At the night session the audience was a fine one, ladies attending in large numbers. The permanent organization was effected, Francis D. Winston being made chairman and B. C. Beckwith secretary.

The platform adopted is that of the last State Democratic convention. A resolution was unanimously adopted endorsing the Nicaragua canal, which was so earnestly favored by ex-Governor Black in his address. Mr. Lawrence Gardner followed Mr. Black and was in turn followed by Senator Jarvis.

Senator Thomas J. Jarvis was the last speaker, and his friends claim that he made the effort of his life. Several hundred ladies occupied seats in the gallery. He made a strong plea for Democracy, taking up in detail each issue before the people, especially on national lines. He is a powerful debater and the Populists and Republicans present winced and wilted under the mighty blows that he dealt.

The enthusiasm of the hour under the force and eloquence of Jarvis was intense, and the masses from which he sprang, cheered to the echo, while his competitors on the stage were intent upon his every gesture.

Senators Ransom and Jarvis are rival candidates for the United States Senate, and their great speeches, Ransom's in the morning and Jarvis' at night, aroused their respective friends and caused interesting and varied comments.
