Saturday, the Wayne county, Populists in convention assembled, accepted the fusion proposition of the Republicans.

The police were out on a little raiding Saturday night. It was of such a character that would not become these columns.

In Franklin county there will be a straight fight between all the political parties, all three having tickets in the field.

Wednesday of this week closes the season at Nag's Head. The Elizabeth City Falcon-Economist says the last of the sojourners will leave then and that the season has been a most delightful one.

Prof. Mendenhall, principal of the Collegiate Institute, delivered a very fine address at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday. It would be well to get Mr. Mendenhall again when there was a larger gathering.

To-morrow afternoon the members of the building and loan association will hold their annual meeting for the election of officer and the transaction of other business; it will be in the City Hall at 8 o'clock.

The Collegiate Institute is coming on finely and Prof. Mendenhall is in good spirits, considerable additions are expected at the beginning of the month. The more promptly each one enters the better all around.

Mrs. W. C. Gannon, widow of one of the most loved pastors Centenary M. E. church ever had died at her home in Winston Saturday. She was buried beside her husband at Trinity—the old site of Trinity college. Mrs. Gannon died of paralysis with which she has been afflicted several months. She was a most estimable Christian lady and will be generally mourned.

There was a big crowd at Kinston Saturday to hear Attorney General Frank L. Osborne. His speech was a very fine one. The previous night the Kinstonians had the pleasure of hearing Congressman Woodard and on Saturday, Capt. Swift Galloway and Gen. L. C. A. Battle spoke at LaGrange. There was good attendance at all the places and enthusiasm prevailed.

The Cyrene Vaudeville company which recently played here seems to be in hard luck. They did but little in Raleigh and when they played at Durham they got into deeper water still. The Sen gives this statement: "There was some high kicking in town this morning and it was not seen on the stage either." The Cyrene Vaudeville company, which has been playing here for the past two nights, ran against. The business they did here did not get them out of town in order to fill their engagement at Oxford tonight. They were indebted to Hotel Fremont, for board, to the amount of $51.75, and there were several other smaller accounts which they could not meet readily."

Notes.
As I will discontinue my milk wagon after Monday, Sept. 30th, I would like for all who owe me to settle their accounts this week. Wm. J. Moore.

Attempted Burglary.

Some burglar or burglars attempted to break into Messrs. Nunn & McSorley's confectionary store both Saturday and Sunday night.

Nothing was known of the attempt Saturday night until Sunday morning when it was found that the front door lock had been tampered with and left so injured that it was with difficulty it could be unlocked with the key, while the back door lock had been broken all to pieces and left so that any one could readily have entered, but there were no signs of any one having been in the store—the thieves probably took alarm at something when they had proceeded thus far.

About midnight Sunday night, Mr. W. D. McIver who has his sleeping apartments over the store, and Mr. McSorley who lives opposite were both awakened by the noise of some one again trying to gain unlawful admittance. They both came down, but the thieves evidently on the alert, got away without even being seen. Mr. McSorley sat up about two hours longer watching and hoping for their return, but they came no more.

The young proprietors of the store say that if the thieves had gotten in they could only have taken some of their confectionery, that they would not have got any money, for they never leave any there.

Rolla's Entertainment.

Rolla's Royal Entertainers gave a good show last night, portions of it were only ordinary but other parts were good enough to make up for it.

The sleight-of-hand tricks were expertly performed.

The comedienne received frequent and loud applause—they were repeatedly enjoyed.

The wire-walking performance was fair.

The skit dancing was executed with grace and agility; it pleased the audience.

The contortionist was astonishing; he seemed to have as many joints as a snake and to be about as supple. Not one whom we have heard speak of it ever saw his equal.

One thing we can heartily commend, there was not an indelicate expression used from beginning to end.

The audience departed pleased and satisfied.

Announcement was made that the troupe would play to-night with a new program, and introduce a troupe of trained dogs, and royal marionettes, and that the price, to-night will be 15, 25 and 35 cents.

Captain Thos. Southgate.

The steamer New Bern, Capt. Thos. Southgate, of the N. N. & W. Line, as our readers know, is now running on the E. C. D. line, in place of the steamer Neuse, being chartered for that purpose while the latter is undergoing her annual overhauling, and under the consolidation of the two lines which goes into effect next month, the New Bern will continue to run to Elizabeth City from New Bern instead of to Norfolk as heretofore. The Elizabeth City Falcon-Economist in noticing the change pays this unique compliment to the everywhere popular Captain:

"We have rarely enjoyed greater pleasure than on Saturday, in welcoming our veteran friend, Captain Thos. Southgate to our town and sanctum. He returns to the Elizabeth City and New Bern line, on the steamer New Bern, after an absence of seven years. Surely our town must be on the upgrade when Captain Southgate comes back to put in an ear with us. We had rather see him back here than to see a cotton factory or any new industry, and we bid him welcome, thrice welcome in the name of all our people."

Hughes, city; John E. Orem, Jr., Balt.; J. H. Collins, New York; E. D. Mattson and wife, Camden, N. J.; R. G. Wiggins, Norfolk; R. E. Williams, Courtland, Va.; S. D. Williams, Raleigh; N. Mitzger, Norfolk; E. G. Rawlings, Richmond; Messrs. J. A. Meadows, city; T. A. Green.

Ponder This, Please.

An exchange, the Durham Sun, tells a plain truth when it says that the easiest way to make people trade abroad is for some business men to neglect advertising. A merchant who does not advertise should be the last to complain if the people attracted by liberal advertising of progressive and enterprising merchants of other cities, place their trade or a good part of it with the more distant merchant who thus caters for it by informing them what he has in stock.

As a general thing most of the people who send abroad for goods do so because they see things advertised, which they think the local merchants do not keep. If the local merchants would make a business of thoroughly advertising the goods they handle and in certain cases, their prices, much of this trade would be kept at home. The merchant who keeps them informed that he keeps what they want and that he will sell it at reasonable prices seldom has any cause to complain of a customer ordering goods abroad.

Cases of 40 years standing shoe operations have failed have been started by Japanese like Care.

Coming and Going.

Mrs. L. E. Hendren left yesterday morning to spend a few days at Winston. Mrs. W. B. Hill who has so successfully been instructing a music class in this city left for her home in Wilson.

Mr. Bert Thomas left to enter the medical department of Davidson college.

Cheatham Wins and White Retires.

The National Republican committee has as we foreshadowed, decided in favor of Cheatham as the candidate in the second District and White will withdraw in his favor.

The latter says he and Cheatham had entered into a written agreement to abide by the decision of the committee. He expressed his opinion moreover that a good many of the populists will not vote for the Republican nominee if he is a negro as is the case so says the Washington correspondent of the News and Observer.

Attend the Road Meeting To-day.

Notice the call for the "good road" meeting which Mr. W. W. Clark issues for this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the city hall.

Mr. Clark has finished his canvass, secured about a hundred subscribers to the scheme of macadamizing a portion of Neuse road, and he now calls the meeting to lay his report before the subscribers and all other citizens interested, and every one of them should be there.

It is earnestly desired that all subscribers attend, and that all others who can, be present also.

This is the initiatory step to improving the roads of the county. It is a very important matter. Road improvement is engrossing the attention of people all over the State, and Craven does not propose to lag behind in the procession. We must have as good roads as anybody.

We specially hope that not a single county commissioner who is in the city will be absent from the meeting.

Wilmington Star Enlarged.

The Morning Star of Wilmington has now been running twenty-seven years. It is the oldest newspaper in the State, and is to-day as bright and readable as any of its kind in its history. The Star is not only the oldest daily newspaper in the State but it can say what very few newspapers of such an age can, and that is, there has been no change in its name, proprietorship or editorial management during the whole 27 years. In this world of changes that is a remarkable statement for any business of that age to make.

With its entrance upon the fifty-fifth semi-annual volume the Star enlarges to an eight column paper. It recently promised to do this provided a moderate increase of business came and it says it has come. We are glad to see these evidences of our contemporary's prosperity. May the Morning Star long continue to shine as brightly as it does now.

Death of Dr. F. L. Reid.

A letter to Mr. F. L. Reid Cutler from his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Watkins, brings the news of the death of Rev. F. L. Reid, D. D., the honored President of Greensboro Female college. He died about sunrise Monday morning from an affection of the stomach. He had been ill about a week and a half.

Dr. Reid was for many years editor of the Christian Advocate. He severed his connection with that paper last year to devote his life to educational work, accepted the Presidency of Greensboro Female college and was building up this fine institution which is always well patronized from New Bern, to a point it had never attained before. Dr. Reid was one of the brainiest ministers of the State and ranked among the foremost educators. His death is a serious blow to his church and to the State.

Cotton Mill Orders Ahead a Whole Year.

The Salisbury Visitor tells that a contract has been awarded, to build 20 more new tenement houses for the Vance Cotton Mills, which will be occupied by employees as soon as completed. The mills are filled with work, having orders in hand to keep them busy the balance of the year. A double force of hands will soon be put on and the mill will work night and day.

We are always glad to note such prosperity attending North Carolina enterprises, but it would give us vastly more pleasure if there were flourishing and growing cotton mills in New Bern about which we could give such items. Can it be that our capitalists prefer to keep on investing in commercial pursuits and in industrial lines which are already fairly represented here, rather than to branch out on a new line and start an industry of which at present there is not now one of its kind in the city?

Art School.

Miss Annie Beman, pupil of Art Student's League of New York, will open a studio October 1st, for instruction in drawing from the cast, objects and nature—in pencil, charcoal, crayon and pen and ink. Painting in oil, water colors and gouache; the latter latter includes "Manicaps," "figure" and "still life." Decorative work a specialty. China painting—embracing Royal Worcester, Douglas and plain china decorations. Terms—Private lessons per term of ten lessons, $7.50. Class of 20 pupils, or more, three lessons per week. $4.00 per month, payable in advance. Special terms arranged for children that attend school. No student taken for less than one month.

OUR PUBLIC BUILDING.

And How it May be Affected by the Changes in the Architect's Office.

As our readers know, Secretary Carlisle has called for the resignation of Superintending Architect O'Rourke, and it has been tendered and accepted. The statement is now made at the Treasury Department that it will be a month or six weeks before the Secretary fills the vacancy made by the enforced resignation. We do not know how this may affect the erection of our Public Building, which has been so often and so long delayed, and which is now promised to be started in December, but we think it is well enough to call the attention of O'Rourke's successor, as quickly as he is appointed to the way that this matter stands and our need for the prompt erection of the building; it would be too bad for another delay to occur.

It is announced moreover that a reform of great importance which Secretary Carlisle contemplates making in the architect's office is in the matter of specifications for public buildings. Heretofore the pretext has obtained of permitting bidders to designate what kind of stone they propose to use, and to give their figures accordingly. Then, the fight would be carried before the Secretary of the Treasury as to the selection of the material for the building and the bidder proposing the cheapest stone would, everything else being equal, be awarded the contract. Secretary Carlisle will now first decide whether a public building shall be constructed of granite, limestone, marble or any other material, and if so of what kind, and then the bids will be called for that material.

We unhesitatingly and firmly declare our choice of the material to be used in constructing our building to be our own native, natural product, the beautiful shell rock found so extensively along the banks of Trent river and elsewhere. It is at once durable and novel, and will make a handsome building than can be put up at the same cost with any other material. The lodge occupied by the keeper of the National cemetery here which is built of it, never fails to attract the attention and admiration of visitors. A fine Public Building in the heart of the city would do so in a much greater way. It would be a Public Building such as no other city in the State or even in the South could boast of. It would stand unique and for the present at least without a rival. By all means let the material be shell rock.

We are satisfied this rock is not only our choice but the choice likewise of our citizens. This being so let Secretary Carlisle's attention be called to the fact so that when the bids are advertised for they will call for this material.

As we said, we have no information as to how the change in the Architect's office will affect the matter of starting work on the building, but if the matter is looked after properly and promptly by our people we do not believe it will have any undesired effect—we expect it will be rather otherwise, if it makes any difference at all. It is said that when Secretary Carlisle makes the appointment O'Rourke's successor will go into a thoroughly re-organized office, with the scientific and technical branches of the work segregated from the purely administrative branches. This will be a departure long contemplated by Secretary Carlisle, as the principal source of trouble in the architect's office during the former and the present administrations has been the clash between the scientific and non-scientific branches of the office.

The architect's duties in the future will be confined as much as possible to the purely scientific and technical branches of the work, such as engineering, drafting, construction and repair work, while the administrative branches of the office, such as the awarding of contracts, the accounts of divisions and the clerical work will be under the supervision of the Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Carlisle will devote much of the time intervening between now and the appointment of the new architect in perfecting the re-organization of the office on the plan, the rough outline of which is given above.

Kentucky and West Virginia have certainly got the grit. One of the orators of the latter State was addressing a crowd and a row was precipitated on the grounds in which revolvers were freely used. During the row one of the bullets passed through the speakers hair but he didn't drop, he kept right on. Most speakers under such circumstances would have adjourned the meeting sine die.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

As far as head from the death losses from the tornado in Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa, told of in another column is a hundred conservative estimates place the money damage at a million dollars.

The Democratic Congressional committee of the Ashland (Ky.) District have officially declared W. C. Owen's to be the nominee. The count gives him 255 plurality over Breckenridge.

The attempted Populist-Republican fusion in Wake county is breaking all to pieces. Republicans are denouncing it and populists are deserting it. The latter in disgust at the treachery of their trusted leaders in trying to sell them into the Radical camp are flocking back home to good and sound old Democracy.

We learn from the Raleigh Christian Sun that there are one hundred students gathered at Elon College. "The greatest opening in the history of the institution! An increase of at least one-fourth, possibly a third, over the opening number of former years!"

Hon. F. M. Simmons spoke at Henderson Saturday to a crowded court room of people. Among the number were about a hundred Populists and colored people of whom it is said that two years ago not one of the Populists, or one fourth of the colored people would have been present. Mr. Simmons is spoken of as being in his happiest vein and having made a convincing and effective speech.

Are you a friend to popular education? Then stand by the Democratic party. During the years of 1868, 1869 and 1870, when the Republicans were in power, they collected $406,435.02 for school purposes, but spent only $38,981.86 for common schools, misappropriating the balance. Last year, under Democratic administration, there was collected for schools and expended for that purpose, the sum of $709,928.81.—Twin City Daily Sentinel.

Democratic extravagance is one of the issues to be raised by the Republicans in this campaign. We should smile Cleveland left nearly $250,000,000 in the treasury and after four years of Republican rule under Harrison, the Democrats, when they again came into power, not only found that their two hundred and fifty millions had disappeared but that, on account of the unparalleled extravagance and corruption of the Billion Dollar Congress a deficit was actually threatened. Democratic extravagance, forsooth! Oh, check, where is thy bluish!—Wil. Review.

The amazing ignorance of the English people, as a whole, of American affairs, has often been commented on, and their ludicrous statements laughed at, but of every manifestation of it hitherto brought to light the following is easily the most extraordinary. It is taken from the Star of Bethlehem, a religious paper published in Leeds: "A big revolution is now going on in the United States of America, and there is little doubt that the government will be defeated. The dictator, Debs, has been driven from his palace, and he and his mistress are now hiding in the mountains. The greatest trouble has been experienced in the capital at Chicago, where Grover Cleveland has obtained complete control. The railroad at that place has been torn up and thrown into the Mississippi river, and the stock yard has been razed to the ground."

Public Meeting.

All who have subscribed for macadamizing Neuse Road, and all who feel an interest in the movement are requested to meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the City Hall for the purpose of organizing for the work. I have completed the canvass for subscriptions and now desire to place the matter in the hands of the subscriber. I desire to make a personal appeal to all to be present.

If each subscriber will give a half hour of his time this afternoon and attend this meeting the success of the effort will be assured, and an improvement of incalculable benefit to this community and the country generally will be accomplished. Let every one show his zeal by his works and come out to the meeting.
