THE PEOPLE HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN THAT AT THE CLOSE OF CLEVELAND'S FIRST ADMINISTRATION, AN ECONOMICAL POLICY WAS ACCUMULATING SO FAST IN THE TREASURY, THAT THE AMOUNT WAS MORE THAN ENOUGH TO PAY THE DEBTS OF THE COUNTRY. UNFORTUNATELY THE DEMOCRATS, IN THEIR PARTIAL CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT, HAD BEEN HOLDING, AND THE REPUBLICANS SUCCEEDING THEM, HAD ACCUMULATED AND THEY NOT ONLY WASTED ALL THE MONEY THEY COULD GET AT BUT ENTAILED AN ECONOMIC POLICY OF THEIR OWNERSHIP TO PROVIDE FOR. IT WILL BE MANY A DAY BEFORE THE BURDENS WHICH THE REPUBLICANS INFLICTED UPON THE COUNTRY DURING THOSE FOUR YEARS CAN BE REMOVED EVEN BY THE WISEST MANAGEMENT, BUT THE DEMOCRACY IS EQUAL TO THE TASK AND ALL WILL COME RIGHT IN THE END. OUR STATE BY THROWING OFF REPUBLICAN SHACKLES IS BOUNDING FORWARD ON A CAREER OF UNEXAMPLIFIED PROSPERITY; SO WILL THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT UNDER THE SAME WISE AND PATRIOTIC MANAGEMENT. THE START HAS BEEN MADE, EXPENSES HAVE BEEN CUT DOWN, THE TAXES HAVE BEEN REVISED AND LOWERED SO THAT THE PEOPLE ARE TO-DAY PURCHASING MANY ARTICLES CHEAPER THAN THEY EVER DID BEFORE. IT IS WELL FOR THE PEOPLE TO KEEP THESE FACTS IN MIND.

The Democratic congressional campaign committee has issued an interesting statement showing the manner in which the Republicans made a way with the enormous surplus in the Treasury turned over to them by the Democratic administration in 1886. A comparison of the debt statement issued March 1, 1889, with that issued by the Treasury March 1, 1893, which all the items included in the latter as available funds are added to the former, shows that Mr. Cleveland's first administration left a surplus of $330,349,916.12 in the Treasury. This enormous sum was not named in the statement of 1889 for the reason that at that time the Democrats did not include the gold reserve, the subsidiary coin and other funds in their statement of available cash in the Treasury. The Republicans, however, after squandering in three years $47,997,807.32 in paying a premium on bonds and wasting money in other directions found it necessary in order to make a favorable statement of the condition of the Treasury to revise the methods of accounting, and added the gold reserve, the subsidiary coin and other moneys held for the redemption of notes to the statement of available cash. If the same form of statement used by the Democrats had been retained, it would have shown that there was not a dollar of available cash in the Treasury.

The statement goes on to show that from July 1, 1894 to the close of the Harrison administration the Treasury was practically bankrupt. The last statement issued in 1893 places the net cash balance at $24,128,977.88 and of this amount $11,497,839.74 was subsidiary coin. The Republican administration had started with hundreds of millions and would up with dimes and nickels. The need for an issuance of bonds was apparent long before the close of the administration, but Mr. Harrison preferred turning over a bankrupt Treasury to his successor rather than call attention to the mismanagement which had brought about such disastrous results.

In summing up the differences in the financial management of the two administrations the statement shows that, including the gold reserve, the Democrats turned over to Harrison $220,348,916.12 as available cash, while four years later the Republicans turned over to Democrats but $162,492,920.78, having reduced the so-called surplus $187,830,738.31. The panic of 1893 was, the statement shows, clearly attributable to the condition of the Treasury and the effect upon the public credit of Republican extravagance.
