Between vaccination against typhoid fever and the more and more stringent precautions against the transmission of the disease it promises to be of much less frequent occurrence than formerly. Science is marching on. The only trouble, or at least one very great trouble is in getting folks to acknowledge its authority.

"In South America," says Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of Foreign Affairs, who is touring this country, "we are working to increase our beef production to avail ourselves of the world market through the elimination of the ranges of North America." South America as well as South America want to get in the business of supplying the world market including the South itself with beef. It is one of the most promising of all the industries that the South is wonderfully well adapted to it. To follow it successfully of course requires brains and energy and our Southern folks are not lacking in those respects. So let the South do its part in the direction of increasing the South American stock raising to have too much of a picnic in supplying the world with beef.

HOW IS IT DONE?

A news item from Battle Creek, Mich., tells of a woman 72 years old who has never lost a tooth. She has three small fillings which were put in on account of discoloration and not because of cavities. But the news item is not at all complete. How was the woman able to save her teeth so well? What variety of tooth powder has she been using? How many times a day does she wash her teeth? What influence does her case show heredity to have on teeth? Has she refrained from taking medicines and eating candy or does her case prove that the popular notions as to the tooth destroying qualities of those articles are mistaken ones? There are plenty of folks who can give the information as to how to make one's teeth last indefinitely, but their advice and suggestions are by no means in the same class with the advice and suggestions of a person who like the Michigan woman is a living illustration of how the trick can be turned. The reading public is entitled to another installment of news from Battle Creek.

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Some new members on the State Board of Health are Dr. Edward J. Wood of Wilmington, Dr. A. A. Kent of Lenoir and Dr. Cyrus Thompson of Jacksonville. Dr. Wood has won a good deal of fame by reason of his researches in connection with one of the new-fangled diseases—pellagra we believe it is—and Dr. Thompson is well known in this section as being deeply interested in the public health as well as thoroughly capable to give expert advice as to the best means of preventing disease. Dr. Kent is not so well known in this part of the State, but he is probably a man of the same type as Drs. Wood and Thompson. It is very important to the public who constitute the State Board of Health. Hence we are calling attention to the live and progressive physicians who have been placed on the board in the place of others who have resigned or whose terms have expired.

recent years has been very effective indeed and we don't doubt that its activities in its other departments of work have been just as marked. The members of this board are the conservators of the life and health of the people and it is difficult to conceive of more important public duties than theirs.

MANY "WELL-OFF" PEOPLE IN THIS COUNTRY.

Forty three million dollars worth of precious stones were imported into this country through the New York custom house in eleven months and the figures are certainly calculated to indicate that there is a large percentage of the people with whom the problem of getting enough to eat and clothes to cover their nakedness is not a pressing one. The fact that the American people have so much money for the adornment of themselves and of those they love shows that there is a great multitude of what might be called good lives. To a great extent, too, their ability to buy and use or buy and give away this great quantity of gems is due to superior industry and application. The reward of financial independence comes to those who shuck their coats, get busy and stay busy. Those who lag and who hunt for the soft snaps never get on easy street.

NEW AUTOMOBILE LAW.

Some of the Principal Points in State Rules Now In Effect.

Some of the principal points of the new automobile law are: All automobile owners must have the machines registered by the last day of June and any who have not registered by that time will be violating the law to use them the first day of July or thereafter. The speed limit is ten miles an hour in business sections of towns and cities, fifteen in residence section, and twenty-five in country districts, though it must at all times be "reasonable and proper" in connection with particular circumstances, and any incorporated towns or cities have the right to make the speed limit less than stipulated, but can not allow it to be more. The tax is five dollars for 25 horsepower cars, $7.50 for forty horsepower, and ten dollars for those over forty horsepower. Eighty per cent of the revenue from this tax goes to the counties which pay it and to be used for good roads. As it is estimated that there will be nine thousand cars to pay the tax in North Carolina, this will be a considerable amount.

No person under sixteen years of age is allowed to drive a car anywhere in the State. The car must have on the rear a conspicuous sign furnished by the Secretary of State displaying the number of the car so that it may be plainly visible for fifty feet day or night, and at night a red light must be so placed as to shine on this number which must at all times be kept clean. Other provisions provide for enforcement of the law and for passing to the right and other directions as to general safety under all circumstances. It is made the duty of all police officers, constables, etc., to enforce the law, and if strictly enforced it will injure no one who is riding for real pleasure or for business, but only those who are using the public highways without any regard to the life and pleasure and business of others.

There is more Catarrh in this section in the country than all other diseases but together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful.
