ITINERARY FOR MALARIA EXPERT

Surgeon Carter Will Begin Series Of Lectures On Monday Night In Elizabeth City.

OTHER DATES INDEFINITE

He Says That In Two Years Malaria Can Be Reduced Ninety Per Cent.

Washington, D. C. August 8.—Elizabeth City, Hertford, Edenton, Plymouth, Washington, Greenville, Williamstown, Ahoskie, New Bern and Goldsboro will be the itinerary of Surgeon Henry R. Carter, of the United States public health service, who will make a tour of East Carolina towns investigating mosquito conditions and suggesting methods of eradication. His itinerary was announced, following a conference with Representative Small.

Elizabeth City gets the first visit, which will be next Monday, the 11th. Dr. Carter will spend from two days to a week in each place. Consequently the dates of his other visits are indefinite.

Dr. Carter will investigate the varieties of mosquitos, their breeding places, their relation to malaria and will formulate suggestions to the municipal authorities by which they can eradicate the mosquitos and gradually eliminate malaria. He expresses the opinion that in two years each community can reduce the number of malarial cases by 90 per cent. At the conclusion of his visit to each community he will deliver a lecture to the profession and citizens, illustrated by stereopticon views.

Surgeon Carter is one of the well known experts in the United States on malaria. He was the chief division commander under Colonel Gorgas in the sanitation of the Canal zone, having charge of the work of ridding the zone of malaria and yellow fever by exterminating the mosquito.

Mr. Small expresses the opinion that the result of his visit will be to so educate these respective communities as to enable them to control this preventable disease, and that the good work thus instituted will spread to the other towns and the rural communities.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, is co-operating actively in this work of sanitation with Surgeon Carter. In addition, the mayors and the health superintendents in each of the above towns have indicated by letters to the surgeon general their keen interest in this important public service.

This work could not have been instituted without the sanction of Surgeon General Rupert Blue. From its inception he has exhibited intense interest and satisfaction in the performance of his service.

WORLD GROWING CRAZY AT ALARMING RATE.

London, Aug. 8.—The most alarming ill-health symptom in the world today is the increase of insanity, according to Sir James Browne, one of England's best-known alienists.

Presiding in the psychiatric section of the Seventeenth International Congress of Medicine today, Sir James declared that the world-wide increase of lunacy is most alarming and most unaccountable.

He said that in England alone insanity has increased 276 per cent. since 1859, against a population increase of only 87 per cent.

MANY PERSONS PLACE THEIR NAME ON THIS LIST.

A number of persons have placed their name on the list which H. E. Royall is getting up for those who desire to go to Wilmington on the special train next Wednesday to witness the horse wagon races at the State Firemen's Tournament. The Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company have agreed to operate this train if a sufficient number of passengers can be secured to warrant it. If you desire to make this trip, telephone or call at Mr. Royall's store and place your name on the list.

M'ADOO'S BUTTERMILK.

Bryan's Grape Juice And Wilson Orangeade Have A Rival.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Somehow or other the Wilson Administration just cannot agree on the subject of drink. Further disruption came to light with the discovery that William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, is a buttermilk fan.

William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, insists on grape juice. President Wilson, on the other hand, thinks nothing will do but orange juice. But Mr. McAdoo casts these two beverages aside with scorn.

Twice every day Mr. McAdoo's door tender serves a glass of fresh buttermilk in the Secretary's private office. This is one of the door tender's chief duties, and he is punctual, arriving promptly at 11 o'clock and 4:30.

WHITMAN TO RUN WITH MITCHEL

ANTI-TAMMANY TICKET IN NEW YORK NOW PRESENTS SOLID FRONT.

New York, Aug. 8.—The anti-Tammany Fusion ticket for the municipal election next November will have a solid front, following the announcement by District Attorney Whitman that he will accept renomination on the Fusion ticket and make the race along with John Purroy Mitchel and George McAneny. All three men were candidates for the Fusion Mayoralty nomination. Mitchel won it. McAneny then was named for President of the Board of Aldermen and Whitman was renominated for District Attorney. Whitman, being a Republican, there was some doubt as to whether he would remain on the ticket with Mitchel, Democratic appointee of President Wilson as Collector of the Port.

The Fusionists were overjoyed at the announcement by Whitman, which followed a conference he held with his friends. The Fusion leaders now believe that with a solid front they will "give Tammany the hardest fight the Tiger ever saw."

WILLIAM J. BRYAN'S SECRETARY WRITES LETTER.

J. Leon Williams, secretary of the Eastern Carolina Fair Association Company is in receipt of a letter from the secretary of William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, stating that at present Mr. Bryan is unable to definitely state whether he will be able to come to New Bern to deliver the opening address at the next annual Fair. The letter states that Mr. Bryan will give his decision later on.

Our programme today is unsurpassed. We start off with a Vitagraph production:

"The Way Out." Featuring Maurice Costello and Miss Flora Finch, the two best players of the Vitagraph Co. "The Way Out" is a drama of great power and acted by an all star cast. Next is "Broncho Billy's Capture." This is a thrilling Western drama, with Broncho Billy at his best.

"The Reward Of Service." An old soldier, past earning his living, finds himself unwelcome at his own son's home. Wearing his faded uniform he wends his way to Washington, where the proper authorities receive and care for him. This picture tells of a pathetic story. T. C. Etheridge left last evening for Waynesville where he will attend the Epworth League convention to be held there next week.

MANY CONCERNED IN SEGREGATION

Baltimorean Has Matter Up Which Is Receiving Much Attention.

MANY CITIES INTERESTED

Clinton Man To Offer Appropriate Bill At Special Session Of Legislature.

Baltimore, Md., August 8.—That a number of cities throughout the South are exceedingly interested in the race segregation proposition in Baltimore, and are watching every move in the matter here is indicated by the letters that are being received at the City Hall by Dr. Horace E. Flack, head of the Department of Legislative Reference.

Several cities in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia have passed segregation measures since the question was first agitated here in 1909, and their officials have asked Dr. Flack to advise them of the action of the courts in test cases.

Col. George L. Peterson, of Clinton, N. C., informs Dr. Flack that he proposes to offer a State wide race segregation bill at a special session of the State Legislature in September. Copies of the West and Dashiell ordinances were sent him and the opinion of the Court of Appeals on the West measure will be forwarded to Clinton as soon as it is filed in Annapolis. Copies of the decision will also be sent broadcast throughout the South, in compliance with requests that have reached Dr. Flack from many places.

Among the cities that have passed segregation measures since Baltimore acted are Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke, Danville, Ashland, Va.; Greenville, S. C.; Atlanta, Ga., and Winston-Salem, N. C. Many of these cities followed the Dashiell ordinance. Others accepted the West ordinance, just declared invalid by the Court of Appeals.

The Virginia Legislature has enacted a law authorizing all cities in the State to segregate the races.

Richmond seems to have the most satisfactory ordinance on the subject. In a letter received at the City Hall from H. R. Pollard, City Attorney of Richmond, the statement is made that the law "has given great satisfaction to the community and is having the effect of securing solidarity of each race in its particular district."

Mr. Pollard says, however, that some complaint has been heard in Richmond, and that some efforts to test its constitutionality have been provoked. "Yet to the present time," Mr. Pollard writes, "there has been no organized effort to that end."

Atlanta followed the West ordinance but omitted the provision dealing with schoolhouses and churches in segregated districts. Officials of Atlanta and Norfolk have written to Dr. Flack for copies of the decision of the Court of Appeals.

Dr. Flack has also been advised that segregation measures have been introduced in St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.

NINETY-SIX DEGREES WAS MAXIMUM TEMPERATURE.

The report of Special Weather Observer James B. Hill for the month of July shows that the maximum temperature for the month was ninety-six degrees and that the lowest was fifty-nine degrees. The total precipitation for the month was 10.60 inches. The greatest amount of rainfall in twenty-four hours occurred on July 19 when three and one-quarter inches of water fell.

In the list of directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company as published in the Journal yesterday morning, the name of C. E. Foy appeared in the place of C. B. Foy. The latter is a director of the road, the former is not. The name of T. G. Hyman was unintentionally omitted from the list of directors.

Miss Hilda Mow of Elizabeth City, who has been visiting Miss Jessie Ippock returned home yesterday.

Miss Emily Mitchell, of Bath, is a guest of Mrs. J. A. Rankin on East Front street.

INTERESTED NEXT IN THE HOUSE

When Currency Bill Comes Up Monday Attention Of Country Will Be Focussed There.

HOUSE NOW MARKING TIME

Next Week, Along With Senate. It Will Be Making An Administration Measure.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Now that the Glass or administration currency bill has been reported by the majority of the Democratic members of the banking and currency committee for consideration by the Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives next Monday, interest in the situation at the House wing of the Capitol revives. We shall soon have the spectacle of both ends of the Congress working on big administration measures, a sight that has not been seen for some time. The House has been doing practically nothing as a whole since it sent the Underwood tariff bill over to the Senate, because it had to wait for the banking and currency committee Democrats to report out a proposition.

When the Underwood bill reached the Senate it became the Underwood-Simmons bill. When the Glass bill reaches the Senate it will become the Glass-Owen bill. The first name of the hyphenated designation is that of the chairman of the House committee reporting the measure, and the second name is that of the chairman of the corresponding committee in the Senate. That is why the present tariff is known as the Payne-Aldrich tariff and the present emergency currency act as the Vreeland-Aldrich act.

Until this Congress the finance committee of the Senate handled both the tariff and the currency, so that the chairman of that committee had a double chance of getting his name engraved upon the tablets of the nation's history—though as a compensation, the House committee chairman has nearly always had the "advertising", when the public has disregarded the hyphenated term and insisted on using one name. For instance, it was the McKinley tariff, the Wilson tariff, the Dingley tariff; and it is the Vreeland emergency currency act.

Aldrich seems to have been about the only Senator whose name has been much used by the public in its unhyphenated designation of a tariff law. That fact is to some extent accounted for by the former senator's unpopularity—his name was played up "to kill" and did kill at least one very big measure, if not one very big party.

Not to digress too much, however, it may be said that the minority Democratic opposition to the Glass bill made less impression upon the measure in committee than was at one time expected, and there is small reason to doubt that the caucus, after a noisy session, will put the party seal upon the measure substantially as it has come from the committee. That means the overwhelming adoption of the bill by the House and its transmission to the Senate with the impetus behind it in addition to the tremendous force of the President's leadership.

Few who observe the administration at close hand will contend that it has not made mistakes, both of omission and commission; but it is generally realized that the severe confidence and power, the sheer cool genius for management and direction, which Mr. Wilson has been exhibiting as Chief Executive have not been equalled at the White House for a great many years. Opposition seems to crumble before him, and those who have studied the course of things since March 4 are inclined to discount the grumblings and threats now heard in the Senate as to the unwisdom of pushing a measure at the present session. The United States Senate is not what it used to be. It has a tendency since the amendment for popular elections of Senators was passed, to outdo the House in opposing to what it believes to be public opinion. Congress is very much peeved with the president, but it isn't prepared to defy him.

T. A. Brinson, Adam Bennett and G. T. Bennett, of Arapahoe, were business visitors in the city yesterday.

FOR HOME PRODUCTS.

Wisons Believe In Patronizing The Stores Around Home.

Windsor, Vt., Aug. 8.—Mrs. Wilson wife of the President, is setting an example here that local storekeepers wish other summer residents would follow. Since the arrival of the Wilson family practically everything in the way of household supplies has been purchased in Windsor. Most of the summer residents have their groceries and household supplies shipped from Boston or New York under the impression that they can get better quality and variety. The Wilsons hadn't been in town two days before Mrs. Jeffries, the housekeeper, began what are now daily visits to the local butcher shop and grocery and the stalls where truck farmers sell fresh vegetables and green goods.

ELOPERS' BOAT IS BEATEN BY TRAIN

IN RACE FROM ALBANY TO NEW YORK LOCOMOTIVE TOO FAST FOR STEAMER.

New York, Aug. 8.—A Hudson river steamboat with Cupid as pilot ran a race from Albany with a steam train on which Parental Ice was a passenger yesterday and the boat lost.

Charles Martin, Jr., of Mechanicsville, and his tearful 18-year-old cousin, Rosa Mastrenamo, with whom he eloped, were on the boat and because the elder Martin was on the train the elopers went to Elizabeth Street Police Station instead of the City Hall.

Charles Martin, father of the youth, charged his son with stealing $100 from his mother in order to induce the police to arrest the pair when they stepped from the steamer, Charles W. Morse. But the boy denied the charge.

When they were brought before Magistrate Barlow, in the Tombs Police Court, the father withdrew the charge of theft and persuaded the magistrate to hold Charles for abduction. He said his son was 19 years old and the girl 17. The father said that his son's real name is Mastrenamo and that the boy and girl were first cousins, their fathers being brothers. That, he said, was the objection of both families to the marriage.

Martin was held in $1,000 bail for abduction and the girl was held in half that amount on a vagrancy charge, pending the arrival of her father and officers from Mechanicsville.

CONFIDENT OF CONVICTION.

Judge's Ruling Gives Prosecution Confidence In Diggs Case Confidence

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 8.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Maurice Diggs on the charge of having conspired to violate the white slave law, proceeded today with the prosecution proclaiming absolute confidence of conviction, by reason of Judge Vanfleef's ruling yesterday on the question of the character of women in such cases. "If Diggs bought the girl's transportation to Reno, the girl's antecedents and manner of her going whether publicly and openly or secretly and clandestinely, can have no bearing on the case," said the judge. Even if women were public prostitutes, he said, that would have nothing to do with the issue.

Buster Brown and his dog Tige will be seen at Ghent Park tonight in moving pictures. The antics of these two are very funny and well worth seeing. In addition to this there is a good two reel feature picture. Read the program on another page of this issue.

VIRGINIA BOATMAN HELD FOR COURT

Owner Of The Yacht Gracee Was Required To Give A Fifty Dollar Bond.

MAYOR HOLDS INTOXICANTS

Solicitor Advises Officials To Retain Possession Of The Whiskey And Beer.

George Marshall, owner and captain of the yacht Gracee of Gloucester county, Va., on board of which Chief of Police C. Lupton and Policeman A. L. Bryan Thursday found more than a thousand bottles of beer and twenty-five or more gallons of whiskey, was arraigned before Mayor A. H. Bangert yesterday morning on a warrant charging him with violating the prohibition laws of North Carolina by having more than a certain amount of intoxicants in his possession.

The defendant was represented by R. B. Nixon while Attorney D. E. Henderson looked after the interests of the State. Quite a number of witnesses were examined and they told of seeing the liquor on Marshall's boat as she lay at the dock at the foot of Craven street, and of the fact that the vessel's engine was out of commission and that this was being repaired.

The taking of evidence consumed some time and the arguments in the case were deferred until yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. At that hour the session of court was reconvened. R. B. Nixon made the first speech and for more than an hour endeavored to convince Mayor Bangert that he had no right to hold Marshall. Mr. Henderson followed with a speech which consumed a comparatively short time, but in which he set forth numerous reasons why the Mayor should hold the defendant, and at the conclusion of the hearing Mayor Bangert found probable cause and bound him over to the next term of Craven county Superior Court under a bond of fifty dollars. Several hours elapsed before Marshall secured this bond with W. A. McIntosh as security.

This case is an unusual one and more than usual interest has been manifested in it. Marshall claims that he was on his way to Florida where he was to have used his craft as a pleasure boat and that the whiskey and beer he had on board was intended for sale in those waters. He says that he has a government license to sell whiskey and beer and that he has not sold any of the wet goods at this port.

While attempting to go through the Inland Waterway Canal the engine of his vessel broke down and he was forced to come to New Bern for repairs. He arrived here Monday and Thursday afternoon his vessel was raided. When Marshall was released on bond Mayor Bangert told him that the whiskey would be held until court. This Marshall very vehemently objected to, even going so far as to say that if the whiskey was held that the authorities could hold him and his boat also.

While local attorneys advised Mayor Bangert that he had a perfect right to hold the whiskey, he thought it best to get the opinion of Solicitor Charles L. Abernethy and last night had a talk with him over the telephone at his home in Beaufort, and was told by the Solicitor that he had acted wisely in the matter and by all means to hold the whiskey and beer.

A bond of fifty dollars seems very light for an offense of this kind but Mayor Bangert took into consideration the fact that the several hundred dollars worth of wet goods would help to keep Marshall here until the next term of court.

FIRE COMPANIES SAVE DWELLING FROM DESTRUCTION.

An alarm of fire turned in at box fifty-two shortly after 10 o'clock last night called the fire companies to extinguish a blaze in a two story dwelling on Ashe street in the north-west part of the city. The companies responded quickly and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before the flames had gained much headway. The building was occupied by a family of colored people and the damage probably amount to two hundred dollars.
