

HAIR TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY.

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmothers' time. The Sage hair tea beautifully darkened, thickened and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and one-of-a-kind. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By mixing at any drug store for the ready-made product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Working the Mines of the Rand.

That Africa, with its millions of idle negroes, should suffer from scarcity of labor seems to the outsider incredible, but it is a fact that the securing and distribution of labor is the most vital factor in the economic life of the continent south of the equator. It has been estimated that the Rand pays $300,000 a year to recruit the contingent from Portuguese East Africa alone, this sum covering only the expense of getting the "boys" from their homes and back again. A nonsalaried recruiter gets $5 for every boy he persuades to go to the mines. It is by supplying the Rand with 50,000 to 60,000 boys annually that the province of Mozambique draws directly and indirectly by far the larger part of its revenue.

Not in the Song.

All over the house went little Kathleen singing lustily, "There's a Friend For Little Children." Her benevolent old aunt, seeing at last, as she hoped, some signs of grace in one whom she had almost given up at the early age of six as hopeless, called Kathleen to her with great satisfaction.

"And who is the friend for little children, dear?" she asked.

"I don't know," replied Kathleen gaily. "It doesn't come out in the song."—Manchester Guardian.

Has a Clear Case.

Clarence—As I understand it, the boy, old Grotos first told you that you could have his daughter and then went back on his word? Willy—That's just "bout the size of it, nab jore. Clarence—Then denice it, old chap, I should sue him for nonsupport, that's all.—Puck.

Kind Hearted.

Boy Mendicant—Yus, kind lady, there's sov'n or us at 'ome, or starvin'. Murrer takes to washin', she do, but she's took ill. Farver, 'e was too kind hearted, 'e was, 'e sed 'e wouldn't see us starve, so 'e run away and left us.—London Telegraph.

A Bird Puzzle.

"Papa," said little Jamie, "why does 'birds go lookin' for worms to eat when they can lay themselves a egg and eat that? Eggs is nicer than worms."—St. Louis Republic.

The thick show tells the only furniture needed in a Japanese house. They are three by six feet in size and take the place of table, bed and chair. The house is never heated. In winter the people put on thick, padded kimono, sit on their feet and hold their hands over a little charcoal brazier. For recreation they go out to the family burying ground to worship the spirits of their ancestors or to a shrine to see the cherry blossoms. If earthquakes, which are as common there as thunderstorms here, shake down the little houses or they are swept away by the fire that a proverb says sweeps Tokyo every seven years the little brown folks only smile and murmur "Shikata ga nai" (There is no help for it).—New York Sun.

They Didn't Like Razors. Said Daniel Webster: "The razor! It has taught me to curse. It has cost me more time and more trouble than all my speeches." Rufus Choate, the lawyer, called the razor an instrument invented by Lucifer to fill up hell with barristers. Edward Everett never used profane language, but before shaving he would invariably give vent to all sorts of French barbarisms.

The Retort. Here is a retort which a "dull student" once made: Professor—You seem to be very dull. When Alexander the Great was your age he had already conquered the world. Student—Well, you see, he had Aristotle for a teacher.—Chambers' Journal.

To Encourage the Feminist Movement. A Sicilian widower of the name of Cilento, who died recently, left $10,000 to promote the feminist movement in Italy and $4,000 as a legacy to the first woman deputy.

A Master-Model of the Royal That Has Achieved a Type-writer Triumph!

ONE STANDARD MODEL FOR ALL PURPOSES One Type writer with the Combined Advantages of Many!

Here are the straightforward facts showing WHY and HOW the Royal has affected the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars to typewriter users everywhere:

FACT 1—25 per cent saving in the reduced initial cost of each unit in your typewriter equipment—the Royal sells for $75.00 giving you the benefit of immense production in the most modern typewriter factory in the world.

FACT 2—A saving in the number of machines used—the same standard model of the Royal that turns out your correspondence does the "special" classes of billing and accounting work without any "special attachments," and typewrites tags, tabs, labels, record-slips and cards of every known form.

FACT 3—Economy without a parallel in service and "up-keep"—an almost repairless durability, backed by an ironclad guarantee. THE BEST BUILT TYPEWRITER IN THE WORLD The Master-Model permits using extra wide paper with the same standard carriage.

This standard model is also a practical billing-machine. Moreover, it is a specially equipped card-machine. Like a Master-Key, it unlocks all the doors of "Business!" ALL of these SPECIAL FEATURES are combined in ONE typewriter—a MASTER-MODEL of the Royal! That simple phrase tells all!

Let us demonstrate, without obligation to you, this MASTER-MODEL in your own office.

Read the Royal guarantee:

WE GUARANTEE That the Royal Standard Typewriter is made of the highest grade materials obtainable and by the most skillful workmen money can hire. That it will do work of the BEST quality for a greater length of time at LESS expense for upkeep than any other typewriter, regardless of price.
