"The Leopard's Spots"

Thomas Dixon, Author Of "The Leopard's Spots" Rehearsing The Play to The Company.

AN ALL-ROUND MAN.

Author Of "The Leopard's Spots" Has Seen Service

Thomas Dixon, the famous Southern author, whose new play "The Leopard's Spots" adapted from his well known book of that name is to be seen here on October 13, occupies a unique position in American theatricals. He is an author, dramatist, stage director, actor and manager.

Heretofore he has produced all his plays in association with other managers but this season he has adopted a plan whereby he will hereafter present his plays under his sole management.

Mr. Dixon personally staged his new production of "The Leopard's Spots," rehearsing the company and directing all the business matters himself. He is sending this attraction on a tour of the principal cities of the South. In addition he has, a company appearing in his former success, "The Sins of the Fathers," in the North and West this season.

COMING SHOW FULL OF LAUGHS

"THE LITTLE MILLIONAIRE" IS ONE OF THE SEASON'S BIGGEST "HITS."

The Knoxville (Tenn. Journal) has the following to say of "The Little Millionaire," which will be seen in New Bern on October 17th.

"George M. Cohan's latest musical farce, "The Little Millionaire," featuring Bert Leigh and Hazel Burgess, was the attraction yesterday afternoon and night at Staub's theatre, and two large sized audiences witnessed the production. The show was pronounced a success by all who saw it.

"Bert Leigh, as "Bill Costigan," was by far the finest character in the company, while Miss Burgess, as "Miss Primper," the maid, was also good. "The Little Millionaire," as it was billed, "a musical farce," filled the bill exactly. It is a clean comedy, and is played by a strong company. The chorus is small, but strong and well trained.

"The play is a good one. A situation arises in the first act which when developed, furnishes many laughs and proves very interesting. Young Herbert Spooner, the young millionaire, is engaged to be married but his friend, Bill Costigan, is trying to prevent the wedding, he himself having once been married and now paying a thousand dollars a month alimony, but his interest in the affair is not appreciated. Spooner's father is returning suddenly from Europe and it later develops he, too, is engaged to be married, and the fun begins when the elder and the younger Spooner meet. Each has his fiancée come to the Spooner home and when they meet it is found that the aunt of the younger Spooner's future bride is the enemy of the elder Spooner's future. Then it is developed that Costigan's divorced wife and the future Mrs. Spooner, Sr., are one and the same, while the aunt of the younger future Mrs. Spooner was the "other woman" in the case. Finally all ends well. Costigan is re-united with his wife, the elder Spooner marries the "other woman," and the young couple are married.

"Helping the play very materially is a good company of performers, who add life to it. Each part is well cast and there was not a weak place. The parts of "Henry Spooner," played by Eugene Phelps; "Birdie Busy," played by Blanche Harrington; "George Russell," by William F. Schellen, and "Goldie Gray," played by Miss Hellen Leigh, were especially well cast.

"During the progress of the play several catchy songs were introduced. There was a quartette number that took especially well."

A Master-Model of the Royal That Has Achieved a Typewriter Triumph!

ONE STANDARD MODEL FOR ALL PURPOSES
One Type writer with the Combined Advantages of Many!
Here are the straightforward facts showing WHY and HOW the Royal has affected the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars to typewriter users everywhere:

FACT 1—25 per cent. saving in the reduced initial cost of each unit in your typewriter equipment—the Royal sells for $75.00 giving you the benefit of immense production in the most modern typewriter factory in the world.

FACT 2—A saving in the number of machines used—the same standard model of the Royal that turns out your correspondence does the "special" classes of billing and accounting work without any "special attachments," and typewrites tags, tabs, labels, record-slips and cards of every known form.

FACT 3—Economy without a parallel in service and "up-keep"—an almost repairless durability, backed by an ironclad guarantee. THE BEST BUILT TYPEWRITER IN THE WORLD

The Master-Model permits using extra wide paper with the same standard carriage. This standard model is also a practical billing-machine. Moreover, it is a specially equipped card-machine. Like a Master-Key, it unlocks all the doors of "Business!" ALL of these SPECIAL FEATURES are combined in ONE typewriter—a MASTER-MODEL of the Royal! That simple phrase tells all! Let us demonstrate, without obligation to you, this MASTER-MODEL in your own office.

Read the Royal guarantee:

WE GUARANTEE That the Royal Standard Typewriter is made of the highest grade materials obtainable and by the most skillful workmen money can hire. That it will do work of the BEST quality for a greater length of time at LESS expense for up-keep than any other typewriter, regardless of price.
