"THE GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD" COMING SOON.

"The Girl of the Underworld" that plays at the Masonic Theatre, October 15, has the distinction of being the best comedy drama before the public. In some cases it has been the prevailing thought that "The Girl of the Underworld" is risqué, vulgar and suggestive. Its author, Jack Gorman, wishes to announce emphatically that "The Girl of the Underworld" will not offend or cause one pang of shame during its four beautiful acts. There is not one suggestive line in this play. Mothers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts, don't for one hesitate about seeing "The Girl of the Underworld." It tells the truth, it tells facts; it is a great big, grand one night's entertainment. See a touch of true to nature sentiment in "The Girl of the Underworld." You will be better morally, physically, mentally, and intellectually after seeing the greatest play in a decade.

"THE LITTLE MILLIONAIRE."
MUSICAL COMEDY COMPANY
FEATURES BERT LEIGH.

At the Masonic Theatre on October 17, with Bert Leigh and Hazelle Burgess as its stars, Geo. M. Cohan's musical farce "The Little Millionaire" will be presented.

When it comes to building a play with structural comedy appeal from foundation to turret, re-inforced by a superstructure of melodic charm, the architectural palm is conceded to Geo. M. Cohan, and "The Little Millionaire" is by far the most enjoyable piece of work so far submitted by this past master in musical comedy craftsmanship.

In "The Little Millionaire" he is said to have again demonstrated his infallibility of gauging the public pulse by furnishing in "The Little Millionaire" an entertainment that for wholesome, invigorating and laugh-compelling fun outclasses in point of witty character and charm of melodic composition, any play that has so far fallen from the magic pen of this author of a long line of successes.

ELEPHANTS FORM A BRASS BAND.

A brass band of elephants is the latest achievement in the art of animal training. It is one of the striking features of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on earth which will be seen in New Bern, Saturday, October fourth.

These elephants do not merely make a noise on the instruments of a brass band. They get real harmony out of them. The audience may easily recognize their tunes, for they are selected from among the old songs that everybody knows. They play "Home Sweet Home," and "The Last Rose of Summer," perhaps not as well as Sousa's Band can, but certainly better than they are rendered by the average village band. One big elephant sounds all the regulation bugle calls as a prelude to a march number. The big drummer uses his tail instead of the usual buckskin stick.

There is also a remarkable company of bell-ringing horses. This is their first appearance in America and they are proving a huge success as entertainers. Still other trained animal features are introduced by Capt. Winston's riding and juggling seals and sea lions and Berzac's laughable mule and pony circus.

The acrobats, gymnasts aerialists and equestrians with the circus have quite as many novelties to offer as the animal trainers and the clowns are an irresistible bunch of funny men. The menagerie is the finest and most complete in the country. In it is to be seen the only baby giraffe on exhibition in the world. It was born last February. The performance in the main tent begins with the great spectacle of "Cleopatra," enacted by a cast of 1,250 characters.

"THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
Thomas Dixon's new play, "The Leopard's Spots" will be seen here at the Masonic Theatre, October 13.

"The Leopard's Spots," in book form, the only answer to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" ever written, gave to the South a voice in the forum of the world. The play does more. It gives the people of the South a full realization of existing conditions and a stirring prophecy of the future of the Negro and his relations to the white race.

This intensely gripping play is a dramatization of the novel by its famous author, Thomas Dixon, the best informed man in America today on this question. Mr. Dixon has given twenty years of his life to the study of this subject.
