

DEEDS NOT WORDS

New Bern People Have Absolute Proof Of Deeds At Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove merit.

It's not words but deeds that prove merit. The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For New Bern kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of New Bern people.

H. A. Henderson, 156 George street, New Bern, N. C., says: "I suffered from a dull pain across my loins, with an extreme lameness in my back. I also had inflammation of the bladder and the passages of the kidney secretions pained me. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at the Bradham Drug Co removed the lameness and pain and improved my condition in every way."

No Trouble Since. When Mr. Henderson was interviewed some years later he said: "I willingly confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been free from backache and kidney complaint since I took this remedy. You are welcome to continue the publication of my statement."

TO THE TEACHERS AND SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF CRAVEN COUNTY:

Length of school term. I have received from the State Board of Education the apportionment of the State Equalizing fund.

This fund will extend the school twenty-two days, making the school term in this Craven County, five (5) months and two days.

Of course the local tax districts will have a longer term than this depending upon the amount of additional tax levied in the district.

Let your last voucher, for fifth month, include the proportionate amount due for the last two days, i. e. salary for 22 days.

County Teachers Association. The next meeting of the County Teachers' Association will be held at Dover, Friday March 13th.

An interesting program has been arranged which includes addresses by Dr. Highsmith of Wake Forest College, Supt. Thompson of Onslow County and others.

A visit to the Dover School and a study of methods there used will be a feature of the meeting.

Final arrangements for the County School Commencement will be made and every teacher should be present and have a part in this discussion.

CALL him strong who stands unmoved—Calm as some tempest-beaten rock—When some great trouble huris its shock; We say of him: "His strength is proved."

But when the spent storm folds its wings, How bears he then life's little things?"

WINTER SALADS.

One really has a large field to work from during cold weather by using canned vegetables. There is hardly a meal that all the food is consumed, and a few peas, with the sauce removed, added to the same amount of peanuts and half as much in quantity of chopped sour pickles with a salad dressing, makes a good salad.

A good salad dressing which is reliable and which can be varied as to seasonings is the following: Beat four eggs until foamy, add a half cup of sugar and then turn in a half cup of hot mild vinegar, stirring in a double boiler with the egg whisk all the time it is cooking. The dressing will be creamy, rich and delicious. The amount of dressing needed may be used with whipped cream for fruit salad, with the addition of a little salt.

Hazel Nut Salad.—Shell and blanch filberts or hazel nuts and chop rather fine; do not grind. Then add a cup of grated pineapple, two chopped apples, a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and a little powdered sugar. Let stand, and serve with salad dressing added just before serving.

Marshmallow Salad.—Cut ten cents' worth of fresh marshmallows into quarters with the scissors, add a half cupful of nuts broken in small pieces, the same amount of dates seeded and cut. Pour over a cupful of sweetened whipped cream, stir and mix well, then add a few maraschino cherries.

Date and Cottage Cheese Salad.—Remove the stones from dates and fill with sweetened cottage cheese. Roll the dates in chopped nuts, then in salad dressing and again in nuts. Garnish with candied cherries.

Sweetbread Salad.—Cut cold sweetbreads into small pieces and set on ice. Arrange a bed of lettuce and dispose the sweetbreads in it mixed with nuts. Pour over any boiled dressing and serve very cold.

Cold cooked beets cut in even cubes and mixed with nuts and salad dressing which is colored with the beet liquor makes a most appetizing salad. A little celery and apple may be added for a change.

Any kind of cold cooked fish or canned salmon makes a good salad. Mix with celery, chopped sour pickles and salad dressing.

The KITCHEN GABINET

THE entire object of true education is to make people not merely do the right things, but enjoy them—not merely industrious, but to love industry—not merely learned, but to love knowledge—not merely pure, but to love purity—not merely just, but to hunger and thirst after justice.

—John Ruskin.

THE HOMELY TURNIP.

There is no more delicious, sweet, juicy vegetable, if taken fresh from the field, than the turnip, and its tender crispness is enjoyed eaten from the hand, as is a carrot. If the vegetable is well nasticated they are every bit as good as a radish in the menu.

If the turnip is not tough and full of fiber, it is most deliciously served boiled and mashed, with plenty of butter for seasoning.

Slices of boiled turnip fried until brown make a good accompaniment to sliced cold roast.

English Turnip.—Pell, slice and cut in dice sufficient turnip, then boil in salt water, season with butter, pepper and salt, and serve hot. Any of the turnip which is left may be combined with potato and served with dressing on lettuce.

Turnip Straws.—Cut the turnip on a vegetable slicer into straws, cook in salted water until tender, then saute in butter until brown. Use as a garnish for roast or turkey.

When mashing turnips add to the butter, pepper and salt, a tiny pinch of mustard, and justly a few tablespoonfuls of cream. The addition of mustard must be done with great care. The French people are fond of turnips prepared this way.

Turnip in White Sauce.—Cut turnip in cubes or dice and boil until tender, then serve in a rich white sauce, made of a cup of thin cream, a tablespoonful each of butter and flour. When the butter is bubbling hot add the flour, and when that is well mixed add the cream and a half teaspoonful of salt.

Turnip Fritters.—These are as good as parsley fritters and make an agreeable change. Take a small amount of mashed, seasoned turnip, drop into a fritter batter until coated, then fry in deep fat.
