

MOTHER KILLS LITTLE GIRL IN CONNECTICUT

Feared That She Would Become An Invalid

SPARES AN INFANT SON

After Committing Rash Act She Took Poison And Wanted To Die.

Greenwich, Conn., March 20.—Obsessed with the belief that she was doomed to become a helpless invalid the young wife of William Anthony, a prominent contractor and prominent town official, decided today to kill herself and her children.

Her two little girls, Margery, three years old, and Vivian, two, she first drugged in a stupor with paracetic acid and then drowned in a bathtub of the pretty Anthony villa at Brockbridge Park.

Either forgetting his existence or at the last minute relenting, the young mother spared the life of her third child—a three-months-old boy. He was asleep in his crib when the tragedy was discovered.

Revived At Hospital.

Mrs. Anthony herself took carbolic acid. Tonight at the general hospital antidotes had so far served that the woman had regained consciousness and there was an even hope for recovery. But as soon as she could speak it was only to demand why they had not permitted her to die with her children.

Mrs. Helen Anthony was a native of Nova Scotia. The couple were wedded four years ago and led a most happy life until after the birth of the baby three months ago, since which time Mrs. Anthony has been constantly under a physician's care and suffered fits of keen despondency.

She told Dr. A. J. Clarke, the family physician, again and again that she knew she was developing tuberculosis, and nothing that he could say dispelled this delusion. Two days ago she confided her husband that she feared he was going insane, but he reassured her with statements that she was simply suffering a period of nervousness that would soon pass away.

Husband Discovers Tragedy

Since his wife's illness, Anthony had made it a habit to return to his home early in the afternoon. Usually his wife was anxiously looking for him with her babies about her. But today there was no greeting for the young husband. Instead, he found on a hall table a note addressed to him in his wife's handwriting.

He only read the beginning in which she stated that she realized she was becoming a burden to him; that her health was growing worse and her legs refused to carry her about, and that she intended to end her life and take her children with her.

Anthony rushed up the stairs. He found his wife on the bed in his room her lips burned and the empty carbolic acid bottle near.

He found his two little girls in the water-filled tub lying on their sides face to face. He lifted out their lifeless bodies. In a crib in one of the chambers slumbering in all security was his infant son.

POLICE COURT

Several Cases Disposed Of Yesterday Afternoon.

The following cases were disposed of at yesterday's session of Police Court: Laura Bryant, charged with operating a disorderly house. Found guilty and was given until tomorrow morning to get out of the city and to stay out.

James Gilmor, charged with beating his wife. Found guilty and fined twenty dollars and taxed with the costs of the case.

TRAVELER TRAIN STRIKES AND KILLS A COW

While enroute from Wilmington to this city last evening the locomotive of the Atlantic Coast Line Train struck a cow which had wandered out on the track. As a result the train was delayed for some little time. The animal was killed and the locomotive slightly damaged.

D. M. Stratum spent yesterday in Newport attending to business matters.

GRAND DUKE MICHAEL

A new photograph of the Grand Duke Michael, only brother of the Czar, who, according to rumors in official circles, is returning home after his long exile from Russia for having married below the dignity of the house of Romanoff. The Czar is said to have relented and lifted the ban which kept his brother out of Russia.

BAD WEATHER AGAIN PREVAILS IN NEW BERN

LOW TEMPERATURE ACCOMPANIED BY DRIZZLING RAIN

The weather man was certainly away off the track when he predicted that New Bern would have fair weather yesterday. The complete report was to the effect that it would be fair and cold. The latter part of the prediction hit it just exactly but as for being fair—well, it was anything else but fair.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury was down to twenty-six degrees and it hovered around that locality all during the day and night. In addition to the low temperature a drizzling rain fell all during the day and this aided in making conditions even more "miserable."

In many places the rain froze as soon as it struck the pavements and much ice was in evidence. There is fear that this cold snap has injured the fruit in this section.

SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT

"Seven Hours in New York" At Masonic Theatre

A new aspirant for favor at the hands of the fickle public is the play with music, entitled "Seven Hours in New York." It was originally produced in Boston year ago last June as a summer show. The intention being to keep it on for two or three weeks, until another could be prepared. It met with instantaneous success and was played from June until September in packed houses. For the Fall and Winter season a new production has been built. The entire original cast, with two exceptions, have been retained, as well as many of the chorus girls. The songs are delightfully rendered, the scenery and costumes beautiful, and an evening of enjoyment is promised for all who see "Seven Hours in New York." The date is Monday March 23, Masonic Theatre.

H. C. Lancaster left yesterday morning for Henderson on a business trip.

Steamer To Northern Ports Makes First Trip This Week

Will Leave Norfolk Wednesday, Stop At Washington, And Come On To New Bern On Friday Morning

The first trip of the L. B. Shaw, the steamer to be operated between New Bern and Baltimore, will be made this week. The Journal several days ago told of the securing of this boat line for New Bern and the citizens, especially the business men and shippers, are greatly interested in it.

The boat will leave Norfolk on Wednesday evening and will stop at Washington to take on cargo and will come on to New Bern on Friday, landing at the "Blades" dock, foot of Middle street and all freight will be loaded and unloaded at this point.

The fact that the L. B. Shaw is to make stops at Washington is affording the citizens of that town a great deal of satisfaction. The News of that city yesterday had the following to say in regard to the matter:

"The efforts of the Washington Chamber of Commerce in endeavoring to secure a boat line between Washington Baltimore and Norfolk upon which they have been laboring for some time bids fair to be crowned with success. Secretary Charles A. Flynn of the Chamber, is just in receipt of a letter from Captain E. Henry Deakynne of the Deakynne line, stating that this steamer the L. B. Shaw will arrive in Norfolk on Monday, March 23, for the purpose of loading on freight consigned to merchants in Washington. Any business man in the city having freight ready for shipment at that time will please write Captain E. Henry Deakynne, care of general delivery, Norfolk and the freight will be taken on board and brought to this city. This will be the first trip of the steamer L. B. Shaw. The rates on freight from Norfolk here will be from five to ten cents cheaper on the hundred pounds than the rate now in vogue on the railroads. This line is to be established from Baltimore, Norfolk to Washington and New Bern. The Chamber of Commerce here is endeavoring to have the merchants of the city to meet captain Deakynne on his arrival here for a conference.

"It is stated that while at present there will only one boat placed on the run, another one will be put in commission if the business justifies it.

"If the rates on freight can be secured by the business men of Washington cheaper than those now it behooves them to rally to its support.

"After the steamer L. B. Shaw arrives here next week with freight as he will load for Baltimore and Norfolk and then proceed to New Bern where her cargo will be finished."

ATTENDANCE IMPROVES AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS

HOWEVER IT IS STILL MUCH BELOW WHAT IT SHOULD BE

Written for the Journal.

On Friday morning the spelling bee of the 3 A grade was very interesting. A close of a forty minute period the following remained standing: Olga Paris, George Joyner, Ella Wooten, Louise Joyner, Mercer Baily, Lillian Davis, Fred Shipp, Elizabeth Roberts, Ollie Rhodes, Bessie Lawrence, Carrie Louise Ward, Ivy Cooke, Robert Aldridge, Charlie Pugh, Dorothy Hill, Nettie Hill, Thomas Bayliss, Ivy Belle Long, Sarah Shriner, Mary Moha, Chadwick Uzzell, Maggie Sawyer, and May Deppe.

In this week's phonic contest of the 1 A grade, in which the grade is divided into two sections, the Pinks and the Greens, the Greens won the victory over the Pinks. These contests are very interesting among the little folks, and mothers should come and see how well their children can do.

The Triangular Debating Contest will be held this evening March 21st at 8 p. m., in the Griffin Auditorium, and will be between New Bern and Elizabeth City. The query is "Resolved: that the Constitution of North Carolina should be so amended so as to provide the initiative and referendum in the state wide legislation." New Bern represented by Charles Hollister and Robert Thornton, has the affirmative side, while the negative side will be taken by the Elizabeth City debaters, while the negative side will be taken by the Elizabeth City debaters.

The attendance has improved somewhat he last week, although still below what it should be on account of the numerous cases of measles in the city. The Attendance for the week has been as follows: Monday 802, Tuesday 808, Wednesday 8905, Thursday 806 and Friday 785.

On Friday night March 27th, the music pupils will give a public recital in the Griffin auditorium at 8 o'clock. The public is invited, and an interesting and entertaining program has been arranged. No admission charge will be made.

In the weekly spelling of the 3B grade on Friday, those who remained standing at the close of the period were Bessie McDaniel, Julia Goldman, Laura Smith, Lester Cook, and Ruth Dixon.

The pupils of the 4 A grade who deserve special mention in arithmetic having made 100 on a test of long division are: Bessie Bayliss, Mary Brinson, Elvira Brock, Lida Guiso, Rana Huff, Ruby Hardison, Mary Belo Moore, Carita Miller, Elizabeth Ruth, Elizabeth Richardson, Bessie Sabiston, Richard Godley, Norman Soltes, Macop Miller, Larry Moore, James Rhodes and Marcus Williams.

"ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA" AT THE STAR TOMORROW

THE WORLDS GREATEST MOTION PICTURE TO BE SEEN IN NEW BERN

Tomorrow at the Star theatre will be presented one of the greatest pictures ever made. This is "Antony and Cleopatra," starring Helen Gardner. This picture is in five parts and is more than a mile in length.

Helen Gardner is one of the greatest motion picture actresses of the age and never was she given an opportunity to show her ability as in this picture to be shown tomorrow at the Star theatre.

Infinite pains were taken to make the picture the most profound expression of motion picture art ever achieved. As a tragic romance, aside from the pictorial artistry, the picture, by its deep intensity, its clearness and vigor, its splendid sequential continuity and gripping beauty, its fullness of dramatic and emotional quantities, sets a standard not before attained.

The picture is remarkable for its refined sumptuousness, its tremendous dramatic power and gripping interest, and its entire freedom from those vulgarities common to Oriental dramas. In short, the picture was produced for American men and women of culture and taste.

THIS IS WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Mr. Rawls of the firm of Rawls & Tingle informs us this week that they received a $22.35 dollar check in payment for one car of sweet potatoes, which they had sold the same being refused on account of rotting, which cost them over 200 dollars. This is the great risk they have to take in buying.—Bayboro Sentinel.

KINSTON WILL INVITE DR. EGAN

Kinston, N. C., March 21.—If Maurice Francis Egan, United States Minister to Denmark, comes to America in the coming two months, as is expected, to lecture on Danish agricultural methods to Southern farmers, the Kinston Chamber of Commerce will make an effort to get him to come here. Mr. Egan will visit several places in the South Atlantic States.

E. C. Duncan of the Merchants National Bank of Raleigh was in the city yesterday attending to business matters.

L. F. Swain passed through the city yesterday enroute from Charleston, S. C., to Beaufort.

Dr. Foley made a professional visit to Kinston yesterday.

DR. ARTHUR YAGER

Dr. Yager is governor of Porto Rico. The picture is snapped as he left the White House after a conference with President Wilson. Dr. Yager's trip to Washington was in relation to affairs in the government of Porto Rico.

WILL PAY INCOME TAX UNDER PROTEST

LAWYERS URGING THIS COURSE ON THEIR CLIENTS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., March 21.—That a considerable portion of the income tax will be paid "under protest" so that the money must be refunded in case the law is found by the courts to be unconstitutional became known to officials of the Treasury Department. Some lawyers, it is said, are urging their clients to take this step in the hope that the force of the measure may be broken.

This is a result of the suit filed by the Dodge Brothers of Detroit who charge that the income tax discrimination against the individuals and partnerships in favor of corporations and other actives. All income tax are to be pushed to the Supreme Court of the United States, it is said in the hope that it will hand down a decision like that which knocked out the income tax of the Wilson tariff

NEW BERN DEBATERS DECLARED THE WINNERS

DECLARED THE VICTORS AT WASHINGTON AND ALSO IN THIS CITY

Among the other things that can be said about the boys of the New Bern High School is, that when it comes down to a question of debating, they are right there with the goods. This has been exemplified a number of times and was again proven on Friday night when George Green, Jr., and Charles Wooten went to Washington and upheld the negative side of a debate with two young men from the Washington High School and defeated them.

Last night two young men from the Elizabeth City High School came to New Bern to debate with Charles Hollister and Robert Thornton. The visitors upheld the negative side of the question and their speeches were good, but those made by the local boys were a bit better and they were given the decision.

This triangular debate was held under the auspices of the University of North Carolina.

THE WEATHER

For New Bern and vicinity. Rain slowly rising temperature. Brisk north east and east winds.
