

Mexican Situation Improved But Little Yesterday

Dispatches Received At Washington Were Far From Encouraging. Four Killed By The Explosion Of A Bomb. Americans Meet Death In Mines

(Special to the Journal)
ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, MAZATLAN, MEX., MAY 7. (via Wireless to San Diego, May 7)—Four persons were killed and eight were injured today by the explosion of a bomb that was dropped from a rebel biplane.

Firing between the rebel and federal fortifications continues and in the artillery duel the besieging forces have had the better of it so far.

MARCHING AGAINST SALTILLO

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The vanguard of the constitutionalist forces at Durango and Torreon has started on its march against Saltillo and Zacatecas, according to a report received at the State Department today from Consul Hammett at Turanfo.

Carranza's attitude toward mediation, which, temporarily, at least, has eliminated him from general negotiations aimed at settlement of Mexico's ills, was declared to have been revealed today by his official report of a vigorous rebel military campaign markedly significant victories.

His declaration to enter mediation negotiations was based in part at least on rebel successes, according to constitutionalist representatives here.

While Carranza parleyed with the South American envoys over details of their proposals, these powerful forces were hurled against Federal strongholds. Results of the movement, as reported by Carranza to Rafael Zubaran, interior minister of the constitutionalist cabinet now in Washington, were:

Defeat of 3,600 Federals at Penasco, near San Luis Potosi with the capture of 1,800 prisoners and quantities of arms and ammunition.

Capture of Acaponeta, Tepic, 1,700 men surrendering. One million rounds of ammunition and quantities of arms taken.

Capture of field guns, artillery and ammunition from fleeing artillery and ammunition from fleeing column and evacuated Monterey.

After receipt of his chief's report Minister Zubaran was emphatic in a forecast that within the next month the rebel armies would be investing Huerta's capital.

Minister Zubaran today estimated that more than 40,000 rebel troops were now in the field. Villa, he said had 14,000 soldiers in North Central Mexico; Gonzales 15,000 men threatening Tampico and Obregon 15,000 troops operating on the west coast.

With Carranza definitely eliminated from mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls, Canada, on May 18, the reports of rebel victories overshadowed all else in the Mexican crisis today.

The reports came as a surprise to many observers because it was believed the rebels next move would be aimed at Saltillo.

While Brigadier General Funston had been authorized to extend his lines at Vera Cruz for defensive purposes if that became necessary, the situation there today was reported unchanged.

Confirmation of the capture of the entire federal garrison at Acapaneta Talisco, Tepec, by constitutionalists reached the State Department today from Consular Agent W. Keyes at Rosario.

American Consular Agent Montague has reopened the American consulate at Cananea, Sonora, according to a report to the State Department today from Consul Simpich. He also reports that sixty American refugees have returned to Cananea and that the movement of American refugees from the South has ceased.

ONE AMERICAN AND TWO ENGLISHMEN KILLED

(Special to the Journal)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—One American and two British subjects have been killed at mines in the vicinity of Guadalajara. A Mr. Randsdell, presumably a British subject, and seven Americans, are cut off by bandits in the vicinity. Other Americans are safe. This information came in a dispatch from the British vice consulate at Guadalajara to the British embassy today.

The dispatch to the British embassy was sent in response to an inquiry about conditions at the Cinco Minas mine and the safety of Americans there. It reads:

"Bullion buried. Concentrates stored. Both safe. Americans all safe. One American and two British killed at other mines in Jalisco. All mines shut down completely. Randsdell and seven Americans cut off by bandits as Mascota on Huauchinango. Only fifteen Americans in Jalisco."

The dispatch did not mention the names of the Americans and British killed.

Judson Bayliss, left yesterday morning for Goldaboro.

Mr. Armstrong, of Havelock was a business visitor to the city yesterday.

Georgia Negro Was Lynched Yesterday

Made Threat Against Several Persons When He Was Being Placed In Jail

(Special to the Journal)
AGUSTA, GA., May 7.—Charles Jones, a middle-aged negro was taken from two officers near Grovetown, Ga., while they were carrying him to jail at the county seat, by a crowd of about fifteen white men and lynched. According to information received here Jones was suspected of having stolen some shoes from a Grovetown merchant. Constable Rufus Huffman went to Jones' house and searched it, but failed to find the shoes. In the afternoon the negro showed up at the depot in the center of the town in an intoxicated condition.

He is said to have cursed the constable and declared that he would not permit any white folk to search his home. His manner caused a number of people of the town to tell the "constable to shoot him". The negro bared his breast and is said to have invited any and everyone to shoot, saying that he was not afraid. Several men seized him and in a scuffle the negro was beaten considerably about the head.

He was placed in the lockup and there protested against his wounds being dressed, saying that when he got out he intended to kill every white person connected with his being imprisoned.

He was started on the road to Appling for safekeeping in charge of two deputies last night, but a crowd of men took him away from them about a mile from town and this morning his body was found with a number of bullets through him.

BRILLIANT WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE YESTERDAY

Miss Eleanor Wilson Was The Bride.

WM. G. MCADOO THE GROOM

Miss Wilson Is The Fourteenth "White House" Bride.

(Special to the Journal.)
Washington, D. C., May 7.—Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the President, and William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, were married at the White House today by the Rev. Doctor Sylvester Beach, of Princeton, N. J.

The guests were limited to the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, the Cabinet and the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The ceremony was a contrast to the elaborate affairs of the two previous White House brides, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre.

The bride was charming in her white satin gown. She was attended by her elder sister, Miss Margaret Wilson, as maid of honor. Mrs. Sayre was matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Nona McAdoo, daughter of the bridegroom; Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Wilson's cousin, and Miss Ruth Hall, her chum. Eleven years old Sallie McAdoo was flower girl.

After the ceremony there was a jovial reception where "Nell" and "Will" were heartily congratulated.

In spite of the small list of invited guests the wedding presents were numerous. Prominent among them was the beautiful pieces of jewelry given by the members of the House of Representatives. From the Diplomatic Corps, no member of which was invited, came flowers and good wishes.

Mrs. McAdoo is the fourteenth White House bride and one of the youngest. She is twenty-four years old. Her husband is fifty.

SKETCH OF ELEANOR WILSON.

Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, now twenty-four years old, is the youngest and the most sprightly of the three daughters of the President. She is known for dancing, tennis and riding and for a fine art in diplomacy. She is an adept in handling people.

It has been said that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson opposed the match. She had nothing against Mr. McAdoo, however, except his age and his large family. Mr. McAdoo has been a widower four years.

Mr. McAdoo met his bride-to-be at a dance about a year ago. They are both passionately fond of dancing, and are a graceful couple on the waxed floor. Mr. McAdoo has been dubbed by his friends in jest "Dancing Mac."

Last summer they played tennis and took long automobile rides together. When the marriage of Miss Jessie Wilson and Mr. Sayre took place last November, there were many guests who realized pretty definitely who the next White House bride would be.

Mrs. McAdoo is the only one of the trio of daughters who has evinced no interest in pursuing an accomplishment or perfect herself in any branch of study. Like her mother, she has talent as an artist in oils and has spent two seasons at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. Mrs. Syre is thoughtful, going in for political economy and other deep subjects. Miss Margaret is frank, outspoken, always ready to show her delight in a joke.

Mrs. McAdoo has adjusted herself most readily of the three to life in the White House. She has a keen sense of humor, too, but the diplomacy of the situation is of paramount importance. She is the only member of the White House family who has a nickname. She is called "Nell".

In appearance Mrs. McAdoo is tall, slender, with a girlish figure, and light swinging gait. She has a beguiling smile, fine teeth, a rather large mouth, blue eyes, topped with dark brows and fringed with dark lashes, of a fine clear white skin and quantities of soft, straight, dark hair.

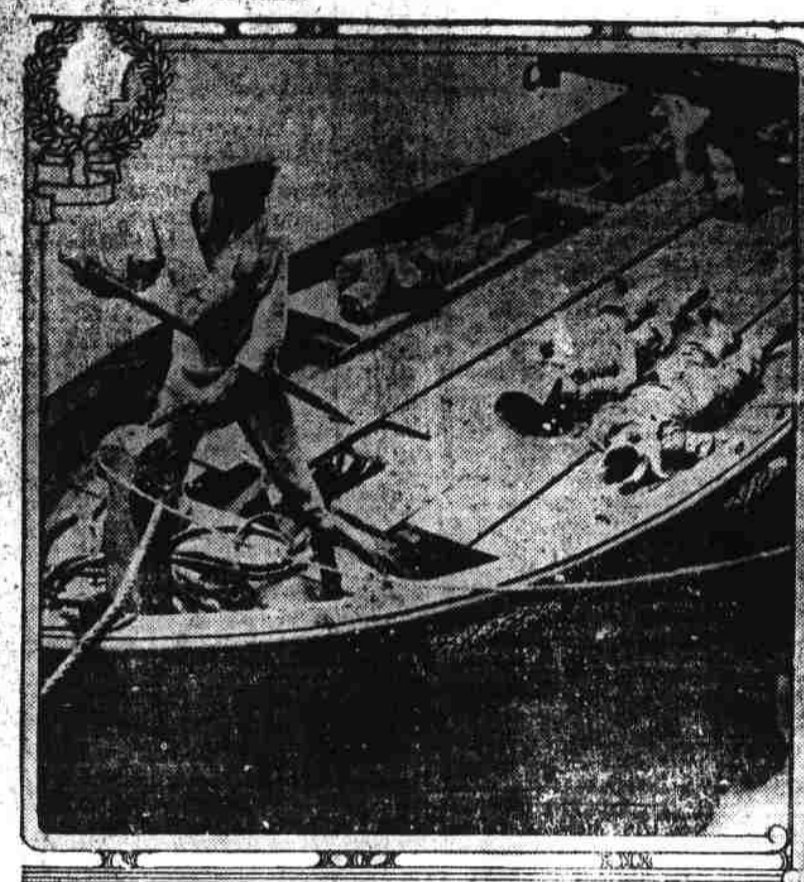

She rides, swims and rows well and is quite a linguist. Her place in society as the wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, will now be next to that of Mrs. Bryan. There have been reports that Mr. McAdoo would resign his position through fears he might embarrass his father-in-law, but apparently these have little foundation.

Mr. McAdoo would resign his position.

ON TO VICTORY THE WATCHWORD OF THE WOMEN

Big Demonstration At Washington Tomorrow.

A LONG FOUGHT BATTLE.

Will Make Another Plea To Congress To Allow Women To Vote.

(Special to the Journal)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—"On to victory!"

With this watchword in their hearts and on their tongues, a multitude of earnest, active, faith-inspired women will march through the capital of the United States Saturday, May 9th in brilliant procession in an effort to win a long-fought battle.

There will be the pick of all classes of American women in this great demonstration.

The purpose is to carry to Congress in still another form the nationwide plea of women for the right to vote.

Housewives, actresses, writers, farm women, society leaders, women doctors, dentists, trained nurses, factory girls and representatives of innumerable organizations of women will take their place in the line.

Notable women whose names stand for something in the world of progress will be at the head of each battalion on that day.

Mrs. George Odell of Washington, will be chief marshal of the entire procession.

Mrs. Julien Barrett Rublee will act as a mounted grand marshal.

Mrs. A. M. Blair, president of the Rubenstein Club, will lead the big marching chorus.

Plans for the parade have been mothered by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, the organization which has been called militant by some of the other suffrage workers.

This parade will rally the natural sequel to the big suffrage demonstration held in May 2d in the thousands of cities and towns all over the United States.

There is a movement on foot to present the petitions and letters signed on May 2d at the various mass meetings all over the country to Congress a week later, on the day on which the great parade is held in Washington.

The ultimate object in both demonstrations is to secure the careful consideration of Congress on the subject of suffrage and to persuade it to pass such Federal legislation as shall make it possible for women as well as men to vote in the United States.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS DEMOLISHED AND OTHER DAMAGE WAS DONE.

(Special to the Journal.)

Wilmar, N. C., May 7.—The real tornado which struck this place yesterday about 3:15 p. m. and raged for possibly twenty minutes, has left ample proof in its disastrous wake. Camps were overturned and most every house in the village was unroofed.

The store house of N. H. Buttry suffered injury, one side having been crushed in by the terrific wind, also considerable damage was done to the store of H. B. Williams, which was partially unroofed. Property damage in the village is estimated at from $2,500 to $4,000. "Where the Women Do the Work." is the title of a very attractive series of advertisements now being run in the Journal by the Bradham Drug Company. These ads, show how the women of the world are employed in the various industrial lines and are worthy of perusal. Ready the one in this issue of the Journal.

Frank's Lawyers To Take An Appeal

To Carry His Case To The Supreme Court. Another Hearing Will Be Held Tomorrow Morning

ATLANTA, GA., May 7.—An appeal to the Supreme Court will be taken at once by the lawyers for Frank. A conference with Judge Hill and the Solicitor was held this morning to determine the details of the judge's certification and the granting of the bill of exceptions.

The hearing on the motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that Frank was deprived of his constitutional rights in not being in the courtroom when the verdict was rendered will be held Saturday morning in the event that the Solicitor can be prepared in that length of time. He said today that he had given this motion no consideration and was not sure that he could be ready by Saturday.
