This Revival Growing in Interest Nightly

LARGE CROWDS ATTENDING THE FREE WILL BAPTIST CHURCH

The Revival Meeting at the Free Will Baptist church continues to grow in interest and attendance each night.

Last night the church was crowded with people who gave close attention to Mr. Everett as he spoke from the subject of "Eternal Life, and How to Obtain It." The sermon was delivered in a very forceful and convincing manner, and seemed to be thoroughly appreciated.

Tonight the subject will be "A Mighty Deliverance." A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to come out to these services.

Locusts Can Aid Your Xmas Dinner

TURKEYS GETTING FAT ON 17-YEAR PEST—ALSO GOOD BAIT FOR FISHERMEN.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 10.—The plague of seventeen-year locusts, which has fallen on parts of West Virginia, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, has turned out to be a blessing for farmers and fishermen.

Until the present time the locusts, which are coming out of the ground in great numbers, have been unable to do any damage because of the backwardness of crops and fruit. But they have proved a boon to the turkey-raising farmers.

Young turkeys as well as roosters and hens are fond of the pests, and as a fattening food nothing ever has been found to equal them. A flock of turkeys will devour thousands of them, and the "squab" turkeys, which are eagerly sought in the big markets, are this year fatter and better than ever, which according to poultry raisers, is due to the seventeen-year locusts, which they have devoured.

Along the Ohio, Kanawha and Big Sandy Rivers the insects are being used as bait by fishermen, who are reporting the biggest catches of recent years.

NIGHT RIDERS WHIP WOMEN AND CHILDREN

REIGN OF TERROR BREAKS OUT AGAIN IN THE "BLACK PATCH" IN KENTUCKY.

(Special to the Journal)
LEXINGTON, Ky., June 10.—Night riders have begun their work afresh in western Kentucky. In a tier of counties called "The Black Patch" in terror, men, women and children have been whipped with switches, after being bound to trees. Threats have been made against others, and the peace officers have been threatening with death. Whole communities are in terror.

Fully one hundred tobacco plant beds have been destroyed by bodies of naked men in the last two weeks. Grand Juries have been instructed to find out who the guilty parties are and several men have been indicted. Meanwhile, the outrages continue giving basis for the story that there are large bodies of men in every county who can carry on the work of terrorizing the farmers.

Judge R. O. Pace and County Attorney W. H. Gray of Greenville, who have been particularly active against the Night Riders, have been repeatedly threatened with death. Judge Pace received a letter threatening his life and this morning his garage and car was burned.

Many men who have been beaten terribly refused to tell the police officers anything about it for fear of other visits from the Night Riders, organized in Western Kentucky, numbered fully fifteen hundred men. Wilson then issued a proclamation that any one killing a Night Rider was already pardoned, and after the troops were ordered out the lawlessness ceased until the last few weeks.

The Mutual Girl At Ghent Park Tonight

Miss Norma Phillips who portrays the part of the "Mutual Girl" in an animated weekly release by the Republic Film Co. has the reputation of being the most beautiful actress appearing before the motion picture camera. In every important event you will find the "Mutual Girl". Tonight she appears in various scenes around New York. Two other pictures form the program for the screen fans.

The fresh air, the chirp of the Bob Whites in the meadow east of the pavilion and the electric orchestra rendering dreamy selections from El Travatore in syncopated waltzes is a prescription that appeals to all amusement seekers.

You get it all at Ghent Park.

TIN ROOFS ARE FIREPROOF

Target and Arrow

Firemen always consider safe vantage points for fighting a nearby fire. With a good tin roof over your head you need not fear flying sparks from any cause.

They also give protection from lightning and all attacks of weather.

If made of Target and Arrow tin they commonly outlast the buildings they cover.

We recommend this 50-year old, handmade tin because we know it lasts.

Let us tell you more about good roofs if you are interested.

COTTON IS FAR BELOW THE TEN YEAR AVERAGE

CROPS IN THAT DISTRICT ARE BEING DAMAGED BY THE DROUGHT.

(Special to the Journal)

BELLAIR, June 10.—Bellair is dry just now and like most other places it is very dusty. Crops are suffering some but the standards; corn and cotton, are doing their best, the latter however, is in many places a poor stand especially where it was planted late. Tobacco in some places is good and in other places too dry for a stand. Potatoes are seriously cut off not even half a crop in some places. We are eating soup beans and have eaten some ripe peaches, but the beans are turning yellow and the peaches drying up and falling off.

There will be few apples in our section and they don't seem to be anything like first class.

Mr. J. B. French, one of our old Confederate Veterans is doing quite poorly and not able to be out. He has hay fever and some lung trouble, we hope he will soon be out again.

The oat crop is generally good and is saved mostly without the rain. Farmers are a little depressed but hopefully looking for the general showers that will start the pea crop and help all the other crops to mature.

PAMLICO FARMERS NEED RAIN VERY BADLY

Reports from Pamlico county are to the effect that a good soaking rain would be of unestimated value to the farmers.

There has been no rain in Pamlico county for several weeks and the result of the lack of rain is that the shipments of truck are small and the crops are drying up.

J. R. Ball Represents Big Cotton Exporters

SIGNS CONTRACT FOR ANOTHER YEAR WITH SPRUNT & CO., OF WILMINGTON

J. R. Ball, who has for several years represented the well known exporting firm of Sprunt and Company of Wilmington, has just signed up a contract to represent that firm locally for the approaching season and will do the cotton buying for them on this market.

Mr. Ball is well and favorably known as a cotton buyer all over this section of the State and will probably continue the excellent record made by him in the past. Sprunt and Company are the largest exporters of cotton in the world. Owning their own compresses and operating their own boat line to foreign ports they are in a position to give the highest prices for the staple and this accounts in a measure, for the large business they carry on.

Harry Thaw Wants Release on Bail

ASKS COURT TO PERMIT HIM TO GO TO HEARING ON ESTATE OF HIS FATHER.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Application was filed today in the Supreme Court for Harry K. Thaw's release on bail pending consideration by the court of the extradition case on which the State of New York is seeking to remove him from New Hampshire.

The petition was filed by former Governor William A. Stone, of Pittsburgh. It was based on the printed statement that it was necessary for Thaw to go to Pittsburgh to attend the hearing in the Orphans' Court of Allegheny county over the settlement of the estate of his father, William Thaw.

The attorney contended that Thaw's presence there as a witness was necessary and he also was needed to advise with counsel in the case.

The court will probably announce its action with the counsel on application next Monday.

Chief Justice White gave the State of New York until Friday to file a brief in opposition to Thaw's release.

IN POLICE COURT.

Several Cases Disposed of Yesterday Afternoon.

Joe Fenderson, colored was taxed with the cost at Police Court yesterday afternoon for allowing his transfer to stand on Queen street at the Union Passenger Station while a passenger train was standing on the Atlantic Coast Line track.

John Granger, colored, was arraigned before the mayor yesterday afternoon charged with not complying with the city sanitary laws. Judgment was suspended on the payment of the cost.

The cases against Annie Taylor, Thomas Bowden and George Eubanks, charged with not complying with the sanitary laws of the city were continued for investigation.

SCREENS FOR THE LOCAL FEDERAL BUILDING

Uncle Sam has joined the campaign and has decided to assist in "swatting the fly." Through the efforts of Postmaster Daniels who is also custodian of the Treasury Department is to have screen doors and windows placed in the Federal Building here. The contract for the work has been let to the Tolson Lumber Company of this city.

G. W. Taylor, of Morehead City, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

Star Theatre :: Today
(Quality and Refinement)
"THE LITTLE MAIL CARRIER"
SPECIAL "UNIVERSAL" FEATURE PICTURE)
FEATURING MISS FLORENCE LAWRENCE THE HIGHEST SALARIED MOTION PICTURE ACTRESS IN THE WORLD.
There is not a girl on the screen today that surpasses Miss Lawrence in essaying the part of a hoyden, a scampering, laughing young creature of the back woods.
This splendid feature is from the pen of Donald Buchanan. Miss Lawrence plays the role of "THE LITTLE MAIL CARRIER", knowing nothing of propriety and desiring only to facilitate movement, in which she dresses as a boy. In this garb she first meets the man she afterwards learns to love; he supposes her to be the boy. The discovery of his mistake sounds the awakening of love.
IN ADDITION TO THIS SPLENDID FEATURE TWO OTHER PICTURES WILL BE SHOWN.
IF ITS "QUALITY" AND NOT "QUANTITY" YOU DESIRE YOU WILL NEVER BE DISAPPOINTED AT THE "STAR" THE HOME OF GOOD PICTURES AND PERFECT PROJECTION.
