

DOMESTIC TROUBLES BELIEVED THE CAUSE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

A. D. Tyler Plunged Into Waters Of Neuse River Sunday Morning

Was Saved by Robert Jones

Scene Of The Affair A Fitting Place For The Ending of An Earthly Career

Believed to have become despondent over domestic troubles and probably momentarily mentally deranged by the affects of an alcoholic solution which he is believed to have drunk earlier in the day, A. D. Tyler, whose home is on Attmore street, attempted to end his existence Sunday morning by diving into Neuse river near Condgon's old mill on Griffith street. Fortunately for the would-be-suicide his act was witnessed by several spectators and he was rescued from a watery grave after he had gone down for the second time.

His Wife Leaves Him.

Several weeks ago Tyler's wife is alleged to have left him and gone to Norfolk where she is operating a boarding house on Banks street. This fact preyed heavily on his mind and matters were made worse when she wrote and asked him to send their children to her. According to the statements of neighbors Tyler has been acting rather queer and when it was learned that he had attempted suicide there was but little surprise.

Jones a Life Saver.

Robert Jones, who resides on Griffith street, jumped into the river and succeeded in getting hold of the man's clothing and with the assistance of several spectators he was brought out on land and resuscitated. The river around Condgon's old mill has been the scene of a number of suicides and near-suicides in the last two years. At that point the water is black and murky, a fitting spot for one who contemplates crossing over the river Styx, and several persons have gone there to drown their sorrow. As there have been several accidental drownings in that locality and the place is looked upon with awe by many of the negroes. But for the fact that some one was near at hand, Tyler would have doubtless been drowned.

Tyler Saw Murderer.

It will be remembered that Tyler was the man who heard the last cry of Tony Rogers, the aged nightwatchman at the plant of the Pine Lumber Company who was foully slain a few weeks ago and it was he who rushed to the aid of the dying man and saw the fleeing murderer escaping.

CAPTAIN OF THE GREEK NAVY IS HONORED

FORMER NEW BERN MAN ONE OF THE SEVERAL HOSTS.

NORFOLK, VA., July 20.—The reception and dinner at the Casino at Virginia Beach yesterday evening in honor of Captain A. Tsoukalis, Royal Greek Navy, commanding the Grecian battleship Killis, formerly the U. S. S. Mississippi, and some of his officers by members of the Greek colony of this city, including John Bambalis, A. Pallas and others, was a brilliant function which was attended by a large number of these and other prominent citizens.

The U. S. Navy was represented by Lieutenant Madison, U. S. N.; Barton Myers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster and in a brief address spoke of the friendship which exists between the people of the United States and of Greece, to which Admiral Tsoukalis responded briefly.

TROUBLE STALKS ON THE TRAIL OF HENRY CONNOR

Once again Is He Behind The Bars.

THE WOMAN IN THE CASE Fatal Slap Which He Gave His Wife Started All Of The Rucus.

Henry Connor, the white man from Pamlico county who jumped into the limelight a few days ago when he refused to allow several of Sheriff R. B. Lane's deputies to take him under arrest while he was on the Trent river railroad bridge and which caused Governor Craig to issue orders to Lieutenant A. T. Willis to take the Naval Militia's boat, the Elfrida, and take the man into custody if it was found necessary, is again in trouble, or rather he is in jail and judging from all reports he will stay there until he has concluded serving a term of six months in the jail of Craven county from which he escaped about three years ago by taking French leave.

Connor is well known in New Bern being an erstwhile citizen and during his stay here it is said that he violated the law by handling a little too much of the spiritus frumenti. Anyway, Connor was arrested on such a charge, tried and convicted and sentenced to serve six months in jail and he would have been placed on the roads but for the fact that in Craven county whitemen are not put to work on the county roads. However, Connor did not like the confinement and at the first opportunity he made his escape and went to Pamlico county where he has resided since that time.

But for the fact that Connor in an evil moment slapped his better half he would probably be at liberty at the present time but this he did, and she at once decided to get the law on his trail and his downfall followed. Connor has employed a lawyer, in fact has secured one of the city's leading attorneys and is making every effort to get his client out from behind the bars but there is but little possibility that this will be done until the remainder of that unfinished sentence has been completed.

DELIGHTFUL SAIL WAS GIVEN LAST EVENING.

In Honor of Two of Washington's Fair Sex To are v M M M W In The City.

One of the most enjoyable events of the summer was a moonlight sail given last evening on board of the handsome launch, the Gaston, by T. J. Hewitt in honor of Miss Brownie Giles and Miss Woolard of Washington who are the guests of Miss Pearl Waters on Broad street.

The party left the city early in the evening and sailed down Neuse river for a number of miles. During the course of the voyage ice cold water—especially palatable. Taken as a whole the entire trip was immensely enjoyed and Mr. Hewitt was unanimously voted the most genial of hosts.

TRYING TO SETTLE DIFFERENCE IN BASEBALL LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the board of Directors of the New Bern City League, held in the office of T. C. Daniels, Jr., in the Elks building, J. T. Hargett and Ellison were appointed as a committee to take up the matter pertaining to the result of the Saturday game, with Mr. Patterson and the Single Men, and report the result of their conference. A meeting to be held this evening at 8 o'clock. At this meeting the members expressed their desire of the league being remaining in the league instead of disbanding as it has been reported they would do.

Miss Mary Field, of Laurinburg, N. C., is spending a few days in the city visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn on King street.

THE NEW BERN SAILOR-SOLDIERS MADE A RECORD

Return From Cruise To Bermuda Islands.

CAPTAIN BRADHAM IN CHARGE

Local Boys Fired Four Shots With Big Guns And Hit Target Each Time.

The New Bern Division of the North Carolina Naval Militia, under command of Captain Caleb D. Bradham have returned from a ten days cruise to Bermuda on board of the U. S. S. Rhode Island. On board of the Rhode Island were four divisions of militia from North Carolina, and the militia from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, and out of this entire aggregation the New Bern Division won the highest honors in the target practice with the big guns.

The target practice was done with three inch guns at targets twenty-one feet by twelve feet at a distance of one thousand six hundred yards from the boat which was traveling at a speed of five knots an hour. Each division was allowed twenty shots and the four North Carolina divisions made forty two hits out of eighty shots. New Jersey made sixteen out of thirty shots. Pennsylvania made twelve hits out of forty shots and the District of Columbia made only sixteen hits out of eighty shots. When the New Bern division went into the practice they fired four shots in twenty-five seconds, and on each occasion the shot went true and struck the target.

Considering the fact that the local sailor-soldiers have had but remarkably little practice with the big guns, this record is considered most unusual, and Captain Bradham and his men were very highly praised for the efficient work which they did. In addition to this practice the division also engaged in torpedo defense drills at night, using the searchlights in picking out the enemy and in this they also did excellent work. Fire, collision and routine drills were also held and the members of the division were greatly benefited by the cruise and are already looking forward to the one which is to be held next year.

L. T. Henderson Will Represent Big Comp'y

WILL PLACE MOTOKARTS IN SEVERAL SOUTHERN STATES

L. T. Henderson, who for the past six years has been engaged in the automobile supply and truck business has just returned from New York, N. Y., where he was appointed Southern Sales Manager by the MotoKart Company and will be in charge of the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

FIRST REGIMENT OF N. CAROLINA GUARDS IN CAMP

Reached Camp Glenn Yesterday Morning.

ELEVEN COMPANIES INCLUDED Drills And Target Practice Will Be Among Routine Work.

The first Regiment of the North Carolina National Guard passed through New Bern early this morning en route to Camp Glenn, near Morehead City, where they will spend several of their annual encampment. The Third Regiment was the first to go in camp, going to Camp Glenn on July 6th, and spending ten days there, during which time the eight hundred men were put through the various drills and engaged in considerable target practice.

The First Regiment changed the camp greatly damaged from that which greeted them last year. Ten thousand dollars have been spent in making improvements there during the past year, and instead of the old canvass mess tents, and canvass kitchens, commodious wooden structures have been erected, and these are filling a long felt want. The rifle range also has been improved, and is in fact one of the best to be found anywhere in the south.

Comprising the First Regiment are the companies from Hickory, Gastonia, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Statesville, Asheville, Shelby, Waynesville, Mount Airy, Concord, and High Point.

In command is Colonel J. T. Gardner and immediately after the arrival of the troop train he will put the men at work getting the camp in "war like" shape and before night the last detail had been accomplished. In addition to the regular drilling and target practice the men will find much to take up their time during the ten days which they are to spend there.

They are allowed much liberty, and as the fishing around Morehead City is exceptionally good just at this time the "land lubbers" will have many stories of remarkable catches to return when they return to their homes in the Western part of the State. A number of social events have also been prepared for them by the citizens of Morehead City, and these are expected to prove of real interest to the soldier boys.

Maysville Man Has Fine Tobacco Crop

SENDS THE JOURNAL TWO ENORMOUS LEAVES PICKED AT RANDOM.

There is not the least doubt but that Eastern North Carolina is the great spot of the United States and frequent evidence of this is seen. This season the farmers in Craven county and adjoining counties are growing large crops of tobacco and specimens of the best brought to the Journal office are really marvellous.

Last night the Journal received a couple of leaves from the farm of G. P. Rogers near Maysville. Mr. Rogers has thirteen acres and he says that the two leaves were not selected but were picked at random. One of them is thirty-two inches long and sixteen inches wide while the other is twenty-nine inches in length and seventeen inches wide.

The Journal desires to make an exhibit of tobacco in one of its display windows in order to show the skeptics just what Eastern Carolina land will produce and tobacco growers are invited to send in specimens.

D. F. JARVIS IS RAPIDLY IMPROVING.

A message reached New Bern yesterday afternoon from Morehead City giving the information that D. F. Jarvis, who was operated on for appendicitis a few days ago is improving rapidly.

Eight yeweeks in the North investigating commercial trucks and a thorough investigation he found the MotoKart the most suitable for commercial parcel carrier on the coast. Mr. Henderson will make New Bern his headquarters and will maintain an office here while he is on the coast.

THE INVESTIGATION IN NELMS CASE TAKES NEW FORM

Detectives Trace Strange Resemblance of Two Men.

SISTERS ARE NOT LOCATED. Man Having Occult Power Now Enters Into The Case.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 20.—The investigation into the Nelms death note mystery took a new turn tonight when efforts were begun to trace a strange resemblance reported by Mrs. J. W. Nelms mother of the missing Eloise Nelms Dennis and Beatrice Nelms, to exist between Victor E. Innes, the Portland lawyer and Professor LaVoux, clairvoyant and hypnotist, who was in Atlanta from February 21 to May 18, of this year.

The mother and brother of the two missing young women were forced to admit that they were without any more substantial idea of where the sisters were than more than a week ago when the nation-wide search started. Every clue had led to a blind trail.

The last move followed the statement by Mrs. Nelms that Miss Beatrice had been forcibly struck with the likeness between Innes and Professor LaVoux at the time she boarded a Southern Railway train to go to Birmingham to meet Innes. She went to talk over the business relations between him and her sister, and found Innes already on the train with the woman supposed to be his aunt and known as "Margaret Mims. Miss Beatrice, according to Mrs. Nelms has seen Professor LaVoux a number of times, and on her return to Atlanta remarked to her mother.

"The man on the train looked just like the fortune teller, Professor LaVoux, but he said his name was Innes." With the view of thoroughly tracing this resemblance, Marshall Nelms, brother of the missing girls, had a conference with Police Chief Beavers to obtain his assistance. Mr. Nelms also aided in the probe and visited the Childs Hotel, in South Broad street, where Professor LaVoux stopped while in Atlanta. He registered there as "E. Z. Bischoff and wife, Kansas City, Mo." His wife was described by hotel attaches as being "good-looking and nicely dressed with dark hair and brown eyes." She was of medium height.

As to whether Mrs. Dennis knew Professor LaVoux is problematical. Mrs. Nelms said that the clairvoyant had his "studio" in East Point, near the postoffice, while Mrs. Dennis acted as a clerk in the outer office, and that he received his mail there. The professor also had operated in Deatur and at Lakewood Heights, being forced into the suburbs because of the city law against fortune telling.

According to information from Carson City, Nev., Innes was an adept in the art of hypnotism and the occult sciences, but there is no information that he ever made a regular business of either.

Mrs. Nelms had seen Professor LaVoux, and gave it as her opinion that there are strong marks of resemblance between him and the pictures of Innes.

Pete Basil, manager of the Childs Hotel, said that when LaVoux left on May 18 he was asked where he was going, and replied that he would leave no address. His whereabouts now are unknown in Atlanta.

Professor LaVoux was arrested here by Plainclothes Officer T. D. Shaw on March 23 on a warrant from the Municipal Court. According to reports, his arrest was instigated by an Atlanta woman seeking to recover a diamond ring from the professor.

POLICEMAN A. A. IPOCK IS OUT AGAIN.

The friends of A. A. Ipoek who has been confined to his home for several days with a severe attack of malaria, will be glad to know that he is able to be out on duty again.

MOTHER TERESA PASSES.

Greatly Beloved Woman Died at Early Hour Yesterday.

Many Catholic friends in New Bern will be pained to learn of the death of Mother Teresa, the Superior of the statehood of North Carolina, which occurred at an early hour yesterday morning in Asheville.
